I. SCOPE.—A. FORMS FOR USE.—It is the purpose of this volume to set out forms of procedure of general application (as distinguished from merely local forms), ready for use, or readily adaptable, for practice under the common law and the codes, in civil and criminal procedure, at law and in equity, and in special proceedings, from the issuance of the first process to the execution of the final judgment. While it is impossible within the space of one volume, or of any number of volumes, to supply forms which will meet the requirements of every case without adaptation, owing to the fact that forms in their details tend toward infinite variety, it is the purpose of this volume to furnish the elements from which every kind of a form that may be required in practice may be produced.

B. ILLUSTRATION. — Another purpose which has entered into the compilation of this volume is that of illustration and exemplification of subjects treated in the articles of STANDARD PROCEDURE. Courts frequently find it necessary to set out pleadings and proceedings in order that a clear understanding may be had of the point under discussion, and some of the best commentators use copious illustrations of forms in treating of procedure.

This volume will supplement the other volumes of STANDARD PROCEDURE in the purpose expressed in the opening paragraph of the "Introduction" to the series.

This volume will in another way render a great service to those who use STANDARD PROCEDURE. The intricate system of cross-references graphically presents the interrelation and interdependence of the several titles. This will materially assist the user of STANDARD PROCEDURE to become familiar with the general treatment of subjects before the succeeding volumes are issued.

C. STANDARD PROCEDURE. — The scope of STANDARD PROCEDURE is, of course, much greater than can be exemplified by the forms herein set out. One volume is inadequate to contain forms to correspond with the great multitude of details discussed throughout the work. Many principles are incapable of expression in forms.

D. NOT SUBSTANTIVE FORMS. — The forms herein are forms of procedure. Substantive forms, those not used in court proceedings, such as deeds, mortgages, bonds (not incidental to procedure), contracts, agreements, bills and notes, are not within the scope of this work and are therefore entirely omitted.

E. ANNOTATIONS. — The forms here presented are not annotated to any extent, it being assumed that in every instance the practitioner will refer to the title which the particular form is intended to supplement. In those titles the principles which enter into the structure of the forms will be fully explained and supported by abundant citation of authorities. There are, however, cautionary notes and remarks appended to certain forms where that has been deemed necessary.

II. FOLLOWING PRECEDENTS. — All progress in science and art is built upon the achievements of the past. Our progress in law is but the extending of principles laid down in past decisions. But older than decisions of the court as precedents, are the forms that have come down from the past, some of them unchanged from the earliest times. Many of the forms of expression now in use had their origin when pleading was cultivated as an art. The fruits of the toils of the pleader laboring under the strict requirements of former times may now be gathered by the modern practitioner from the forms that are preserved.

Respecting common law pleading, Stephen says: "This system, known by the name of Pleadings, of remote antiquity in its origin, has been gradually moulded into its present form, by the wisdom of successive ages. Its great and extensive importance in legal practice, has long recommended it to the early and assiduous attention of every professional student. Nor is this its only claim to notice; for when properly understood and appreciated, it appears to be an instrument so well adapted to the ends of distributive justice, so simple and striking in its fundamental principles, so ingenious and elaborate in its details, as fairly to be entitled to the character of a fine juridical invention." Steph. Pl. 2.

The same learned author lays down as one of the principal rules, that: "Pleadings should observe the known and ancient forms of expression as contained in approved precedents." Rule VII, Steph. Pl. 392.

The principle that what has been well settled judicially shall remain a guide for future action permeates every part of legal science, substantive or adjective, and is expressed in the maxim: "Omnis innovatio plus novitate perturbat quam utilitate prodest." (Every innovation occasions more harm by its novelty than benefit by its utility.) Broom's Maxims, *147; Eighth Eng. Ed. 121.

Bishop says: "It is little short of an insult to a judge to compel him, without any necessity, to pass upon the sufficiency of a form got up for the occasion in disregard of established practice." Bish. Dir. and Forms, §2.

III. WANT OF DUE FORM. — Of the evils growing out of disregard of established precedents a very learned author says: "The want of due form constitutes a just objection to proceedings in every court of justice; for to reject all form would be destructive of the law as a science, and would introduce great uncertainty and perplexity in the administration of justice. Every irregularity of this sort is fraught with inconvenience, and generally tends to delays and doubts. And it has been well remarked, that infinite mischief has been produced by the facility of courts of justice in overlooking errors in form. It encourages carelessness, and places ignorance too much on a footing with knowledge amongst those who practice the drawing of pleadings. To which it may be added, that it often exposes the parties themselves to no small hardship, by embarrassing them at every step in the progress of the cause; and involving the merits of the cause in superfluous details and inartificial allegations, at once loose, obscure and misleading." Story's Eq. Pl. §454.

IV. FORMS OF EXPRESSION. — A. AT LAW. — That the labors of the court can be reduced and confusion avoided by following established precedents is not the only reason for their use. A clear concise statement of a cause of action can best be attained by the observance of established forms of expression.

"It was impossible that a set form of expression could be designed for every matter that might become the subject of a declaration or plea. But many modes and circumstances of properties recurred so often in judicial inquiries, as to obtain apt and stated forms of description and allegation, which were established by long usage; the experience of them having shown them preferable to all others. These therefore were adhered to by pleaders; and the nicety with which they were conceived, is a strong mark of the refinement and curiosity with which this part of our law was cultivated." 3 Reeves 463, 464.

B. IN EQUITY. — "Although the rules of pleading in Courts of Equity, especially in the case of bills, are not so strict as those adopted in Courts of Law, yet, in framing pleadings in Equity, the draftsman will do well to adhere as closely as he can to the general rules of Common Law pleadings, whenever such rules are applicable, since the stated forms of description and allegation adopted in pleading at Law having all been duly debated under every possible consideration, settled upon solemn deliberation, and established by long usage, experience has shown them to be preferable to all others for conveying distinct and clear notions of the subject to be submitted to the court." 1 Dan. Ch. Pr. *363.

C. RULES APPLY TO CODE PLEADING. — The code forms set out in standard works are derived in all their essential elements from common law forms. The rejection in the codes of certain formal parts of pleadings at common law does not imply a disregard of the rules concerning the substantial parts. The rules which produce materiality and certainty and which prevent obscurity and confusion, prolixity and delay, are, theoretically, at least, as much in force under the codes as under the common law; and they should be so in fact. Effective pleading demands the observance of such rules. Common law precedents will suggest correct forms of expression for code pleadings. See "Introduction," 1 STANDARD PROC. 10.¹

V. PRECEDENTS AS AUTHORITY IN CRIMINAL PLEADING.
 "Precedents, or forms of indictments, which have been long used and stand uncontradicted, are the highest evidence of what the law is. Wherever an important principle of criminal law is referred to the discretion of the judges they ought to consult the precedents."²

1. The statements by the learned authors quoted, on the desirability of observing established precedents, are abundantly justified by the practice that obtains in many localities. Long, rambling statements of a cause of action in complaints, opposed by long, loose counter statements under the name of an answer, are of frequent recurrence. From the two it is extremely difficult to extract the issue.

2. People v. Robertson, 3 Wheel. Cr. Cas. (N. Y.) 180, 190.

"I agree also with the saying of a very enlightened man of our own country that forms are the handmaids of justice." People v. Robertson, 3 Wheeler's Cr. Cas. (N. Y.) 180, 192.

"Pleaders should be more careful, and pay some attention to the prescribed forms which have grown up and become familiar to the profession." State v. Reakey, 62 Mo. 40, 41.

"Although it has sometimes been claimed by members of the profession that by our Code of Criminal Procedure no particular skill or precision was required in framing an indictment, and that almost any form of words would be sufficient, yet we fail to see that any of the substantial elements of a good and sufficient indictment, as attested by the long and well established principles of criminal jurisprudence, are ignored by our statute." State v. Dougherty, 4 Ore. 200.

"It has become too much the prevailing belief to suppose that our liberal practice act in criminal cases will cure almost every defect, but this is a mistake. A clear, substantive charge, constituting the offense, is as necessary now as it ever was." State v. Reakey, 62 Mo. 40, 42.

"The indictment in the present case departs from established forms. If,

VI. SELECTION OF FORMS.—In general, approved standard forms are given in this volume. They have been collected from selections of forms made by authors of recognized ability.

In some cases, however, forms from adjudicated cases, based on statutory provisions, have been set out for the purpose of exemplification of what the courts have held sufficient under a particular kind of statute. Great care will have to be exercised in adapting such forms to the statutes of other jurisdictions. They can serve only as suggestions outside of their particular state.

In a great many instances the forms set out in modern reported cases are specimens of crude originality, bad enough to invite attack, yet containing sufficient substance to save them from utter condemnation by the courts. Because they are doubtful they get into the reports and thus reverse nature's law of "survival of the fittest." Besides their general unfitness their introduction here would carry into the volume much unadjudicated matter.³

VII. HOW TO USE THIS VOLUME.—A. REFERENCES.—The ample direct cross-references made herein to forms pertaining to a title, which of necessity have been set out under other titles, will readily direct the practitioner to any form within the volume which he may desire. But until familiarity is acquired with the volume and with the titles therein contained, further suggestion may be necessary to aid in ready reference to the forms. In general, it may be said that the surest way to quickly find the form desired by one not familiar with the titles would be to refer to general heads under which the form may be classed. Thus, if it is an order that is desired, look under the title "Orders of Court" through the analysis and direct cross-references. If it does not readily occur to the practitioner under what general class the particular form he desires will be found, a reference to the title "Pleading," or to the title "Practice," as the case may be, will probably start a chain of references which will lead to the desired form.

In this connection it may be said that reference to a large number of the titles herein contained will be found under the titles "Answers;" "Arraignment and Plea;" "Bills and Answers;" "Declaration and Complaint;" "Decrees;" "Demurrer;" "Equity Jurisdiction and Procedure;" "Judgments;" "Motions;" "Orders;" "Pleas;" "Process" and also under other general titles.

Answers referred to above are code answers. Answers in equity will be found under the title "Bills and Answers."

B. FORMAL PARTS.—Throughout this volume the mere formal parts, such as commencements and conclusions, have been in many therefore, we consign Mr. Robertson to the state prison, we must do so under a form of indictment hitherto unknown to our law. To this I am opposed. I do not believe that the courts, unless authorized by the legislature, have the power to change the forms of criminal proceedings." People v. Robertson, 3 Wheel. Cr. Cas. (N. Y.) 180, 191.

3. "While a little inartistic, and not grammatically free from criticism, yet it sufficiently charges the statutory offense." Parsons v. State, 33 Tex. Crim. 540, 28 S. W. 204.

"It would be difficult to conceive of cases necessarily omitted to conserve space. It has not been deemed necessary to repeat, parenthetically or otherwise, the suggestion that pleadings and other papers should be entitled in the case, should have the proper commencement and conclusion, and should be signed by the party or attorney.

The question of formal parts, however, has not been neglected. Great care has been exercised in supplying them at their proper place under general heads. Thus, in the case of bills in equity, the beginnings and endings of the several parts of the bill have been set out under the title "Bills and Answers;" of declarations and complaints, at the beginning of the title "Declaration and Complaint;" of indictments and informations, at the beginning of the title "Indictment and Information."

C. STATEMENTS OF ACTIONS. — Under the title "Attachment," II, A to L will be found numerous statements of actions adapted to the purpose of the practitioner, where a brief statement is required in emergencies previous to the preparation of the complaint. These may be adapted to affidavits for arrest and for any other occasion where such brief statement is required.

D. STATEMENT OF THINGS ENJOINED. — Under the title "Injunctions," III, A to L will be found numerous statements of things enjoined which may be conveniently used in decrees and in judgments under the codes.

E. ADAPTATION OF COMMON LAW FORMS AND CODE FORMS. — A large number of common law forms and code forms are contained in this volume. It is desirable that they supplement each other.

Whenever the code pleader desires to supplement his code forms of complaint from common law sources, it is only necessary to pass over the formal commencement of the common law declaration down to the words "for that" or "for that whereas," striking out the word "for" and "whereas" and leaving "that" for the introductory word following "alleges." He can then continue to the end, substituting a code prayer for relief.

In case the code pleader desires to adapt the common law plea of new matter to his purpose, he can likewise pass down through a common law plea to the words "because he says" and omitting these words, use "that" as the introductory word of the substance of his answer, omitting the formal ending, "And this the defendant is ready to verify," etc. See notes below.⁴

A specific denial under a code may be constructed from a special an indictment more illogically or inartistically drawn." State v. Reakey, 62 Mo. 40, 41.

plea by way of traverse by rejecting the formal beginning and the formal ending and incorporating the body of the plea. It is a common practice, however, to change the form from negative to affirmative by omitting the word "not" and preceding the statement by the word "denies," thus: "denies that the plaintiff did lend the money mentioned in the complaint," instead of "that the plaintiff did not lend the money mentioned in the complaint."

For substance of code complaints in equity reference is suggested to the stating part of the bill.

It will be observed that decrees can be easily adapted as prayers of relief by a few verbal changes for either bills in equity or complaints under the codes.

In preparing judgments under the code equity procedure it will hardly be necessary to suggest reference to decrees herein for substance.

I. Pleas at Law.

A. Plea of Alien Enemy.

And the said C. D., defendant in this suit, by G. H., his attorney (or, "in his own proper person") comes and defends the wrong and injury, when, etc., and says that the said plaintiff ought not to be answered to his bill (or "writ"), and declaration (see next form), aforesaid, because he says that the said plaintiff is an alien, born in foreign parts, out of the allegiance of the United States of America, and within the allegiance of a foreign state, to-wit, of the (United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland), and is not a citizen of the United States by naturalization or otherwise, to-wit, at etc.; and that the persons exercising the powers of government in the said foreign state (the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland), aforesaid, are at war with and enemies of the United States of America, to-wit, at, etc., and that the said plaintiff being such alien as aforesaid and not a citizen of the United States, entered and came into the United States, and still remains therein, without any letter of safe conduct from the president of the United States, or any license to be, reside, or remain in the United States; but the said president (or, "by an act of the congress of the United States, the said plaintiff was") ordered and directed (him, the said plaintiff), to quit and leave the said United States of America (or set out some other matter showing affirmatively that he had no license to remain, etc.). And this he is ready to verify, etc. Wherefore he prays judgment, if the said plaintiff ought to be answered to his bill (or "writ"), and declaration aforesaid, etc. (Add affidavit as in next form.) Burr. App., 331, §596; 1 Wentworth's Pl. 42; Lill. Ent. 1.

B. *Coverture.*1. Plea of Coverture of Plaintiff.

And the said C. D., defendant in this suit, by G. H., his attorney (or, "in his proper person"), comes and defends the wrong (or, in trespass, "the force") and injury when, etc., and prays judgment of the said bill (or "writ") and declaration (or, if the suit be commenced by declaration, "prays judgment of the said declaration"), of the said plaintiff, because he says that the said plaintiff, before and at the time of the commencement of this suit, was and still is married to one S. T., then and yet her husband who is still living, to-wit, at, etc. (the venue), aforesaid; and this he, the said defendant, is ready to verify; wherefore, because the said S. T. is not named in the said bill (or, "writ"), and declaration (or "in the said declaration") of the said plaintiff, the said defendant prays judgment of the bill (or, "writ") and declaration (or, "of the declaration") aforesaid, and that the same may be quashed, etc. (City and) county—ss.: C. D., the above named defendant being sworn says, that the above plea is true in substance and matter of fact.

C. D.

Sworn, etc., Burr. App. 332, §597; 3 Chit. Pl. 899 (c).

2. Plea in Abatement of Cover-ture of Defendant.

And the said defendant in this suit, to-wit, C. F., sued by the name of C. D., in her own proper person (the defendant must plead this in person), comes and prays judgment of the said bill (or, "writ"), and declaration (or "prays judgment of the said declaration"), (see last form), of the said plaintiff; because she says that, at the time of the exhibiting of the said bill of the said plaintiff (or "of the issuing of the said writ," or, "of the filing of the said declaration"), she was and still is married to one S. F., who is still living, to-wit, at, etc. (the venue) aforesaid; and this she is ready to verify; wherefore because the said S. F. is not named in the said bill (or "writ" or "declaration") aforesaid, she prays judgment of the said bill (or "writ") and declaration, and that the same may be quashed, etc. (Add affidavit as in last form.) Burr. App. 332, §598; 3 Chit. Pl., 899.

C. Plea in Abatement of Death of Plaintiff.

(Commencement in usual form)—because he says that the said A. B., at whose suit the same bill is above supposed to be exhibited against him, the said defendant, at the time of the exhibition of that bill and long before was dead; and that there is not, nor at the time when, etc., was there any such person in being as the said A. B., as in and by the aforesaid bill is above supposed. And this he is ready to verify. Wherefore he prays judgment of the said bill (or "writ"), and that the same may be quashed, etc. Burr. App. 334, §601; 1 Wentw. Pl. 50.

D. Plea of Misnomer of Defendant.

And C. D., against whom the said A. B. hath exhibited his said bill (or "issued his said writ"), (or "filed his said declaration"), by the name of E. D., in his own person, comes and says that he is named and called by the name of C. D., and by that name and surname hath always, since the time of his nativity, hitherto been named and called; without this that he, the said C. D., now is, or at the time of exhibiting the said bill (or "issuing the said writ"), (or "filing the said declaration") was, or ever before had been named or called by the name of E. D., as by the said bill (or "writ") and declaration, is supposed, and this he, the said C. D., is ready to verify. Wherefore he prays judgment of the said bill (or "writ") and declaration (or, "of the said declaration"), and that the same may be quashed, etc. (Add affidavit.) Burr. App. 334, §604; 3 Chit. Pl. 901.

E. Plea of Nul Tiel Person in Rerum Natura.

And the said C. D., defendant, etc., comes and defends the wrong and injury, when, etc., and says that there is not, nor on the day of the service of the said writ (or "declaration"), (or "of the exhibition of the said bill"), nor ever since, was there in nature any such person called A. B., as by the said writ (or "bill") is above supposed, and this he is ready to verify. Wherefore he prays judgment, etc. (Add affidavit.) Burr. App. 334, §602; Yates' Forms, 111.

II. Answers in Abatement (Code).

A. Answer in Abatement, Alien Enemy.

I. That the plaintiff was not at the commencement of this action, and is not now, a citizen of the United States, by naturalization or otherwise; but was and is an alien, born in _____ out of the allegiance of the United States, and within the allegiance of the kingdom of _____.

Middlesex, to-wit:—The jurors for our lady the queen upon their oath present, that J. S., late of the parish of B., in the county of M., laborer, on the third day of August, in the ninth year of the reign of our sovereign lady Victoria, with force and arms, at the parish aforesaid, in the county aforesaid, feloniously, and from motives of lucre, did take away and detain one A. N. against her will, she the said A. N., then and there having a certain present and absolute interest (any interest, whether legal or equitable, present or future, absolute, conditional, or contingent), in certain real estate, (real or personal estate), with intent her the said A. For that whereas the said defendant had been bailiff to the said plaintiff, at the place aforesaid, from the (first day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and forty-two), until the (commencement of this suit), and during all that time had the care and management of one thousand bushels of wheat (or otherwise, specifying the property of the plaintiff), to merchandise, and make profit thereof for, and to render a reasonable account thereof to, the said plaintiff, whenever the said defendant should be thereunto requested. Nevertheless the said defendant, although often requested, hath not yet rendered an account thereof to the said plaintiff, but hath hitherto altogether refused, and still refuses so to do: Wherefore the said plaintiff saith that he is thereby injured, and hath sustained damage to the value of (one thousand) dollars, and therefore he brings suit, etc. Burr. App. 269, §537; Yates' Forms 121.

2. Declaration in Account Rendered Against Defendant as Receiver.

Burr. App. 270, §538; Yates' Forms 122.

B. Pleas.

1. Plea That Defendant Has Fully Accounted.

Because he says, that after the time during which the said defendant is therein supposed to have been the bailiff of the said J. and E. as in the said last count is mentioned, and as such bailiff to have taken and received the rents and profits therein mentioned, to-wit, on the _____ day of _____, in the year of our Lord _____, to-wit, at, etc., aforesaid, he the said defendant fully accounted with the said J. and E. concerning the said time, and the said rent, issues and profits received, as in the said last count is mentioned, and this he is ready to verify. 3 Chit. Pl. 1300.

Because he says, that after the time during which the said J. is in the first count of the said declaration alleged to have had the care and management of the said premises with the appurtenances in the said first count mentioned, to receive and take the rents, issues and profits thereof, and as bailiff of the said J. and E. to render such account as therein mentioned, to-wit, on, etc., at, etc., aforesaid, he the said defendant fully accounted with the said J. and E. concerning the said time, and the said rents, issues and profits in the said first count of the said declaration mentioned, and their said share thereof, and this, etc., therefore, etc. 3 Chit. Pl. 1299.

Pl. 1299.

3. Plea That Defendant Was Not Bailiff.

Because he says that the said defendant never had the care and management of the said premises with the appurtenances, in the said (first) count of the said declaration mentioned, or any part thereof, to receive and take the rents, issues and profits thereof, or as bailiff of the said J. and E., his wife, in right of the said E. of what he received more than his just share and proportion thereof, to render a reasonable account to the said J. and E., and their said share thereof, when he the said defendant should be thereunto afterwards requested, in manner and form as the said J. and E., his wife, have in the said first count of the said declaration above alleged, and of this the said defendant puts himself upon the country, etc. 3 Chit. Pl. 1298.

4. Plea That Defendant Did Not Receive More Than His Share.

Because he says, that he the said defendant did not receive more than his just share and proportion of the rents, issues and profits of the said premises with the appurtenances, in the said first count of the said declaration mentioned, and the said J. and E.'s share thereof, in manner and form as the said J. and E. have in the said first count of the said declaration above alleged, and of this also the said defendant puts himself upon the country, etc. 3 Chit. Pl. 1299.

VI. That the said account ought to be corrected as above mentioned; and the balance thereon ought to be ——— dollars in favor of the (plaintiff), instead of being ——— dollars in favor of the (defendant).

VII. That as soon as the plaintiff discovered the said mistakes and errors, he called on the defendant, on the ——— day of ———, 18—, and pointed the same out to him, and then requested the defendant to correct the same, and to restate the said account, with the mistakes and errors aforesaid corrected; but the defendant refused to do so, or to pay the plaintiff any part of said sum of ——— dollars, due to him at the time said account was stated (or and to accept the sum of ——— dollars from the plaintiff in full payment of said account).

Wherefore the plaintiff asks:

1. That he may be let in to prove the said errors and mistakes in the stating of the said account.

2. That judgment may be rendered against the defendant for the balance of ——— dollars, due him on said corrected account, with interest thereon from the ——— day of ———, 18—.

IV. Answers.

A. Answer, Denial of Errors in Account.

That the account stated, which is mentioned in the complaint, is true and just (except as to, here specifying any admitted error), and that there are no errors or mistakes in the stating of the said account, as alleged (except as aforesaid). 2 Abb. Forms 162.

B. Answer Alleging Accounting and Payment.

I. (They deny each and every allegation in said complaint, except what is hereinafter admitted.)

II. The defendants, admitting that said plaintiff did, at the request of defendants, enter into the service of the defendants (to board their servants and hands in their employ), as stated in the complaint, allege that they did account with said plaintiff on the ——— day of ———, 18—; and that on said accounting there was found due said plaintiff only the sum of ——— dollars.

Second. For a further defense, the defendants allege that before the commencement of this action they paid to said plaintiff said sum of ——— dollars, so found due upon the accounting hereinbefore alleged, in full of the plaintiff's claims. 2 Abb. Forms 66.

V. Bills.

A. Bill for Accounting Against Broker.

1. The plaintiff, in the month of ———, in the year ———, entered into an arrangement with ——— and ———, the above named defendants, that the said defendants should, from time to time, as the brokers of the plaintiff, purchase on his behalf certain foreign stock or securities, then commonly called or known by the names, etc., the price or purchase money of which the defendants were to advance; but the plaintiff engaged on each transaction to deposit with the said defendants certain securities, that is to say, etc.

(The bill then proceeds to state that purchases had been made, moneys paid and advanced on both sides, and securities given by the plaintiff to the defendants, and that the defendants had sold certain Spanish debentures and scrip of the plaintiff at a lower price than they ought to have done, without the plaintiff's consent.

3. The accounts in respect of the before mentioned transactions and dealings are still open and unsettled; nevertheless the defendants have commenced and are prosecuting an action at law against the plaintiff for the recovery of the sum of $——, which they allege is the balance or sum of money coming to them in respect of said transactions.

4. The plaintiff, however, charges that if the accounts between the plaintiff and defendants were properly taken, a considerable balance would be coming from the defendants to the plaintiff.

5. The said accounts cannot be properly taken except in a court of equity. The plaintiff prays as follows:

1. That the defendants may make a full and true discovery and disclosure of and concerning all and singular the transactions and matters aforesaid, and that an account may be taken by and under the direction and decree of this honorable court, of all dealings and transactions between the plaintiff and the defendants.

2. That in taking such account the defendants may be charged with the amount of dividends or coupons which were due on the said Spanish debentures at the time of the aforesaid alleged sale thereof by the said defendants, and also with such sums of money as would have been produced by the sale of such debentures, if the same had been sold at the price or rate of 60% per each 100% of the said stock.

3. That in taking such account the defendants may not be allowed to charge the plaintiff with any sums of money which shall appear to have been paid or applied by them in the purchase of stocks or securities which were never actually transferred or delivered to the said defendants.

4. That the defendants may be charged with all benefit and advantage obtained by them in the said transactions of buying and selling, for and on account of the plaintiff, beyond the amount of the usual and regular commission or brokerage.

5. That the balance which shall be found due upon taking such account may be paid by the defendants to the plaintiff, the plaintiff being ready and hereby submitting to pay to them any balance which shall be found due from him to the said defendants on the aforesaid accounts.

6. That in the meantime the said defendants may be restrained by the order and injunction of this honorable court from further proceeding in the said action at law commenced by them against the plaintiff as aforesaid, and from commencing or prosecuting any other action or proceedings at law against the plaintiff in respect of or concerning the matters aforesaid or any of them. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins ed.) 1942.

B. Bill by Administrator Against Trustee.

Aaron Phillips v. Sarah G. Allen.

The bill sets forth that the plaintiff is administrator of the estate of G. A. A., deceased, who was the minor child and sole heir of A. A., deceased; that R. A., deceased, by his will, devised to his wife, the defendant, the rents, profits, income and improvement of all his real estate during the time she should remain his widow, with remainder in fee, of a portion of the land, to his son, G. F. A., in trust, for the benefit of A. A. during his life, and after his death to convey the same in fee to the lawful issue that he might have born to him after the date of the will; and providing further, in said will, that, as G. F. A. was then a minor, the defendant should execute the trust as long as she lived. The bill further alleges that S. D. A. was the mother and sole heir of G. A. A., and that she also had died, leaving the plaintiff her father and sole heir; that after the death of A. A. and G. A. A., the defendant duly accepted the trust, gave bond, and entered upon the discharge of the same; that S. D. A., in her lifetime, exhibited a bill of complaint against the defendant to compel the conveyance of the estate, subject to the defendant's life estate; and after the death of said S. D. A., the plaintiff exhibited a bill of revivor against the defendant, setting forth the facts, on which a decree in his favor was made; that before entering upon the trust, or giving bond for the due performance thereof, the defendant entered upon the land and committed strip and waste thereof, and cut off and sold wood and timber therefrom, to the injury of the inheritance.

The prayer was for an account, and for a decree for the payment of such sum as should be found due, and for further relief. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 1944.

C. Prayer for an Account of Rents, Profits and Sums Received by Mortgagee.

And that an account may be taken of the rents and profits of the said mortgaged premises, which have been received by the said defendant, since his possession thereof as aforesaid, or which, but for his wilful default or neglect, might have been so received; and also an account of all other the sums, which have been received by the said defendant in or towards satisfaction of the said mortgage money. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 1906.

1. Libel In Rem for Seaman's Wages; Vessel Left Port, or About To Leave.

To the honorable, etc. (as in I, A).

The libel of John Graham, of said district, late seaman on board the schooner State Rights, whereof Silvanus Cummings now is, or lately was, master, against the said schooner, her tackle, apparel and furniture, and against all persons lawfully intervening for their interest in said schooner, in a cause of wages, civil and maritime, alleges as follows:

First. That, some time in the month of January last, said schooner, then lying in the port of Charleston, and bound on a voyage thence to Murfreesborough in North Carolina and back, the said master, by himself or his agent hired the libelant to serve as seaman on board the said vessel, during the said voyage, at the wages of sixteen dollars per month, by verbal agreement, the libelant having signed no shipping articles. That in pursuance of said agreement the libelant entered on board and into the service of the said ship as such seaman, on or about the twenty-ninth day of the said month of January.

Second. That the said schooner having taken on board a cargo, proceeded therewith, and with the libelant on board, for Murfreesborough, where she safely arrived and discharged her cargo, and made freight. That having taken on board another cargo, she proceeded therewith, and with the libelant on board, for the port of Charleston, where she safely arrived and discharged her cargo, and made freight, and her voyage ended.

Third. That at the request of said master, the libelant continued on board the said schooner, at the wages aforesaid, and the said schooner having taken on board another cargo, proceeded therewith, and with the libelant on board, for the port of Jericho in the state of Georgia, where she safely arrived and discharged cargo, and made freight. That having taken on board a cargo of live oak, she proceeded therewith, and with the libelant on board, for the port of Norfolk, where she safely arrived and discharged a portion of her cargo, and made freight. That she proceeded from thence with the residue of her cargo, and the libelant on board, for the port of Philadelphia, where she safely arrived and discharged her cargo, and made freight. That having taken on board another cargo, she proceeded therewith, and with the libelant on board, for the port of New York, where she safely arrived, and the libelant was duly discharged on the seventh day of August last, and the said schooner has since made another voyage.

Fourth. That during the whole time he was on board of said vessel to the time of his discharge therefrom, he well and faithfully performed his duty as such seaman, and was obedient to all lawful commands of the said master, and the other officers of the said schooner, and was entitled to be paid his wages which were then due, and amounted to the sum of eighty-nine dollars and upwards, over and above all just deductions.

Fifth. That the said schooner has left the port of delivery, where the said voyage ended, without paying to the libelant the balance of wages due to him as aforesaid.

(Or, fifth. That the said schooner is about to proceed to sea before the end of ten days next after the delivery of her cargo or ballast.)

Sixth. That all and singular the premises are true, and within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States and of this honorable court.

Wherefore the libelant prays, that process in due form of law, according to the course of courts of admiralty, and of this honorable court, in cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction, may issue against the said schooner, her tackle, apparel and furniture, and that all persons claiming any right, title, or interest therein may be cited to appear and answer upon oath all the matters aforesaid, and that this honorable court will be pleased to decree the payment of the wages aforesaid, and with costs, and that the said vessel may be condemned and sold to pay the same, and that the libelant may have such other and further relief in the premises as in law and justice he may be entitled to receive.

2. After Preliminary Summons.

a. Libel for Seaman's Wages After Preliminary Summons.

To the honorable, etc. (as in I, A).

The libel of Bernard Glancy, mariner, formerly second mate of the brig Lowell, whereof Wm. Lawrence then was and is master, against the said brig Lowell, her tackle, apparel and furniture, and against all persons lawfully intervening for their interest therein, in a cause of wages, civil and maritime, alleges as follows:

First. That some time in the month of July, one thousand eight hundred and forty-three, the said vessel being in the port of New York, and bound on a voyage thence to one or more ports in the Mediterranean sea, and back to the United States, the said master, by himself or his agent, did ship and hire the libelant to serve as second mate on board the said vessel for the said voyage, at the wages of twenty dollars per month. That, for the due performance of the said voyage, the libellant signed shipping articles, which are now in the possession, or under the control of the said master, and which the libellant prays may be produced to this honorable court, for further certainty in the premises, and for the benefit of the libellant; and that, in pursuance of the said agreement, the libellant entered into the service of the said brig, as such second mate, on or about the tenth day of the month of July, in the year aforesaid.

Second. That the said brig having taken on board a cargo, proceeded therewith, and with the libellant on board, for the port of Gibraltar, where she safely arrived and discharged her cargo, and made freight. That she proceeded thence to Sardinia with certain specie on board, where she safely arrived; and that she proceeded thence to Messina, where she safely arrived, and discharged the said specie, and having taken on board another cargo, she proceeded therewith, and with the libellant on board, for the port of Palermo, where she safely arrived, and where she completed her cargo.

Third. That while the said vessel was lying at Palermo aforesaid, on the tenth day of December, 1843, the said master unjustly, and without any cause, and without the consent of the libellant, and against his will, turned him on shore, and would not permit him to perform the remainder of the voyage, and the said brig completed said voyage, and arrived at the port of New York on the 29th day of January, 1844, where she now is.

Fourth. That during the whole time the libellant was on board the said brig, to-wit, from the time of his entering on board thereof, to the time of his discharge therefrom, he well and faithfully performed his duty as such second mate, and was obedient to all lawful commands of the said master, and the master of the said brig, whereby he became entitled to demand wages for the whole voyage of said vessel till her return to the United States; and at the time of his arrival in New York, there was due to him the sum of sixty dollars and upwards, over and above all just deductions.

Fifth. That all and singular the premises are true, and within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States and of this honorable court.

Wherefore the libellant prays that process in due form of law, according to the course of this honorable court in cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction, may issue against the said brig Lowell, her tackle, apparel and furniture, and that all persons claiming any right or interest therein, may be cited to appear and answer all and singular, the matters aforesaid, and that this honorable court would be pleased to decree the payment of wages aforesaid, with costs, and that the said vessel may be condemned and sold to pay the same; and that the libellant may have such other and further relief in the premises, as in law and justice he may be entitled to receive.

D. Libel Against Owners for Pilotage.

To the honorable, etc. (as in I, A).

The libel of Martin Gray, of said district, pilot, against Russel H. Post, William Layton, Noah Stokeley, and Richard P. Williams, now or late owners of the ship Elizabeth Dennison, in a cause of pilotage, civil and maritime, alleges as follows:

First. That some time in the month of July, A. D. 1848, the said ship then being in the port of New York, under the command of one _____ Spencer, the said owners by themselves, or their agents, employed the libelant to take the said vessel to sea, from the port of New York, as pilot. That accordingly the libelant went on board said vessel, and took charge of the same, and did pilot her to sea on or about the twenty-fifth day of July aforesaid.

Second. That the libelant is a regular pilot, and did his duty faithfully and according to the best of his ability, as the pilot of said vessel, and is entitled to the regular and lawful fees for such service, which amount to the sum of thirty dollars and sixty-three cents, which sum the said master has admitted to be due, and promised to pay from time to time, but which is still due and unpaid.

Third. That all and singular the premises are true, and within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States and of this honorable court.

Wherefore the libelant prays that a warrant of arrest, in due form of law, according to the practice and course of this honorable court, in cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction, may issue against the said Russel H. Post, William Layton, Noah Stokeley, and Richard P. Williams, and that they be cited to appear and answer upon oath all and singular the premises aforesaid, and that this honorable court will be pleased to decree the payment of the amount due to him aforesaid, with interest and costs, and that he may have such other and further relief as in law and justice he may be entitled to receive.

E. Libel In Personam Against Owner of Ship for Salvage.

To the honorable, etc., (as in I, A.).

The libel of William Peters, master of the ship Amiable, for himself, and all others entitled, against John Jones, owner of the ship Heracles, in a cause of salvage, civil and maritime, alleges as follows:

First. That the libelant being at sea, and bound to the port of New York in the said ship Amiable, of which he was master, observed a brig with a signal of distress flying, and he immediately made for said vessel, when he discovered that she was aground on the beach, on the south side of Long Island, and being hailed by the master thereof, was informed that she was the brig Rover, of New York, and had been aground for several hours and had, by force of the wind and tide, worked so far into the sand, that he feared she would not float at high water without assistance, and asked the libelant to assist him.

Second. That the libelant thereupon consented to render such assistance as was in his power, and for that purpose let go his anchor and lay by her, and got out hawsers to her, and, by constant heaving of himself and his whole ship's company, prevented her working further up into the sand, and at high water, succeeded in heaving her off without injury—whereupon the said master informed the libelant that he had no means of paying him there—that he was bound to sea, and was very desirous of not being delayed, and that he would give the libelant a letter to his owner, the said John Jones, who would pay him his reasonable salvage. That said master thereupon gave the libelant a letter to said owner, informing him that the libelant had rendered him valuable assistance, whereby the said brig had been saved from probable loss, and was entitled to salvage.

Third. That the libelant therefore consented to allow the said brig to pursue her voyage, and on his arrival in the port of New York, he presented said letter to said owner, and for himself and his ship's company, and his owners, whose ship had been periled in rendering said assistance, offered to accept the sum of five hundred dollars, if paid without delay or trouble to the libelant, although, as he had previously been informed, said brig and cargo were worth the sum of thirty thousand dollars, and the said sum of five hundred dollars was an inadequate salvage compensation, but said owner refused to pay the same, and to pay any more than fifty dollars.

Fourth. That all and singular the premises are true, and within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States and of this honorable court.

Wherefore the libelant prays that the said John Jones may be cited to appear and answer the matters aforesaid, and may be decreed to pay to the libelant, and the others so entitled, a full reasonable salvage compensation for the said assistance so rendered, and that they may have such other and further relief as in law and justice they may be entitled to receive.

F. Libel In Personam Against Owner for Supplies Ordered by Master in Foreign Port.

To the honorable, etc. (as in I, A.).

The libel of Simeon H. Lewis and John C. Clapp of Boston, in the state of Massachusetts, grocers, against Gilbert Hatfield and James T. Bertine now or late owners of the brig or vessel called the Gulielma of New York, in a cause of contract, civil and maritime, alleges as follows:

First. That at various times during the year eighteen hundred and forty-one the said brig Gulielma, then under the command of Richard Smith, and owned by the said Gilbert Hatfield and James F. Bertine, was lying at Boston aforesaid, and standing in need of stores, provisions, and other necessaries, to enable her to perform her intended voyage or voyages, and the libelants, at the request of the said master of the said brig, did furnish to and for the use of the said brig, provisions, stores and other necessaries, to enable said brig to perform her said intended voyage or voyages, to the amount of four hundred and twenty-five dollars and five cents, which said bill is hereunto annexed, signed and approved by the said master; and the said provisions, stores, and other necessities were furnished on the credit of the said brig, and the master and owners thereof.

Second. That the libelants have repeatedly requested the said master and the said owners to pay them the said sum of money so due the libelants, for the provisions, stores, and other necessities so furnished as aforesaid, but that the said master and owners have hitherto neglected and refused to pay the same, and still neglect and refuse so to do. And that the sum of one hundred and sixty-nine dollars and five cents, with the interest, are still due to the libelant over and above all payments and deductions.

Third. That all and singular the premises are true, and within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States and of this honorable court.

Wherefore the libelants pray, that process in due form of law, according to the course of this honorable court in causes of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction, may issue against the said Gilbert Hatfield and James F. Bertine, owners as aforesaid, and that they may be required to answer all and singular the matters aforesaid, and that this honorable court would be pleased to decree the payment of the amount due as aforesaid, with interest and costs, and that the libelants may have such other and further relief as in law and justice they are entitled to receive.

G. Libel in Personam; Seaman Against Master and Mate for Assault and Battery.

To the honorable, etc. (as in I, A).

The libel of Charles Grayman, late seaman on board the ship Louvre, whereof ——— Weeks was master, and ——— Whittlesey chief mate, against the master and mate in a cause of personal damage, civil and maritime, alleges as follows:

First. That some time in the month of March, in the year one thousand eight hundred and forty-eight, the libelant shipped on board the said ship Louvre for a voyage from New York to Rotterdam, and back to New York.

That on or about the twenty-fifth day of March, while on the high seas, the libelant having been kept on deck longer than was usual, by reason of the illness of the cook, whose place he had volunteered to fill, in addition to his other duties, was lying in his berth in the forecabin while it was his watch below, and while there heard the mate call him to come upon deck, whereupon he immediately arose, but before he had fairly got out of the berth the mate sprang down into the forecabin, and seizing the libelant by the throat began to drag him along the floor, and the said master having come down with an iron belaying pin endeavored to strike the libelant with the same, but the libelant to avoid a blow with such a dangerous weapon escaped from the hands of the master, and ran upon deck, and the master and mate followed him, and coming up with him near the galley the said master endeavored again to strike the libelant with the iron belaying pin, and the libelant not being able to escape from his reach was obliged to ward off the blow with his arm and hand, and in so doing received a severe stroke with the said iron belaying pin upon the back of his hand, whereby the same was much injured, and to this day bears the marks of the blows so received: that upon another occasion, while engaged in hauling upon a rope the said mate without the least cause or provocation, and without the slightest warning to the libelant, fell upon the libelant and beat him severely with his fist about the head and face, and the said master coming from the other side of the deck took a wooden belaying pin from the rail, and holding the libelant by the neck, struck the libelant five or six times on the head with the belaying pin, and with the assistance of the mate, then beat him with the same about his legs and body, for some minutes; that by reason of such beating, the face and head of the libelant was very much bruised, and his body also injured; that he still feels the effects of such beating. And the libelant by reason of the premises claims to be entitled to demand of the said master and mate, damages to the amount of five hundred dollars and upwards.

Second. That on the arrival of the said ship in this port the libelant took out a warrant from the marine court of the state of New York, against the said Weeks and Whittlesey, for the above mentioned assaults, but that they have fled from the jurisdiction of that court, or so concealed themselves that they cannot be taken, and this libelant is wholly without remedy unless by process from this court.

Third. That the said defendants have goods and chattels in this district and credits in the hands of E. D. Hurlburt & Co., of the city of New York, merchants.

Fourth. That all and singular the premises are true, and within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States, and of this honorable court.

Whereupon the libelant prays that a warrant of arrest, in due form of law, according to the course of this honorable court in cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction may issue against the said Weeks and Whittlesey, and that they may be required to appear and answer on oath, this libel, and all and singular the matters aforesaid, and that if they cannot be found, that their goods and chattels, and if none be found, that their credits and effects in the hands of E. D. Hurlburt & Co., of the city of New York, merchants, garnishees, may be attached, to the amount sued for, and costs. And that this honorable court would be pleased to decree the payment of the damages sustained by the libelant, with costs, and that he may have such other and further relief as in law and justice he may be entitled to receive.

H. Libel In Rem for Collision.

To the honorable etc. (as in I, A).

The libel of Robert Schuyler and George L. Schuyler, both of the city of New York, against the brig Sea, her tackle, apparel, and other furniture, and all persons lawfully intervening for their interest in the same, in a cause of collision, civil and maritime, alleges as follows:

First. That your libelants, before and at the time of the collision hereinafter in the third article mentioned, were the owners and proprietors of a certain steamboat called the Niagara, with her steam engine, boilers, machinery, tackle, apparel, and other furniture; which said steamboat your libelants used and employed in transporting passengers and freight between the port of New York and the port of Bridgeport in the state of Connecticut and between which said ports she was regularly run, daily and every day, Sunday excepted, for the purposes aforesaid.

Second. That on Sunday, the ninth day of January, in the year 1848, the said steamboat Niagara, with her steam engine, boilers, fixtures, apparel and other furniture on board thereof was safely moored, and lying at her usual berth alongside of the pier or dock at the foot of Market street, East river, in said city of New York, where she had a perfect right to be; the said steamboat being then, and also at the time when she was run into as herein-after mentioned, tight, staunch, strong, and in every respect well manned, tackled, appareled and appointed, and having the usual and necessary complement of officers and men, and that the master and crew engaged on board were on the lookout for the protection and safety of said vessel.

Third. That, on the morning of the said day, and while the said steamboat was safely moored as aforesaid, the said brig Sea, whereof Norton was master, on her way from Havre, in the kingdom of France, to her destination at said city of New York, came up the East river, between the Battery and Governor's Island, passing at the distance of about four or five hundred feet from the docks of said city on said river, with a strong wind from west-south-west, and with a flood tide; and then and there with great force and violence ran into and upon the said steamboat, and did thereby cause great damage and injury to the said Niagara, her guards, hull, and stern, and remained foul of and upon the said Niagara for some time, and until she (the brig Sea) swayed round, when she cleared and passed on.

Fourth. That the said brig Sea, before and at the time of the said collision, on a voyage from Havre to New York, was coming up the East river without a pilot, and with the design of anchoring or mooring in said river; that she was moving along rapidly, with the aid of wind and tide, carrying her fore and main-top sails; that from the improper and unskilful management of the persons navigating said brig, the anchors were not let go in due time to check her headway, and bring her round into the tide, nor were her sails properly and in season furled and clewed up so as to lessen her speed, but, on the contrary, the said brig was so improperly and unskillfully managed, and navigated, in the particulars above mentioned, that she was driven upon and into the said steamboat as aforesaid.

Fifth. That the persons navigating the said brig Sea let one anchor go about abreast, or in the neighborhood of, the Fulton street slip or pier, which partially checked her headway, but, notwithstanding, she continued to drift up the stream with the tide, heading partly across it and in the direction of the Brooklyn shore; that the second anchor not being shackled, or otherwise in readiness, as it should have been, was not cast off into the stream until the said brig had drifted up to about opposite Catherine street pier, and at a distance of three hundred feet or thereabouts from the said Niagara, and before a sufficient scope of cable had run out, or the two anchors had checked her headway, she ran into and afoul of the said Niagara, the stern of said brig striking with great force and violence against the starboard side of said steamboat, twenty-five feet from the bows, and cutting in the deck beams, fender-piece, and plank shears, besides twisting round and damaging her stern; that at the time of the striking, the said brig was heading round into the stream and towards the Brooklyn shore, and that the collision aforesaid was occasioned by the negligence, inattention, and want of proper care and skill on the part of said brig, her master and crew, and not from any fault, omission, or neglect on the part of the said Niagara, her master and crew.

Sixth. That the said brig Sea had not before, or at the time of the collision, a proper lookout and watch to guard against the danger of a collision in a crowded port; that the crew of said brig were occupied on the forward part of the vessel—while she was drifting up as above mentioned, after having let go the first anchor—in shackling or otherwise preparing the second anchor to be cast into the stream; that the collision would not have occurred if both of said anchors had been in readiness, or had been suffered to run in due season, which would have checked her headway, or if the position of her yards had been changed, by hauling on the larboard braces,—which would have forced her off from the docks towards the middle of the stream; and that the master and crew of the Niagara, fearful, from the course pursued by those navigating the brig that she would run into and upon their vessel, did everything in their power, by getting out additional fasts to the wharf, and heeling their vessel over, to diminish the extent of the injury and damage to be caused by the blow.

Seventh. That the said steamboat Niagara, was so injured and disabled by the force and violence with which she was struck by the said brig Sea, as to render it necessary to take her to the dry dock for repairs, at a time when her services on the line in which she was engaged, were particularly valuable to her owners; and that the libelants, in consequence of the Niagara having been run into and foul of as aforesaid, have sustained damages for the hire and expenses of a steamboat to supply her place; for repairs to the said Niagara, and to her fixtures for her loss of time, for expenses of her master and crew, and otherwise, to the amount of one thousand dollars—which said damages were occasioned by the negligence, want of skill, and improper conduct of the persons navigating the said brig Sea, and not by or through any fault, negligence, or improper conduct on the part of the persons on board the Niagara, her master and crew.

Eighth. That since the said Niagara was so run foul of and into as aforesaid, these libelants have applied to the firm of John Ewell & Company, the consignees of said brig—the owners of said brig residing, as these libelants are informed and believe, in the town of Warren, and state of Rhode Island, where said brig belongs—and requested them to settle with these libelants for the damages sustained by them as above mentioned; but the said consignees deny that there is any liability on the part of said brig for the said damages, or any part thereof.

Ninth. That the said brig Sea is now lying in the port of New York, and within the jurisdiction of this court.

Tenth. That all and singular the premises are true, and within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States and of this honorable court.

Wherefore the libelant prays that process in due form of law, according to the course of this honorable court in cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction, may issue against the said brig Sea, her tackle, apparel, and other furniture, and that all persons having any interest therein, may be cited to appear and answer all and singular the matters aforesaid; and that this honorable court would be pleased to decree the payment of the damages as aforesaid, and that the said vessel may be condemned and sold to pay the same, and that the libelants may have such other and further relief as in law and justice they may be entitled to receive.

I. Libel In Rem by Owners of Vessel to Obtain Possession of Her.

To the honorable, etc. (as in I, A).

The libel of A. B. and C. D., of Bath, merchants, owners of the schooner or vessel the Sea Gull, her tackle, apparel and furniture, and against all persons intervening for their interest therein, in a cause of possession, civil and maritime, alleges as follows:

First. That they are the true and only owners of the schooner Sea Gull, her tackle, apparel and furniture, and being such owners, on or about the tenth day of May, 1846, appointed one E. F., master of said vessel, to navigate and sail her for them, at the wages agreed upon between them, and the said E. F., continued to be such master till the fifth day of August, instant, when the libelants removed him as master, and appointed another master in his place.

Second. That when the new master, so appointed by the libelants, went on board said vessel, by their orders, to enter upon his duties as such master, the said E. F. refused to give up the possession or the papers of said vessel to the said master, or to the libelants, who have demanded the same—to the great damage of the libelant.

Third. That all and singular the premises are true, and within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States and of this honorable court.

Whereupon the libelants pray that process in due form of law, according to the course of this honorable court, in causes of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction, may issue against the said vessel, her tackle, apparel and furniture, and that the said E. F. may be personally cited to appear and answer all the matters aforesaid, and that the said vessel, her tackle, apparel and furniture, may be delivered to the libelants, and that the said E. F. may be condemned to pay to the libelants their damages and costs in the premises, and that they may have such other and further relief in the premises as in law and justice they may be entitled to receive.

J. Libel In Rem by Minority Owner for Security for Return or Sale of Vessel.

To the honorable etc. (as in I, A).

The libel of A. B., of the city of New York, part owner of the brig Packet, against the said brig, her tackle, apparel and furniture, and against all persons intervening for their interest therein, and especially against C. D., part owner of said brig, in a cause of possession, civil and maritime, alleges as follows:

First. That the libelant is the true and lawful owner of one-quarter of the brig Packet, of the burthen of 200 tons, her tackle, apparel and furniture, and boats, and the said C. D. is the owner of the remaining three-quarters of said brig, and no other person is owner of said vessel or any portion thereof, and the said brig is now lying in the port of Hudson, in the southern district of New York.

Second. That the said C. D. has hitherto acted as ship's husband of said vessel, and has now the possession thereof, and declares his intention of despatching said vessel on a sealing voyage to the Pacific ocean. That the libelant has expressed to said C. D. his dissent from said voyage, and has remonstrated with him on the subject, and still dissents from the same, but the said C. D. persists in his determination to send her on said voyage, and is now procuring her outfit and crew.

Third. That all and singular the premises are true, and within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States and of this honorable court.

Wherefore the libelant prays that process in due form of law, according to the course of this honorable court in cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction, may issue against the said vessel, her tackle, apparel, furniture and boats, and that all persons claiming any right in said vessel, and especially the said C. D., three-quarters owner as aforesaid, may be cited to appear and answer the matters aforesaid, and to show cause why the said C. D. should not be restrained from sending the said vessel on the said voyage until good and sufficient security shall be given in this court to the full value of the libelant's interest in said vessel, her tackle, apparel, furniture and boats, for the safe return of said vessel to the said port of Hudson, where she belongs, and that this honorable court will be pleased to decree that such security be given or the possession of said vessel, her tackle, etc., be delivered to the libelant, with costs, and that the said vessel, her tackle, etc., may be sold under the direction of this honorable court, and the proceeds of such sale brought into this court, to be divided according to law; and that the libelant may have such other and further relief in the premises as in law and justice he may be entitled to receive.

K. Libel In Rem by Part Owner for Sale of Vessel.

(Address and statement of parties as in the last precedent, then proceed): in a cause of licitation or partition, alleges as follows:

First. That he is two-fifths owner of the brigantine Red Rover, her tackle, apparel, furniture and boats; that C. D. is owner of two-fifths and E. F. is owner of one-fifth, and is also master of said vessel, and she is now in the port of New York.

Second. That in consequence of diversity of opinion and interest in relation to the employment of said vessel, which is irreconcilable, the said owners are unable to agree upon any voyage or business for said vessel. That the libelant has named a reasonable price for said vessel, at which he is willing to sell his share, or buy the shares of his co-owners, but they refuse either to buy or sell, and, in consequence of their impracticability and obstinacy, he is unable to sell to any other person.

Third. That all and singular the premises are true, and within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States and of this honorable court.

Wherefore the libelant prays that process in due form of law, according to the course of this honorable court in cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction, may issue against the said brigantine, her tackle, apparel, furniture and boats, and that all persons claiming any right in said vessel, and especially the said C. D. and E. F., part owners and master as aforesaid, may be cited to appear and answer the matters aforesaid, and that the said vessel, her tackle, etc., may be sold under the direction of this honorable court, and the proceeds thereof brought into court to be divided and distributed according to law, and that the libelant may have such other and further relief in the premises as in law and justice he may be entitled to receive.

To the honorable, etc. (as in I, A.)

The libel of Silas Talbot, esquire, commander of the United States ship of war the Constitution, on behalf as well of the United States as of himself and the officers and crew of the said ship, against the ship Amelia, her tackle, apparel, furniture and cargo:

The said libelant for and on behalf as aforesaid, doth hereby propound, allege and declare to this honorable court, as followeth:

First. That pursuant to instructions for that purpose from the president of the United States, the libelant in and with the said United States ship of war the Constitution and her officers and crew, did subdue, seize and take upon the high seas, the said ship or vessel called the Amelia of the burthen of about 370 tons, with her apparel, guns and appurtenances, and a valuable cargo on board of the same, consisting of cotton, sugar, and dry goods in bales, and hath brought the said ship or vessel and her cargo into the port of New York, where they now are.

Second. That the said ship or vessel called the Amelia, at the time of the said capture thereof, was armed with eight carriage guns, and was under the command of Citoyen Etienne Prevost, a French officer of Marine, and had on board besides the said commander thereof, eleven French mariners; that as this libellant hath been informed, the said ship or vessel with her said cargo, being the property of some person or persons to the said libellant unknown, sailed some time since from Calcutta, an English port in the East Indies, bound for some port in Europe: That upon her said voyage she was met with and captured as a prize by a French national corvette, called La Diligente, commanded by L. T. Dubois, who took out of her the captain and crew of the said ship Amelia, with all the papers relating to her and her cargo, and placed the said Etienne Prevost and the said French mariners on board of her, and ordered her to St. Domingo for adjudication, as a good and lawful prize; and that she remained in the full and peaceable possession of the French from the time of the capture thereof by them, for the space of ten days, whereby this libellant is advised that as well by the laws of nations, as by the particular law of France, the said ship became and was to be considered as a French ship.

Third. This proponent doth allege, propound and declare, that all and singular the premises are and were true, public and notorious, of which due proof being made, he humbly prays the usual process, and monition of this court in this behalf to be made, and that the said Etienne Prevost, and all other persons having or claiming any interest in the said ship Amelia, her apparel, guns, appurtenances and cargo, or any part thereof, may be cited in general and special, to answer the premises, and that right and justice may be duly administered in this behalf, and all due proceedings being had, that the same ship or vessel, her apparel, guns, appurtenances and cargo, for the causes aforesaid, and others appearing, may, by the definitive sentence and decree of this honorable court be condemned as forfeited, to be distributed as by law is provided respecting the captures made by the public armed vessels of the United States; or if it shall appear that the same or any part or parcel thereof ought to be restored to any person or persons, as the former owner or owners thereof, then that the same may be so restored upon the payment of such salvage as by law ought to be paid for the same.

Sworn, etc.

Benedict's Adm. 541.

M. Libel for Restitution of Captured Ship and Cargo.

To the honorable, etc. (as in I, A).

The libel of Robert Findley, etc.

First. That your libellants are the true owners of the ship William, James Leggat master, now lying in the port of Philadelphia, and within the jurisdiction of this honorable court.

Second. That on the third day of May last, the said ship being on her voyage from Bremen to Potomac river, in the state of Maryland, and within nine miles of the sea coast of the United States, received an American pilot on board for the purpose of conducting her safely up the Chesapeake Bay to the place of her destination, and after receiving the said pilot she continued on the same course until she had arrived within about two miles of Cape Henry, the southern promontory of Chesapeake Bay, in five fathom water, and as near the shore as the pilot thought it proper to go, when she was forcibly seized and taken into possession by a number of armed men under the command of Peter Joanene, captain of an armed schooner then coming out of Chesapeake Bay, called the Citizen Genet, and bearing the national colors of the republic of France, as a prize to the said schooner, and hath since been detained and now is in the possession of the said Peter Joanene, who also then and there made prisoners of the captain, officers and crew of the said ship William, and them as prisoners doth detain.

Third. That not admitting that the said schooner the Citizen Genet was duly commissioned and authorized to make prizes of vessels belonging to British subjects, which they pray may be inquired of, humbly insist that according to the premises, the said ship

William was, at the time of her being so taken, upon neutral ground, within the territorial jurisdiction and under the protection of the United States, who are now at peace with the king and people of Great Britain, and that the said Peter Joanene and the persons under his command had no permission or authority from or under the United States to capture British vessels within that distance from the sea coast, to which by the laws of nations and the laws of the United States, the right and jurisdiction of the United States extended.

Inasmuch, then, as the said capture and detention of the said ship William and the captain, officers and crew thereof, are manifestly unjust and contrary to the laws of nations and the laws of the United States, your libelants humbly pray that the said ship William, her cargo, tackle, apparel and furniture, and all other things belonging to her may, by the sentence and decree of this honorable court, be restored to your libelants. That the said captain, officers and crew thereof may be relieved from imprisonment for the purpose of navigating her to her destined port, and that full satisfaction may be made by the said Peter Joanene and all others concerned, as well for the said unlawful capture, and detention of the said ship, as for the imprisonment of the said captain, officers and crew thereof, and all damages, charges and expenses incurred thereby.

For which end your libelants humbly pray process of attachment, arrest and monition as in like cases is customary.

Sworn, etc.

B. Claim by Foreign Consul for Unknown Owners in Case of Salvage.

To the honorable, etc. (as in I, A).

The claim and answer of James C. Buchanan, his Britannic majesty's vice-consul in and for the city and state of New York and eastern New Jersey, intervening for the interest of the owner or owners of the British ship Waterloo and her cargo, alleges as follows:

First. That the said ship Waterloo is, as alleged in the said libel, and as the said claimant believes to be true, British property; and he believes the cargo of merchandise alleged to have been found on board of the said ship, to be in like manner British property: And as such vice-consul, and in behalf of such British owners as may be entitled to the same, he claims the same as their property.

Second. That as to the facts alleged and set forth in the said libel the said claimant neither admits nor denies the same, but leaves the same to be duly proved to the satisfaction of this court.

And the said claimant prays, on behalf of the owner or owners of the said ship Waterloo, and her aforesaid cargo, or of any other persons or persons whom the same may concern, that the said ship, her tackle, apparel and furniture, and her cargo aforesaid, may be sold, and out of the proceeds of the sale thereof, after the payment of all costs and charges incurred, that the said libelants, having duly proved as aforesaid the facts in their said libel set forth, may be allowed and paid such rate and amount of salvage, for their labor and exertions in bringing the said ship and her aforesaid cargo into this port, as by this court shall be deemed just and reasonable under the circumstances of the case, and that the surplus of the said proceeds, after payment of such salvage as aforesaid, may be adjudged and decreed to be paid to the said claimant, on behalf of the owner or owners of the said ship and her aforesaid cargo, or whomsoever the same may concern; or that such other order or decree may be made in relation to the same as this court shall deem proper. Benedict's Adm. 435.

IX. Exceptions to Libel.

A. Form and Sufficiency.

To the honorable, etc. (as in I, A).

The exceptions of David Jones, defendant, to the libel of James Jackson, libelant, allege that the said libel is informal and insufficient, as follows:

First exception. That the same is not signed by the libelant, nor by any proctor of this court.

Second exception. That the same does not allege that the libelant has sustained any damages in the matter of the libel; nor that the defendant is indebted to the libelant in any sum.

Third exception. That the third article thereof is scandalous and impertinent.

Benedict's Adm. 259.

B. Exception to Libel, New Matter.
To the honorable, etc. (as in I, A).

The exception of David Jones, defendant, to the libel of James Jackson, libelant, alleges that, on the tenth day of June last, the said libelant, in consideration of one dollar to him paid, released the said defendant from the cause of action set forth in the said libel; and, therefore, the said defendant is not bound further to answer the same; and he prays that the said libel may be dismissed with costs. Sworn, etc.

X. Answer.

To the honorable, etc. (as in I, A).

The answer of John Richards, of Portland, in the state of Maine, intervening for his interest in the brig Spartan, to the libel of Edmund Kimball, junior, and George R. Sheldon, of the city of New York, merchants co-partners, doing business under the name of Kimball and Sheldon, answers and alleges as follows:

First. That this respondent is ignorant of the matter contained in the first, fourth, and fifth articles of the said libel, and as to the matters contained in the second and third articles of the said libel, he has no personal knowledge, but has understood and believes that the same are, in a great part, falsely alleged, and that the truth is as is hereafter alleged.

Second. That the said brig Spartan being in good order, and well and sufficiently equipped and manned, arrived in the bay of New York early in the evening of the 28th day of November, it being moonlight, and the wind and tide being favorable, but the wind being light, the vessel did not enter the East river before the moon had set, and it had become overcast and dark, so that it was difficult to see a vessel without a light, even at a short distance. That when about to anchor, the master and crew of the said brig Spartan, discovered a vessel which proved to be said brig Buenos Ayres, lying in the stream at single anchor, directly ahead of them, and but a short distance off, and by the force of the tide and wind, and without any neglect, carelessness, or default of the master and crew of the Spartan, and notwithstanding every possible precaution, she was driven towards, and in contact with the said brig Buenos Ayres, and sustained damage to a large amount, to-wit, to the amount of two hundred and fifty dollars and upwards.

Third. That at the time above mentioned, the brig Buenos Ayres was lying at anchor in the harbor of New York, in the channel of the East river, between the Fulton ferry and the South ferry, and had not a light set in her rigging, on deck, or elsewhere visible to those on board of the brig Spartan, and the said accident was occasioned by negligence and want of care in the master, officers and crew of the said brig Buenos Ayres, in anchoring the said brig without proper light in the channel of the East river, where inward bound vessels must pass.

Fourth. That all and singular the premises are true.

The Steamboat New Jersey, her tackle, apparel, etc. Isaac Newton, claimant and appellant v. John H. Stebbins, respondent. To the honorable the supreme court of the United States:

The appeal of Isaac Newton, the above named claimant and appellant, respectfully sheweth that on the fourteenth day of November, 1845, the above named John H. Stebbins filed his bill in the district court of the United States, for the southern district of New York, against the Steamboat New Jersey, her tackle, apparel, etc., in a cause civil and maritime, for the recovery of damages alleged to have been sustained by him to the sloop Hamlet and her cargo, by collision with the said Steamboat New Jersey, on the Hudson river, in the state of New York, and that the said Steamboat New Jersey was arrested upon process issued upon said libel, and was discharged on your petitioner's filing his claim and entering into stipulations, and your petitioner thereupon filed his answer to said libel, and the said libellant replied thereto, and such proceedings were had in the said cause that, on the fourteenth day of October, 1846, a final decree was made and pronounced therein by the said district court, wherein it was in substance adjudged that the said libellant recover against the Steamboat New Jersey, her tackle, etc., the sum of two thousand four hundred and three dollars and seventy-five cents, together with costs.

Wherefore, this appellant appeals from the whole of said decree of said (district court) to the supreme court of the United States (to the circuit court of appeals of the _____ judicial circuit), and respectfully prays that the said decree of the said (district court), and the libel, answer, pleadings, depositions, evidence and proceedings, in the said cause may be sent to the supreme court of the United States without delay, and that the said supreme court will proceed to hear the said cause anew, and that the said decree of the (district court), and every part thereof, may be reversed, and a decree made dismissing said libel, with costs, or such other decree as to the said supreme court shall seem just.

ALIENATING AFFECTIONS.

I. Declaration, 50

II. Complaint, 51

For other forms, see 1 STANDARD PROC. 775, 777, 778.

I. Declaration.

The declaration contained four counts. The first stated that on the 1st of January, 1741, Mary then and until the 24th of December, 1742, being the wife of the plaintiff (but since deceased) unlawfully and without his leave and against his consent departed and went away from him, etc., and lived and continued absent and apart from him from thence until and upon the 8th of August, 1742, and during the said time that the said Mary so lived and continued absent a large estate both real and personal to the value of 30,000*l*, was devised to her by W. Worth, D. D., her late father for her sole and separate use and at her sole and separate disposal; that thereupon she was desirous of being and intended to be again reconciled to the plaintiff and to live and cohabit with him, whereby he would have had and received the benefit and advantage of the said real and personal estate (the plaintiff being willing and desirous to be reconciled, etc.) yet the defendant knowing the said premises and having notice of the said Mary's intention, but contriving to injure the plaintiff, and to prevent Mary the wife from being reconciled to him, etc., on the 8th of August, 1742, unlawfully and unjustly persuaded, procured and enticed the said Mary to continue absent and apart from the plaintiff and to secrete, hide and conceal herself from the plaintiff, by means of which persuasion, procuration and enticement the said Mary from the said 8th of August, 1742, until the time of her death on the 24th of December, 1742, continued absent and apart and secreted herself, etc.; whereby the plaintiff during all that time totally lost the comfort and society of his said wife and her aid and assistance in his domestic affairs and the profit and advantage that he would and ought to have had of and from the said real and personal estates, etc., and was put to great charges and expenses in endeavoring to find out and gain access to his said wife in order to persuade and procure her to be reconciled to him.

The second count stated that on the 7th of August, 1742, Dr. Worth died, on whose death the plaintiff's wife became seised and possessed of real and personal estates to the value of 30,000*l* to her sole and separate use and at her sole and separate disposal, yet the defendant maliciously and wickedly intending to injure the plaintiff, and to deprive him of the aid, assistance and comfort of his wife, and to raise, foment and continue discords and quarrels between the plaintiff and his wife; and to alienate the affections of the wife from the plaintiff, and to deprive the plaintiff from having or receiving any advantage or benefit from the said estates, etc., on the 8th of August, 1742, unlawfully and unjustly persuaded, procured and enticed the said wife to depart and absent herself from the plaintiff and to secrete herself from him, by means of which persuasion, procuration and enticement the said Mary on the said 8th of August, departed and absented herself from the plaintiff without the plaintiff's consent and continued absent until her death, etc.; whereby the plaintiff, etc. (as in the first count).

The third count stated that on the 8th of August, 1742, the plaintiff's wife without and against his consent went away from him, and went to the defendant, yet the defendant, well knowing the said Mary to be the wife of the plaintiff, received her, and concealed her from the plaintiff, and kept her so concealed from him until the time of her death, and wholly refused to deliver her to the plaintiff or to discover her place of residence (although on, etc., at, etc., he was requested, etc.) but unlawfully entertained, harbored, concealed and secreted her from the plaintiff from the 8th of August, 1742, until the time of her death; whereby the plaintiff, etc. (as before only omitting that the plaintiff was deprived of the benefit of the fortune, etc.) Winsmore v. Greenbank, Willes 578, 125 Eng. Reprint 330.

II. Complaint for Enticing Away Plaintiff's Wife.

I. That M. B. is, and at the times hereinafter mentioned was, the wife of the plaintiff.

II. That in the month of ———, 18——, while the plaintiff was living and cohabiting with and supporting her, in ———, and while they were living together happily as man and wife, the defendant, well knowing her to be the wife of the plaintiff, and wrongfully contriving and intending to injure the plaintiff, and to deprive him of her comfort, society, and aid (while this plaintiff was temporarily absent), maliciously enticed her away from the plaintiff's and her then residence in ———, to a separate residence, in ———, and has ever since there detained and harbored her, against the consent of the plaintiff, and in opposition to his utmost peaceable efforts to obtain her from the defendant's custody, control and influence.

III. That by reason of the premises, the plaintiff has been and still is wrongfully deprived by the defendant of the comfort, society, and aid of his said wife, and has been put to great trouble and expense in endeavoring to recover her from the defendant, and has suffered great distress of body and mind, to his damage ——— dollars. 1 Abb. And although the

VII. Defenses.

A. Answer, Denial of Injury by Dog

That said dog did not kill (or injure) the sheep alleged. 2 Abb. Forms 117.

B. Denial of Ownership of Dog.

That the defendant was not the owner or the possessor of the said dog at the time of the grievances alleged. 2 Abb. Forms 116.

C. Denial of Scienter.

That at the time of the grievances alleged the defendant did not know, and had no reason to believe, that said dog was accustomed to bite mankind, or was of a mischievous nature (or otherwise, according to the allegations of the complaint). 2 Abb. Forms 116.

D. Plea, Dog Killed Worriying Sheep.

Because he says that the said dog, in the said first count of the said declaration mentioned (before the said time when, etc., in that count mentioned, had been, and was, used and accustomed to hurt and worry sheep, to-wit, at, etc. (venue), aforesaid. And the said defendant further saith that the said dog being so used and accustomed to hurt and worry sheep), just before the said time when, etc., to-wit, on the day and year in the said first count mentioned, at the, etc., aforesaid, was hunting and worrying certain sheep of one E. F., of great value (in a certain close of him the said E. F. there situate), for which reason, and because the said dog could not otherwise be restrained or hindered from hunting and worrying the said sheep, he the said defendant, at the said time when, etc., as the servant of the said E. F., and by his command, shot off, fired off, and discharged the said gun, in the said first count of the said declaration mentioned, at, towards, and against the said dog, and then and there shot, hit, struck and wounded the said dog, as it was lawful for him to do for the cause aforesaid, which is the said supposed trespass in the introductory part of this plea mentioned, and whereof the said plaintiff hath above complained against the said defendant, and this, etc. 3 Chit. Pl. 1097.

E. Answer, Dog Killed Worriying Sheep (Statutory).

That at and before the committing of the said trespasses in said petition mentioned, the said dog of the said plaintiff was found, by this defendant, running, worrying, and injuring the sheep of him the said defendant (or the sheep of one M. N.); and thereupon the said defendant killed the said dog of the said plaintiff so found running, worrying, and injuring the said sheep, as he lawfully might. 2 Abb. Forms 121.

ANNUITIES.

- I. Bill for Annuity, 58
- II. Order That Receiver Pay Annuities, 60
- III. Decree for Recovery of Annuity, 60
- I. Bill for Dower and Annuity Against Executors, Devises in Trust.

Humbly complaining sheweth unto your lordship your oratrix E. H., of, etc., the widow and relict of R. H., of, etc., deceased, that the said R. H. was in his lifetime and at the time of his death, and also at the time of making his said will hereinafter stated, seised or entitled in fee simple in possession of or to divers messuages, lands and hereditaments situate in R. aforesaid or elsewhere in the county of C., and being so seised or entitled he the said R. H. when of sound mind, memory and understanding duly made and published his last will and testament in writing, bearing date, etc., which was executed by him and attested and published in such manner as by law is required in devises of real estates, and thereby gave and devised unto his son-in-law T. T., of, etc., and W. W., of, etc., and to the survivor of them and to the heirs, executors and administrators of such survivor, all that his messuage, etc., upon trust to sell, etc., and at the decease of his then wife your oratrix, he the said testator gave and devised all other, his messuages, etc., to his said trustees to be sold in manner thereinbefore limited and appointed respecting his other estates; and the said testator gave and bequeathed unto your oratrix during her life the annual or yearly sum of £5 to be paid to her out of the rents arising from the said messuages, etc.; and the said testator gave and bequeathed all the moneys arising from the said sales after payment thereof of his debts, funeral expenses and the charges of the probate and execution thereof, and all other his worldly estate not otherwise therein before bequeathed, to be equally divided amongst his children, their executors and administrators share and share alike (except his son R., who was therein mentioned to have been otherwise provided for); and the said testator thereby appointed the said T. T. and W. W. to be executors of that his will. As by, etc.

That the said testator departed this life on or about ——— without altering or revoking his said will, leaving your oratrix his widow, J. H., of, etc., his eldest son and heir at law, John H., W. H. and M. H., all of, etc., and M. T. the wife of the said T. T. his only other children him surviving; and upon or soon after the said testator's death the said T. T. and W. W. duly proved his said will in the proper ecclesiastical court and undertook the executorship thereof, and they or one of them as such devisees in trust as aforesaid entered into the possession or receipt of the rents and profits of all the said testator's freehold estates, and have or hath ever since been and now are or is in the possession or receipt of the rents and profits thereof.

That under or by virtue of the said will your oratrix is entitled to an annuity or annual sum of £5 to be paid to her during her life out of such part of the said testator's estate as is devised by his said will and charged with the payment thereof; and that no settlement or provision in lieu of dower having been made upon or for the benefit of your oratrix upon or before her marriage with the said testator, your oratrix upon the death of her said late husband also became and now is entitled, over and beside the said annuity, to dower in or out of all the said testator's freehold estates of which he was seised in fee at the time of his death, or at any time during their coverture, and particularly those which are by his said will devised and directed to be sold as aforesaid, but no sum of money hath been paid or satisfied to your oratrix either on account of the said annuity or of her said dower; and your oratrix being entitled in manner aforesaid, hath frequently by herself and her agents applied in a friendly manner to the said T. T. and W. W. and requested them to account with her and pay to her the arrears of her said annuity, and also the amount of one-third part of the net income, proceeds, rents and profits of the said freehold estates accrued due since the said testator's decease, and received by them or either of them; and to let your oratrix into the possession of one-third part of the rents and profits of the said freehold estates and premises; and to assign and set out for your oratrix a full third part of the said freehold estates as and for her dower therein; and your oratrix well hoped that such her reasonable requests would have been complied with, as in justice and equity they ought. But now so it is may it please your lordship that the said T. T. and W. W., colluding and confederating with each other refuse to comply with such requests, and the said T. T. and W. W. sometimes pretend that they have not received any rents and profits of the said real estates late of the said testator or any part thereof, or if they have received any of such rents, that they have accounted with your oratrix for and paid to her a full third part thereof in lieu and satisfaction of her dower, the contrary of which they at other times admit to be true. But they nevertheless refuse to set forth a rental and particular of the said real estates, and also to set forth a full and just account of all the rents and profits of all the said real estates accrued due since the said testator's decease, as they ought to do; and they and the said other confederates who claim to be interested in the said freehold estates under the said testator's will, sometimes pretend that according to the true meaning and construction of the said will and the intention of the said testator therein, your oratrix is not entitled to both the said annuity of £5 and her dower in and out of the said testator's freehold estates; and that she ought to make her election either to take her dower only, or to accept the said annuity of £5 in lieu and bar thereof. Whereas your oratrix charges the contrary of such pretenses, and that according to the true meaning and proper construction of the said will and the intention of the said testator apparent therein, your oratrix is entitled as well to her dower in the said freehold estates of her said late husband by common law, as to the said annuity of £5 by virtue of the said will; for your oratrix charges that it is not expressed in the said will, nor can or ought to be inferred or implied from anything contained therein that the said testator meant to exclude your oratrix from her right to dower out of his freehold estates, or that she should take the said annuity of £5 in lieu of or satisfaction for such dower; and as evidence that the said testator could not so mean or intend, your oratrix charges that such annuity is considerably less than the annual value of your oratrix's dower in the said freehold estates. And your oratrix charges that her said claims are by no means repugnant to or inconsistent with, nor will in any manner disappoint any gifts or bequests contained in the said will; and therefore your oratrix humbly submits that she ought not to be put to her election either to take her said dower only, or to accept the said annuity of £5 given to her by the said will in lieu thereof; but the said confederates insist on the contrary, and under such or the like pretenses as aforesaid or some others equally unjust and unreasonable, the said T. T. and W. W. refuse to comply with your oratrix's aforesaid requests; and your oratrix not knowing the particular description of the said freehold estates and premises, and being unable to discover the same by reason of the title deeds and writings relating thereto being in the possession of the said defendants, is unable to proceed with effect at law to recover her dower out of the said estates; and the said T. T. and W. W. also threaten and intend in case your oratrix shall proceed at law for this purpose, they will set up some term or other estate or interest in the said estates by virtue of some deeds or deed in their custody or possession which will effectually defeat your oratrix's proceedings at law; and sometimes the said J. H. (the heir) alleges that the said R. H., his late father, never made any such or the like will as aforesaid, or if he did, the same was not duly executed and attested so as to pass real estates, or that he was not of sound and disposing mind, memory and understanding at the time of making the same; and that therefore on his death all his said freehold estates descended to him the said J. H. as his heir at law; and that he is accordingly seized thereof in fee simple, not subject to the payment of any such annuity to your oratrix. Whereas your oratrix charges the contrary of such pretenses to be the truth. All which actings, doings, pretenses and refusals are contrary to equity and good conscience and tend to the manifest wrong and injury of your orators in the premises. In consideration whereof and forasmuch as your orators can only have adequate relief in the premises in a court of equity where matters of this nature are properly cognizable and relievable. To the end, therefore, that the said T. T. and W. W. and their confederates when discovered may upon their several and respective corporal oaths to the best and utmost of their several and respective knowledge, remembrance, information and belief, full, true, direct and perfect answer make to all and singular the matters aforesaid, and that as fully and particularly as if the same were here repeated and they and every of them distinctly interrogated thereto.

And that the said T. T. and W. II. Order That Receiver Pay Annuities.

Let the receiver appointed, etc., out of the rents and profits of the real estate of H., the testator in, etc., pay to the annuitants in his will named the arrears now due (to them in respect) of their several annuities, as the same shall from time to time become due, at the times and in the manner in the said will mentioned; such payments to be allowed in his accounts. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkin's ed.) 2339; Hopkins v. Walker, 2 Seton Dec. (Eng. ed., 1862) 1026.

III. Decree for Recovery of Annuity.

This cause came on to be heard 9th November, 1747, before the lord chancellor, when his lordship was pleased to order and decree that it should be referred to master Allen, one of the masters of this court, to take an account of what was due to the complainant for the arrears of an annuity of 30*l* a year secured by bond, and to compute interest on each respective half-yearly payment from the end of six months after the same respectively became due after the rate of 4 per cent. per annum; and the defendant having by her answer admitted that the personal and real estate of her said father were together more than sufficient to answer the said annuity, it was further ordered that the plaintiff should pay to the said defendant what should be found due for the arrears of the said annuity and interest at such time and place as the said master should appoint, and continue to pay to plaintiff the growing payments of the said annuity as they should become due half-yearly; and in case the defendant should not pay what should be found due for the arrears of the said annuity and interest as aforesaid, then the plaintiff was to be at liberty to apply to the court for a sale of a sufficient part of the real estate in question; and it was further ordered that the said master should see a sufficient part of the said real estate set apart for securing to the plaintiff the growing payments of the said annuity during her mother's life; and it was further ordered that the defendant should execute to the plaintiff a proper conveyance of the said estate or grant thereout for securing the growing payments of the said annuity accordingly with the approbation of the said master; and that the defendant should pay to plaintiff her costs of this suit up to this time to be taxed by the said master; the consideration of subsequent costs reserved till the master should make his report; liberty to parties to apply, etc. Van Heyth. I. Plea of Autre Action Pendant.

Because he says that before the (exhibiting of the said bill), to-wit, in ——— term, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ———, in this same court (or if in any other court, describing the court by its proper title), the said plaintiff impleaded the said defendant, and (exhibited his certain bill) against him in a plea of debt, of and upon the said identical writing obligatory (or "in a certain plea of trespass on the case upon the very same identical promises and undertakings"), in the said declaration in this present suit mentioned; as by the record and proceedings thereof remaining in the said court of the said people before the aforesaid justices thereof, to-wit, at the ———, in the ——— of ——— more fully appears. And the said defendant further saith that the parties in this and the said former suit are the same, and not other or different persons; and that the said former suit so brought and prosecuted against him the said defendant by the said plaintiff as aforesaid, is still depending in the said court of the said people before the aforesaid justices thereof. And this the said defendant is ready to verify. Wherefore he prays judgment of the said bill in this suit, and that the same may be quashed. (Usual conclusion and affidavit.) Burr. App. 336, §609.

II. Answer in Abatement, Another Action Pending.

That at the commencement of this action there was, and now is, another action pending in the ——— court, in and for the county of ———, in this state, between the same parties as this action, * and for the same cause as that set forth in the complaint herein. 2 Abb. Forms 26.

III. Answer in Abatement, Another Action Pending in Case of Counterclaim.

(As in the preceding form to the *, continuing): in which the plaintiff in this action, being the defendant, has set up the same cause of action, alleged in the complaint as a counterclaim, against this defendant, who is the plaintiff in the said action. 2 Abb. Forms 27.

I. That the premises of which the plaintiff seeks partition belong to the parties to the action as tenants in common.

II. That the parties were partners in trade, and carried on business on said premises, and that the said premises were owned by them as such co-partners.

III. That in the month of ———, 18—, the partnership was dissolved by the retirement of one of the defendants therefrom; and in ———, 18—, and before this action, the defendant D. commenced an action in the ——— court of ———, against the plaintiff in this action and the defendant R., demanding judgment that the defendants therein be decreed to render an account of the stock, fixtures, machinery, and effects, and that the plaintiff's interest be adjusted and stated, and that he have judgment for the amount of his interest therein, or that a receiver be appointed to take and sell the property, and distribute it among the partners according to their respective interests; which action is still pending and undetermined. 2 Abb. Forms 27.

I. General Forms.

A. General Form of Answer.

The defendant, John Doe (by M. N., his attorney), answering the complaint herein, denies (or, if the defense is new matter, alleges, or, if the new matter be available as a counterclaim, alleges for a counterclaim thereto) that, etc.

If affirmative relief is sought, but not otherwise, add, after statement of facts:

Wherefore, defendant demands (stating what).

(Signature.)

(Verification, if the complaint is verified.) 2 Abb. Forms 11.

Note.—It is a common practice to add to an answer not asking affirmative relief, a prayer in this or similar form: Wherefore the defendant demands judgment dismissing the complaint (on the merits) with costs.

B. General Form of Answer Where There Are Several Defenses.

The defendant (by M. N., his attorney), answering the complaint herein:

First. For a first defense to the first alleged cause of action, denies (etc., generally or specifically).

Second. For a further defense to said cause of action, said defendant alleges (here set forth the facts constituting it).

Third. For a further defense to said first cause of action, said defendant alleges (here set forth the facts constituting it, except that if any of them have been alleged above, an express reference to those allegations will suffice instead of a repetition of them).

Fourth. For a counterclaim to the second alleged cause of action, said defendant alleges, etc.

Wherefore, said defendant demands, etc. 2 Abb. Forms 12.

Note.—If a defense be intended as a "partial defense" it is essential that it be so stated, and it must be expressly stated to be a partial defense to the entire complaint or to one or more separate causes of action therein set forth.

Note.—2 STANDARD PROC. 55, 56.

C. General Form of Counterclaim.

The defendant (naming him, if he is one of several, answering separately), by M. N., his attorney, answering the complaint herein, for a counterclaim (to the first cause of action) says:

That on the _____ day of _____, 18—, and before the commencement of this action, the plaintiff became, and still is, indebted to this defendant upon an account (etc., or otherwise, stating cause of action as in a complaint).

Wherefore, etc. 2 Abb. Forms 172.

Note.—7 STANDARD PROC. 36. At common law affirmative allegations were denied in negative form, thus: "And the said defendant, by _____, his attorney, says that the windows of the said message or tenement were not in any part thereof ruinous, or in decay, or out of repair," etc. This is sufficient and proper under the codes; but the profession in most cases have adopted a denial of the affirmative, thus: "The defendant _____, by _____, his attorney, answering the complaint herein, denies that the windows of the said message or tenement were in any part thereof ruinous, or in decay, or out of repair," etc. Negative allegations at common law were traversed by affirmative allegations.

The negative denials following, B—M, may be changed to the affirmative form and "denied."

B. Answer, General Denial of One of Several Causes of Action.

The defendant answering the first cause of action contained in the complaint herein denies each and every allegation of the complaint respecting the same. 2 Abb. Forms 17.

C. Answer, Denial of Deed (a).

Answer, Denial of Deed (c).

That the defendant (or, the plaintiff) did not convey to the plaintiff (or defendant) the possession (or the equity of redemption) in said premises, as alleged. 2 Abb. Forms 39.

D. Answer, Denial of Conditional Delivery.

That the said promissory note (or deed), etc., was not executed and delivered by the plaintiff on the condition and understanding alleged, but was delivered by him absolutely and without condition. 2 Abb. Forms 39.

E. Answer, Denial of Covenant.

That he did not covenant or agree with the plaintiff, as alleged. 2 Abb. Forms 103.

F. Answer, Denial of Breach of Covenant.

That the defendant duly performed said covenant (or all the conditions of said contract) on his part; and (here state performance, pursuing the words of the covenant, if it be in the affirmative; and stating particular acts, if it be in the alternative, or in any case, where this can be done without too great prolixity). 2 Abb. Forms 104.

G. Answer, Denial of Breach of Agreement.

That he did not agree with the plaintiff, as alleged. 2 Abb. Forms 104.

J. Answer, Denial of Indebtedness, Admitting Part.

That the plaintiff did not lend him the money mentioned in the complaint, nor any part thereof. 2 Abb. Forms 61.

L. Answer, Denial That Money Was Received.

(II. That he never promised to pay any money to the plaintiff on account of any money paid to the said M. N.) 2 Abb. Forms 61.

N. Answer, Denial of Loss by Common Carrier.

That the said goods were not lost to said ——— through any negligence or misbehavior of the defendants, and they have no knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief whether the said goods were ever lost to said ———. 2 Abb. Forms 110.

Note.—The use of this form will depend upon whether negligence or misbehavior of the carrier is alleged in the complaint, defendant's liability not being based necessarily upon the presence of either of these facts.

O. Answer, Denial of Delivery of Goods to Common Carrier.

That said ——— never delivered to them the goods mentioned in said complaint, and they never received the same. 2 Abb. Forms 109.

Note.—See note to II, A.

P. Answer, Denial of Employment as Common Carrier.

III. That before the commencement of this action the defendant had, on the demand of said M. N., the true owner, delivered the same to him. 2 Abb. Forms 109.

III. New Matter.

A. Answer, That Defendant is a Bona Fide Purchaser Without Notice.

I. That on the _____ day of _____, 18—, M. N., was, or pretended to be, the owner in fee simple of the lands and premises described in the complaint, free from all incumbrances; and he then was in the actual possession thereof.

II. That the defendant, believing such to be the fact, on that day agreed with him for the purchase thereof in fee simple, for the price of _____ dollars; whereupon the said M. N. conveyed the said premises to this defendant, by his deed, dated on the _____ day of _____, which deed contained a covenant on the part of said M. N. that he was absolutely seized of said premises, and that the same were free from all incumbrances.

III. That said sum of _____ dollars was actually paid by this defendant to said M. N. (at the time of the date of said deed).

IV. That this defendant had not, at or before the time of the said conveyance, or of the said payment of the purchase money, any notice whatsoever, either express or implied, of the said (annuity of _____ dollars), now claimed by the plaintiff, or of any other incumbrance whatsoever that affected the said premises. 2 Abb. Forms 167.

Note.—It would be better to state definitely in II that the defendant believed M. N. to be the owner in fee simple.

B. Answer, That the Delivery Was in Escrow.

I. That he gave said deed (or other writing) to secure the repayment of _____ dollars, then lent by the plaintiff to one M. N., and that he delivered said deed, not to the plaintiff or his agent, but to one O. P. as an escrow, to be kept by him upon condition that if the said M. N. should within _____ months secure the repayment of said sum of money to the plaintiff by a mortgage upon his freehold at _____; that then the said deed should be immediately discharged and annulled, and returned to the defendant, and that only in case of default of the said M. N. so securing the repayment of the said sum, should the said deed of the defendant stand in force.

II. That within the time agreed, and on the _____ day of _____, 18—, said M. N. did secure the repayment of the said sum to the plaintiff by a mortgage upon said freehold, which the plaintiff then and there accepted as such security; whereby the deed of the defendant so delivered in escrow became void. 2 Abb. Forms 40.

C. Answer, Coverture of the Defendant.

That at the time of the making of the supposed (contract) alleged in the complaint, this defendant was (and still is) the wife of one M. N. 2 Abb. Forms 40.

D. Answer, Rescission of Contract.

That after the contract alleged in the complaint, and before any breach thereof, it was agreed by and between the plaintiff and the defendant that the said contract should be waived, abandoned, and rescinded; and they then waived, abandoned, and rescinded the same accordingly. 2 Abb. Forms 56.

Note.—Date of rescission might be inserted.

E. Answer, Accounting and Payment.

That on the _____ day of _____, 18—, this defendant accounted with and paid over to the plaintiff all moneys received by this defendant, up to that day, as such agent of the plaintiff. 2 Abb. Forms 62.

Forms 33.

Note.—If parties are not the same their privy must be alleged.

G. Answer by Common Carrier That the Damage Was by Plaintiff's Fault.

I. That the goods mentioned in the complaint, called ———, were a corrosive and destructive substance, rotting casks and cask-hoops, and other substances in contact with it, which the plaintiffs knew, but which the defendant did not know, and could not reasonably be expected to know.

II. That the plaintiffs did not inform the defendant of the destructive nature of the goods, and negligently delivered the same to the defendant in bulk, and thereby induced the defendant to believe that the same might be placed in contact with casks, cask-hoops, and other substances, safely; and they in consequence stowed the same among ———, whereby the injury complained of was caused, and not otherwise. 2 Abb. Forms 110.

Note.—As to sufficiency of this form see Hutchinson v. Guion, 28 L. J. (N. S.) C. P. 63.

H. Answer by Common Carrier That the Goods Were Lost by Risk Excluded by Contract.

I. That the merchandise mentioned in the complaint was delivered by the plaintiffs to the defendants, and by them received on board the steamer Lexington, under and in pursuance of a special contract made between them for the transportation of the same from New York to Stonington, of which the following is a copy: (Copy of the contract.)

II. That while the merchandise was well and properly stowed on board the steamboat, and being carried pursuant to the contract, and without any carelessness or misconduct of defendants or their servants, or any defect of the boat or its equipments, the boat, by mere casualty and accident, took fire, and was consumed, with its cargo, including the merchandise of the plaintiffs; and thereby, by accident and casualty of fire, and not by any negligence, misconduct or default of the defendants, the merchandise was not delivered at Stonington, and became lost to the plaintiffs. 2 Abb. Forms 111.

Note.—Substance of form is approved in Dorr v. New Jersey S. N. Co., 11 N. Y. 485.

Take notice that judgment was entered in this action, in favor of the (plaintiff) for (——— dollars, damages and costs), in the office of the clerk of the county of ——— (or the clerk of this court), on the ——— day of ———, 18— (and affirming the judgment theretofore recovered herein by said plaintiff). 2 Abb. Forms 636.

II. Taking Appeals.

A. Application for Appeal.

The United States, by E. P. Norton, its solicitor, makes application to the honorable court of claims for an appeal of the case of Theodore Adams v. The United States, to the supreme court of the United States.

E. P. Norton,

Solicitor for the United States.

United States v. Adams, 6 Wall. (U. S.) 101, 18 L. ed. 792.

B. Petition for Appeal.

"Your petitioner, James T. Shields, Jr., suing as receiver of the Morristown and Cumberland Gap Railroad Company, respectfully represents that there is manifest error committed, to the injury of the petitioner, by the final decree pronounced in this cause on the 31st day of January, 1894, and by the interlocutory orders and decrees theretofore pronounced in these ———, in and by which said interlocutory orders and final decrees this court assumed and asserted jurisdiction of the property and effects belonging to and constituting the estate of the defendant Morristown and Cumberland Gap Railroad Company as against the lawful custody and possession of this petitioner under orders and decrees theretofore pronounced by the chancery court of Hamblen county, Tennessee, in the cause pending in said chancery court entitled 'Thomas B. Crosby et al v. Morristown and Cumberland Gap Railroad Company, et al,' under jurisdiction theretofore lawfully exercised and assumed, said chancery court being a court of equity of concurrent jurisdiction with this court, and which said chancery court of Hamblen county, Tennessee, was thereby ousted of the lawful jurisdiction, and this petitioner, as such receiver, became deprived of the lawful custody of the property and estate of said Morristown and Cumberland Gap Railroad Company, the subject-matter of controversy in the cause then and there pending in said court.

"Wherefore petitioner, James T. Shields, Jr., receiver, etc., considering himself aggrieved, prays an order granting an appeal from said final decree and interlocutory orders, taking and exercising jurisdiction as aforesaid, to the supreme court of the United States, as authorized by section 5 of the act of congress of the United States, approved March 3, 1891, and petitioner herewith filed his bond in the penal sum of five hundred dollars, which bond is approved by the Honorable D. M. Key, one of the judges of this court." Shields v. Coleman, 157 U. S. 168, 15 Sup. Ct. 570, 39 L. ed. 660.

Note.—In many jurisdictions the "reasons" or "assignments of error" must be stated in the petition, as indicated above.

The general rule that an appeal must be taken in the name of all parties against whom the judgment is rendered must be observed, unless there be an exception under the procedure in the jurisdiction where the form is to be used, and the use of the article in 2 STANDARD PROC. 106 in connection with the preparation of the necessary papers is particularly advisable.

C. Order Granting Appeal (a).

"Upon consideration of the petition for appeal to the supreme court of the United States filed herein by James T. Shields, Jr., as receiver of the M. & C, G. R. R. Co., under appointment by the chancery court of Hamblen county, Tennessee, it is ordered that said appeal be granted, bond therefor in the penalty of five hundred dollars having been executed and approved by the court." Shields v. Coleman, 157 U. S. 168, 15 Sup. Ct. 570, 39 L. ed. 660.

Order Allowing Appeal (b).—"Upon consideration of the petition for appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States filed herein by James T. Shields, Jr., as receiver of the M. & C. G. R. R. Co. under the appointment by the chancery court of Hamblen county, Tennessee, it is ordered that said appeal be granted, bond therefor in the penalty of five hundred dollars having been executed and approved by the court.

"It is further ordered that the petition for supersedeas be denied.

"This appeal is granted solely upon the question of jurisdiction, and unless counsel shall agree by stipulation, filed with the clerk, in respect to the portions of the record to be transcribed and filed in said United States Supreme Court under said appeal as prayed and granted, the appellant has leave to present the record to the court on Saturday, the 29th day of July, inst., for the determination of what portion of the record shall be certified to said Supreme Court under said appeal." Shields v. Coleman, 157 U. S. 168, 15 Sup. Ct. 570, 39 L. ed. 660.

Order Allowing Appeal (c).—"On motion of Roselius & Phillips and Horner & Benedict, of counsel for Wm. Stackhouse, Sarah F. Brooks, widow in community of Haywood Stackhouse, deceased and natural tutrix of her minor children, Herbert, Maude, Blanche and Mabel Stackhouse, and Lilla Stackhouse, wife of J. W. Bryant, duly authorized and assisted by her husband, and the legal heirs of James P. Waters, deceased, to-wit: Henrietta A. Waters, wife of William Stackhouse, and by her husband duly assisted and authorized Mrs. Widow Mary Upton, widow of Wheelock S. Upton, deceased, and William H. Waters, and on suggesting to the court that said appellants and movers have been informed and believe that there is error to their prejudice in the final judgment rendered in the above entitled case by this honorable court, on the 20th of February, 1872, and that they are desirous of appealing suspensively from the same to the supreme court of the state of Louisiana, and on showing that the clerk requires time till the third Monday of April next to make the transcript of appeal, it is ordered that a suspensive appeal be accorded to said appellants and movers from said final judgment to the supreme court of Louisiana, the same to be therein returnable on the third Monday of April, 1872, upon said appellants giving bond and security conditioned according to law in the sum of $30,000." Montgomery v. Sawyer, 100 U. S. 571, 25 L. ed. 692.

Order Allowing Appeal (d).—"And now comes appellant, and prays an appeal in this cause to the supreme court of the state of Illinois; and it is ordered by the undersigned, judges of said court, that an appeal be allowed on the complainant giving bond, with approved security,—bond in the sum of $300, security to be approved by the clerk of this court.

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands and seals this 19th day of September, A. D. 1889.

Jesse J. Phillips, J., (seal.)

Owen T. Reeves, P. J., (seal.)"

Indiana & I. S. R. Co. v. Sampson, 132 Ill. 527, 24 N. E. 609.

Order Allowing Appeal (e).—"And the complainant prays an appeal from the foregoing decree, which appeal is by the court hereby allowed, and the penalty of the appeal bond, if the same is to operate as a supersedeas, is fixed at _____ dollars, but if the same is not to operate as a supersedeas, then the penalty of the appeal bond is fixed at _____ dollars." Radford v. Folsom, 123 U. S. 725, 8 Sup. Ct. 334, 31 L. ed. 292.

Note.—Where the statute permits an appeal and prescribes no method, it is taken by a motion. If not taken in open court during the term, a citation signed by the judge of the trial court or a judge of the appellate court must be served. Brown v. McConnell, 124 U. S. 489, 8 Sup. Ct. 559, 31 L. ed. 495.

For form of citation, see Admiralty, XIX, C, in this volume.

In many code states the method of taking appeal is by serving a notice on the party and on the clerk, which appeal is perfected by filing the required undertaking.

(Title and usual commencement in debt, for the sum in the award, not for the penalty of the bond.) For that whereas certain differences having arisen and being depending between the said plaintiff and the said defendant, the said plaintiff heretofore, to-wit, on, etc., at, etc., by a certain bond of arbitration, bearing date, etc., became bound to the said defendant in a certain penal sum, in the said bond mentioned; and the said defendant, then and there by a certain other bond of arbitration, bearing date, etc., became and was bound to the said plaintiff, in a certain penal sum in the same bond mentioned, which said bonds were respectively conditioned to abide the award and determination of J. K., of, etc., an arbitrator indifferently elected and named, as well by and on the part and behalf of the said defendant, as by and on the behalf of the said plaintiff to arbitrate, award, order, adjudge and determine of and concerning all, and all manner of action and actions, cause and causes of action, suits, bills, bonds, specialties, judgments, executions, quarrels, controversies, trespasses, damages and demands whatsoever, at any time theretofore had, made, moved, brought, commenced, sued, prosecuted, done, suffered, committed or depending by and between the said parties, or any or either of them, so as the said award should be made in writing, under the hand of the said J. K. (this will depend on the terms of the bond), and ready to be delivered to the said parties in difference, or such of them as should desire the same, on or before, etc. And the said plaintiff further saith, that the said J. K. having taken upon himself the burden of the said arbitration, did in due manner and within the time for that purpose appointed, to-wit, on, etc., at, etc., duly make and publish his award in writing, subscribed with his own proper hand, of and concerning the said matters in difference between the said parties, ready to be delivered to the said parties in difference, or such of them as should desire the same, and bearing date, etc.; and did thereby award and direct (it is sufficient to show so much of the award, only, as to entitle the plaintiff to his action) that the said defendant should pay to the said plaintiff for, etc. (set out the award so far as relates to the payment of the money), which when paid should be in full satisfaction of all claims and demands of him the said plaintiff, upon or against the said defendant, for or in respect of the said matters in difference; and the said J. K. did thereby further award and direct that the said plaintiff should pay (ninety-six) dollars, as and for the costs of that, his award, and that the said defendant should upon demand repay to the said plaintiff, one moiety of such sum of (ninety-six) dollars, and that in all other respects the said parties respectively should bear their own costs of that reference: As by the said award, reference being thereunto had will more fully appear, which said award the said defendant afterwards, to-wit, on, etc., at, etc., had notice. And although the said defendant did afterwards, to-wit, on, etc., pay to the said plaintiff the said sum of (forty-eight) dollars, in the said award mentioned, yet the said defendant did not, on the said day, in the said award in that behalf mentioned, pay to the said plaintiff the said sum of (one thousand two hundred and thirty-six) dollars, in the said award mentioned, or any part thereof, nor hath he since been paid the same or any part thereof, although to pay the said last mentioned sum of money the said defendant was requested, by the said plaintiff, to-wit, on, etc., appointed to the payment of the said sum of (one thousand two hundred and thirty-six) dollars, to-wit, at, etc., whereby an action hath accrued to the said plaintiff to demand and have of and from the said defendant the said sum of (one thousand two hundred and thirty-six) dollars, parcel of the said sum above demanded. (Add counts for money paid and an account stated in debt, and common conclusion.) Burr. App. 281, §550; 2 Chit. Pl. 395.

II. That for the purpose of putting an end to said disputes and differences, they then and there (by an agreement in writing) submitted themselves to the award, arbitrament, and final determination of one M. N., an arbitrator (or M. N. and O. P., two arbitrators), indifferently chosen on behalf of the plaintiff and the defendant, to arbitrate and determine concerning said disputes and differences; and mutually promised each other to abide by and perform his award (or they then and there, by an agreement in writing, a copy of which is hereto annexed, and marked "Exhibit A," agreed to submit the same to the award of M. N.)

III. That thereafter the said arbitrator, having undertaken the arbitration, heard the plaintiff and the defendant, and on the _____ day of _____, 18—, at _____, duly made and published (and where such notice is required by the submission, add, and notified the said parties of) his award (in writing) of and concerning the matter so referred (which award bears date the _____ day of _____, 18—); and thereby he awarded and declared, that after due appearance before him on behalf of this plaintiff and said defendant, he found that the said defendant was justly indebted to this plaintiff in the said sum of _____ dollars for the services aforesaid (or otherwise, according to the facts).

And the said defendant further saith that the said arbitrators, before the expiration of the said last mentioned time limited for making their award, to-wit, on, etc., at, etc., aforesaid, took upon themselves the burden of the said arbitration, and having duly examined and considered the subject-matters in dispute between the said plaintiff and the said defendant, they, the said arbitrators, did make their award in writing under their hands, of and concerning the premises, and of and concerning the said premises and undertakings in the said declaration mentioned, and ready to be delivered to the said parties in difference, and did thereby then and there award that, etc. (here set forth the award), as by the said award bearing date, etc., reference being thereunto had, will more fully appear. And this, etc. (conclude with a verification). Burr. App. 353, §644; 3 Chit. Pl. 927.

IV. Answer.

A. Answer Setting Up Award and Performance.

I. That after the maturity of the note (or after the accruing of other cause of action) mentioned in the complaint, to-wit, on the ——— day of ———, 18—, the plaintiff and this defendant (by their bonds of arbitration) mutually submitted the demand alleged in the complaint (among other controversies) to the arbitration of one M. N., who, thereafter and before this action, to-wit, on the ——— day of ———, 18—, by his award then duly made and published, awarded that (etc., stating substance of the award).

II. That the defendant, on the ——— day of ———, 18—, and before this action, duly performed said award on his part by (here state payment or tender). 2 Abb. Forms 32.

B. Answer, Denial of Parol Submission.

That he did not agree or promise as alleged. 2 Abb. Forms 86.

C. Answer, Denial of Award.

That the said (arbitrator or umpire) did not make and publish any award (or the award alleged in the complaint). 2 Abb. Forms 86.

Note.—If irregularity or excess of award be relied on as a defense, the facts must be pleaded.

D. Invalidity of Award.

I. Admits the submission of the controversy to arbitration, and that the time for the delivery of the award was extended, as stated in the complaint.

II. The defendant denies (any knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief) that the arbitrators made an award (in writing, under their hands, and delivered the same to the plaintiff) within the time so limited therefor.

III. The defendant further says (that he never had any notice of the time or place when or where the said arbitrators would meet to hear the matters submitted to them, or any opportunity of appearing before said arbitrators, nor of producing proof, nor examining witnesses, nor of being heard in his defense before said arbitrators; and the alleged award was made without any information or notice thereof to the defendant, until long after the day when the same is alleged to have been made).

IV. That the said arbitrators, on the _____ day of _____, 18—, and while examining the premises and preparing their award, or immediately prior thereto, and on the same day, examined several witnesses touching the matters submitted to them by the parties, and took and heard their statements in respect thereto, in the presence of the plaintiff, and in the absence of, and unbeknown to, and without the consent of, the defendant.

V. That defendant had a good and substantial defense upon the merits, in the matter submitted to said arbitrators; and that he would have been entitled to an award in his favor, had an opportunity been afforded him of producing his proofs before the said arbitrators.

Wherefore the defendant asks:

1. That the said alleged award be pronounced null and void as to the defendant.

2. For judgment for his costs of this action against said plaintiffs. 2 Abb. Forms 87.

E. Denial of Performance by Plaintiff.

That the plaintiff did not perform said award upon his part, but, on the contrary, omitted to (here set forth breach, as would be done in a complaint). 2 Abb. Forms 87.

F. Performance by Defendant.

That the defendant duly performed said award upon his part; and, upon the _____ day of _____, 18— (here briefly state what was done). 2 Abb. Forms 87.

V. Replication To Plea of Arbitration.

Because he says, that the said arbitrator did not make any such award of and concerning the premises, in manner and form as the said defendant hath above in his said plea in that behalf alleged. And this he, the said plaintiff, prays may be inquired of by the country, etc. Burr. App. 377, §685; 3 Chit. Pl. 1157.

I. Complaints.

A. Complaint by Architect for His Services.

That the defendant is indebted to the plaintiff on an account for the work, labor, and services of the plaintiff (and his servants), as architect, in forming and drawing plans, and making estimates for, and superintending the erection of a dwelling house to be known as No. _____, in _____ street. 1 Abb. Forms 202.

Note.—The general form used in complaints precedes this paragraph and it is followed by the usual demand for relief.

B. Complaint by Builder on Special Contract, Modified by Parol, With Claim for Extra Work.

First. For a cause of action.

I. That on the _____ day of _____, 18—, at _____, the defendants, under their hands and seals, made a contract in writing with the plaintiff of which the following is a copy: (copy contract).

II. That thereafter, and before the _____ day of _____, 18—, the plaintiff duly performed all the conditions thereof on his part, except that at the request of the defendants he covered the roof of the building in the above contract mentioned with slate instead of shingles, for which the defendant promised to pay a reasonable sum in addition to the price named in said contract; and that at the like request he omitted to put blinds upon the rear of the building, on the agreement with the defendants that a reasonable deduction should be made from the price named in said contract for such omission; and that by the consent of the defendant the time for completing said work was extended for one month after the day named in said contract, to-wit, to the _____ day of _____, 18—, on which day the whole of said work was completed by the plaintiff.

III. That the sum of _____ dollars is a reasonable payment to be made in addition to the price named in said contract, for covering said roof with slate instead of shingles.

II. That the same are reasonably worth _____ dollars, which sum became due therefor on the _____ day of _____, 18—, but no part thereof has been paid. 1 Abb. Forms 285.

Note.—The contract may be set out according to its legal effect, instead of setting it out in full.

C. Complaint Against Builder for Not Well Finishing Building.

I. That on the _____ day of _____, 18—, at _____, this plaintiff and the defendant entered into an agreement in writing, under their hands and seals, of which a copy is annexed as a part of this complaint.

II. That the plaintiff duly fulfilled all the conditions thereof on his part.

III. That the defendant did not fulfil said contract on his part, but on the contrary erected said building in so unskilful and negligent a manner (and of so unsuitable materials), that, shortly after its completion, the foundation settled, the walls cracked, the roof and walls became leaky, a considerable portion of the plastering fell, and the house otherwise was, and is, entirely untenable, and nearly useless, through the negligent and unskilful manner of its erection, to the damage of the plaintiff _____ dollars. 1 Abb. Forms 359.

D. Complaint Against Builder for Not Completing His Work; With Special Damage by Loss of Rent.

I. That on the _____ day of _____, 18—, at _____, the plaintiff and the defendant entered into an agreement, under their hands and seals (or the hand and seal of the defendant), of which a copy is annexed as a part of this complaint (or state its legal effect, e. g., thus: whereby the defendant agreed to erect, in a substantial manner, a two-story frame house in the village of _____, county of _____, and to have the said house completed and ready for occupancy on or before the _____ day of _____, 18—, for which this plaintiff agreed to pay him _____ dollars, payable as follows: When the foundations should be laid, the sum of _____ dollars; when the first story should be up and the second tier of beams laid, _____ dollars; when the second story should be put up and the third tier of beams laid, _____ dollars; and when the roof should be on, _____ dollars; and when the house should be entirely completed, the balance of _____ dollars).

II. That the plaintiff duly performed all the conditions thereof on his part.

III. That the defendant entered upon the performance of the work under said contract, and laid the foundations of the said house, and commenced the erection of the first story thereof; but has neglected to finish the said building pursuant to said contract, and has left the same with the foundations laid, and the walls of the first story partly up, and that although the time for the completion of said building expired before this action, he refuses to complete the same.

IV. That the plaintiff, on the _____ day of _____, 18—, at _____, made an agreement with one M. N., whereby he agreed to let, and said M. N. agreed to hire, the said building for one year from the _____ day of _____, at the yearly rent of _____ dollars, of which the defendant had due notice.

V. That by reason of the defendant's failure to complete the contract aforesaid upon his part, the plaintiff has been unable to complete said house so as to give M. N. occupancy thereof, and has been thereby deprived of the profits of said lease, and has been otherwise greatly injured, to his damage ——— dollars. 1 Abb. Forms 357.

II. Answer, Plaintiff's Work Not Finished, and Architect's Certificate Not Obtained.

I. That the said work was not completed in a good and workmanlike manner, on or before the day limited therefor in the contract set forth in the complaint; but, on the contrary, the said work on that day, and from thence to the commencement of this action, was, and still is, incomplete and unfinished.

II. That no certificate from the said architect, that the said work had been completed to his satisfaction, was obtained by the plaintiff before this action. 2 Abb. Forms 90.

I. Arraignment.

A. The Arraignment.

- (a) "A. B., hold up your hand."
- (b) "You stand indicted by the name of A. B., late of, etc., for that you on, etc.," read indictment. (c) "How say you A. B., are you guilty or not guilty?" 1 Chit. Cr. L. 415, 416.
- Plea "not guilty" (if general issue). 1 Chit. Cr. L. 416.

Note.—The first of these ceremonies is intended the more completely to identify the prisoner as the person named in the indictment, because by holding up his hand when his name is called, he acknowledges himself to be properly described under that appellation. But this ceremony is not absolutely necessary, for if the prisoner obstinately refuse to hold up his hand, the same purpose is answered by any admission that he is the person intended. 1 Chit. Cr. L. 414.

Note.—It has been laid down that the prisoner ought to stand at the bar, during his arraignment, without irons, shackles, or any other restraint, unless there is danger of an escape. But a distinction has been taken between the time of arraignment and trial, and it seems to be the better opinion that he is not entitled to have his fetters taken off until after he has pleaded. 1 Chit. Cr. L. 417.

B. Record of Arraignment and Plea.

And afterwards, to-wit, at the same delivery of the gaol of the said lord the king of his county aforesaid, on the said Friday, the sixth day of August, in the said second year of the reign of the said lord the king, before the said justices of the lord the king last above named, and others their fellows aforesaid, here cometh the said Peter Hunt, under the custody of William Browne, esquire, sheriff of the county aforesaid (in whose custody in the gaol of the county aforesaid, for the cause aforesaid, he had been before committed), being brought to the bar here in his proper person by the said sheriff, to whom he is here also committed: And forthwith being demanded concerning the premises in the said indictment above specified and charged upon him, how he will acquit himself thereof, he saith that he is not guilty thereof; and thereof for good and evil, he puts himself upon the country: And John Blencowe, esquire, clerk of the assizes for the county aforesaid, who prosecutes for the said lord the king in this behalf, doth the like. 2 Cooley's Bl. (App.) 478.

II. Pleas to Jurisdiction.

Plea to Jurisdiction (a).

And the said J. S., in his own proper person, cometh into court here, and having heard the said indictment read, saith that the court of our lady the queen here ought not to take cognizance of the (trespass and assault) in the said indictment above specified; because, protesting that he is not guilty of the same, nevertheless the said J. S. saith that (etc., so proceeding to state the matter of the plea. Conclude thus): And this he the said J. S. is ready to verify; wherefore he prays judgment if the said court of our lady the queen now here will or ought to take cognizance of the indictment aforesaid; and that by the court here he may be dismissed and discharged, etc. Arch. Cr. Pl. 81.

Plea to Jurisdiction (b).

"Comes the defendant in proper person, and by plea in abatement to the indictment, filed by leave of the court, says: That the indictment in this case charges the defendant with an assault with intent to commit murder upon the body of one Earl Boyce; that the difficulty or shooting out of which this indictment arises, and upon which the charge is made, was committed on the 6th day of June, 1908; that the territory where said alleged offense was committed was on that day in the county of Wayne; the said indictment was returned by the grand jury of the county of Wayne at the September term, 1908, of said county; but since the commission of said alleged offense, and since the return of said indictment, to-wit, April 30, 1909, the general assembly of the state of Tennessee passed an act by which the line between the counties of Wayne and Perry was so changed as to place said territory where said alleged offense was committed in the county of Perry, said act being chapter 441 of the Acts of 1909, page 1653. The alleged offense embraced in this indictment against defendant was committed, if committed at all, in the territory described in said act, and by said act taken from Wayne county and annexed to Perry county, and is now a part of Perry county.

"Therefore defendant avers that the circuit court of Wayne county has no jurisdiction to try this defendant upon said indictment for said offense, and prays that said indictment be abated and the defendant be discharged." State v. Marshall, 124 Tenn. 230, 135 S. W. 926.

Note.—This plea must not only object that the court before which the proceedings are taken has no jurisdiction over them, but must show what court has authority to proceed to try them. It is not necessary that it should conclude by answering over to the felony, or put in issue the facts of guilt or innocence, though it may do so. As this is a dilatory plea, it seems necessary to add an affidavit of its truth. 1 Chit. Cr. L. 438.

III. Demurrer.

A. Demurrer To an Indictment or Information.

And the said J. S. in his own proper person cometh into court here, and having heard the said indictment (or information) read, saith, that the said indictment (or information), and the matters therein contained, in manner and form as the same are above stated and set forth, are not sufficient in law, and that he the said J. S. is not bound by the law of the land to answer the same; and this he is ready to verify; wherefore, for want of a sufficient indictment (or information in this behalf, the said J. S. prays judgment, and that by the court he may be dismissed and discharged from the said premises in the said indictment (or information) specified. Arch. Cr. Pl. 84.

B. Joinder to Demurrer to Indictment or Information.

And J. N., who prosecutes for our said lady the queen in this behalf, saith that the said indictment, and the matters therein contained, in manner and form as the same are above stated and set forth, are sufficient in law to compel the said J. S. to answer the same; and the said J. N., who prosecutes as aforesaid, is ready to verify and prove the same, as the court here shall direct and award; wherefore, inasmuch as the said J. S. hath not answered to the said indictment, nor hitherto in any manner denied the same, the said J. N., for our said lady the queen, prays judgment, and that the said J. S. may be convicted of the premises in the said indictment specified. Arch. Cr. Pl. 84.

C. Demurrer To a Plea in Bar.

And J. N., who prosecutes for our said lady the queen in this behalf, as to the said plea of the said J. S. by him above pleaded, saith that the same, and the matters therein contained, in manner and form as the same are above pleaded and set forth, are not sufficient in law to bar or preclude our said lady the queen from prosecuting the said indictment against him the said J. S.; and that our said lady the queen is not bound by the law of the land to answer the same; and this he the said J. N., who prosecutes as aforesaid, is ready to verify; wherefore, for want of a sufficient plea in this behalf, he the said J. N., for our said lady the queen, prays judgment, and that the said J. S. may be convicted of the premises in the said indictment specified. Arch. Cr. Pl. 84.

D. Joinder in Demurrer To Plea in Bar.

"And the said J. S. saith, that his said plea by him above pleaded, and the matters therein contained, in manner and form as the same are above pleaded and set forth, are sufficient in law to bar and preclude our said lady the queen from prosecuting the said indictment against him the said J. S.; and the said J. S. is ready to verify and prove the same, as the said court here shall direct and award; wherefore, inasmuch as the said J. N. for our said lady the queen hath not answered the said plea, nor hitherto in any manner denied the same, the said J. S. prays judgment, and that by the court here he may be dismissed and discharged from the said premises in the said indictment specified." The joinder is the same, if the demurrer be to a plea in abatement, except that it concludes with praying "judgment and that the said indictment may be quashed," etc. Arch. Cr. Pl. 85.

IV. Pleas in Abatement.

A. Plea in Abatement to Indictment; Misnomer.

"And James Long, who is indicted by the name of George Long, in his own proper person cometh into court here, and having heard the said indictment read, saith that he was baptized by the name of James, to-wit, at the parish aforesaid, in the county aforesaid, and by the Christian name of James hath always since his baptism hitherto been called or known; without this, that he the said James Long now is or at any time hitherto hath been called or known by the Christian name of George, as by the said indictment is supposed; and this he the said James Long is ready to verify; wherefore he prayeth judgment of the said indictment, and that the same may be quashed," etc. Arch. Cr. Pl. 82.

Affidavit.—James Long, of ———, the defendant in this prosecution, maketh oath and saith that the plea hereto annexed is true in substance and matter of fact. Arch. Cr. Pl. 82.

Note.—In criminal proceedings on plea in abatement the orderly method is for the prosecuting attorney to demur or reply. Martin v. State, 79 Wis. 165, 48 N. W. 119.

B. Plea in Abatement, no Preliminary Examination.

"Now comes the defendant in the above entitled action by ———, his attorneys, and before pleading to the merits enters this his plea in abatement of this action for that the information herein was filed in this court on the ——— day of ———, A. D. 189—, and that this defendant has never had a preliminary examination as provided by law, before a justice of the peace, judge of a court of record, or such commissioner or any other examining magistrate or officer, and that this defendant has never waived his right to such examination." (Prayer.) State v. Sorenson, 84 Wis. 27, 53 N. W. 1124.

V. Pleas in Bar.

A. Mixed of Record and Fact.

1. Plea of Auterfois Acquit.

"And the said J. S. in his own proper person cometh into court here, and having heard the said indictment read, saith that our said lady the queen ought not further to prosecute the said indictment against the said J. S.; because he saith that heretofore, to-wit, [at the general quarter sessions of the peace, holden at ———, so continuing the caption of the former indictment, "it was presented that the said J. S. (then and there, and thereby described as J. S., late of ———, in the county aforesaid, laborer), on the third day of," etc., continuing the indictment to the end; reciting it, however, in the past, and not in the present, tense. Recite also the remainder of the record to the end of the judgment in the past tense, in like manner. Then proceed thus]: "As by the record thereof more fully and at large appears; which judgment still remains in full force and effect, and not in the least reversed or made void. And the said J. S. in fact saith, that he the said J. S., and the said J. S. so indicted and acquitted as last aforesaid, are one and the same person, and not other and different persons; and that the (felony and larceny) of which he the said J. S. was so indicted and acquitted as aforesaid, and the (felony and larceny), of which he is now indicted, are one and the same (felony and larceny), and not other and different (felonies and larcenies). And this he the said J. S. is ready to verify; wherefore he prays judgment, and that by the court here he may be dismissed and discharged from the said premises in the present indictment specified."

. . . "And as to the felony and larceny of which of the said J. S. now stands indicted, he the said J. S. saith that he is not guilty thereof; and of this he the said J. S. puts himself upon the country." Arch. Cr. Pl. 89.

Note.—If the indictment be for felony or treason, the defendant, besides this plea of auterfois acquit, should also plead over to the felony. In such a case, therefore, continue the plea thus: "And as to the felony and larceny of which the said J. S. now stands indicted, he the said J. S. saith, that he is not guilty thereof; and of this he the said J. S. puts himself upon the country." If, however, the defendant pleads auterfois acquit without pleading over to the felony, after his special plea is found against him, he may still plead over to the felony. Arch. Cr. Pl. 89.

2. Plea of Auterfois Convict.

read, saith that our said lady the queen ought not further to prosecute the said indictment against him the said J. S. in respect of the offense in the said indictment mentioned, because he saith that heretofore, to-wit, on the ——— day of ———, in the year of our lord ———, at the parish of ———, in the county of ———, he the said J. S. was, upon the complaint of, etc. (reciting the information before the magistrates in the past tense), convicted before the said A. B. clerk, and the said C. D., Esq., two of her majesty's justices of the peace in and for the said county, for that he the said J. S. did, within three calendar months then last past, to-wit, on, etc., at, etc., with force and arms, unlawfully assault and beat the said J. N., in the peace of our said lady the queen then and there being, contrary to the statute in that case made and provided; and the said justices did then and there adjudge the said J. S. for this said offense to forfeit and pay the sum of 5*l* of lawful money of Great Britain; and, in default of immediate payment of the said sum of 5*l* by the said J. S. as aforesaid, they the said justices did adjudge the said J. S. to be imprisoned in the house of correction for the said county for the space of two calendar months, unless the said sum of 5*l* should be sooner paid; and the said justices did direct that the said sum of 5*l* should be paid to E. F., one of the overseers of the poor of the parish of ——— aforesaid, in which parish the said offense was committed, to be by him applied according to the directions of the statute in that case made and provided, as by the record of the said conviction more fully and at large appears; which said judgment and conviction still remains in full force and effect, and not in the least reversed or made void. And the said J. S. further saith that the assault and battery of the said J. N., of which he the said J. S., was so convicted as aforesaid, and the stabbing, cutting, and wounding of the said J. N. in the said indictment mentioned, are one and the same assault and battery, and not other and different. And he the said J. S. further saith that he the said J. S. hath duly paid the whole amount of the said sum of 5*l* so adjudged by the said justices to be paid under the said conviction as aforesaid to the said E. F., etc., being such overseer of the said parish of ——— as aforesaid. And this he the said J. S. is ready to verify; wherefore he prays judgment if our said lady the queen ought further to prosecute the said indictment against him the said J. S. in respect of the said offense in the said indictment mentioned, and that he the said J. S. may be dismissed and discharged from the same. And as to the felony aforesaid in the said indictment mentioned, the said J. S. saith that he is not guilty thereof, and therefore he puts himself upon the country," etc. Arch. Cr. Pl. 91.

3. Plea of Former Jeopardy.

And the said John Grant comes and says that no further proceedings in the premises ought to be had or taken against him on the said indictment, because he says that on the first day of September, instant, in the court of sessions in said county, the said defendant was put upon his trial upon said indictment, and a jury between the people and the said defendant, upon the said indictment, was in due form of law drawn, impaneled, charged and sworn to well and truly try the said issue. And the said jury, without the consent of the said defendant, have been discharged and separated without having rendered any verdict therein, and without disagreeing or other special cause, but by mere irregularity, and the said defendant says that he has once been in jeopardy upon the said indictment, and cannot by the law of the land be again tried thereon. Grant v. People, 4 Park. Cr. (N. Y.) 527, 529.

Note.—This was the identical indictment of the previous trial.

4. Plea, Pardon.

And the said A. B. in his own proper person cometh into court here, and having heard said indictment read, saith that our lord the king ought not further to prosecute the said indictment against him the said A. B. in respect to the offense in the said indictment mentioned, because he saith that heretofore, to-wit, on the ——— day of ———, in the year of our lord ———, the king's most excellent majesty, by his most gracious letters patent of pardon under his great seal of England, bearing date at Westminster the said ——— day of ——— in the year of our lord ———, and here into this most high and honorable court, produced under the said great seal; of his special grace and certain knowledge, hath pardoned, remised and released to him, the said A. B., the offenses in said indictment mentioned, which letters of patent of pardon follow in these words (set out pardon). And the said A. B. further saith that the offense in said letters patent of pardon mentioned and the offense in the said indictment mentioned are one and the same offense, and not other and different.

By reason of which said letters patent, the said A. B. prays that by the court here he may be dismissed and discharged from the said premises in the said indictment specified. (Compiled by the writer from common-law precedents. Arch. Cr. Pl. 146, 148; Rex v. Danby, 11 How. St. Tr. 599, 764.)

Note.—A pardon may be pleaded in bar. 4 Bl. Com. 337, 402. A pardon may be pleaded in arrest of judgment. 4 Bl. Com. 337, 376, 402. And after sentence, in bar of execution. 4 Bl. Com. 337, 402. "If a man is indicted and has a pardon in his pocket, and afterwards puts himself upon his trial by pleading the general issue, he has waived the benefit of such pardon." Bl. Com. 401, 402. "But if a man avails himself thereof as soon as by the course of law he may, a pardon may be pleaded." 4 Bl. Com. 402. "A court would undoubtedly at this day permit a pardon to be used after the general issue." Marshall, C. J. United States v. Wilson, 7 Pet. (U. S.) 150, 162, 8 L. ed. 640.

B. Pleas To Matter of Indictment.

1. General Issue.

The general issue is pleaded by the prisoner viva voce at the bar in these words, "not guilty." When the record is made up, the general issue appears upon it thus: "And he the said J. S. forthwith being demanded concerning the premises in the said indictment above specified and charged upon him, how he will acquit himself thereof, saith that he is not guilty thereof." And the similiter is then added thus: "And J. N. (the clerk of the peace, or clerk of arraigns), who prosecutes for our said lady the queen in this behalf, doth the like." Arch. Cr. Pl. 93, 94.

2. Special Plea.

And the said J. S. in his own proper person cometh into court here, and having heard the said indictment (or information) read, saith that our said lady the queen ought not further to prosecute the said indictment against him the said J. S.; because he saith that (etc., so proceeding to state the matter of the plea; and concluding thus): And this he the said J. S. is ready to verify; wherefore he prays judgment, and that by the court here he may be dismissed and discharged from the said premises in the said indictment above specified. Arch. Cr. Pl. 86.

3. Plea of Nolo Contendere.

“And now the said George Lane is set to the bar, and has this indictment read to him” (and by leave of this court) “he says he will not contend with the commonwealth, with which the attorney for the commonwealth is content, it is therefore considered,” etc. Com. v. Horton, 9 Pick. (Mass.) 206.

Note.—This plea is only by leave of the court.

There has been a revival of this plea in certain jurisdictions to avoid the effect of previous conviction in liquor cases.

Entry of Plea of Nolo Contendere.

That the defendant “non vult contendere cum domina regina et posuit se in gratiam curiae.” 1 Chit. Cr. L. 431; 2 STANDARD PROC. 906, n. 29.

Note.—An implied confession is where, in case not capital, a defendant does not directly own himself to be guilty, but tacitly admits it by throwing himself on the king’s mercy, and desiring to submit to a small fine, which the court may either accept or decline, as they think proper. 1 Chit. Cr. L. 431.

VI. Replications.

A. Replication, General Form.

And hereupon J. N., etc., who prosecutes for our said lady the queen in this behalf, says that, by reason of anything in the said plea of the said J. S. above pleaded in bar alleged, our said lady the queen ought not to be precluded from prosecuting the said indictment against the said J. S.; because he says that (etc., so proceeding to state the matter of the replication; and concluding thus): And this he the said J. N. prays may be inquired of by the country. Or, if it conclude with a verification, then thus: And this he the said J. N. is ready to verify; wherefore he prays judgment, and that the said J. S. may be convicted of the premises in the said indictment above specified. Where the plea is pleaded to an information, the replication is thus: And the said attorney-general of our said lady the queen, who prosecutes as aforesaid, says that, by reason of, etc. And this the said attorney-general of our said lady the queen prays, etc., as above.

If the replication conclude to the country, the similiter is then added, in making up the record: And the said J. S. doth the like. But if the replication conclude with a verification, the defendant must then rejoin. Arch. Cr. Pl. 86.

B. Replication to Plea to Jurisdiction.

And hereupon J. N. (the clerk of the peace, or clerk of assigns), who prosecutes for our said lady the queen in this behalf, says that notwithstanding anything by the said J. S. above in pleading alleged, this court ought not to be precluded from taking cognizance of the indictment aforesaid; because he says that (etc., stating the matter of the replication). Arch. Cr. Pl. 81.

C. Replication to Plea in Abatement.

And hereupon J. N. (the clerk of the peace, or clerk of the arraigns), who prosecutes for our said lady the queen in this behalf, saith that the said indictment, by reason of anything by the said James Long in his said plea above alleged, ought not to be quashed; because he saith that the said James Long, long before and at the time of the preferring of the said indictment, was, and still is, known as well by the name of George Long as by the name of John Long, to-wit, at the parish aforesaid, in the county aforesaid; and that he the said J. N. prays may be inquired of by the country, etc. Arch. Cr. Pl. 82.

Note.—Instead of replying, the prosecutor may, if the grand jury be still sitting, after the indictment, by substituting the name by which the defendant has pleaded for the name in the indictment, and have it preferred again and found, and the defendant again arraigned upon it; in which case he will be estopped by his plea in abatement from again pleading a misnomer. Arch. Cr. Pl. 82.

D. Replication to Plea of Auterfois Acquit.

And hereupon A. B., etc., who prosecutes for our said lady the queen in this behalf, says that, by reason of anything in the said plea of the said J. S. above pleaded in bar alleged, our said lady the queen ought not be precluded from prosecuting the said indictment against the said J. S.; because he says that there is not any record of the said supposed acquittal, in manner and form as the said J. S. hath above in his said plea alleged; and this he the said A. B. prays may be inquired of by the country. And the said J. S. doth the like. Arch. Cr. Pl. 90.

E. Replication to Plea of Auterfois Convict.

And hereupon A. B. (the clerk of the peace, or clerk of arraigns), who prosecutes for our said lady the queen in this behalf, says that, by reason of anything in the said plea of the said J. S. above pleaded in bar alleged, our said lady the queen ought not to be precluded from prosecuting the said indictment against the said J. S.; because he says that there is not any record of the said supposed conviction, in manner and form as the said J. S. hath above in his said plea alleged; and this he the said A. B. prays may be inquired of by the country, etc. Arch. Cr. Pl. 92.

F. Replication to Special Plea of Former Jeopardy.

The people of the state of New York, by Thomas V. Russell, district attorney, for the county of St. Lawrence, come and reply to the special plea in bar of the said defendant, and say that said jury was not discharged by the court, in case of the said John; that immediately after the impanneling of the jury in said plea mentioned, and before any further proceedings were had, and before any evidence was given to the said jury, at the special instance and request of the said defendant made in open court, the said jury were allowed by the said court to separate and go without the court house. Grant v. People, 4 Park. Cr. (N. Y.) 527, 529.

VII. Rejoinder.

A. Rejoinder, General Form.

And the said J. S., as to the said replication of the said J. N. to the said plea by him the said J. S., saith, that our lady the queen, by reason of anything by the said J. N. in that replication alleged, ought not further to prosecute the said indictment against him the said J. S.; because he saith that (etc., so proceeding to state the matter of the rejoinder, and concluding thus): And of this he the said S. puts himself upon the country. Or, if it be necessary to conclude with a verification, the conclusion may be in the same form as in a plea. Arch. Cr. Pl. 87.

Capias, Assault and Battery.

I. Declarations.

A. Declaration, Common Assault on Person.

For that the said defendant heretofore, to-wit, on the (first day of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ———), with force and arms, etc., made an assault on (or "assaulted") the said plaintiff, to-wit, at (New York, to-wit, at the city and in the county of New York), aforesaid (the venue), and then and there beat (bruised, wounded), and ill-treated him (so that his life was greatly despaired of), and other wrongs to the said plaintiff, then and there did against the peace of the people of the state of New York, and to the damage of the said plaintiff of one (thousand) dollars (any sum sufficient to cover the amount of the damages which it may be probable the jury will give), and therefore he brings his suit, etc. Burr. App. 298, §563.

B. Declaration in Trespass for Assault and Battery.

For that the said defendant, heretofore, to-wit, on the (second day of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and forty-six), at (New York, to-wit, at the city and in the county of New York), aforesaid, with force and arms, to-wit, with swords, staves, ropes, hands and feet, made an assault upon the said plaintiff, and did then and there beat, wound and ill-treat him, so that his life was greatly despaired of, and other injuries to the said plaintiff then and there did, against the peace of the people of this state, and to the great damage of the said plaintiff. And also for that the said defendant, on the same day and year, and at the place aforesaid, with force and arms, to-wit, with swords, staves, ropes, hands and feet, made another assault upon the said plaintiff, and did then and there beat, wound and ill-treat him, so that his life was greatly despaired of, and other injuries to the said plaintiff, then and there did, against the peace of the people of this state, and to the damage of the said plaintiff, of (five thousand dollars), and thereof he brings suit, etc. Burr. App. 298, 564.

C. Declaration by Master for Battery of Servant.

For that the said defendant on, etc., with force and arms, etc., made an assault on H. B., then and still being the (daughter and) servant of the said plaintiff, to-wit, at etc., and then and there beat, bruised, wounded and ill-treated the said H. B., insomuch, and that by means thereof, the said H. B. then and there became, and was sick, sore, lame and disordered, and so remained and continued for a long space of time, to-wit, from thence hitherto; during all which time he, the said plaintiff, lost and was deprived of the service of his said (daughter and) servant, and of all the benefit and advantage which might and would otherwise have arisen and accrued to him from such service, to-wit, at, etc., aforesaid. Burr. App. 300, §568.

D. Declaration by Husband for Battery of Wife.

For that the said defendant on, etc., with force and arms, etc., made an assault on E. B., then and still being the wife of the said plaintiff, to-wit, at, etc., and then and there violently beat, kicked, bruised and ill-treated the said E. B. so then and there being the wife of the said plaintiff as aforesaid, insomuch that she, the said E. B., by means of the premises, then and there became and was sick, sore, lame and disordered, and so remained and continued for a long space of time, to-wit, hitherto, whereby he, the said plaintiff, during all that time lost and was deprived of all the comfort, benefit and assistance of the said E. B., his said wife, in his domestic affairs, which he might and otherwise would have had; and thereby also he the said plaintiff was then and there forced and obliged to pay, lay out and expend, and hath necessarily paid, laid out and expended divers sums of money, in the whole amounting to a large sum of money, to-wit, the sum of _____ dollars, in and about the endeavoring to heal and cure the said E. B., his said wife, of the sickness, soreness, lameness and disorder aforesaid, occasioned as aforesaid, to-wit, at, etc., aforesaid; and other wrongs to the said plaintiff, then and there did, against the peace of the people of the state of New York, and to the damage of the said plaintiff of _____ dollars, and therefore he brings his suit, etc. Burr. App. 299, §565; 2 Chit. Pl. 854.

II. Pleas.

A. Special Plea, Son Assault and Demesne.

And for a further plea in this behalf (as to the said assaulting, beating, bruising, wounding [or otherwise, according to the declaration], and ill-treating the said plaintiff, as in the first count of the said declaration mentioned), the said defendant, by leave of the court, here, for this purpose first had and obtained, according to the form of the statute in such case made and provided, says that the said plaintiff ought not to have or maintain his aforesaid action thereof against him, because he says that the said plaintiff, just before the said time, when, etc. (in the said first count mentioned), to-wit, on the day and the year in that count mentioned, at, etc. (the venue), aforesaid, with force and arms, etc., made an assault (state the assault or battery, according to the facts), upon him, the said defendant, and would then and there have beat, bruised and ill-treated him, the said defendant, if he had not immediately defended himself against the said plaintiff; wherefore he, the said defendant, did then and there defend himself against the said plaintiff, as he lawfully might, for the cause aforesaid; and in so doing did necessarily and unavoidably, a little beat, bruise, wound and ill-treat the said plaintiff, doing no unnecessary damage to the said plaintiff on the occasion aforesaid: And so the said defendant saith, that if any hurt or damage then and there happened to the said plaintiff, the same was occasioned by the said assault so made by the said plaintiff, on him, the said defendant, and in the necessary defense of himself, the said defendant against the said plaintiff; which are the same supposed trespasses in the introductory part of this plea mentioned, and whereof the said plaintiff hath above thereof complained against him, the said defendant. And this he, the said defendant, is ready to verify; wherefore he prays judgment if the said plaintiff ought to have or maintain his aforesaid action thereof against him, etc. Burr. App. 362, §658; 3 Chit. Pl. 1068.

B. Special Plea, Molliter Manus Imposuit To Keep the Peace.

And for a further plea in this behalf, as to the said assaulting, beating and ill-treating the said plaintiff as in the said (first) count mentioned (or otherwise, according to the statements in the declaration), the said defendant (by leave of the court here, for this purpose first had and obtained, according to the form of the statute in such case made and provided), says that the said plaintiff ought not to have or maintain his aforesaid action thereof against him because he says that the said plaintiff, and one R. N., at the said time when, etc., at, etc. (the venue), aforesaid, were fighting together, and striving with force and arms to beat and wound each other, against the peace of the people of the state of New York; whereupon the said defendant, being then and there present, for the preservation of the peace of the said people, and that the said plaintiff, and the said R. N. might do no hurt to each other, and in order to separate and part them, then and there gently laid his hands upon the said plaintiff, as he lawfully might, for the cause aforesaid; which are the said assaulting, beating and ill-treating in the said (first) count of the said declaration mentioned (or "which are the said supposed trespasses in the introductory part of this plea, and in the said declaration mentioned"), and whereof he, the said plaintiff, hath above thereof complained against him, the said defendant. And this he is ready to verify. Wherefore he prays judgment, if the said plaintiff ought to have or maintain his aforesaid action thereof against him, etc. Burr. App. 362, §659; 3 Chit. Pl. 1071.

III. Replications.

A. Replication, New Assignment, Different Assault.

And the said plaintiff, as to the said plea of the said defendant, by him (secondly) above pleaded as to the said several trespasses in the introductory part of that plea mentioned, and therein attempted to be justified, says that he, the said plaintiff, by reason of anything by the said defendant in that plea alleged, ought not to be barred from having and maintaining his aforesaid action thereof against him, the said defendant, because he says that he, the said plaintiff, exhibited his said bill against the said defendant, and brought his suit thereupon, not for the trespasses in the introductory part of the said (second) plea mentioned, but for that the said defendant, on the said ——— day of ———, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ———, with force and arms, etc., at, etc. (the venue), aforesaid, upon another and different occasion, and for another and different purpose than in the said plea mentioned, made another and different assault upon the said plaintiff than the assault in the said (second) plea mentioned, and then and there beat, bruised, wounded and illtreated the said plaintiff (this must correspond with the averments in the declaration), in manner and form as the said plaintiff hath above thereof complained against the said defendant; and which said trespasses above newly assigned are other and different trespasses than the said trespasses in the said (second) plea mentioned. And this the said plaintiff is ready to verify. Wherefore, inasmuch as the said defendant hath not answered the said trespasses above newly assigned, the said plaintiff prays judgment and his damages by him sustained, on occasion of the committing thereof, to be adjudged to him, etc.

E. F., plaintiff's attorney.

Burr. App. 387, §713; 3 Chit. Pl. 1213; Till. Forms 555.

B. Replication to Plea of Son Assault Defendant.

And the said plaintiff, as to the said plea of the said defendant by him (secondly) above pleaded, as to the said several trespasses in the introductory part of that plea mentioned, and therein attempted to be justified, says that the said plaintiff by reason of anything by the said defendant in that plea alleged, ought not to be barred from having and maintaining his aforesaid action thereof against the said defendant, because he says that the said defendant at the said time, when, etc., of his own wrong, and without the cause by him in his said (second) plea alleged, committed the said several trespasses in the introductory part of that plea mentioned, in manner and form as the said plaintiff hath above, in (the said first count of) his said declaration, complained against the said defendant. And this the said plaintiff prays may be inquired of by the country, etc.

E. F., plaintiff's attorney.

Burr. App. 379, §692; 3 Chit. Pl. 1201.

I. That at the time mentioned in the complaint, and just before the time of the commission of the alleged grievances therein stated, the plaintiff made an assault (state it as if in a complaint against him) upon this defendant, and would have beaten and greatly bruised (or otherwise injured) him, if he had not immediately defended himself; wherefore he did defend himself, as he lawfully might, and in so doing did necessarily and unavoidably a little beat and bruise (or otherwise injure) the plaintiff; and that if the plaintiff sustained any damage, it was occasioned by his first assaulting the defendant.

II. That the acts above mentioned are the same of which the plaintiff complains.

III. That the defendant denies each and every allegation of the complaint, except such as are hereinbefore admitted. 2 Abb. Forms 130.

IV. That thereupon the defendant, in defense of the possession of his dwelling, gently laid his hands upon the plaintiff in order to remove him, as he lawfully might.

II. That at the time mentioned in the complaint the defendant was lawfully possessed of a certain public house (designate it).

G. Answer, Resistance of Entry of Dwelling.

I and II. (As in preceding forms.)

III. That the plaintiff then and there, with force and violence, attempted to break into the said dwelling (or other possession), without the leave and against the will of the defendant.

V. That the acts above mentioned are the same of which the plaintiff complains. 2 Abb. Forms 132.

H. Answer, Removing From Railroad Car for Non-Payment of Fare.

(Insimul computassent.) And whereas also the said defendant afterwards, to-wit, on the same day and year last aforesaid, and at the place aforesaid, accounted together with the said plaintiff of and concerning divers other sums of money, before that time due and owing from the said defendant to the said plaintiff, and then and there being in arrear and unpaid: And upon such accounting, the said defendant then and there was found to be in arrear, and indebted to the said plaintiff in the further sum of (one thousand) dollars, of like lawful money as aforesaid. And being so found in arrear and indebted to the said plaintiff, the said defendant, in consideration thereof, afterwards, to-wit, on the same day and year (last) aforesaid, and at the place aforesaid, undertook, and then and there faithfully promised the said plaintiff, well and truly to pay unto the said plaintiff the said sum of money last above mentioned, when he, the said defendant, should be thereunto afterwards requested.

Nevertheless the said defendant (although often afterwards requested so to do), hath not as yet paid the said several sums of money above mentioned, or any, or either of them, or any part thereof, to the said plaintiff; but to pay the same, or any part thereof to the said plaintiff, the said defendant hath hitherto altogether refused, and still doth refuse. To the damage of the said plaintiff of (one thousand) dollars, and therefore the said plaintiff brings suit, etc.

E. F., attorney for plaintiff.

Burr. App. 244, §505. (See 2 Chit. Pl. 37-115.)

C. Money Counts Condensed.

(After the special counts, proceed thus): And whereas also, the said defendant, afterwards, to-wit, on the _____ day of _____ in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and (forty-six) at the place aforesaid, was indebted to the said plaintiff in the sum of (one thousand) dollars, lawful money of the United States of America, for money before that time lent and advanced by the said plaintiff to the said defendant, and at the special instance and request of the said defendant. And for other money by the said plaintiff, before that time, paid, laid out, and expended for the said defendant, and at the like request of the said defendant. And for other money by the said defendant, before that time had and received to and for the use of the said plaintiff. And being so indebted, the said defendant, in consideration thereof, afterwards, to-wit, on the same day and year last aforesaid, and at the place aforesaid, undertook, and then and there faithfully promised the said plaintiff, well and truly to pay unto the said plaintiff the said sum of money in this count mentioned, when he, the said defendant, should be thereunto afterwards requested. And whereas also, the said defendant, afterwards, to-wit, on the same day and year, and at the place aforesaid, accounted together with the said plaintiff, etc. Burr. App. 249, §507.

D. Declaration Against Bailee Without Reward, for Want of Care.

For that whereas heretofore, to-wit, on, etc., at, etc., in consideration that the said plaintiff, at the special, etc., had caused to be delivered to him, the said defendant, certain goods and chattels, to-wit, etc., of great value, to-wit, of the value of _____ dollars, to be taken care of, and safely and securely kept by the said defendant for the said plaintiff; he, the said defendant, undertook, etc., to take due and proper care of, and safely and securely keep the said goods and chattels for the said plaintiff, and to redeliver the same to him, the said plaintiff, when he, the said defendant, should be thereunto afterwards requested; and although the said defendant then and there had and received the said goods and chattels of and from the said plaintiff for the purpose aforesaid; and although the said defendant, was afterwards, to-wit, on, etc., at, etc., aforesaid, requested by the said plaintiff to redeliver the said goods and chattels to him, the said plaintiff. Yet the said defendant, not regarding his said promise and undertaking, did not nor would take due and proper care of, and safely or securely keep the said goods and chattels, or any part thereof, for the said plaintiff, nor did nor would at the said time when he was so requested as aforesaid, or at any time afterwards, redeliver the same to the said plaintiff, but on the contrary thereof, he, the said defendant, so negligently and carelessly conducted himself, with respect to the said goods and chattels, and took so little care thereof, that by and through the mere carelessness, negligence, and improper conduct of the said defendant and his servants in that behalf, the said goods and chattels being of the value aforesaid, became and were wholly lost to the said plaintiff, to-wit, at, etc., aforesaid. (Add a count on defendant's implied undertaking to redeliver on request, omitting the statement of the want of care. If the defendant have been guilty of a conversion, or if it be doubtful whether others also may be liable, it may be advisable to declare in case, adding a count in trover.) Burr. App. 267, §531; 2 Chit. Pl. 334; 3 East 62, 70.

E. Declaration on Chattel Note.

For that whereas the said defendant, on, etc., at, etc., made his certain chattel note in writing, bearing date the day and year last aforesaid, and then and there delivered the said note to the said (plaintiff), and thereby then and there, by the (first day of June), then next, he, the said defendant, promised to pay the said plaintiff the sum of (sixty-five) dollars, in (good merchantable hemlock saw logs), to be delivered at (A. W.'s mill), in the town of H., with interest, value received, at (thirty dollars per hundred). By reason whereof, he, the said defendant, became liable to pay to the said plaintiff the said sum of (sixty-five) dollars, in the said note mentioned, and the interest thereof, according to the tenor and effect of the said note. And being so liable, etc. (conclude with usual averment of promise to pay, and refusal). Burr. App. 260, §522.

F. Declaration on Contingent Note.

For that whereas the said defendant, heretofore, to-wit, on, etc., at, etc., made his certain promissory note in writing, bearing date the same day and year aforesaid, and thereby then and there promised to pay the said plaintiff (three days after the arrival of the ship B., at her moorings in the river T.), the sum of _____ dollars, being for a sum of money due from the said ship B. And the said defendant then and there delivered the said promissory note to the said plaintiff. And the said plaintiff avers that (the said ship B., afterwards, to-wit, on, etc., arrived at her moorings in the river T. aforesaid), to-wit, at, etc., aforesaid, of all which said several premises the said defendant, afterwards, to-wit, on, etc., last aforesaid, at, etc., aforesaid, had notice. By means whereof, and by force of the statute in such case made and provided, the said defendant then and there became liable to pay to the said plaintiff the said sum of money in the said promissory note specified, according to the tenor and effect of the said promissory note; and being so liable he, the said defendant, in consideration thereof, afterwards, to-wit, on, etc., aforesaid, at, etc., aforesaid, undertook, and then and there faithfully promised the said plaintiff to pay him the said sum of money in the said promissory note specified, according to the tenor and effect thereof. (Add the money counts, and conclude in the usual form.) Burr. App. 260, §523; 2 Chit. Pl. 123.

G. Declaration Against Watchmaker for Losing Watch.

For that whereas the said defendant before and at the time of the making of his promise and undertaking, hereinafter next mentioned, was a watchmaker, and the trade and business of a watchmaker then followed and carried on, to-wit, at, etc. And thereupon heretofore, to-wit, on, etc., at, etc., aforesaid, in consideration that the said plaintiff, at the special, etc., of the said defendant, had then and there delivered to him, the said defendant, a certain watch of him, the said plaintiff, of great value, to-wit, of the value of _____ dollars, of lawful, etc., to be repaired by him, the said defendant, in the way of his said trade or business of a watchmaker, for reasonable reward, to be therefore paid by the said plaintiff to the said defendant, he, the said defendant, undertook, etc., to repair the said watch, and to take due and proper care thereof, until the same should be returned by the said defendant to the said plaintiff. Yet the said defendant not regarding, etc., did not, nor would take due and proper care of the said watch, until the same was returned by him, the said defendant, to the said plaintiff, but on the contrary thereof, he, the said defendant, after the making of his said promise and undertaking, to-wit, on, etc., aforesaid, at, etc., aforesaid, so carelessly and negligently behaved and conducted himself with respect to the said watch, that by and through the mere carelessness, negligence, and improper conduct of the said defendant in that behalf, the said watch being of the value aforesaid, became, and was, and still is wholly lost to the said plaintiff, to-wit, at, etc., aforesaid. (Second count for not redelivering the watch.) And whereas also, afterwards, to-wit, on, etc., aforesaid, at, etc., aforesaid, in consideration that the said plaintiff, at the like special, etc., of the said defendant, had then and there delivered to the said defendant a certain other watch of great value, to-wit, etc., to be rectified by him, the said defendant, for reward, to be therefore paid to him, he, the said defendant, undertook, etc., to endeavor to rectify the said last mentioned watch within a reasonable time, then next following, and to deliver the same to the said plaintiff, whenever after such reasonable time had elapsed, he, the said defendant should be thereunto requested. And although the said defendant, then and there had and received the said last-mentioned watch for the purpose last aforesaid; yet, he, not regarding his said last mentioned promise and undertaking, hath not, although a reasonable time for rectifying the said last mentioned watch hath long since elapsed, and the said defendant was, after such reasonable time had elapsed, to-wit, on, etc., aforesaid, at, etc., aforesaid, requested by the said plaintiff so to do, as yet delivered to him, the said plaintiff, the said last mentioned watch, but hath hitherto wholly neglected and refused so to do, to-wit, at, etc., aforesaid. (Add count for money had and received. If there be reason to apprehend that the defendant have been guilty of a conversion, it may be advisable to declare in case with a count in trover. 3 East 62, 70.) Burr. App. 268, §532; 2 Chit. Pl. 340.

II. Plea of Non-Assumpsit.

And the said defendant, by ———, his attorney, says, that he did not undertake or promise in manner and form as the said plaintiff hath above complained. And of this the said defendant puts himself upon the country. Steph. Pl. 157.

I. Affidavits for Attachment.

A. Affidavit To Obtain Attachment, General Form.

A. B., the plaintiff above named, being duly sworn, says:

I. That Y. Z., the above named defendant, is justly and truly indebted to the deponent in ——— dollars, for (here state cause of action; see II, A, to L); and deponent believes that he is justly entitled to recover said sum.

(Or, where the action is for a tort:

I. That on or about the ——— day of ———, 18—, Y. Z., the above named defendant (here state commission of the tort), and deponent believes that he has sustained damages to that amount, and that he is justly entitled to recover said sum.)

II. (Here state facts which bring the case within one of the classes in which the statute allows an attachment.)

III. That the said plaintiff has commenced an action in this court, by issuing the summons hereto annexed, against said Y. Z. upon the cause of action above stated. 2 Abb. Forms 315.

Note.—Special attention must be given to the provisions of state statutes in the preparation of the affidavit. Many states require an allegation that the plaintiff is entitled to recover the amount stated "over and above all counterclaims and offsets known to him." (O'Connor v. Roark, 108 Cal. 173, 41 Pac. 465.) It is also held to be necessary to allege that the attachment was not obtained for the purpose of vexing and harassing the defendant. (Hall v. Brazelton, 40 Ala. 406, 46 Ala. 359.) That plaintiff has begun or is about to begin an action against the defendant upon the cause of action alleged in the affidavit is also a usual requirement. That no previous or other application for a warrant of attachment in the action must also be averred under some statutes. For other forms, and as to the affidavit generally, see also 3 STANDARD PROC. 405, et seq.

B. Affidavit To Obtain Attachment, Referring To Complaint Annexed.

A. B., the plaintiff above named, being duly sworn, says:

I. That a sufficient cause of action exists in his favor against the defendant Y. Z., the grounds of which appear in the sworn complaint in this action hereto annexed, all the statements contained in which are true to the knowledge of this deponent (if deponent has not personal knowledge of all the facts, add: except the allegation that, etc., as to which, here state sources of belief and information, and indicate reason why informant's affidavit is not given).

II. (Here state facts which bring the case within one of the classes in which the statute allows an attachment.)

III. (As in preceding form.) 2 Abb. Forms 315.

C. Affidavit Where Defendant is a Foreign Corporation.

(As in I, A, inserting the following in the place of paragraph II): II. That the defendants are a foreign corporation, created under the laws of the state of ———, having their place of business in ———, in that state.

III. That the defendants have property within this state at ———, consisting of (describe property).

IV. That the plaintiff is a resident of this state, to-wit, of the town of ———, in the county of ———.

(Or IV. That the subject of the action is situated within this state, as appears by the foregoing statements [or by the annexed complaint].) 2 Abb. Forms 316.

D. Affidavit Where Defendant is a Non-Resident.

(As in I, A, inserting the following in the place of paragraph II): II. That the defendant Y. Z. is not a resident of this state; but resides in the city of ———, in the state of ——— (as deponent is informed by O. P., the agent and business correspondent in this city of said defendant, whose affidavit is hereto annexed).

III. That the said Y. Z. has property within this state, to-wit, a farm in the county of ———, and personal property in the hands of M. N., his agent at ———, and which the said M. N. represents to be the property of the said defendant. 2 Abb. Forms 316.

Affidavit for Attachment, Defendant Non-resident (b).

In the Superior Court of the County of San Diego, State of California. Andrew J. O'Connor, receiver of the Consolidated National Bank of San Diego, plaintiff, v. Ellen Roark, defendant. State of California, County of San Diego, ss.

Andrew J. O'Connor, being duly sworn, says that he is the plaintiff in the above entitled action; that the defendant, Ellen Roark, in the said action, is indebted to him in the sum of seven thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars, over and above all legal setoffs and counterclaims, upon an express contract for the direct payment of money, to-wit: An assessment and requisition of $100.00 per share upon the shareholders of the Consolidated

National Bank of San Diego, levied and made October 25, 1893, by James H. Eckels, comptroller of the currency, under and by virtue of the laws of the United States of America, and against the defendant, Ellen Roark, as one of the stockholders in said bank, and who was, on June 21, 1893, and ever since has been, and now is, the owner and holder of seventy-seven and one-half (77½) of the capital stock of said Consolidated National Bank of San Diego, and that the said defendant is a non-resident of this state.

That the said attachment is not sought, and the said action is not prosecuted, to hinder, delay, or defraud any creditor or creditors of the said defendant.

Andrew J. O'Connor.

O'Connor v. Roark, 108 Cal. 173, 41 Pac. 465.

Note.—In many states it is necessary when the allegation of non-residence is on information and belief, to attach an affidavit by the person from whom the information is obtained.

E. Affidavit Where Defendant Has Departed From the State, To Defraud Creditors, or To Avoid Service (a).

(Insert I, A.) II. That the defendant (is a resident of this state, to-wit, of ———; but) cannot, after due diligence, be found within this state. That, as this deponent believes, the defendant has departed from this state to ———, in the state of ——— (or keeps himself concealed within this state), with intent to defraud his creditors, and the grounds of his belief are as follows (here set out in detail the facts and circumstances which show that the defendant has done so, e. g., thus: that the said defendant has lately been engaged in converting his property into money, and has sold the goods in his store (or his stock and farming utensils) for a less price than their real value, and has sold off his household furniture, and has been busily engaged in collecting in all debts and money owing to him; and that he left his family on Friday last, stating to deponent and others that he was going to the city of New York to purchase goods; that since that time he has not returned to his said residence; that deponent has inquired of his wife where said defendant had gone, and when he would return, and was told that he had gone to New York city, and would be back in a day or two; that deponent has been informed by J. K., of ——— that he saw the said defendant on Monday last at Buffalo; and that said defendant informed said J. K. that he was then going to the state of Wisconsin, and intended to purchase a tract of land in that state, and after he was located he should send for his family (annex and refer to affidavit of informant). 2 Abb. Forms 316.

Affidavit Where Defendant Has Departed From the State, To Defraud Creditors, or To Avoid Service (b).

I. (State the cause of action, e. g., thus): On the ——— day of ———, 18—, at ———, deponent sold and delivered to Y. Z., of ———, sundry parcels of dry goods, of the value of ——— dollars, for which he has not paid.

II. Deponent is about to commence an action in this court against the said Y. Z., and has issued a summons therein.

III. The said Y. Z. has left this state, and gone to ———.

IV. Deponent is informed by A. B., and believes that the said Y. Z. stated to him, on the ——— day of ———, 18—, that "he meant to get out of the way for a while, and let the storm blow over;" meaning that he wished to avoid his creditors.

V. The said A. B., being the clerk of the said Y. Z., refuses to make his affidavit. 2 Abb. Forms 317.

F. Affidavit Where Defendant is About To Depart.

A. B., of ———, being duly sworn, says:

I. That on or about the ——— day of ———, 18—, he sold and delivered to the defendant, at the city of New York, a large quantity of general household furniture, amounting to nine thousand dollars and upwards, which said furniture said defendant used to furnish the "New Irving House" in this city, a hotel kept and occupied since that time by said defendant. That said defendant gave this deponent his notes for various amounts for said furniture. That the plaintiffs are now the lawful owners and holders of one of said notes, now past due and wholly unpaid, for the sum of ——— dollars, with interest. That said note was received by said plaintiffs in the regular course of business.

ness, before maturity, and for a valuable consideration.

II. That, as deponent is informed and believes, said defendant is about to leave this state in a very short time, and take with him his family, and that he is going to Europe, and that the sources of deponent's information are (specifying them, and indicating why informant's affidavit is not procured).

III. That, as deponent is informed and believes, said defendant has packed up a large amount of silverware, and other valuables, which said defendant is about to take away with him out of this state, and which are the property of said defendant (stating sources, etc., as above).

IV. That, as deponent is informed and believes, said defendant is making arrangements to convert other portions of his property into cash, with the intention, as deponent verily believes, of removing the same from this state, and in particular (etc., and stating sources, etc., as above).

V. That the said defendant has repeatedly said to this deponent that he did not intend to pay one cent for the notes so given by him to this deponent, for the furniture sold as aforesaid; and deponent verily believes that said defendant's intention, in removing and disposing of his property as aforesaid, is to defraud his creditors. 2 Abb. Forms 318.

G. Affidavit With Allegation of Threat To Assign To Hinder Creditors.

This deponent says that, as he verily believes, the said defendant is about to dispose of his property, with intent to defraud his creditors. Deponent further says that he has, within the past three or four weeks, several times applied to the defendant to pay or secure said debt; and the defendant, on the _____ day of _____, last, promised the plaintiffs that he would take an account of his stock, and show them a statement of his affairs, and give them security on his stock the next day. He did not call the next day; and deponent, on the _____ day of _____, went to said defendant, and he told deponent he was not going to take an account of stock or give any security; deponent then told him the plaintiffs would sue him, and he replied that if they did, he would make an assignment, and they could not get anything, and he would do business under somebody else's name. 2 Abb. Forms 319.

T. McKean, who, being by me duly sworn, deposes and says that he is a member of the firm of McKean, Eilers & Co., plaintiffs in the above entitled and numbered cause, and that said firm is composed of affiant and A. J. Eilers; that the defendants in said above entitled and numbered cause, J. A. Forbes, Theodore Loose, and G. W. A. Forbes & Co.; that said defendants, J. A. Forbes, Theodore Loose, and G. W. Barnett, secrete themselves so that the ordinary process of the law cannot be served upon them; that the attachment now applied for is not sued out for the purpose of injuring or harassing the defendants, or either of them; and that plaintiffs will probably lose their debt unless such attachment is issued. II. Actions Against Attorneys.

A. Declaration in Case Against Attorney for Negligence.

For that whereas, before and at the time of the committing of the grievances by the said defendant as herein-after next mentioned, the said plaintiff, at the special instance and request of the said defendant, had retained and employed the said defendant as an attorney of the supreme court of judicature of the people of the state of New York, to prosecute and conduct a certain action of (trover) in the same court, by and at the suit of the said plaintiff against one E. F., for (taking away and converting to his own use certain goods and chattels claimed by him, the said plaintiff, to be his own proper goods and chattels), for certain reasonable fees and reward, to be therefor paid by the said plaintiff to the said defendant; and the said defendant then and there accepted and entered upon such retainer and employment, to-wit, at, etc. (venue); and thereupon, it then and there became, and was, the duty of the said defendant to prosecute and conduct the said action in a proper, skilful and diligent manner. Yet the said defendant, not regarding such his duty, or his said retainer and employment, but contriving and intending to injure and aggrieve the said plaintiff in this behalf, did not nor would prosecute or conduct the said action in a proper, skilful or diligent manner, and on the contrary thereof, prosecuted and conducted the same action to trial in so improper, unskilful and negligent a manner (in not having a certain instrument before then prepared by the said defendant, and purporting to be a sale and assignment of the said goods and chattels by the said E. F. to the said plaintiff, so that the same might have been given in evidence on the said trial of the said action), that the said plaintiff, by the said neglect and default of the said defendant in that behalf, was (hindered and prevented from giving the same instrument in evidence upon the trial of the said cause), and by reason thereof was afterwards, to-wit, on, etc. (day of non-suit or about it), at, etc. (venue), compelled to suffer himself, the said plaintiff, to be nonsuited in the said action, whereby he the said plaintiff was not only hindered and prevented from recovering his said damages from the said E. F., by reason of (his taking away and converting the said goods and chattels) as aforesaid, but hath also been forced and obliged to pay, and hath paid to the said E. F. a large sum of money, to-wit, the sum of one hundred dollars for his costs and charges, in about his defense of the said action, and hath also paid to the said defendant another large sum of money, to-wit, the sum of one hundred dollars for his costs and charges for the prosecution and conduct of the said action, to-wit, at, etc. (venue). (Add the following general count):

And whereas also, before and at the time of the committing of the grievances by the said defendant herein-after mentioned, the said plaintiff, at the special instance and request of the said defendant, had retained and employed the said defendant as an attorney of the said court, to prosecute, conduct and manage a certain action in the said court, by and at the suit of the said plaintiff against one E. F., for the recovery of a certain sum of money, to-wit, the sum of one thousand dollars (state a sufficient sum), then alleged and claimed by the said plaintiff to be due and owing to him from the said E. F. (or if not for a debt but for damages, say: "for the recovery of certain damages amounting, to-wit, to the sum of one thousand dollars" [state enough] "then and there alleged and claimed by the said plaintiff to have been sustained by him, by reason of certain acts and wrongs, before then done and committed by the said E. F. to the said plaintiff's damage"), for fees and reward to be paid to the said defendant in that behalf; and the said defendant then accepted and entered upon such retainer and employment, to-wit, at, etc. (venue). And thereupon it then and there became, and was, the duty of the said defendant to prosecute, conduct and manage the said action with due and proper care, skill and diligence. Yet the said defendant, not regarding such his duty, or his said retainer and employment, but contriving and intending to injure and aggrieve the said plaintiff in this behalf, did not, nor would prosecute, conduct or manage the said action with due and proper care, skill and diligence, and on the contrary thereof, prosecuted, conducted, and managed the said action in such a careless, unskilful, undue and improper manner, and with such want of due and proper care, skill and diligence in that behalf, that the said action afterwards, to-wit, on, etc. (day of nonsuit or about it), to-wit, at, etc. (venue), became, and was, rendered wholly abortive and of no avail, and the said plaintiff then and there was forced and obliged to be, and he then and there was nonsuited (or if a verdict found against him or otherwise, state the fact shortly accordingly), whereby the said plaintiff was, and hath been hitherto, not only hindered and prevented from recovering his said debt (or damages), from the said E. F., but is likely to lose the same, and also hath been forced and obliged to incur and pay, and hath incurred and paid, to the said E. F. a large sum of money, to-wit, the sum of five hundred dollars (state enough), for his costs and charges, in and about his defense to the said action, and hath also incurred the loss of and paid to the said defendant another large sum of money, to-wit, the sum of one hundred dollars, for the said plaintiff's costs and charges, in and about the prosecuting and conducting of the said action, to-wit, at, etc. (venue). To the damage, etc. Burr. App. 316, §585; 2 Humph. Prec. 804.

D. 1880, in the county and state aforesaid, the deponent, being a single woman, she was delivered of a girl child, which by law is deemed and held a bastard, and that William H. Robt. M. Witherspoon,

W. H. T. v. State, 18 Fla. 883.

Note.—Each complaint under this title must be tested by the statutes of the state where made. There is a great diversity of legislation upon this subject in those states where the action exists. In some states it is of a criminal nature; in other states it is a civil action, and in others it is termed a quasi criminal action.

Complaint for Bastardy by Female (b).

"Martha Roberts being first duly sworn deposes and says that she is a single woman, and is now pregnant with child within the said sixth justice district of the county of Hillsborough, in the state of Florida, which said child when born will in law be deemed and held to be a bastard, and that Franklin C. Thomas, of the said county of Hillsborough and state of Florida is the father of said child." Thomas v. State, 37 Fla. 378, 20 So. 259.

William C. Mitchell,
Notary Public. (Seal.)"

Smith v. State, 125 Ind. 440, 25 N. E. 598.

Note.—This complaint would be insufficient in many jurisdictions for the reason that it does not state that defendant is an unmarried woman, and for the further reason that it is sworn to before a notary public.

B. Complaint by Selectmen.

"That one Clarissa Neff, a legal inhabitant of the town of Hampton, a single and unmarried woman, was, on the 23rd of October, 1819, at said Hampton, delivered of a bastard child; that she is poor and needy, and unable to support said child; that said child is now living, and likely to become expensive and chargeable to said town; and that no sufficient security has ever been offered to indemnify said town against all charge and expense, for the support of said bastard child; and that said town has already actually been compelled to contribute toward the expense of maintaining said bastard child; that said child was begotten on the body of the said Clarissa, by Jesse Fuller, on or about the 21st day of January, 1819, and that he is the father of said child; and the said Clarissa Neff, the mother of said child, has, at all times, neglected and omitted to bring forward, in her own name, and prosecute to final judgment, her suit for the maintenance of said child." Fuller v. Hampton, 5 Conn. 416.

III. Warrant for Arrest.

"The People of the State of Illinois, to the sheriff or any constable of said county: Whereas Clara J. Lee of Lawrence county, Ills., an unmarried woman, has this day made complaint under oath before H. W. Bunn, a justice of the peace in and for said county, that she is pregnant with child, which is liable to be born a bastard, and Thomas E. Palmer is the father of said child. We therefore command you to arrest the said Thomas E. Palmer, and bring him before said justice to answer unto said complaint, and to be further dealt with according to law. Given under my hand and seal of said justice this 26th day of Dec., 1889.

H. W. Bunn."

Palmer v. People, 138 Ill. 356, 365, 28 N. E. 130.

IV. Commitment in Bastardy.

"Whereas Walter L. Myers, the prisoner herewith sent you, has this day been convicted before me, an acting justice of the peace for Boon Station township in said county, on the charge of bastardy, and sentenced for a fine of ten dollars for state and to forty dollars for mother of child and four dollars and fifty-five cents costs, total, $64.55: you are therefore commanded to receive the said Walter L. Myers into the common jail of the county of Alamance, there to remain until the expiration of the time aforesaid, and that he shall remain in prison until the costs and fine are paid, or he shall otherwise be discharged according to law.

Myers v. Stafford, 114 N. C. 234, 19 S. E. 764.

V. Bond for Compliance With Judgment in Bastardy.

"Know all men by these presents, that we, Thomas Carpenter and George Such are held and firmly bound unto the state of New Jersey, in the sum of one thousand dollars to be paid to the said, the state of New Jersey, to which payment, well and truly to be made, we bind ourselves, and each and each of us, jointly and severally, and our and each and every of our heirs, executors and administrators firmly by these presents. Sealed with our seals and dated the twenty-fifth day of June, 1881. The condition of this obligation is such that whereas Thomas Carpenter, at the April term of the Middlesex county court of quarter sessions, was convicted of being the father of a bastard child born in the township of Woodbridge, Middlesex county, New Jersey, of the body of Joanna Jordon, and that the said child is chargeable to the said township of Woodbridge. Now, therefore, if the said Thomas Carpenter shall obey and comply with the order of filiation heretofore made against him and indemnify the township of Woodbridge and each and every of the townships of this state which may have incurred or which may hereafter incur any costs or expense by reason of the birth, education and maintenance of the said bastard child or of its mother during her confinement, or from all actions, suits, troubles and other charges and demands whatsoever, touching or concerning the same, then this present obligation to be void, otherwise to be and remain in full force and virtue.

Geo. Such (L. S.)

Sealed and delivered in presence of Howard Wesner,

New Brunswick, N. J."

Such v. State, 55 N. J. L. 289, 26 Atl. 896.

"The condition of the foregoing bond is such, that whereas the said Samuel Hunn, Jr., is the father of James Hunn, an illegitimate child, and is liable for his support, and whereas the legal place of settlement of said child is in said town of East Hartford, and in the event that he should at any time be unable to support himself said town is in the first place legally chargeable for his support, against which liability it is the duty of said Samuel Hunn, Jr., to indemnify said town; Now if we, the said obligors, shall at all times see that said James Hunn is supported without expense to said town, and fully indemnify and save harmless said town from all loss, cost and expenses of every kind which said town may incur by reason of his becoming chargeable thereunto, then this bond is to be void, otherwise to remain in full force." Town of East Hartford v. Hunn, 29 Conn. 500.

VII. Order of Dismissal on Provision for Support in Bastardy.

"Comes now the relator in person, and by A. F. Shirts, her attorney, and comes also the defendant, by Thomas J. Kane, his attorney; and the relator Roxana Hines, in person, comes into open court and acknowledges that provision has been made by the defendant to her satisfaction for the maintenance of the bastard child named in the relator's complaint. It is therefore considered by the court that this cause be dismissed at defendant's costs. It is therefore considered by the court that the relator recovered of the defendant all her costs and charges in this before by her paid, laid out and expended, taxed at _____ dollars and _____ cents." Noble v. State ex rel. Hines, 39 Ind. 352.

A. B., plaintiff in this suit, by E. F., his attorney, complains of C. D., defendant in this suit, being in custody, etc., of a plea of trespass on the case upon promises: For that whereas one J. K., heretofore, to-wit, on the (tenth day of September), in the year one thousand eight hundred and (forty-five), at (the place of the date), to-wit, at (the city and in the county of New York) aforesaid (the venue), made a certain bill of exchange in writing, bearing date the day and year aforesaid, and then and there directed the said bill of exchange to the said defendant (by the name of Mr. C. D.), by which said bill of exchange the said J. K. then and there requested the said defendant (sixty days) after the date thereof, to pay to the said plaintiff, or order, the sum of (five hundred) dollars, for value received, and then and there delivered the said bill of exchange to the said plaintiff: which said bill of exchange the said defendant afterwards, to-wit, on (the same day and year last aforesaid), at (the city and) in the county aforesaid, upon sight thereof accepted. By reason whereof, and according to the usage and custom of merchants, the said defendant then and there became liable to pay to the said plaintiff, the said sum of money in the said bill of exchange specified, according to the tenor and effect of the said bill of exchange, and of the acceptance thereof; and being so liable, the said defendant, in consideration thereof, afterwards, to-wit, on the same day and year last aforesaid, and at the place aforesaid, undertook and then and there faithfully promised the said plaintiff to pay unto the said plaintiff the said sum of money in the said bill of exchange specified, according to the tenor and effect of the said bill of exchange, and of the said acceptance thereof.

And whereas, also, etc. (add the money counts, see Assumpsit).

D.), by which said bill of exchange the said J. K. then and there requested the said defendant (four months) after the date thereof to pay to one L. M., or order, the sum of (five hundred) dollars, for value received, and then and there delivered the said bill of exchange to the said L. M.; which said bill of exchange the said defendant afterwards, to-wit, on the same day and year last aforesaid, at (the city and) in the county aforesaid, upon sight thereof, accepted. And the said L. M., to whom, or to whose order, the payment of the said sum of money in the said bill of exchange specified, was to be made as aforesaid, afterwards, and before the payment of the said sum of money therein specified, to-wit, on (the same day and year, and) at (the place aforesaid) endorsed the said bill of exchange in writing, and by that endorsement ordered and appointed the said sum of money in the said bill of exchange specified to be paid to the said plaintiff, and then and there delivered the said bill of exchange, so endorsed, to the said plaintiff. By reason whereof, and by force of the statute in such case made and provided, the said defendant then and there became liable to pay to the said plaintiff, the said sum of money in the said promissory note specified, according to the tenor and effect of the said promissory note: And being so liable, he the said defendant, in consideration thereof, afterwards, to-wit, on the same day and year and at the place aforesaid undertook, and then and there faithfully promised the said plaintiff well and truly to pay unto the said plaintiff the said sum of money in the said promissory note specified, according to the tenor and effect of the said promissory note. 27. Complaint on Negotiable Bond Payable to Bearer.

I. That on the _____ day of _____, 18—, at _____, the defendants, a corporation incorporated by the laws of this state, in pursuance of a resolution of their board of directors, passed on the _____ day of _____, 18—, made and delivered their note or obligation, partly printed and partly in writing, which they signed by their president and treasurer, and affixed the seal of the company thereto, and of which note or obligation the following is a copy: (Copy of bond.)

II. That upon receipt of the sum therein mentioned, or other valuable consideration, therefor, from some person unknown to the plaintiff, the defendants delivered the same to such person for the purpose and with the intent that the same should be assignable and transferrable by delivery from hand to hand, without other writing.

III. That before the maturity of said note or obligation, it came lawfully into the possession of the plaintiff for value received, so that he became the owner and holder thereof, and entitled to the money therein promised to be paid.

IV. That there is now due to this plaintiff thereon, from the defendant, the sum of _____ dollars, with interest thereon from the _____ day of _____, 18—. 1 Abb. Forms 238.

Note.—In some jurisdictions it is required to allege that no part of the bill or note has been paid, in addition to an allegation as to what is now due.

III. Defenses.

A. Answer, Denial of Indorsement (a).

The defendant, answering the complaint herein, denies that he ever indorsed the said note. 2 Abb. Forms 21.

Answer, Denial of Indorsement (b).

The defendant, answering the complaint herein, says that he never indorsed the said note. 2 Abb. Forms 21.

Answer, Denial of Indorsement (c).

That the defendant (or M. N.) did not indorse (nor deliver) the promissory note (or bill) mentioned therein. 2 Abb. Forms 68.

Note.—These denials must be positive. If want of knowledge or information on the subject is set up, it must appear how it happens that the defendant has no knowledge or information on the subject. Fales v. Hicks, 12 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 153.

B. Answer, Unauthorized Acceptance in Name of Corporation.

I. That the said bill was, without the authority or consent of these defendants, and out of the course of their regular business, and without consideration to them, accepted in their name by one M. N., fraudulently pretending to act under their authority.

II. That these defendants have no knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to whether the said bill was ever indorsed by said (payee), and delivered to the plaintiffs; but these defendants aver that the same was not so indorsed until after its maturity (or was so indorsed and transferred without consideration), and that prior to such indorsement the plaintiffs had full notice and knowledge of all the facts hereinbefore stated. 2 Abb. Forms 68.

Note.—If it be intended to deny that the genuineness of the signature, the allegation should be that defendant denies that he signed his name to a promissory note of the tenor and effect of the copy set out. Douglass v. Matheny, 35 Iowa 112.

The better practice is to deny acceptance of the draft as alleged in the complaint.

C. Answer, Denial of Making or Acceptance of Note or Bill.

That the defendant (or M. N.) did not make the promissory note (or accept the bill) alleged in the complaint. 2 Abb. Forms 68.

D. Answer, Mistake in Amount of Note.

That said note was given upon a settlement of account between the defendant and the plaintiff, and was intended by them to be made and received for the sum of _____ dollars, then claimed by the plaintiff to be the amount due him from this defendant;

but that when it was made, it was, by mistake of the parties, given for the sum of _____ dollars mentioned in the complaint, instead of the sum of _____ dollars, which was all that was due; and as to the excess, to-wit, _____ dollars, the same is without consideration. 2 Abb. Forms 69.

E. Answer, Defendant Indorsed as Agent; Where Complaint Set Forth Contract Untruly in This Respect.

I. (Denial of making indorsement, and protest of note such as alleged.)

II. This defendant says that the following is a true copy of the promissory note made by the said firm of A. & Co., and on which this action is brought: (Copy of note and indorsement, with addition of "treasurer" to defendant's signature.)

III. That at the time of the making and indorsement of said note this defendant was the treasurer of the _____ company, at _____, a foreign corporation, duly incorporated by and under the laws of the state of _____; and that he was authorized by them to receive the said note, and to indorse the same to the plaintiffs, as such treasurer; of all which facts the plaintiffs had notice.

IV. That said corporation was, at the time of said indorsement indebted to the plaintiffs to the amount of about _____ dollars for goods, wares and merchandise, furnished by the said plaintiffs to the said corporation; and said note was received and endorsed by him as such treasurer, and not in his individual capacity, and was received by the plaintiffs as an obligation of the said corporation, on account of said precedent debt due to them from the said corporation, and for and on account of no other consideration whatever, and that he received no consideration therefor. 2 Abb. Forms 69.

Note.—Another form that may be used is as follows, "that when the note for $_____ was made, the same was by mistake given for a greater sum than was due from defendant to the payee, to-wit, a sum sufficient to cancel the balance claimed to be due on said note, making said note without consideration and therefore the defendant claims a deduction from the note equal to the balance claimed to be due thereon." Seeley v. Engel, 13 N. Y. 542.

Note.—Babcock v. Beman, 11 N. Y. 200.

F. Answer, Illegal Interest in Note.

As to the sum of _____ dollars, parcel of said sum of _____ dollars, in said complaint demanded, the said defendant admits that he owes the said sum of _____ dollars to the said plaintiff; but as to the sum of _____ dollars, the residue of the said sum of _____ dollars, the said defendant says that the said promissory note in the complaint mentioned was given by the said defendant to the said plaintiff for the loan of _____ dollars for _____ years, and no more; and that the said sum of _____ dollars was included in said note, as interest on the said sum of _____ dollars for the said term of _____ years, at the rate of _____ per cent per annum. 2 Abb. Forms 72.

Note.—The usurious agreement must be set out (Dagal v. Simmons, 23 N. Y. 491). Merely alleging "that the loan was at a greater rate of interest than at the rate of _____ per cent. per annum" without giving the particulars of the transaction is not sufficient. Dagal v. Simmons, supra; Manning v. Tyler, 21 N. Y. 567.

G. Answer, Note Was for Accommodation, and Was Misapplied.

I. That the note mentioned and described in the complaint was given by this defendant to (the payee) therein named, without any other consideration than is hereinafter stated.

II. That theretofore, this defendant had loaned his promissory note for _____ dollars, dated on the _____ day of _____, 18—, to said (payee) without consideration, and solely for the accommodation of said (payee), and upon his promise to take up and pay the same at maturity.

III. That said note fell due on the _____ day of _____, 18—, and that, at the request of said (payee) this defendant then gave him the note in suit, for the special purpose of enabling him therewith to take up and renew said first note of _____ dollars, he paying the balance, and upon the agreement with him that it should be so used, and not otherwise.

IV. That the plaintiff having a claim then overdue against the said (payee), he the said (payee) wrongfully diverted said note from the purpose for which it was given, and fraudulently misapplied the same by giving it to the plaintiff as collateral to secure the payment of said claim.

V. That the plaintiff is not a bona fide holder of the note in suit for a valuable consideration; but received the same with notice of the foregoing facts, and as collateral to secure the payment of an antecedent debt, and without paying any consideration therefor.

VI. This defendant denies each and every allegation of the complaint, in consistent with the foregoing statement. 2 Abb. Forms 75.

H. Answer, Note or Acceptance Was Given for Goods Sold But Never Delivered.

I. That the bill (or note) mentioned in the complaint was accepted (or given) by the defendant for the price of goods to be sold and delivered by the plaintiff to the defendant before the said bill (or note) should become due.

II. That defendant has always been ready and willing to buy and accept said goods from the plaintiff, and has duly performed all the conditions on his part.

III. That the plaintiff has not sold and delivered the same to the defendant (though the defendant, on the _____ day of _____, at _____, duly requested him so to do).

IV. That except as aforesaid there never was any consideration for the acceptance or payment of said bill (or giving or payment of said note) by the defendant. 2 Abb. Forms 76.

I. Answer, Notes Were Given for Purchase-Money, and Plaintiff Failed To Convey.

I. That the only consideration of the said three several notes was and is the sale of a certain piece of land, situate in the county of _____ and state of _____, and known and described as (description).

II. That at the time of making said several promissory notes, the said plaintiff agreed to convey the said premises to this defendant, at the time when the sum named in the note described in the first count of the said complaint should become due and payable, to-wit, on the said _____ day of _____, 18—; and take a mortgage from this defendant on said premises to secure the payment of the sums mentioned in the two notes described in the second and third counts of the said complaint.

III. That the defendant duly performed all the conditions of said agreement on his part, and on said day, and ever since, been ready and willing to pay the first named sum, and execute and deliver said mortgage, on the delivery by the said plaintiff of such deed of conveyance.

IV. That said plaintiff did not, on the said _____ day of _____, 18—, nor at any time since, offer to convey the said premises to the said defendant, on the payment of the sum mentioned in the said first note, and the execution of a mortgage by the said defendant as aforesaid, to secure the sums of money mentioned in the two other notes (or, if by agreement it was necessary, allege demand and refusal). 2 Abb. Forms 77.

Note.—This form in general follows. Ellis v. Hubbard, 4 Ind. 206. Allegation of tender is necessary. Lee v. Dozier, 40 Miss. 477.

J. Answer, Fraud in the Making.

I. That the plaintiff induced him to make the note mentioned in the complaint, by representing that he was authorized by one M. N., to whom the defendant owed the amount of the same, to take a note to himself in satisfaction of such debt.

II. That the said representation was false, and made with intent to deceive and defraud this defendant.

III. That the defendant received no consideration for the said note. 2 Abb. Forms 77.

K. Answer, Note Was for Goods Sold With False Warranty.

I. That the defendant gave the note mentioned in the complaint for and on account of certain goods, called _____, theretofore furnished by the plaintiff to him, the defendant, under a representation and warranty by the plaintiff, at the time of so furnishing them, made to the defendant, that the said goods were fit and proper materials for _____ (stating the warranty), and suitable for such purpose; and for no other consideration whatever.

II. That the defendant then accepted and purchased said goods for the purpose of _____, trusting in the said representation and warranty of the plaintiff; all of which the plaintiff then well knew.

III. That the same were not fit or proper for said purpose, but altogether unsuitable, and have always been and are altogether useless to the defendant.

2 Abb. Forms 78.

L. Answer That the Note Was for Goods Sold by Means of Deceit.

I. (Allege sale as in the case of an action for damages for deceit, omitting at the end the words: whereby the plaintiff was misled, to his damage, etc.).

II. That said note was given to the plaintiff without any other consideration than said (sale).

III. That immediately on discovering said fraud, the defendant rescinded said (contract), and delivered (or tendered) to the plaintiff all that the defendant had received under said contract, upon condition of his returning said note, which the plaintiff refused to do. 2 Abb. Forms 78.

M. Answer, Denial of Transfer to the Plaintiff.

That the said note was made and indorsed by defendants, and by them delivered to one M. N., a person other than the plaintiff, with whom defendants had business transactions; and defendant deny that they have any knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief whether or not said note was thereafter duly transferred and delivered by the lawful, or other, holders thereof to the plaintiff; and the defendants further deny that they have any knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief whether or not the plaintiff is the lawful owner and holder of said note. 2 Abb. Forms 80.

Note.—This is approved in Chadwick v. Booth, 13 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 249, but is disapproved in Kamlah v. Salter, 6 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 226.

N. Answer, Wrongful Transfer by Partner.

That the note alleged was not indorsed by M. N. & Co., but that it was indorsed in the name of said firm by B., and by him transferred to the plaintiffs in payment of an individual debt of said B., and without the knowledge or consent of said A., his partner, and that the plaintiffs at the time of the said transfer had full knowledge thereof. 2 Abb. Forms 81.

Note.—Union Nat. Bank v. Underhill, 21 Hun (N. Y.) 178.

O. Answer, Qualified Admission of Note, and Denial of Plaintiff's Title.

I. Admit that heretofore they executed and delivered a promissory note to the plaintiff; but the defendants deny that the description of said note in the complaint is a true description of said note, or correctly states the terms thereof.

II. Defendants further answering, deny (knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief) that the plaintiff is now, or was at the commencement of this action, the lawful and bona fide owner and holder of said promissory note, or has any interest whatever therein; and the defendants allege, on information and belief, that before this action said plaintiff sold and delivered said note for a valuable consideration to one John Doe, who is, and at the commencement of this action was, the lawful owner and holder of said note. 2 Abb. Forms 81.

P. Answer, by Accommodation Indorsers, Extension Given To Makers.

I. That the said note was indorsed by these defendants without consideration, and for the accommodation of the defendant Z., the maker thereof.

II. That the plaintiffs, at the time they received said note, had notice thereof.

III. That about the time of its maturity the plaintiffs, for a valuable consideration, and without the knowledge or assent of these defendants, made an agreement with said (maker), whereby they agreed to extend the time for the payment of said note by said (maker) _____ days. 2 Abb. Forms 82.

Note.—While this form has been held to be sufficient under a strict rule of pleading, it is better to also state "the particular time for which the extension was granted." Huey v. Pinney, 5 Minn. 310.

Q. Answer, Defendant Was Surety, and Plaintiff Holds Collateral Securities, Defendant Asks To Be Subrogated.

I. That said draft was accepted by the defendant without any consideration, for the accommodation of said (drawers), which the plaintiff well knew.

II. That the same was made under an agreement between said (drawers) and the plaintiff; whereby said (drawers) executed to the plaintiff a bond for _____ dollars, together with a mortgage on house and lot No. _____, _____ street _____, in _____, as security for the payment thereof, which securities the plaintiff still holds, and are ample to secure and satisfy the plaintiff's demand.

III. That said (drawers) are insolvent and unable to pay said acceptance, and the defendant has no recourse for the payment or security of the sum for which he is liable to the plaintiff, except the said mortgages and securities held by the plaintiff.

IV. That the defendant has offered to pay the said draft, with interest and costs, if the plaintiff will surrender and transfer to the defendant upon such payment the mortgages and securities held by the plaintiff; which the plaintiff refuses to do, but claims to hold said securities for some other demand due to the plaintiff from said (drawers).

V. That the plaintiff is a foreign corporation, created and doing business in the province of Canada, and the defendant will be remediless under the laws of the state of New York, where the defendant resides, except by the aid and interposition of this court.

Wherefore the defendant demands that upon his paying said draft, with interest and costs, the plaintiff be adjudged to transfer said bond and mortgage to the defendant (and that he may hold and enforce them for his reimbursement, with interest). 2 Abb. Forms 82.

Note.—Bank of Toronto v. Hunter, 4 Bosw. (N. Y.) 646.

R. Answer, Denial of Acceptance, Presentment and Protest.

Deny that (they have any knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to whether) the bill of exchange mentioned in plaintiff's first cause of action was presented for acceptance, or was accepted as alleged, or was presented for payment, or was protested for non-payment, or whether payment was refused. 2 Abb. Forms 83.

Note.—If the protest of the notary is attached to the bill, a denial on information and belief will be stricken out. Gridler v. Farmers' & Drovers' Bank, 75 Ky. 333.

S. Answer, Denial of Notice of Dishonor.

That due notice of the dishonor of the said promissory note (or bill) was not given to defendant. 2 Abb. Forms 83.

T. Answer, Denial of Presentment.

That the promissory note (or bill of exchange) mentioned therein was never presented for payment (or for acceptance) to him (or to M. N.), as alleged. 2 Abb. Forms 84.

U. Answer, Denial of Excuse for Non-Presentment.

That due search was not made when the said bill of exchange (or promissory note) became due and payable, to discover the residence and person of the said _____, at _____, or elsewhere, in order that the said bill might be presented to the said _____ for payment, as alleged. 2 Abb. Forms 84.

Note.—It is also proper to allege: "Defendant denies that due or any search was made," etc.

V. Answer, Breach of Special Agreement as to Presenting and Giving Notice.

I. That the bill of exchange (or check) in the said complaint mentioned was by the said defendant delivered to the said plaintiff, and by him discounted for the said defendants, upon the express condition and understanding that the plaintiff should cause the same to be presented to the respective drawers thereof for acceptance or payment, and acceptance or payment thereof to be demanded as soon after the delivery thereof as the same could be done by the exercise of reasonable diligence in that behalf; and that in case of the non-acceptance or non-payment thereof by the respective drawees, on presentation or demand, immediate notice of such non-acceptance or non-payment should be given to the said defendants by telegraph, or that the said defendants should not be bound or liable to pay the said bill of exchange.

II. That the said plaintiff failed to comply with the condition or understanding aforesaid, and did not present the same for acceptance or payment, or demand acceptance or payment of the same within a reasonable time after the delivery thereof to the said plaintiff; nor was immediate notice of the non-acceptance or non-payment thereof given to the defendants, by telegraph or otherwise. 2 Abb. Forms 84.

Note.—If defendant seeks to recover special damage by reason of the breach, an allegation to that effect should be added.

W. Answer, Payment of Bill to Drawer Before Indorsement.

I. That after the bill mentioned in the complaint was due, and while said (drawer) was the holder thereof, and before this action, the defendant satisfied and discharged the principal and interest (and damages) due on said bill, by payment to the said (drawer).

II. That said (drawer) first indorsed said bill to the plaintiff after said payment. 2 Abb. Forms 85.

X. Answer, Denial of Guaranty.

I. That the defendant never guaranteed the payment or collection of the said note, but the plaintiff bought the same at his own risk as to the responsibility of the maker and the payment thereof by him.

II. That at the time of the assignment by the defendant to the plaintiff the defendant expressly declined to guarantee the payment or collection of said note, and that the words "and agree that it is good" were inserted in said assignment at the instance of the plaintiff, and only for the purpose of defendant's agreeing to the genuineness of the signature of the maker of said note, and that it was so represented at the time by the plaintiff to the defendant. 2 Abb. Forms 90.

Y. Answer by a Surety, Alleging an Extension of Time.

I. That on the _____ day of _____, 18—, at _____ (or at some time and place unknown to the defendant), the plaintiff agreed with said (debtor), in consideration of _____ (or for a valuable consideration), to forbear and extend the time of payment of the said rent guaranteed by the defendant _____ days (or from the _____ day of _____, 18—, on which the same was due, until the _____ day of _____, 18—).

II. That the defendant had no knowledge of (or did not assent to) the said agreement to extend the time. 2 Abb. Forms 99.

I. Defendant's Bill of Exceptions To Charge To Jury.

Afterwards, to-wit, at a circuit court held at the (court house) in the town of (Richmond), in and for the county of (Richmond), (or at a circuit court held at the city hall in the city of New York, in and for the city and county of New York), on the (fifteenth) day of (November), in the year one thousand eight hundred and (forty-five), before (John W. Edmonds), esquire, circuit judge, appointed to hold the said circuit court, according to the form of the statute in such case made and provided, the aforesaid issue, so joined between the said parties as aforesaid, came on to be tried by a jury of the county of (Richmond), (or city and county of New York), aforesaid, for that purpose duly empaneled, good and lawful men of the said county (or city and county). At which day came there as well the said plaintiff as the said defendant, by their respective attorneys aforesaid; and the jurors of the jury aforesaid, empaneled to try the said issue, being called, also come, and were then and there in due manner chosen and sworn to try the same issue. And upon the trial of that issue the counsel for the said plaintiff, to maintain and prove the said issue on his part, gave in evidence that, etc.

(here set out the evidence on the part of the plaintiff, and then proceed as follows): And thereupon the counsel for the said defendant, to maintain and prove the said issue on his part, gave in evidence that, etc. (here set out the evidence on the part of the defendant, and then proceed as follows): Whereupon the said counsel for the said defendant did then and there insist before the said circuit judge, on the behalf of the said defendant, that the said several matters, so produced and given in evidence on the part of the said defendant as aforesaid, were sufficient, and ought to be admitted and allowed as decisive evidence to entitle the said defendant to a verdict, and to bar the said plaintiff of his action aforesaid; and the said counsel for the said defendant did then and there pray the said circuit judge to admit and allow the said matters so produced, and given in evidence for the said defendant, to be conclusive evidence in favor of the said defendant, to entitle him to a verdict in this cause, and to bar the said plaintiff of his action aforesaid. But to this, counsel for the said plaintiff did then and there object, and insist before the said circuit judge, that the same were not sufficient, nor ought to be admitted or allowed to entitle the said defendant to a verdict; or to bar the said plaintiff of his action aforesaid. And the said circuit judge did then and there declare, and deliver his opinion to the jury aforesaid, that the said several matters, so produced and given in evidence on the part of the said defendant, were not sufficient to bar the said plaintiff of his action aforesaid; whereupon the said counsel for the said defendant did then and there, on the behalf of the said defendant, except to the aforesaid opinion of the said circuit judge, and insisted on the said several matters as an absolute bar to the said action. And the said circuit judge did also, then and there, further declare and deliver his opinion to the said jury, that, etc. (stating particularly and separately each specific remark which is excepted to, in the charge to the jury, and expressly stating, after each remark, the exception thereto, as follows): to which said last mentioned opinion of the said circuit judge, the said counsel for the said defendant did then and there, on the behalf of the said defendant, except.

And the said circuit judge, under the charge, and with the directions aforesaid, left the aforesaid issue, and the evidence so given on the trial thereof as aforesaid, to the said jury; and the jury aforesaid then and there gave their verdict for the said plaintiff, and ——— dollars damages: And inasmuch as the said several matters, so produced and given in evidence on the part of the said defendant, and by his counsel aforesaid objected and insisted on, as a bar to the action aforesaid, do not appear by the record of the verdict aforesaid, the said counsel for the said defendant did then and there propose their aforesaid exceptions to the opinion of the said circuit judge, and requested him to put his seal to this bill of exceptions, containing the said several matters so produced and given in evidence on the part of the said defendant, as aforesaid, according to the form of the statute in such case made and provided; and thereupon the said circuit judge, at the request of the said counsel for the said defendant, did put his seal to this bill of exceptions, pursuant to the aforesaid statute in such case made and provided on the (fifteenth) day of (November), in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and (forty-five).

———, circuit judge (L. S.).

Burr. App. 48, §91; Till. Forms 182.

II. Plaintiff's Bill of Exceptions To Charge To Jury.

Whereupon the said counsel for the said plaintiff did then and there, on the behalf of the said plaintiff, insist before the said circuit judge that the said matters, so produced and given in evidence on the part of the said plaintiff as aforesaid, were sufficient and ought to be admitted, and allowed as decisive evidence to entitle the said plaintiff to a verdict on the said issue between him and the said defendant so joined as aforesaid: And the said counsel for the said plaintiff did then and there pray the said circuit judge to admit and allow the said matters so produced and given in evidence for the said plaintiff to be conclusive in favor of the said plaintiff to entitle him to a verdict in this cause; but to this the counsel for the said defendant did then and there object, and insist before the said circuit judge that the same matters so given in evidence on the part of the said plaintiff were not sufficient, and ought not to be admitted and allowed to bar the said plaintiff to a verdict; but that the said matters so produced and given in evidence on the part of the said defendant were sufficient, and ought to be admitted and allowed to bar the said plaintiff of his action aforesaid. And the said circuit judge did then and there declare and deliver his opinion to the jury aforesaid, that the several matters so produced and given in evidence, on the part of the said plaintiff, were not sufficient, to entitle him to a verdict in this cause; but that the said several matters so produced and given in evidence on the part of the said defendant were sufficient to bar the said plaintiff of his action aforesaid. Whereupon the said counsel for the said plaintiff did then and there, on the behalf of the said plaintiff, except to the aforesaid opinion and decision of the said circuit judge, and insisted on the said several matters as sufficient to sustain the said action on the part of the said plaintiff, and to entitle him to a verdict. And the said circuit judge, etc. (conclude as in last form, substituting "plaintiff" for "defendant"). Burr. App. 49, §91a; Till. Forms 184.

III. Bill of Exceptions, Decision Rejecting Evidence.

Afterwards, to-wit, at a circuit court held at the courthouse in the town of _____, in and for the county of _____, on the _____ day of _____, in the year one thousand eight hundred and _____, before _____, esquire, one of the circuit judges appointed to hold the said circuit court, according to the form of the statute in such case made and provided, the aforesaid issue, so joined between the said parties as aforesaid, came on to be tried by a jury of the county of _____ aforesaid, for that purpose duly empaneled, good and lawful men of the said county.

At which day there came there as well the said plaintiff as the said defendant, by their respective attorneys aforesaid, and the jurors of the jury aforesaid, empaneled to try the said issue, being called, also came and were then and there in due manner chosen and sworn to try the said issue. And upon the trial of the said issue, the counsel for the said plaintiff, to maintain and prove the said issue on his part, called M. P., who, being sworn, testified that, etc. (state the testimony).

The counsel for the plaintiff, further to maintain and prove the said issue, called D. K., who, being sworn, testified that, etc. (state the testimony).

The counsel for the said defendant, to maintain and prove the said issue on his part, then cross-examined the said D. K., and on such cross-examination, he testified that, etc. (state the testimony).

The counsel for the said plaintiff, further to maintain and prove the said issue on his part, introduced, etc. (state the documentary evidence, if any, and how proved).

The counsel for the plaintiff here rested his cause.

And the counsel for the said defendant, to maintain and prove the said issue on his part, offered to prove that, etc. (state the evidence offered).

But the counsel for the plaintiff then and there objected to the introduction of such evidence, on the ground that, etc. (state the ground of objection). And thereupon the said circuit judge declared and delivered his opinion that, etc. (state the opinion), and rejected the said evidence as inadmissible; to which opinion and decision of the said circuit judge, the said counsel for the defendant did then and there except.

The said issue was then submitted to the jury (on the question of damages), and they found a verdict for the plaintiff for six cents damages, and six cents costs.

And because none of the said exceptions, so offered and made to the opinion and decision of the said circuit judge, do appear upon the record of the said trial, therefore, on the prayer of the said defendant by his counsel, the said circuit judge hath to this bill of exceptions put his seal, according to the statute in such case made and provided, this _____ day of _____, in the year one thousand eight hundred and _____.

_____, circuit judge (L. S.).

Burr. App. 50, §92.

Note.—Bills of Exceptions in present practice are not usually settled at trial, but subsequently.

IV. Bill of Exceptions To Decision Admitting Evidence.

(As in the preceding form to the *.) And upon the trial of the said issue, the counsel for the said plaintiff, to maintain and prove the said issue on his part, produced and offered in evidence a certain deed of bargain and sale (or a certain writing obligatory, or a certain promissory note; or otherwise, as the case may be, setting out the instrument offered in evidence, and then proceed as follows): But to the reading of the same in evidence the said counsel for the said defendant did then and there object, because, etc. (here state the objections, and then add): But the said circuit judge did then and there declare and deliver his opinion that the said objection so taken by the said counsel for the said defendant as aforesaid ought not to be allowed, but that the said deed (or writing obligatory, or promissory note, etc.) ought to be admitted in evidence; and did accordingly decide that the same should be read in evidence on the part of the said plaintiff: to which said opinion and decision of the said circuit judge, the said counsel for the said defendant did then and there on the behalf of the said defendant except. (Conclude as in I or III.)

And upon the trial of the said issue, the counsel for the said plaintiff, to maintain and prove the said issue on his part, produced as a witness J. K., and offered to prove by the said J. K., that, etc. (stating what was intended to be proved by the witness, and then proceed as follows): But to the admission of the said J. K. as a witness (or to the admission of the said matters so offered to be given in evidence on the part of the said plaintiff as aforesaid), the said counsel for the said defendant did then and there object because, etc. (here state the objections and then add): But the said circuit judge did then and there declare and deliver his opinion, that the said objections, so taken by the said counsel for the said defendant, ought not to be allowed, but that the said J. K. ought to be admitted to testify as a witness (or that the matter so offered to be given in evidence on the part of the said plaintiff ought to be admitted and received in evidence), and did accordingly decide that the said J. K. should be admitted and sworn as a witness (or that the matter so offered as aforesaid should be given in evidence, on the part of the said plaintiff; to which said opinion and decision of the said circuit judge the said counsel for the said defendant did then and there, on the behalf of the said defendant, except. (Conclude as in I or III.) Burr. App. 51, §93; Till. Forms 185.

V. Bill of Exceptions Setting Forth Pleadings.

Be it remembered that in the term of (July), in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ——— (the term of the declaration), came A. B., by E. F., his attorney, into the supreme court of judicature of the people of the state of New York, before the justices thereof, and impleaded C. D., in a certain plea of trespass on the case upon promises (or as the action is), on which the said plaintiff declared against the said defendant in these words (here set out the declaration, omitting the signature): To which said declaration the said defendant, by G. H., his attorney, pleaded in these words (here set out the plea or pleas, and the subsequent pleadings, to issue, and then proceed as follows): And thereupon issue was joined between the said plaintiff and the said defendant. And afterwards, to-wit, at a circuit court held, etc. (the rest of the bill is in the ordinary form). Burr. App. 52.

Note.—The pleadings are not properly a part of the bill of exceptions. They are a part of the record proper without being incorporated, but for convenience they are sometimes set forth within the bill.

VI. Bill of Exceptions Prepared for Settlement.

1. (Be it remembered that) The
2. issues in said action came on for
3. trial before the Hon. M. N., one
4. of the justices of this court, at a
5. circuit court (or special term of
6. this court), on the ——— day
7. of ———, 18—.
8. A jury was called and sworn,
9. and the plaintiff, by his counsel,
10. opened the case.
11. The plaintiff, ther, to maintain
12. the issues upon his part, offered
13. in evidence, as an ancient deed,
14. the following instrument (insert
15. the instrument).
16. The court held that the said in-
17. strument was not admissible as an
18. ancient deed, and the plaintiff
19. excepted.
20. The plaintiff thereupon called on
21. as a witness J. K., who testified
22. that he was a brother of the sub-
23. scribing witness to said deed; and

24. that said witness had left this
 25. state on a voyage to Europe
 26. twenty-five years ago, and that
 27. he had not since been heard from,
 28. nor had any account of the vessel
 29. in which he had sailed been re-
 30. ceived. On cross-examination he
 31. testified that he had not examined
 32. the shipping lists or marine ga-
 33. zette at the time of the supposed
 34. loss of the vessel.

35. The defendant objected that the
 36. failure to call the subscribing
 37. witness was not excused; the court
 38. overruled the objection, and the
 39. defendant excepted. The witness
 40. then proved the genuineness of
 41. the grantor's signature, and that
 42. of the subscribing witness; and
 43. thereupon the court allowed the
 44. deed to be read in evidence, and
 45. defendant excepted.

46. The plaintiff asked the same
 47. witness, "What, if you know, was
 48. the consideration of the said deed
 49. other than what is therein ex-
 50. pressed?" The defendant object-
 51. ed that this evidence was not ad-
 52. missible to vary the deed; the
 53. court sustained the objection, and
 54. plaintiff excepted.

55. The defendant offered to show
 56. that the said deed was made for
 57. the purpose of defrauding the
 58. grantor's creditors; he did not
 59. claim that the defendant, or any
 60. one through whom he claimed, was
 61. a creditor of the said grantor.

62. The offer was allowed, and the
 63. plaintiff excepted.

64. The court directed the jury to
 65. find a verdict for the defendant,
 66. to which direction the plaintiff
 67. excepted. 2 Abb. Forms 484.

Bills of Exceptions. Florida Supreme Court Rules (b).

In the circuit court of _____ county, Florida, _____ term, 189—.

I, _____, judge of the circuit court of the _____ judicial circuit of the state of Florida, do hereby certify that during the progress of the cause pending in said court, wherein A. B. was plaintiff, and C. D. was defendant, the following proceedings were had,
 viz:

On the _____ day of _____,
 189—, during the term of said court
 (or in vacation, as the case may be), the defendant filed the following petition for a change of venue:

(Here insert petition in full if any error is assigned thereon; and if not, the same to be omitted.)

On the _____ day of _____,
 189—, during a term of said court
 (or in vacation, as the case may be), said petition came on to be heard, and the following evidence was introduced in support of and in opposition thereto:

(Here insert the evidence introduced for and against the petition, provided an assignment of error for the appellate court is based thereon; and if not,
 the same to be omitted.)

Thereupon the court denied said petition, to which ruling the defendant then and there excepted.

On the _____ day of _____,
 189—, during a term of said court the defendant made the following motion, and filed therewith the following affidavit for a continuance of said cause:

(Here set out the motion and affidavit for continuance.)

Said motion coming on to be heard on the _____ day of _____, 189—, during term time, the following evidence was introduced for and against the same:

(Here insert the evidence introduced for and against the motion, provided an assignment of error be based thereon; and if not, the same to be omitted.)

Upon consideration of said motion by the court, the same was overruled, to which ruling the defendant then and there excepted.

Note.—If there be any other motion before the trial of the cause, the ruling upon which has been excepted to and assigned as error for the appellate court, it should be inserted in the bill of exceptions in a manner similar to that above stated in cases of applications for change of venue or motion for continuance.

On the _____ day of _____,
 189—, during a term of said court, the issues joined between the said parties came on to be tried before a jury, and thereupon the plaintiff produced and offered in evidence the following paper:

(Here set out the paper in full.)

But to the reading of the same in evidence the defendant then and there objected on the grounds:

(Here state the grounds of the objection.)

But the said judge overruled said objections, and admitted the said paper in evidence, to which ruling the defendant then and there excepted.

And the said plaintiff further to maintain the issues on his behalf then and there produced as a witness J. K., and offered to prove by him that:

(Here state in substance what was intended to be proven.)

But to the admission of the said J. K. as a witness (or to the admission of the said matters so offered to be proven) the defendant did then and there object, on the grounds that:

(Here state the grounds of objection.)

But the said judge did then and there overrule said objections, and admitted said evidence, to which ruling defendant then and there excepted.

Note.—All rulings of the court admitting or rejecting evidence either for or against the plaintiff or defendant that are excepted to and assigned as error for the appellate court must be stated in similar manner to the above.

The said parties having concluded and submitted their evidence, the court thereupon gave the following instructions to the jury at plaintiff's request (or on its own motion, as the case may be).

(Here insert the charge in full that is excepted to, with its proper number.)

To the giving of which said charge the defendant excepted.

The said charge was predicated upon the following state of facts, or facts that the testimony tended to prove:

(Here give briefly and concisely the substance of such portions only of the proof as are pertinent to the charge, and upon which it was predicated.)

Thereupon the defendant requested the court to give the following charge to the jury:

(Here give the charge in full, with its proper number.)

But the court refused to give said charge, to which refusal the defendant excepted.

The said charge was predicated upon the following state of facts, or facts that the testimony tended to prove:

(Here give briefly and concisely the substance of such portions only of the proof as are pertinent to the charge, and upon which it was predicated.)

Note.—All charges given or refused, upon which exceptions are taken, and upon which errors are assigned for the appellate court, may be inserted as indictated above, and if the proof or statement of what the evidence tended to prove is sought to be given, the same must follow each charge predicated upon it. If the supposed injury of any charge given or refused by the court, that is assigned as error, is deemed to be corrected by another charge or charges not excepted to and not assigned as error, the judge, in settling the bill of exceptions, shall at the request of defendant in error, or of his own motion, insert such charge or charges in the bill of exceptions immediately following the charge excepted to, unless such correcting charge or charges were given in writing and made a part of the record as provided by statute. In the event the exhibition of any charge or charges that may have been given orally, and not excepted to, shall be necessary to the full and complete presentation of any assignment of error relied on, such charges shall be inserted here.

The said cause having been submitted to the jury by the court under its charges, and the jury having rendered a verdict for the plaintiff against the defendant, the defendant on the _____ day of _____, 189—, at the term of the court aforesaid, made and submitted the following motion for a new trial:

(Here insert the motion in full.)

On the _____ day of _____, 189—, at the term aforesaid (or at a subsequent term, if the motion be continued) the said motion coming on to be heard, the following evidence was introduced for and against the same:

(Here insert any evidence that may have been introduced after the trial for and against the motion.)

Upon consideration of said motion the court, on the _____ day of _____, 189—, during the said term (or at a subsequent term, if the motion be continued) denied the same, to which ruling the defendant excepted.

(Here insert assignment of errors presented to the judge at the time of applying for the settlement of the bill of exceptions.)

And inasmuch as the said several matters objected to or insisted upon and considered by the court do not appear by the record, the said defendant did on the _____ day of _____, 189—, during said term (or on the — day of —, 189—, after the expiration of said term, by virtue of a special order herein made) propose this his bill of exceptions to the said rulings of said judge and request him to sign the same, which, after due notice to the opposite party or his attorney, is done this — day of —, 189—.

Judge of the circuit court of the — judicial circuit of Florida.

Note.—If there is an assignment of error to be insisted on in the appellate court predicated on the refusal of the court to grant a new trial on the ground that the verdict is contrary to the evidence, or not supported thereby, or if the defendant shall have demanded in writing that all the evidence adduced at the trial shall be submitted to the appellate court, then an "Evidentiary Bill of Exceptions" will become necessary, to be settled and signed by the judge, entirely separate and distinct from the foregoing bill of exceptions, and shall contain all of the evidence, and nothing but the evidence adduced at the trial of the cause, and to be inserted here immediately following the foregoing bill of exceptions. Thereupon the plaintiff produced and caused to be sworn — (give name of witness), who testified as follows:

(Here give testimony of witness in narrative form, omitting repetitions and questions, except when the trial judge shall be satisfied that the questions, together with the answer, are indispensable for a proper understanding of the case by the appellate court.)

The plaintiff offered and read in evidence the following written deposition of — (give name of witness), taken upon commission in his behalf:

Note.—Testimony in behalf of defendant to be set forth in the same way, and all exceptions to evidence of either party, or the rulings thereon by the court, to be omitted from this evidentiary bill of exceptions. S. replied to the said answer, and issue having been joined, and witnesses examined, and the proofs closed (or the said W. S. joined issue on the answer and), the said cause was set down to be heard, and was heard, before your honors, on the _____ day of _____, when a decree was pronounced, which was afterwards passed and entered, in which it was set forth and recited that it was at the hearing on your orator's behalf, insisted that your orator had, by his answer, set forth that, etc. (here insert the recital and decree). And the said decree has since, and on or about the _____ day of _____, been duly signed and enrolled, which said decree your orator insists is erroneous, and ought to be reviewed, reversed, and set aside for many apparent errors and imperfections, inasmuch as it appears by your orator's answer, set forth in the body of said decree (here insert the apparent errors). And no proof being made thereof, no decree ought to have been made or grounded thereon, but the said bill ought to have been dismissed for the reasons aforesaid. In consideration whereof, and inasmuch as such errors and imperfections appear in the body of the said decree, and there is no proof on which to ground any decree to set aside the said rent-charge, your orator hopes that the said decree will be reversed and set aside, and no further proceedings had thereon. To the end, therefore, that the said W. S., etc.; and that for the reasons and under the circumstances aforesaid, the said decree may be reviewed, reversed, set aside, and no further proceedings taken thereon, and your orator permitted to remain in the undisturbed possession and enjoyment of the said rent-charge.

May it please, etc. (Prayer for subpoena in usual form.) 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. (Perkin's ed.) 2095.

B. Bill of Review on Discovery of New Matter.

Humbly complaining, sheweth unto your honors your orator, A. B., of, etc., that on or about _____, C. D., of, etc., the defendant hereinafter named, exhibited his bill of complaint in this honorable court against your orator, and thereby set forth that, etc. (Here insert the original bill.) And your orator being duly served with process for that purpose, appeared and put in his answer to the said bill, to the effect following: (Here state the substance of the answer.) And the said C. D. replied to the said answer, and issue having been joined and witnesses examined, and the proofs closed (or, the said C. D. joined issue on the answer, and) the said cause was set down to be heard, and was heard before your honors, on the _____ day of _____, when a decree was pronounced, whereby your honors decreed that your orator's title to the premises was valid and effectual, after which the said C. D. petitioned your honors for a rehearing, and the said cause was accordingly reheard, and a decree of reversal made by your honors on the ground of the said C. D. being the heir-at-law of the said E. F., deceased, and which said decree of reversal was afterwards duly signed and enrolled, as by the said decree and other proceedings now remaining filed as of record in this honorable court, reference being thereto had, will appear. And your orator sheweth unto your honors, by leave of this honorable court first had and obtained for that purpose, by way of supplement, that since the signing of the said decree of reversal, your orator has discovered, as the fact is, that the said E. F. was, in his lifetime, seized in his demesne as of fee, of and in the hereditaments and premises in question in the said cause, and that the said E. F., while so seized, and when of sound mind, duly made and published his last will and testament in writing, bearing date on the _____ day of _____, which was executed by him, and attested according to law, and thereby gave and devised unto the said J. W., his heirs and assigns forever, to and for his and their own absolute use and benefit, the said hereditaments and premises in question in the said cause (to which your orator claims to be entitled as purchaser thereof from the said J. W.) And your orator further sheweth unto your honors, that since the said decree of reversal was so made, signed, and enrolled, as aforesaid, and on or about ———, the said C. D. departed this life, intestate, leaving G. H., of, etc. (the defendant hereinafter named) his heir-at-law, who, as such, claims to be entitled to the said hereditaments and premises, in exclusion of your orator. And your orator is advised and insists that, under the aforesaid circumstances, the said last-mentioned decree, in consequence of the discovery of such new matter as aforesaid, ought to be reviewed and reversed; and that the first decree, declaring your orator entitled to the said hereditaments and premises, should stand, and be established and confirmed; and for effectuating the same, the said several proceedings, which became abated by the death of the said C. D., should stand and be revived against the said G. H., as his heir-at-law.

To the end, therefore, etc. And that the said suit may be revived against the said G. H., or that he may show good cause to the contrary, and that the said last decree, and all proceedings thereon, may be reviewed and reversed, and that the said first-mentioned decree may stand and be established and confirmed, and be added to, by the said will being declared a good and effectual devise of such hereditaments and premises, as aforesaid; and that the said G. H. may be decreed to put your orator into possession of the said hereditaments and premises, and in the same situation, in every respect, as far as circumstances will now permit, as your orator would have been in case such last decree had never been pronounced and executed; and that your orator may have such other, etc. May it please, etc. (Pray subpoena to revive and answer against the said G. H.) 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkin's ed.) 2096.

II. Supplemental Bill in Nature of Bill of Review.

(Commence as in last form.) Whereby your honors decreed that, etc. (state the effect of the decree), as by the said proceedings and decree now remaining as of record, in this honorable court, reference being thereunto had, will appear. And your orator further sheweth unto your honors (state the supplemental matter, by leave of the court, etc.), that the said decree has never hitherto been signed and enrolled, and in consequence of the discovery of such new matter as aforesaid, your orator is entitled, as he is advised, to have the said cause heard thereon by your honors, when reheard on the said original bills (a petition for that purpose having been presented by your orator, and acceded to by your lordships) in the same manner as if such new matter had been put in issue in the said original suit. To the end, therefore, etc. (Interrogate as to supplemental matters.)

And that the said will may be established, and declared a valid and effectual devise of the said hereditaments and premises, and that the said cause may be heard on such new and supplemental matter as aforesaid, at the same time that it is reheard on the said original bill; and that your orator may have such further and other relief as, under the circumstances hereinbefore particularly mentioned to your honors, shall seem meet, and the nature of this case, as it hereby appears, may require. May it please, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkin's ed.) 2097.

BILLS TO ENFORCE DECREES.

Plea to Bill To Carry Decree Into Execution.

This defendant by protestation not confessing or acknowledging all, or any, of the matters and things in the said complainant's bill of complaint mentioned and contained to be true, in such sort, manner and form as the same are therein set forth and alleged for plea to the whole of the said bill says that he is advised that the complainant by his bill, claims to be entitled to divers land in his said bill mentioned, for the term of his life, by virtue of the last will and testament of A. B., in the said bill mentioned, to bear date the ——— day of ———, and prays that he may have the benefit of a certain decree of this honorable court, made in a cause wherein the said A. B. was complainant, and this defendant was defendant, and that such decree may be carried into execution; to which bill this defendant doth plead, and for plea says, that the will of the said A. B., in the complainant's bill mentioned, was not duly executed and attested, so as to pass real estates, and therefore the lands therein, and in the said complainant's said bill mentioned, descended to E. D., of, etc., as the heir at law of the said A. B.; wherefore this defendant is advised that the complainant is not entitled to have the benefit of the decree, or to have the same carried into execution; and this defendant demands the judgment of this honorable court, whether he shall be compelled to make any further or other answer to the said bill, or any of the matters and things therein contained, and prays to be hence dismissed, with his reasonable costs in this behalf sustained. 2 Barb. Ch. Pr. 558.

Bills To Set Aside Decree for Fraud.

Humbly complaining, sheweth unto your honors your orator A. B., of, etc., that T. B., of, etc., deceased, your orator's late father, during his life, and on or about the _____ day of _____, was seized in his demesne, as of fee, of and in the real estate hereinafter particularly described; and by indenture of that date, made between the said T. B., of the one part, and C. D., of, etc., the defendant hereinafter named, of the other part, the said T. B., in consideration of $_____, bargained, sold and conveyed unto the said T. B., his heirs and assigns, all, etc. (describe the mortgaged premises), subject to redemption on payment of the said principal money and lawful interest at the time therein mentioned, and long since past; as by the said indenture, reference being thereto had, will more fully appear. And your orator further sheweth that the said T. B. departed this life on or about _____, leaving your orator his heir at law, and only child, then an infant under twenty-one years of age, that is to say, of the age of seven years, or thereabouts, him surviving. And your orator further sheweth, that during your orator's minority, on or about _____, the said C. D. filed his bill of complaint in this honorable court, against your orator, for a foreclosure of your orator's right and equity of redemption in the said mortgaged premises; but your orator was not represented in such bill to be then an infant; and the said C. D. caused and procured one L. M., since deceased, who acted in the management of the affairs of your orator's said father, to put in an answer in the name of your orator, and without ever acquainting your orator, or any of his friends or relations, therewith; in which said answer a much greater sum was stated to be due from your orator, on the said mortgage security, to the said C. D., than in fact was really owing to him, and for which it was untrue stated that the said mortgaged premises were an insufficient security; and in consequence of such answer being put in, the said C. D. afterwards, in conjunction with the said L. M., on or about _____, obtained an absolute decree of foreclosure against your orator, which your orator has only lately discovered, and of which your orator had no notice, and in which said decree no day is given to your orator, who was an infant when the same was pronounced, to show cause against it when he came of age; as by the said proceedings now remaining as of record in this honorable court, reference thereto being had, will more fully appear. And your orator further shows that your orator, on the _____ day of _____ last, attained the age of twenty-one years, and shortly afterwards, having discovered that such transactions had taken place during his minority as aforesaid, by himself and his agents, represented the same to the said C. D., and requested him to deliver up possession of the said mortgaged premises to your orator, on being paid the principal money and interest, if any, actually and fairly due thereon, which your orator offered, and has at all times been ready to pay, and which would have been paid by the personal representatives of the said T. B., out of his personal assets, during your orator's minority, had any application been made for that purpose. And your orator hopes that the said C. D. would not have insisted on the said decree of foreclosure, so fraudulently obtained as aforesaid, but would have permitted your orator to redeem the said mortgaged premises, as he ought to have done. But now so it is, etc., the said C. D., etc., pretends that the said decree of foreclosure was fairly and properly obtained, and that a day was therein given to your orator, when of age, to show cause against the same, but your orator has neglected to do so, and that your orator is neither entitled to redeem, or to travel into the said accounts; whereas your orator charges the contrary thereof to be true, that your orator only attained the age of twenty-one years on the said _____ day of _____, and that he has now since discovered the several matters aforesaid by searching in the proper offices of this honorable court; and your orator expressly charges that, under the circumstances aforesaid, the said decree, so fraudulently obtained, as hereinbefore mentioned, ought to be set aside, and your orator ought not to be precluded thereby, or in any other manner, from redeeming the said mortgaged premises, of which the said C. D. has possessed himself, by such means as aforesaid. All which actings, etc. In consideration whereof, etc. To the end, etc.; and that the said decree of foreclosure may, for the reasons and under the circumstances aforesaid, be set aside by this honorable court, and declared to be fraudulent and void; and that an account may be taken of what, if anything, is now due to the said C. D. for principal and interest on the said mortgage; and that an account may also be taken of the rents and profits of the said mortgaged premises, which have, or without his wilful default, might have been received by or on behalf of the said C. D., and if the same shall appear to have been more than the principal and interest due on the said mortgage, then that the residue thereof may be paid over to your orator, and that your orator may be at liberty to redeem the said mortgaged premises, on payment of the principal and interest, if any, remaining due on the said security; and that the said C. D. may be decreed on being paid such principal money and interest, to deliver up possession of the said mortgaged premises free from all incumbrances, to your orator, or as he shall appoint, and to deliver up all title deeds and writings relating thereto. (General relief.) May it please, etc. (Prayer for subpoena against C. D., etc.) 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2099.

I. Declarations.

A. Declaration on Bond (commenced by capias).

A. B., plaintiff in this suit, by E. F., his attorney, complains of C. D., defendant in this suit, being in custody, etc., of a plea, that he render to the said plaintiff the sum of (five thousand) dollars (the penalty of the bond), of lawful money of the United States of America, which he owns to, and unjustly detains from him:

For that whereas the said defendant heretofore, to-wit, on the (first) day of (January), in the year one thousand eight hundred and (forty-five), date of the bond), to-wit, at (the city and county of New York), aforesaid, by his certain writing obligatory, sealed with his seal, and to the court here now shown, the date whereof is the same day and year aforesaid, acknowledged himself to be held and firmly bound unto said plaintiff, in the sum of (five thousand) dollars above demanded, to be paid to the said plaintiff.* Yet the said defendant (although often requested so to do), hath not as yet paid the said sum of (five thousand) dollars above demanded, or any part thereof, to the said plaintiff, but hath hitherto wholly neglected and refused, and still neglects and refuses so to do. To the damage of the said plaintiff, of (one thousand) dollars (a nominal sum), and therefore he brings his suit, etc. Burr. App. 270, §539.

B. Declaration on Several Bonds.

(First count on first bond, as in last form to the *. the sum named in the commencement being the amount of the penalties of both bonds; second count as follows): And whereas also, the said defendant, heretofore, to-wit, on, etc. (date of the other bond) at, etc., by his certain other writing obligatory, sealed, etc. (as in the first count (stating the penalty of the second bond), to the *, and then as follows): which said several sums of money, in the said first and second counts mentioned, amount together to the said sum of ——— dollars, above demanded (the amount named in the commencement of the declaration). Yet the said defendant, etc. (proceed with the breach as in last form to the end). Burr. App. 271, §540; 2 Chit. Pl. 439.

C. Declaration on Bond With Condition, Assigning Breaches.

A. B., plaintiff in this suit, by E. F., his attorney, complains of C. D., defendant in this suit, being in custody, etc., of a plea that he render to the said plaintiff the sum of (one thousand) dollars (the penalty of the bond), which he owes to, and unjustly detains from him: For that whereas the said defendant, heretofore, to-wit, on the (first day of January), in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and (forty-five), (the date of the bond), at (Kingston in the county), aforesaid (the venue), by his certain writing obligatory, sealed with his seal, and to the court here now shown, the date whereof is the same day and year aforesaid, acknowledged himself to be held and firmly bound unto the said plaintiff, in the sum of (one thousand) dollars, above demanded, to be paid to the said plaintiff. And the said plaintiff, according to the form of the statute in such case made and provided, says that the said writing obligatory was and is subject to a certain condition thereunder written, whereby (if there be any recital in the bond, add: "after reciting to the effect following, to-wit, that," etc., stating the recital), it is provided that, etc. (here state the condition of the bond), then the said obligation to be void, otherwise to remain in full force and virtue. And the said plaintiff, for assigning a breach of the condition of the said writing obligatory, according to the form of the statute in such case made and provided, in fact says, that after the making of the said writing obligatory, to-wit, on, etc., at, etc. (the venue), aforesaid, the said defendant, etc. (here state the breach, and, if more than one, proceed as follows): And the said plaintiff, for assigning a further breach of the condition of the said writing obligatory, according to the form of the statute in such case made and provided, further says that, etc. (here state the further breach). By means of which said several premises, the said writing obligatory became forfeited, and the said plaintiff hath sustained damages to a large amount, to-wit, to the amount (five hundred) dollars, and thereby an action hath accrued to the said plaintiff to demand and have, of and from the said defendant, the said sum of (one thousand) dollars (the penalty), above demanded. Yet the said defendant (although often requested, so to do), hath not as yet paid the said sum of (one thousand) dollars, above demanded, or any part thereof, to the said plaintiff, but hath hitherto wholly neglected and refused and still neglects and refuses so to do. To the damage of the said plaintiff of (one hundred) dollars, and therefore he brings his suit, etc. Burr. App. 271, §541; Till. Forms 385; 2 Chit. Pl. 444; Yeates' Forms 459, 471.

D. Declaration on Bond To Perform Covenants of Another Instrument.

(As in I, A, to the *, and then as follows): And the said plaintiff, according to the from of the statute in that case made and provided, says, that the said writing obligatory was made with a condition thereunder written, that if (here set out the condition verbatim, as thus): the above bounden C. D., did well and truly observe, etc., all and singular the covenants, etc., which, on the part of the said C. D., were or ought to be observed, etc., in a certain indenture bearing even date with the said writing obligatory, and made between the said A. B. of the one part, and the said C. D. of the other part, according to the true intent and meaning of the said indenture, then the said obligation was to be void, etc. And the said plaintiff further says, that by the said indenture in the condition of the said writing obligatory mentioned, which he, the said plaintiff, now brings here into court, he did demise unto the said defendant, all that, etc. (here set out the demise, and such of the covenants as have been broken, and assign breaches of them, as in a declaration in covenant, infra, and conclude thus): By reason of which said breaches the said writing obligatory became forfeited, and thereby an action hath accrued to the said plaintiff, to demand and have of and from the said defendant, the said sum of (one thousand) dollars (the penalty), above demanded. Yet the said defendant (although often requested so to do) hath not as yet paid the said sum of (one thousand) dollars, above demanded, or any part thereof, to the said plaintiff, but hath hitherto wholly neglected and refused, and still neglects and refuses so to do. To the damage, etc. (conclude as in I, A). Burr. App. 272, §542; 2 Chit. Pl. 444.

E. Declaration on Bond for Costs.

Supreme Court. Of (July) term, in the year one thousand eight hundred and (forty-six). _____ county, ss:

C. D., plaintiff in this suit, by E. F., his attorney, comes into this court according to the form of the statute authorizing the commencement of suits by declaration, and complains of (A. B.) I. N. and I. S., defendants in this suit, of a plea that they render to the said plaintiff the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, lawful money, etc., which they owe to, and unjustly detain from him. For that whereas the said defendants heretofore, to-wit, on the (fourth day of October), in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and (forty-five), at _____, in the county aforesaid, by their certain writing obligatory, sealed with their seals, and to the court here now shown, the date whereof is the same day and year aforesaid, acknowledged themselves to be held and firmly bound unto the said plaintiff, in the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, above demanded, to be paid to the said plaintiff. And the said plaintiff, according to the form of the statute in such case made and provided, says, that the said writing obligatory was and is subject to a certain condition thereunder written, whereby after reciting to the effect following, to-wit, that the said (or "one") A. B. has commenced a certain suit in the supreme court of judicature against the said C. D. (the plaintiff in this suit) it is provided that if the above bounden (A. B.) shall pay on demand all costs that may be awarded to the defendant in the said suit, then the said obligation to be void, otherwise to remain in full force and virtue. And the said plaintiff for assigning a breach of the condition of the said writing obligatory, according to the form of the statute in such case made and provided, in fact says, that after the making of the said writing obligatory, to-wit, on, etc., at, etc., aforesaid, the sum of (sixty) dollars was awarded to the defendant in the suit mentioned in the condition of the said writing obligatory, for his costs in and about the defense of the said suit. And the said plaintiff in fact further says that afterwards, to-wit, on, etc., at, etc., the said sum of (sixty) dollars was duly demanded of the said (A. B.) but that the said A. B. did not nor would then pay the said last mentioned sum, nor hath he since paid the same, or any part thereof; and that the said costs, so awarded as aforesaid, still remain wholly unpaid. By means of which said several premises, the said writing obligatory became forfeited, and thereby an action hath accrued to the said plaintiff, to demand and have of and from the said defendants the said sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, above demanded. Yet the said defendants (although often requested so to do), have not as yet paid the said sum of two hundred and fifty dollars above demanded, or any part thereof to the said plaintiff, but have hitherto wholly neglected and refused, and still neglect and refuse so to do. To the damage of the said plaintiff, on one hundred dollars, and therefore he brings suit, etc. Burr. App. 277, §545; 5 Hill (N. Y.) 37, 41, 1 How. (U. S.) 100.

E. F., plaintiff's attorney.

C. Containing Exceptions.

1. Case Containing Exceptions on Trial by Jury.

1. The issues in said action came on for trial before the Hon. M. N., one of the justices of this court, at a circuit court (or special term of this court), on the _____ day of _____, 18—.

A jury was called and sworn. The plaintiff, by his counsel, opened the case to the jury.

The plaintiff, then, to maintain the issues upon his part, called as a witness J. K., who testified: (insert the testimony in full, as in I, A).

The plaintiff then called L. M., who testified (insert the testimony).

On his cross-examination the witness testified: "I am not unfriendly to the plaintiff;" "I did not say at any time that the defendant should be beaten if swearing could do it, and that I hoped to see him a beggar; I did not say so in presence of my family in my own house on last new year's day."

The plaintiff here rested, and the defendant moved for a nonsuit on the grounds:

1. That the plaintiff was not the real party in interest.

2. That the contract relied on by the plaintiff was invalid, as not, being in writing, subscribed by the party to be charged.

The court denied the nonsuit, and the defendant excepted.

The defendant, to maintain the issues on his part, then offered himself as a witness, and testified as follows: (insert his testimony).

The defendant then offered to show, that on the first day of January last, the witness L. M. stated in his own house, in the presence of his family, that the defendant was to be beaten if swearing could do it; and that he hoped to see the defendant a beggar.

The plaintiff objected that this matter was merely collateral; the court held the objection well taken, and excluded the evidence; to which the defendant excepted.

1. The court charged the jury (state the substance of the whole charge, indicating exceptions taken to any portions, as follows): that the testimony of the defendant as a party to action was liable to suspicion from his interest in the result; to which the defendant excepted.

The court further charged that if they believed the statement of the witness J. K., the plaintiff was entitled to a verdict; to which the defendant excepted.

The court further charged that the measure of damages in case the plaintiff was entitled to recover, was the profits he might have reasonably calculated upon receiving, if the defendant had performed the alleged contract; to which the defendant excepted.

The jury found a verdict for the plaintiff for _____. (Indorsement as I, B.) 2 Abb. Forms 486.

Forms 713.

C. Petition for Certiorari in Aid of Writ of Error, Alleging Diminution of Record.

To the honorable the judges of the supreme court for the county of _____:

The petition of A. B., the plaintiff above and defendant below, respectfully shows and represents to the said court:

That he was indicted and convicted in the court of oyer and terminer, of the county of _____, for the murder of one S. S., and was sentenced by the said court to be executed on the _____ day of _____, instant, in the said city.

That an application was made on his behalf to Honorable J. J., one of the justices of the supreme court of the state of New York, for the allowance of a writ of error, to review the record and proceedings of the said court of oyer and terminer, which were had in his case, also for a stay of execution under the provisions of the statutes of the state in such case made and provided, and that the said judge did stay the said execution, and allow said writ of error, and made it returnable to the supreme court for the county of _____, in the _____ judicial district, on the _____ day of _____, instant, on which day a return was made to the same by H. V., clerk of the said court of oyer and terminer, and said writ and return was filed in the office of the clerk of said supreme court.

(And your petitioner represents that, before said return was made, his counsel served a notice upon H. V., clerk of the said court of oyer and terminer, a copy of which is hereunto annexed, marked A, and which he prays may be considered as part of his petition, in which he requested and required the clerk of said court of oyer and terminer to return, in obedience to said writ of error, and as part of the proceeding in the said court, the docket, entries and minutes of the said court, so far as they contained entries in the cause of your petitioner, and also the reasons in arrest of judgment, and for a new trial, and all the affidavits which were filed with the clerk of the said court of oyer and terminer during the progress of the proceedings in the said court.)

And your petitioner further states (that none of the matters specified in the said notice have been returned with the said writ of error, and) that there is a diminution and defect in the return made to the said writ of error, of the following matters and things, all of which constitute a part of the record of the said court of oyer and terminer, in the case of your petitioner, and which he is advised should be returned according to law, and the return of which are essential and necessary to enable this court to correct and redress the errors which it is alleged have happened in the said court of oyer and terminer, in the trial and proceedings had in the case of your petitioner.

And your petitioner specifies the diminution in the matters returned in obedience to the requirements of the said writ of error, to be as follows (designating each matter).

Your petitioner, therefore, asks that a writ of certiorari may be issued by this court, directed to the said clerk of the said court of oyer and terminer, requiring him to certify to the said supreme court the diminution in the record and proceedings of all the matters specified and enumerated in this petition, and that the said clerk be directed to return the same to this court, according to the command of the writ. (Verification in usual form.) 2 Abb. Forms 719.

II. Bill for Writ of Certiorari To Remove Proceedings.

Humbly complaining, sheweth unto your lordship your orator A. B., of _____, that, etc. (stating the proceedings in the lord mayor's court). F., a material witness for your orator concerning the premises, did at the commencement of the said suit live and reside and still lives and resides at W., out of the jurisdiction of the said lord mayor and his brethren, the aldermen of the said city of L., whereby your orator has no remedy to compel the said E. F. to be examined or to give his testimony in the said cause in the said city of L. concerning the premises. In consideration whereof and forasmuch as for want of jurisdiction in the said lord mayor and his brethren the aldermen of the said city of L. over your orator's witnesses your orator is remediless there. May it please your lordship therefore to grant unto your orator a writ of certiorari to be directed to the said lord mayor of the said city of L. and his brethren, the aldermen of the said city, thereby commanding them to certify and remove the record of the said bill or plaint with the process and all proceedings thereon into this honorable court; and to stand to observe and perform such order and decree therein as to your lordship shall seem meet and the circumstances of the case may require. And your orator shall ever pray, etc. Van Heyth. Eq. Dr. 109.

B. Indictment for Conspiring To Defraud a Bank.

The indictment in the first count averred that the defendants "falsely, unlawfully and wickedly did conspire, combine, confederate and agree together to defraud the Bank of the Northern Liberties of its moneys, etc., and that in pursuance of, and according to the said conspiracy, combination, confederacy and agreement between them the said defendants as aforesaid did wickedly devise and agree together that the said Frederick Foering would and should from time to time draw certain checks upon the said bank, without having any funds or moneys therein, and that the said Benjamin Williams, then and there being the bookkeeper of the said bank, and having as such the care and custody of the ledger of the said bank, would falsely and deceitfully so arrange the entries in the said ledger, as to cause it to appear that the said Frederick Foering was a creditor of the said bank, and had a balance of moneys therein, and the said Frederick Foering in pursuance of, and according to the said conspiracy, combination, confederacy and agreement between them the said Frederick Foering and Benjamin Williams, had as aforesaid, did draw a check on the said bank for the sum of 300 dollars." *Com. v. piece of gold coin of the proper coin of this realm, called a guinea, for and as a composition of the said pretended offense, and to discharge the said A. A. Judgment for Contempt in Presence of Court.

"In the Circuit Court of the United States of America for the Northern District of California. In the Matter of Contempt of David S. Terry. In open court.

"Whereas, on this third day of September, 1888, in open court, and in the presence of the judges thereof, to-wit, Hon. Stephen J. Field, Circuit Justice, presiding; Hon. Lorenzo Sawyer, Circuit Judge, and Hon. George M. Sabin, District Judge, during the session of said court, and while said court was engaged in its regular business, hearing and determining causes pending before it, one Sarah Althea Terry was guilty of misbehavior in the presence and hearing of said court;

"And whereas, said court thereupon duly and lawfully ordered the United States Marshal, J. C. Franks, who was then present, to remove the said Sarah Althea Terry from the court room;

"And whereas, the said United States Marshal then and there attempted to enforce said order, and then and there was resisted by one David S. Terry, an attorney of this court, who, while the said marshal was attempting to execute said order in the presence of the court, assaulted the said United States Marshal, and then and there beat him, the said marshal, and then and there wrongfully and unlawfully assaulted said marshal with a deadly weapon, with intent to obstruct the administration of justice, and to resist such United States Marshal and the execution of the said order;

"And whereas, the said David S. Terry was guilty of a contempt of this court, by misbehavior in its presence, and by a forcible resistance in the presence of the court to a lawful order thereof, in the manner aforesaid:

"Now, therefore, be it ordered and adjudged by this court, That the said David S. Terry, by reason of said acts, was, and is, guilty of contempt of the authority of this court, committed in its presence on this third day of September, 1888;

"And it is further ordered, That the said David S. Terry be punished for said contempt by imprisonment for the term of six months;

"And it is further ordered, That this judgment be executed by imprisonment of the said David S. Terry in the county jail of the County of Alameda, in the State of California, until the further order of this court, but not to exceed said term of six months;

"And it is further ordered, That a certified copy of this order, under the seal of the court, be process and warrant for executing this order." Ex

B. Judgment for Contempt in Immediate Vicinity of Court.

"Whereas, during the progress of the trial of the action of the United States of America v. H. Goujon, in this court, on the 27th day of February, 1889, one Bartolo Flores, a witness on the part of the Government duly subpoenaed and in attendance upon the court, testified, in substance, that while in said attendance, on said 27th day of February, one Alejandro Savin, on two several occasions, once in the jury room of said court, temporarily used for witnesses, and within a few feet of the court room, and once in the hallway of said court building, immediately adjoining said court room, did approach said witness, and in said jury room did improperly endeavor to deter the said witness from testifying in behalf of the Government in said cause, and in the said hallway he offered the said witness money not to testify against the defendant in said action of the United States v. Goujon; and whereas, upon such testimony of said Flores, this court then and there made an order directing the said Savin to show cause before this court, at 9:30 o'clock a. m. on the 28th day of February, 1889, at the court room thereof, why he should not be adjudged guilty of a contempt of this court; and whereas, on said 28th day of February, the said Savin appeared with counsel in response to said order; whereupon, the said matter was heard in open court, and witnesses for and against him were sworn, and their testimony given, and the same having been duly considered by the court, the court now finds the facts to be: That during the progress of the trial of the action of The United States of America v. H. Goujon, in this court, on the 27th day of February, 1889, one Bartolo Flores, a witness on behalf of the Government, duly subpoenaed and in attendance upon the court, while in such attendance, on the said 27th day of February, was on two several occasions, once in the jury room of said court, which was temporarily used for a witness room, and which is located within less than seven feet of the court room, and once in the hallway of said court building, immediately adjoining the court room, was approached by the respondent, Alejandro Savin, and said Savin did then and there, in said jury room, unlawfully attempt and endeavor to deter said witness, Flores, from testifying for the Government in the aforesaid action, and in said hallway the said Savin did at the time stated unlawfully offer the said witness, Flores, money not to testify against the defendant therein, the aforesaid Goujon; from which facts it is considered and adjudged by the court that the said respondent, Alejandro Savin, did thereby commit a contempt of this court, for which contempt it is by the court now ordered and adjudged that the said Alejandro Savin be imprisoned in the county jail of Los Angeles County, California, for the period of one year.

"The marshal will execute this judgment forthwith.

"Ross, District Judge."

I. Affidavits.

A. Affidavit To Move for Postponement on Account of Absence or Sickness of Witness (a.)

A. B., of ———, being duly sworn, says:

I. That he is the plaintiff (or defendant) in this action.

(II. If the affidavit is by defendant: That deponent has fully and fairly stated the case to Q. R., his counsel, who resides at ———, in the county of ——— (or at No. ——— in ——— street, in the city of ———), and that he has a good and substantial defense on the merits to the action, as he is advised by his said counsel, and verily believes to be true.)

III. That L. R. is a material witness for deponent, without the benefit of whose testimony deponent cannot safely proceed to the trial of said action, as he is advised by his counsel, after fully and fairly stating to him what he expects to prove by said witness, and as deponent verily believes.

IV. That the said witness is not in attendance, and that, two weeks before the first day of the present circuit, deponent went to the residence of said witness, in the town of Berlin, in the county of Rensselaer, for the purpose of subpoenaing him to attend as a witness in said action, at said circuit; that he there learned that said witness had unexpectedly left home the day before, in order to go to the state of Ohio, and intended to remain there about two months; and deponent further says he had no knowledge that said witness was going to be absent from home until he learned it when he went to subpoena said witness, as aforesaid; and deponent further says he expects to be able, and intends to procure the attendance of said L. R. as a witness in this action at the next circuit court, appointed to be held at, etc.

(Or, IV. That the said witness, who resides at ———, was, on the 10th day of March last past, duly subpoenaed to attend the trial of this action; but that since the service of the said subpoena he has become seriously ill, and is now wholly unable to attend this court, or be present at the trial of this action in its order on the calendar. But deponent has been informed by R. S., the physician attending the said witness, and verily believes, that the said witness will be able to attend this court by the time of the next circuit, appointed to be held at, etc. 2 Abb. Forms 455.

Affidavit for Continuance, Absence of Witnesses (b).

And now at this day comes the defendant by James A. Beal, his attorney appointed by the court, and presents his affidavit for a continuance of the above cause as follows: Burt McKay being duly sworn, upon his oath says, that he cannot safely proceed to trial in the above suit, for the want of four material witnesses; that he has used due diligence to procure the attendance of said witnesses, but that they are absent without the consent of the affiant; that he caused subpoenas to be issued for said witnesses in time, and as soon as he could; that said subpoenas have not been returned; the subpoenas were sent to Saint Louis county, where the witnesses reside. This case was continued by the State at last term, and all of this affiant's witnesses were not present; and James Carns, a material witness for defendant, has gone out of the state since the cause was continued, and has not returned, and consequently did not know of this adjourned term, and could not be subpoenaed by defendant. This affiant considers all of aforesaid witnesses material to his defense, without whose testimony he cannot safely proceed to trial, and he knows of no other witnesses by whom he can prove the same facts; that he has a good defense, and this application for a continuance is not made for delay or vexation, but that justice may be done, and if a continuance be allowed, he will be able to procure the attendance of said witnesses in time for his trial.

B. McKay.

Sworn to and subscribed in open court, December 19th, 1848.

J. H. Adams, clerk.

McKay v. State, 12 Mo. 492.

Affidavit for Continuance, Absence of Witnesses (c).

"That W. J. O'Dell is a witness in behalf of defendant and is absent; that he has been subpoenaed; that he resides in the county where the above case is pending; that his testimony is material; that such witness is not absent by the permission, directly or indirectly, of this applicant; that he expects that he will be able to procure the testimony of such witness at the next term of the court; that the application for a continuance is not made for the purpose of delay, but to enable him to procure the testimony of such absent witness; that there is no other witness by whom he can prove the same facts; and that deponent expects to prove by said absent witness that deponent did not keep, maintain or carry on a scheme for the hazarding of money or other valuable thing, called a policy-lottery. Deponent further says, that he is informed and believes that the reason of the absence of said witness is on account of illness, and appends, as part of this affidavit, the certificate of Dr. R. J. Nunn. Deponent does swear that said witness was sick, and that he is absent from the city." (Defendant amended his affidavit as follows): "That the said witness has been tried and found guilty for carrying on the self-same scheme or device for which this defendant has been indicted or accused; that said O'Dell has full knowledge of the fact and all attending circumstances; that he knows that the said scheme is not kept, maintained or carried on by this defendant; that said O'Dell has full knowledge of the fact and all attending circumstances; that he knows that the said scheme is not kept, maintained or carried on by this defendant; that said O'Dell is expected to testify that this defendant has no connection with the keeping, carrying on or maintaining said scheme or device." *Cunneen v. II. I. Bill for Contribution on General Average.

To the judges of the circuit court of the United States for the district of Massachusetts:

L. L. S., G. M. C. and G. B., of the city, county and state of New York, and W. B., of S., in the state of C., merchants and citizens of the said states, and of the United States; the Sun Mutual Ins. Co., the N. Y. Mut. Ins. Co., and the General Mut. Ins. Co., corporations established within and by the authority of the state of N. Y., and doing business in the city of N. Y., bring this their bill of complaint against T. G. C., G. H., O. E., P. C., W. A. and against D. G. and J. P., copartners; S. A. E., C. H. M., I. K. M. and P. T. J., copartners, under the firm of C. H. M. & Co., all of B., in the commonwealth of Mass., and citizens of the United States and of the said commonwealth of Massachusetts.

And thereupon your orators complain and say, that on the ——— day of ———, the said S. C., G. B. and W. B. were owners of a certain vessel—a barque called the Vernon—and that the said several corporations were insurers thereon, to the full amount of her value, against the perils of the seas, and other perils in the policies of insurance mentioned; that on the ——— day of ———, said vessel was laden with a cargo of cotton and merchandise, owned by, and consigned to, the said several defendants, as appears by the said several bills of lading, here in court produced, and made part of this bill; that on said ——— day of ———, said vessel set sail and departed from ———, in the state of ———, bound for Boston aforesaid; that on the night of the ——— day of ———, then next ensuing, said vessel was in Massachusetts bay, in a heavy gale, and, etc. (Here describe the circumstances of a voluntary stranding for the safety of the ship, cargo, and lives of those on board.)

Your orators further show that, afterwards, the cargo on board said vessel was safely landed and delivered to the said defendants respectively, and that the said vessel was afterwards got off, and the damages occasioned by her being so voluntarily stranded repaired.

Your orators further show that said vessel, her freight and cargo, were in imminent danger, and would in all probability have been totally lost, if the cables had not been slipped, and said vessel run ashore as aforesaid; and that by the said voluntary stranding the same were saved and preserved to the respective owners thereof.

Your orators further allege that by the said voluntary stranding great damage was done to said vessel, and heavy expenses incurred in consequence thereof, and in getting her off and repairing said damages; and that the owners of said vessel are entitled to demand and receive of the owners of her cargo their respective proportions of the damage, loss and expenses so incurred, the same being a sacrifice made and incurred by the owners of said vessel, for the common benefit of the vessel, cargo and freight, and all interested therein.

Your orators further show that, in consequence of the damage suffered by the said vessel as aforesaid, the owners thereof abandoned the same to the said corporations, the insurers thereon, and the said corporations accepted said abandonment, and paid the sums by them respectively insured, and thereby became assignees of, and subrogated to, all the rights of the owners of said vessel, to demand and receive a contribution from the owners of the said cargo for the damages, losses and expenses incurred for the general benefit.

Your orators further show that on the _____ day of _____, they caused to be prepared a general average adjustment, showing the amount of the losses, damages and expenses incurred by reason of the said voluntary stranding, and of the apportionment thereof upon the said vessel, her cargo and freight, and the several owners thereof, and that by said adjustment it appeared that the said T. G. C ought to pay the sum of $_____ ; the said P. C., the sum of $_____ ; the said G. M. P., the sum of $_____ ; the said C. H. M. & Co., the sum of $_____ ; the said O. E. & Co., the sum of $_____ , etc., etc.; and that the said W. A. is entitled to receive the sum of $_____ , as will appear by reference to said adjustment, here in court to be produced, and said several defendants were then respectively requested to pay the sums from them due as aforesaid.

And your orators well hoped that said defendants would have paid the sums so due from them as requested.

But now so it is, may it please your honors that the said defendants refuse to pay the sum from them respectively due as aforesaid, and pretend that the said vessel was not voluntarily stranded, and that the owners thereof, and their insurers, are not entitled to demand and receive any contribution for the damage sustained by the stranding, and expense of getting off and repairing said vessel, the contrary whereof your orators charged to be true.

Pray subpoena to the said, etc. (the defendants), and that they may be ordered and decreed to pay to your orators the sums so due from them respectively, or such other sums as may be found due to your orators, and to stand by, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr.

(Perkins' ed.) 1946; Sturgess v. Cary, 2 Curtis C. C. 59.

II. Complaint for Contribution by Co-Surety.

William M. Stallworth v. Holden Preslar.

The plaintiff claims of the defendant the sum of five hundred dollars, being one-half the sum of one thousand dollars, paid by said plaintiff in satisfaction of a certain judgment rendered in the county court of Monroe county, Alabama, at its January term, 1842, for the sum of three thousand four hundred and sixty-six 31/100 dollars, together with the costs, in favor of Halsey, Utter & Co., against Thomas R. Watts and said plaintiff; said judgment being founded on a promissory note for the sum of two thousand six hundred and forty-six 04/100 dollars, made at Sparta, Alabama, on the 11th of July, 1837, negotiable and payable at the Branch Bank at Mobile, due on the 1st day of March next after the date thereof, signed by said Thomas R. Watts, said defendant and plaintiff, and in favor of Halsey, Utter & Co. And said plaintiff avers, that he, together with said defendant, signed said note as the sureties of said Watts; that suit was brought on said note by Halsey, Utter & Co., against said Watts, plaintiff and defendant; that said suit was discontinued as to said defendant, because the writ was not served on him; that the judgment hereinabove mentioned was rendered against said Watts, who then was, and continued thereafter to be insolvent, and died insolvent, without having paid said judgment, which was also rendered against plaintiff; which said judgment being unreversed and in full force, plaintiff has paid and satisfied the same by the payment of one thousand dollars, to-wit, on the 15th of April, 1854. By means whereof, the defendant became liable to pay and reimburse to plaintiff the said sum of five hundred dollars, with interest thereon, being one-half of the said sum of one thousand dollars. The plaintiff claims of the defendant, also, the further sum of five hundred dollars, for moneys paid, laid out and expended, by said plaintiff, for said defendant, at his request, to-wit, on the 15th of April, 1854. Said sums of money, with the interest thereon, remain unpaid." Stallworth v. Preslar, 24 Ala. 505.

III. Decrees.

A. Decree, Reference for Account of Payments by Plaintiff as Surety.

This court doth order and decree that it be referred to A. B., esq., one of, etc., to take the account and make the inquiry following, that is to say: 1. An account of all and every sum and sums of money which hath or have been paid by the plaintiff, as one of the sureties of the defendant W. G., as collector of taxes for the town of _____, in the county of _____, as in the bill mentioned. 2. An inquiry whether the defendant J., another of such sureties, is in such pecuniary circumstances that he can contribute towards the payment of the sums, if any, which have been paid by, or may be payable to, the sureties of the said defendant W. G., or either (any) of them; but the said inquiry is to be without prejudice to any question between the plaintiff and the defendant J., or between the said defendant and all or any of his co-defendants; and the defendants S. and T. not desiring any inquiry whether the defendant F. G. can contribute towards the payment of the said sums, the court doth not think fit to direct such inquiry. Adjourn, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2253; 1 Seton Dec. 562, 563.

B. Decree for Contribution Between Co-Sureties and Principal.

This court doth order and decree that it be referred to A. B., esq., one of, etc., to take an account of all sums of money paid by T. W., the testator in the pleadings named, and the plaintiffs, his executors, or either of them, agreeably to the undertaking in the pleadings mentioned, dated, etc., and compute interest on such sums of money, at the rate of, etc., from the times the several payments were made, and tax the plaintiffs' costs of this suit (cause); and it is further ordered that the defendant G. Wright pay to the plaintiffs one moiety of what shall be found due for principal and interest as aforesaid, together with their costs of this suit (cause) when so taxed (within, etc.). And it is further ordered that the defendant G. Watson (within, etc.) pay to the plaintiffs the other moiety of what shall be found due for principal and interest as aforesaid, and also pay to the defendant G. Wright the principal and interest before directed to be paid by him to the plaintiffs, together with the costs of the said defendant G. Wright, to be taxed, etc., and also the costs which he shall pay to the plaintiffs under the direction before given. Liberty to apply. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2253; 1 Seton Dec. (Eng. ed., 1862) 562.

C. Decree Between Co-Defendants in Suit by Creditor.

It appearing to the court that the defendants W. and his wife have paid to the plaintiffs what was reported due to the plaintiffs by the master's report, dated, etc., for their demands and costs of this suit, the court doth declare that the defendant G. ought to indemnify the said defendants W. and wife, in respect of such payment, and to reimburse them what they have so paid; and the court doth order that the said defendants W. and wife be at liberty to prosecute the said decree against the said defendant G., in the names of the plaintiffs, in order to recover against the said defendant G. what they have so paid to the plaintiffs; and the defendants W. and wife are to be at liberty to make use of the names of the plaintiffs for that purpose, the said defendants W. and wife indemnifying the plaintiffs against any costs or damages they may be liable to on that account. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2255; 1 Seton Dec. 563, 564.

D. Decree, One Co-Surety Unable To Pay His Full Share.

This court doth order and decree that "the defendants S. and P., as executors of F. S., one of the co-sureties with the late plaintiff H., for the defendant W. G., as the collector, etc., under the several bond, dated, etc., on or before the _____ day of _____, pay to the plaintiffs T. and W., as executors of the said H., the sum of $_____, being one-fourth part of $_____, which is the aggregate amount of the sums amounting to $_____, paid by the said late plaintiff in satisfaction of the said bonds, and for the costs in the, etc., mentioned, and of $_____ agreed upon as the amount of the interest on the same at the rate of, etc., from the respective times when the several principal sums were paid by the said H.; and that the defendant Suter, another of such co-sureties, within the time aforesaid, pay to the said plaintiffs T. and W. the sum of $——, being one other fourth part of the said sum of $——, and that the defendant J., another of such co-sureties, within the time aforesaid, pay to the plaintiffs T. and W. the sum of $——, agreed to be paid by him; and that the defendants S. and P., within the time aforesaid, pay to the plaintiffs T. and W. the sum of $——, agreed to be paid by them in respect of the one-fourth share that ought to have been contributed by the defendant J. Like direction as to the defendant Suter. And the court doth further order "that the defendant W. G., within the time aforesaid, repay to the plaintiffs T. and W. the sum of $——, being the difference between the said sum of $—— and the sum of $——, the amount of the several sums so to be paid to them as aforesaid, and also repay to the defendants S. P., Suter and J., respectively, the several amounts that shall be paid by them to the plaintiffs, under the directions hereinbefore contained; and the plaintiffs and the last named defendants not asking any directions for contribution against the defendant F. G., another of such co-sureties, this court does not think fit to direct such contribution. And this court doth further order that the defendants S. and P. and Suter pay to the said plaintiffs T. and W. so much of the costs of these suits (causes) up to this time as have been occasioned by their insisting that they were not liable to contribute anything towards payment of the said sum of $——; but this court does not think fit, under the circumstances of this case, to give any other costs on either side." 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2254.

The authorities and text-books segregate the exceptions into the following general classes: (1) Where the prosecution has not in its possession, and is unable to procure, the instrument or writing; (2) where it has been destroyed or lost; (3) where it is in the possession of the defendant." Supreme Court. Of (May) term, in the year one thousand eight hundred and (forty-six). (City and) county of (New York), ss.: A. B., plaintiff in this suit, by E. F., his attorney, complains of C. D., defendant in this suit, being in custody, etc., of a plea of breach of covenant: For that whereas, heretofore, to-wit, on the _____ day of _____, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and _____ (date of the lease), at (the city) and in the county of (New York) aforesaid, by a certain indenture then and there made between the said plaintiff of the one part, and the said defendant of the other part (one part of which said indenture, sealed with the seal of the said defendant, the said plaintiff now brings here into court, the date whereof is the same day and year aforesaid), the said plaintiff, for the consideration therein mentioned, did demise, lease, and to farm let (as in the lease), unto the said defendant a certain messuage or tenement, and other premises, in the said indenture particularly specified: to hold the same, with the appurtenances, to the said defendant, his executors, administrators, and assigns, from the day of the date of the said indenture (or otherwise, as in the lease), for and during and unto the full end and term of (five) years, from thence next ensuing and fully to be complete and ended; at a certain rent payable by the said defendant to the said plaintiff; as in the said indenture is mentioned. And the said defendant did, in and by the said indenture, for himself, his executors, administrators and assigns, covenant, promise and agree to and with the said plaintiff, his heirs (executors, administrators), and assigns (among other things), that he the said defendant, his executors, administrators and assigns, should and would, at all times during the continuance of the said demise, at his and their own costs and charges, support, uphold, maintain and keep the said messuage or tenement, and premises, in good and tenantable repair, order, and condition; and the said messuage or tenement, and premises, and every part thereof, should and would leave in such good repair, order and condition, at the end or other sooner determination of the said term; as by the said indenture, reference being thereunto had, will, among other things, fully appear. By virtue of which said indenture the said defendant afterwards, to-wit, on the _____ day of _____, in the year aforesaid, entered into and upon the said demised premises, with the appurtenances, and became and was possessed thereof, and so continued until the end of the said term. And although the said plaintiff hath always from the time of the making of the said indenture, hitherto done, performed, fulfilled and kept all things in the said indenture contained on his part to be done, performed, fulfilled and kept, yet the said plaintiff saith that the said defendant did not, during the continuance of the said demise, support, uphold, maintain and keep the said messuage or tenement, and premises, in good and tenantable repair, order and condition (as in the covenant), and leave the same in such repair, order and condition, at the end of the said term; but for a long time, to-wit, for the (last three years) of the said term, did permit (all the windows of the said messuage or tenement) to be, and the same during all that time were, in every part thereof, ruinous, in decay, and out of repair, for want of necessary reparation and amendment. And the said defendant left the same, being so ruinous, in decay, and out of repair as aforesaid, at the end of the said term, contrary to the form and effect of the said covenant, so made as aforesaid. And so the said plaintiff saith that the said defendant (although often requested) hath not kept the said covenant so made by him as aforesaid, but hath broken the same; and to keep the same with the said plaintiff, hath hitherto wholly refused, and still refuses; to the damage of the said plaintiff of (two hundred and fifty) dollars (enough to cover damages, etc.), and therefore he brings his suit, etc. Burr. App. 293, §559; Steph. Pl. 36; 2 Chit. Pl. 552.

II. Pleas.

A. Plea That Premises Are Not Out of Repair.

And the said defendant, by ———, his attorney (or in person), says that the windows of the said messuage or tenement were not in any part thereof ruinous, in decay, or out of repair, in manner and form as the said plaintiff hath above complained against him the said defendant. And of this he puts himself upon the country. Steph. Pl. 52.

B. Plea of Release.

And the said defendant, by ———, his attorney (or in person), says that, after the said breach of covenant, and before the commencement of this suit, to-wit, on the ——— day of ———, in the year of our Lord ———, the said plaintiff, by his certain deed of release, sealed with his seal, and now shown to the court here (the date whereof is the day and year last aforesaid), did remise, release, and forever quitclaim to the said defendant, his heirs, executors, and administrators, all damages, cause and causes of action, breaches of covenant, debts, and demands whatsoever, which had then accrued to the said plaintiff, or which the said plaintiff then had against the said defendant; as by the said deed of release, reference being thereto had, will fully appear. And this the said defendant is ready to verify. Steph. Pl. 53.

A. Bill Against Corporation and Its Stockholders.

To the honorable, the justices of the supreme judicial court, next to be holden at Boston, within and for the county of Suffolk, on the first Tuesday of April next.

Humbly complaining, show your orators, the Essex Company, a corporation duly established under the laws of this commonwealth, having its place of business at L., in the county of E., on behalf of themselves and all the other unsatisfied creditors of the defendant corporation hereinafter named, who shall come in and contribute to the expenses of this suit, that by an act of the legislature of this commonwealth, approved the twenty-sixth day of March, in the year eighteen hundred and fifty-two, J. W. E. and others, with their associates, were authorized to organize a corporation by the name of the Lawrence Machine Shop, for the purpose of manufacturing machinery in said L., with a capital stock not exceeding seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars; that thereupon on the ——— day of ———, under and by virtue of said act, the said Lawrence Machine Shop was duly organized, and then became and was a manufacturing corporation under the laws of this commonwealth, having its works established at L. aforesaid.

And your orators further show, that the capital stock of said corporation was fixed and limited by said corporation at seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars; and that on the twenty-seventh day of January, in the year eighteen hundred and fifty-three, and before the whole amount of the capital stock fixed and limited by said corporation had been fully paid in, and before any certificate thereof had been made and recorded as prescribed by law, the said Lawrence Machine Shop, by G. McK., its treasurer duly authorized thereto, made and delivered to your orators three several promissory notes in writing, dated the said twenty-seventh day of January, one for the sum of fifty thousand dollars, the other two for fifteen thousand dollars each, and thereby, for value received, promised your orators to pay to them or their order the amount of said notes, to-wit, eighty thousand dollars, on the fifteenth day of January, in the year eighteen hundred and fifty-eight, with interest from the fifteenth day of January, of the year eighteen hundred and fifty-three, copies of which notes, with the indorsements thereon, are set out in the copy of judgment hereto annexed.

And your orators further show, that, at the time the said Lawrence Machine Shop made and delivered said notes to your orators, and from the time of its incorporation and organization until the twenty-first day of February, in the year eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, the said Lawrence Machine Shop had not given notice annually as required by the laws of this commonwealth, in some newspaper printed in the county where the works of said corporation were established, to-wit, the county of E., or in any newspaper printed in any other county, of the amount of all assessments voted by the corporation and actually paid in; nor had it given notice in any newspaper of the amount of all existing debts due from said corporation.

And your orators further show, that from the time of the incorporation and organization of said Lawrence Machine Shop to the time said corporation made and delivered said notes to your orators, and for a long time thereafter, the capital stock fixed and limited by said corporation as aforesaid had not been fully paid in; nor has there, from the time of its organization to the present time, been any certificate of the payment of said capital stock made and recorded by said corporation, as by the law provided.

And your orators further show that on, to-wit, the fourth day of August, in the year eighteen hundred and sixty-two, they commenced a suit against the said Lawrence Machine Shop upon the aforesaid notes returnable to the ——— court, then next to be holden at N., within and for the said county of E., on the first Monday of September, in the year eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and duly entered said suit in said court, and there prosecuted the same to judgment. And at said term of the said court, on, to-wit, the twenty-first day of October, in the year eighteen hundred and sixty-two, by consideration of the justice of said ——— court, judgment was rendered in said suit against said Lawrence Machine Shop in favor of your orators for the sum of thirty-seven thousand seven hundred and forty-seven dollars and sixty-two cents debt, and fifteen dollars and eighty-nine cents costs of suit; and execution was thereupon issued by said ——— court on, to-wit, the twenty-fifth day of said October, against said Lawrence Machine Shop in favor of your orators for the said sum of thirty-seven thousand seven hundred and forty-seven dollars and sixty-two cents debt, and fifteen dollars and eighty-nine cents, costs of suit; copies of which judgment, execution and officer's return upon said execution are hereto annexed.

And your orators further show that on, to-wit, the said twenty-fifth day of October, A. D. 1862, the day of issuing said execution, they placed for collection said execution in the hands of one A. F. N., a deputy sheriff, qualified to collect, serve and return said execution. And the said deputy sheriff on, to-wit, the third day of November, A. D. 1862, made demand upon the said Lawrence Machine Shop for the payment of the amount due to your orators; and for which judgment and execution had been rendered and issued in said suit as aforesaid.

And your orators show that the Lawrence Machine Shop did neglect, for the space of thirty days after said demand by said deputy sheriff, holding said execution, to exhibit to said deputy sheriff real or personal estate belonging to said corporation, subject to be taken on execution, sufficient to satisfy said execution or any part thereof. And the said corporation has never exhibited to said deputy sheriff any estate, real or personal, from which he might satisfy said execution in whole or in part; and the said corporation has ever since neglected and refused to pay the same or any part thereof; and the said deputy sheriff duly returned said execution into the clerk's office of said ——— court, at S., in said county of E., in no part satisfied; and there is now due to your orators upon said judgment, rendered upon said notes, the said sum of thirty-seven thousand seven hundred and forty-seven dollars and sixty-two cents debt, and fifteen dollars and eighty-nine cents, costs of suit, making in all thirty-seven thousand seven hundred and sixty-three dollars and fifty-one cents, with interest from the said twenty-first day of October, A. D. 1862, the day of the date of said judgment.

And your orators further show that, at the time when said judgment debt was contracted, on, to-wit, the twenty-seventh day of January, in the year eighteen hundred and fifty-three, the day of the date of said notes, and during the time from and after the said twenty-seventh day of January, A. D. 1853, and before the capital stock of said corporation, fixed and limited as aforesaid, was fully paid in, and before any certificate that said capital stock had been paid in, was made and recorded, as by law required, and from and after the said twenty-seventh day of January, A. D. 1853, and before any notice of the assessments, voted by said corporation and actually paid in, had been given, in any newspaper printed in said county of E., or printed in any other county; and from and after said twenty-seventh day of January, A. D. 1853, and before any notice of the amount of all existing debts due from said corporation had been given in any such newspaper, as by law required, and at the time when your orators commenced their suit aforesaid against the said Lawrence Machine Shop, and in which judgment aforesaid was rendered the following named persons became and were stockholders in the said Lawrence Machine Shop, each holding stock therein of the amount and number of shares set against their respective names:

T. A., of L., county of M., holder of _____ shares, par value $_____.

E. B., of B., county of S., holder of _____ shares, par value $_____, etc., etc.

Wherefore your orators, in behalf of themselves and the aforesaid other creditors of the said Lawrence Machine Shop, bring the foregoing bill against said Lawrence Machine Shop, and the aforesaid stockholders therein, and pray that the aforesaid stockholders may be ordered and decreed to pay to your orators the amount due them as aforesaid, as fixed and determined by the judgment aforesaid, with interest from the date of said judgment, and to pay such other creditors of the said corporation as may become parties to this bill such sums as may be found due to said creditors; and that the amount of the debt due as aforesaid to your orators from said Lawrence Machine Shop, and such as may be found due to such other creditors as may become parties hereto, may be assessed upon said stockholders as law and equity may require.

And that your orators may have such orders, decrees and process as may be necessary to enforce the payment of such sums as may be assessed upon said stockholders, and may have such further and other relief in the premises as the nature and circumstances of the case may require and as shall seem meet unto this honorable court;

May it please your honors to grant unto your orators a writ of subpoena to be directed to the said Lawrence Machine Shop, and the said stockholders in this bill named, thereby commanding them, at a certain day, and under certain penalties therein expressed, personally to appear before this honorable court then and there full, true, direct and perfect answers make to all and singular the premises; and further, to stand to, perform, and abide under such further orders, directions, and decrees therein as to this honorable court shall seem meet.

F., at the time of his death, was justly and truly indebted unto your orator, W. B., in the sum of $_____ and upwards, for goods sold and delivered, and moneys paid, laid out, and expended to and for his use, and that the said J. F. was also justly and truly indebted to your orator, C. D., in the sum of $_____ and upwards, for, etc. And your orators further show unto your honors, that the said J. F., in his lifetime, and at the time of his death, was possessed of, or well entitled unto, a considerable personal estate, and being so possessed, departed this life on or about _____, having first duly made his last will, bearing date, etc., and thereby appointed J. M. and C. S. (the defendants hereinafter named) the executors thereof, as in and by the said will or the probate thereof, to which your orators crave leave to refer when produced to this honorable court, will appear. And your orators further show unto your honors, that the said J. M. and J. S. duly proved the said will in the _____ court, etc., and undertook the executorship thereof, and possessed themselves of the personal estate and effects of the said testator to a very considerable extent, and more than sufficient to satisfy his just debts and funeral expenses. And your orators further show unto your honors, that the said J. M. and C. S., having possessed themselves of the said testator's personal estate and effects as aforesaid, your orators have made and caused to be made several applications to them the said J. M. and C. S., and requested them to pay and satisfy unto your orators their respective demands, with which just and reasonable requests your orators well hoped that the said J. M. and C. S. would have complied, as in justice and equity they ought to have done. But now so it is, etc. (See Bills and Answers, several parts.) And the said defendants pretend that the said testator's personal estate was small and inconsiderable, and has already been exhausted in the payment of his funeral expenses and just debts. Whereas your orators charge that the said testator's personal estate and effects were more than sufficient to discharge all his just debts and funeral expenses, and so it would appear if the said defendants would set forth a full, true and particular account of all and every the personal estate and effects of the said testator come to their or either of their hands or use, and also a full, true and particular account of the manner in which they have disposed of or applied the same, but which they refuse to do. All which actings, etc. (see Bills and Answers, several parts), and that an account may be taken of the moneys due to your orators in respect of their said several demands, and of other the debts owing by the said J. F. at the time of his death; and that if the said defendant shall not admit assets of the said testator, then that an account may also be taken of the personal estate and effects of the said testator, possessed or received by or by the order, or for the use of the said defendants, or either of them, and that such personal estate may be applied in a due course of administration. And that your orators and the said other unsatisfied creditors, by simple contract of the said testator, may have such further or other relief in the premises as to your honors shall seem meet, and the circumstances of this case may require. May it please, etc. (See Bills and Answers, several parts.)

Pray subpoena against J. M. and C. S. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 1948, 1949.

C. Bills in Behalf of Themselves and All Other Creditors, Etc.

Humbly complaining, show unto your honors your orators, W. R., of, etc., T. B., of, etc., and A. C., of, etc., on behalf of themselves and all other the creditors of J. S. (a defendant hereinafter named), who are parties to the deed of trust hereinafter mentioned, who shall come in and contribute to the expenses of this suit, that in or about the month of October, etc., the said J. S. was the sole owner of a certain ship or vessel called the G. M., and sailed in her as captain or master thereof, on or about the ——— day of ———, etc., from Portsmouth to the island of A. and D., in, etc., with a considerable cargo on board. And your orators further show unto your honors that the said J. S., previously to his sailing on board the said ship, caused two policies of insurance on the said ship and cargo to be underwritten by the ——— insurance company, whereby the said ship and cargo were insured at and from L. to A. & D., for $10,500. And your orators further show unto your honors that in the said voyage from L. to A. & D., the said ship and cargo received damage to the amount of $510, whereby the said J. S., by virtue of the said two policies of insurance, became entitled to receive of the said ——— insurance company the said sum of $510. And your orators further show unto your honors that M. L. (a defendant hereinafter named) was the agent of the said J. S., who was indebted to the said M. L., and for securing the said debt had given a mortgage of the said ship, and also assigned to him the said two policies of insurance hereinbefore mentioned, which said mortgage and assignment was and were made as well for securing the said debt as such other moneys as the said M. L. might afterwards advance as such agent as aforesaid. And your orators further show unto your honors that the said J. S. having arrived in his said ship at the island of D., and having taken a cargo for the London market, part thereof on his own account, and being about to return home, wrote the following letter to his said agent M. L. (that is to say): (Informing his agent that he should sail a full ship on or before the 30th of July, and enclosing the bill of lading, and requesting the agent to make the following insurance at the ——— office, viz., $5,000 upon goods, and $5,000 upon freight.)

And your orators further show unto your honors that the said J. S., by his agent the said M. L., also caused a policy of insurance for $11,000 to be underwritten, for insuring the said ship and cargo on her said voyage from D. to L. And your orators further show unto your honors that the said J. S. sailed in the said ship, the G. M., from the island of D., on his homeward bound passage, and that the said ship with her cargo was unfortunately lost in a storm off the coast of ———, on or about the ——— day day of, etc., in consequence whereof the said underwriters became liable to pay the respective sums mentioned in the said policies of insurance. And your orators further show unto your honors that the said J. S., not being able to pay his creditors the whole of their respective debts, and such inability arising from the aforesaid loss of the said vessel, the said J. S., on or about the ——— day of, etc., called a meeting of his creditors and proposed to assign the said policies of insurance and the moneys due thereon, and the said sum of $510, due on the said policy of insurance for damage done on the said outward-bound voyage, together with a quantity of yellow saunders wood and fustic, in lieu of their respective demands upon him, to which proposal your orators, as well as the rest of the creditors of said J. S., acceded, and it was, at the same time, agreed that the said M. L. should be the trustee for the said creditors of said J. S., whereupon, by a certain indenture bearing date, etc. (stating the deed), which said indenture was duly signed, sealed and delivered by the said J. S., M. L., your orators, and the rest of the creditors of the said J. S. And your orators further show unto your honors that since the execution of the said indenture the said defendant M. L. has received the sum of $10,500, on the said policy of insurance in the said indenture mentioned to have been made on the homeward-bound voyage of the said ship or vessel G. M., and retains the said sum of $10,500 in his own hands, and applies the same to his own advantage, and refuses to make any division of the said sum amongst the creditors of the said J. S. And your orators further show unto your honors that the said defendant M. L. has also received the sum of $510, and also the sum of $5,000 on the said policies in that behalf, hereinbefore mentioned to have been made and assigned to him in trust for the creditors of the said J. S. And your orators further show unto your honors that the said defendant M. L., neglecting his said trust, suffered the said quantity of saunders wood and fustic to remain at ——— without ever attempting to sell or dispose of the same, whereby the said saunders wood and fustic have been totally spoiled and also a considerable sum of money, and more than the value thereof, has become due for warehouse room. And your orators submit that the said defendant M. L. ought to pay and divide between your orators and the other creditors of said J. S., who have signed the said deed of trust, the value of the said saunders wood and fustic, and take upon himself the payment of the said warehouse room. And your orators further show that the defendant M. L., after paying himself his said debt of $5,970, ought to have divided the said several sums equally between your orators and the other creditors of said J. S., who are parties to the said indenture, for which purpose your orators, on behalf of themselves, and such other the creditors of the said J. S. have frequently applied to the said M. L., and requested him to make such equal distribution as aforesaid. But the said M. L., combining and confederating with the said J. S., and with divers other persons, etc., refuses to comply with your orator's said requests, and sometimes pretending that he has not received the said sum of $5,000, insured on the said policy on the goods on board the said ship or vessel from D. to L. Whereas your orators charge that the said confederate has received the said sum of $5,000 on the said policy, or if not, that he might have received the same if he had used due diligence. And your orators charge that if in truth any obstacle arises to prevent the said M. L. receiving the said sum due on the said policy, it is entirely owing to his own misconduct in not obeying the directions given by the said J. S. to make the said insurance at the ——— office. Whereas your orators have lately been informed that the said M. L. made the said insurance on the said goods with private underwriters, and procured the policy to be underwritten in his own name, in which case your orators charge and humbly submit that the said defendant M. L., by such misconduct is himself become liable to answer to your orators and other the creditors of the said J. S., for the said sum of $5,000 due on the said policy. And at other times the said confederate M. L. pretends that the several persons, who have underwritten the said policies respectively, refuse to pay the said sum due on the said policy, because they allege that the said J. S. had not any goods on board the said ship at the time of the making the said policy, or at the time of the loss of the said ship. Whereas your orators charge that the said J. S. had goods on board the said ship to the value of $5,000 and upwards at the time of the making of the said policy, and at the time of her loss. And at other times the said defendant M. L. will pretend that he never had the said policy for $5,000 on the goods of the said J. S., shipped on board the G. M. from D. to L. in his possession. Whereas your orators charge that it was generally understood at the time of the execution of the indenture hereinbefore mentioned, and the said M. L. declared to the said creditors of the said J. S. that he had at that time the said policy in his possession. And your orators also charge that if he had not a policy made in the name of the said J. S. in his possession, but that the same was made in his own name, then that he deceived your orators, and the other creditors of the said J. S., and that he ought to answer the value of the said policy, the obstacle (if any) to the recovery thereof arising from the said confederate M. L. having procured the said policy to be made out in his own name, and to be executed by private underwriters instead of the said ——— insurance company, contrary to the direction of the said confederate J. S. in that behalf. And at other times the said confederate pretends that he did make the said insurance on the said goods in the name of the said J. S., and with the ——— (a different) insurance company; but that they refused to pay the same, and therefore, as he has not collected the whole of the effects assigned by the indenture hereinbefore mentioned, he is not bound to divide among the creditors of the said J. S. any part of what he has collected. Whereas your orators charge that the said confederate M. L., after paying himself the said debt and expenses hereinbefore mentioned, is bound from time to time to divide such sums of money as he has collected or shall collect equally between the creditors of the said J. S., who are parties to the said indenture, but the said confederate M. L. refuses so to do, or to permit your orators to see the said policy on the said goods, or in any manner to account for what he has collected or might have collected and received by virtue of said indenture. All which actings, etc. (see Bills and Answers, several parts). And that the said defendant M. L. may be decreed by this honorable court (after paying himself his said debt of $5,970, and his other expenses) to account with your orators and the other creditors of the said J. S., parties to the said indenture, who shall come in and contribute to the expense of this suit, for all sum and sums of money received by him from time to time by virtue of the said indenture. And if it shall appear that the said defendant M. L., as the agent of the said J. S., has neglected to obey the directions given him by the said J. S. in regard to the making of the said insurance of $5,000 on the goods of the said J. S. on board of the said ship the G. M., from D. to L., then that he may be decreed to be liable to your orators and the rest of the creditors of the said J. S., parties to the said indenture, for the same, and that the said defendant M. L. may be also decreed to account for the value of the quantity of saunders wood and fustic so possessed by him as aforesaid under the said deed of trust, and that the said defendant M. L. may be decreed to pay to your orators and the rest of the creditors of the said J. S., parties to the said indenture, an equal dividend in proportion to their respective debts, of all and every the sum and sums of money which the said M. L. has received, or which might have been received by him by virtue of the said indenture, as well as of such sum or sums of money as the said M. L. is become liable to pay by reason of his said neglect of the orders of the said confederate J. S. respecting the said insurance of $5,000 on the said goods.

And that the said M. L. may be removed from being the trustee under the said trust deed, and that some other trustee may be appointed under the direction and decree of this honorable court. (And for further relief; see Bills and Answers, several parts). May it please, etc. (See Bills and Answers, several parts.)

II. Complaints.

A. Commencement of Complaint, Where Plaintiff Sues on Behalf of Other Creditors.

The plaintiff, complaining on behalf of himself and all other judgment creditors of the defendant (whose executions have been returned unsatisfied, and), who shall in due time come in and seek relief by, and contribute to, the expenses of this action, alleges: 1 Abb. Forms 569.

B. Complaint Against Debtor To Reach Demands Due Him From Third Person.

I. That at _____ term (or on the _____ day of _____, 18—, at _____, in the _____ court, in and for the county of _____), the plaintiff recovered a judgment, which was duly given by said court against the defendant (and M. N. and O. P.), for _____ dollars, in an action wherein this plaintiff was plaintiff (or defendant), and the defendant herein was (or the defendant herein, and said M. N. and O. P. were) defendant (or plaintiff); and that on the same day (or the _____ day of _____, 18—), said judgment was docketed in the office of the clerk of said county (and on the _____ day of _____, 18—, a transcript thereof was filed, and the judgment docketed in the county of M.).

II. That on the _____ day of _____, 18—, an execution in due form was issued upon the said judgment against the personal and real property of (all said debtors) to the sheriff of said (last mentioned) county, in which county the defendant then resided (or in which county was the defendant's last known residence within this state, his residence * at the time of said execution being unknown to the plaintiff, and not ascertainable, though the plaintiff made diligent inquiry therefor; (or say: in which county was the defendant's residence at the time of bringing said action, his residence, continuing as above from the *).

III. That the said execution has been duly returned by said sheriff wholly unsatisfied (or unsatisfied, except as to the sum of _____ dollars), and there is now due to the plaintiff on said judgment _____ dollars, and interest from the _____ day of _____, 18—.

IV. That a short time before the commencement of the action in which the said judgment was obtained, and after the indebtedness upon which said judgment was obtained had accrued, the said defendant was, and for several years previous thereto had been, engaged in mercantile business at _____, and, as the plaintiff is informed and believes, various persons became indebted to him to a large amount; that, although the said defendant about the time of, or soon after, the commencement of this action, to-wit, about the _____ day of _____, 18—, did assign and transfer all his stock in trade to one M. N., yet the said business is still wholly unsettled; and that the defendant had, at the time of the commencement of this action, debts due him to a large amount, to-wit, to an amount not less, as plaintiff is informed and believes, than _____ dollars, a considerable portion of which are evidenced by charges on his books of account, which the said defendant refuses to produce, or allow to be examined by or on behalf of the plaintiff; and the plaintiff is therefore unable to specify, and cannot learn, and does not know, the particular items or amounts of said indebtedness, or the names of the several persons from whom the same are due; but is informed and believes that several of them, owing defendant in the aggregate a sum not less than _____ dollars, reside at _____, and are solvent and able to pay the respective demands against them.

Where a debtor in the judgment is not made defendant in this action because of insolvency or absence, add:

V. That said (insolvent or absentee) is wholly insolvent and destitute of property or is not and has not been for the space of _____, within this state, but resides at _____, in the state of _____, and has no property within this state.

Where a debtor in the judgment is not made a defendant because he was merely a surety, add:

VI. That the said judgment was recovered in an action (describing it, e. g., thus) brought to foreclose a mortgage made by the defendant to said (surety), with a bond collateral thereto, and that said bond and mortgage was assigned to the plaintiff by the said (surety), who thereupon guaranteed the payment thereof; but the same not being paid, and the mortgaged premises being sold upon foreclosure in said action for less than the sum due, said judgment was recovered for the deficiency, as to which the said (surety) was merely a surety, and not liable as a principal debtor, and which it was, by a provision in said judgment, directed should be levied of the property of the defendant (principal debtor), if it could be so collected; and if it could not, then to be levied of the property of said (surety).

Wherefore the plaintiff demands:

1. That the said defendant be adjudged to apply to the payment of the amount of said judgment and interest thereon, together with the costs of this action, said property, debts, choses in action, and equitable interests belonging to him, or held in trust for him, or in which he is in any way or manner beneficially interested.

2. That he be enjoined from selling, transferring or interfering with said property, debts, things in action and equitable interests.

3. That he be prohibited from making an assignment, or confessing any judgment, to enable other creditors or persons to obtain a preference over plaintiff, or to take any portion of defendant's property.

4. That a receiver may be appointed of all said property, equitable interests, things in action, and effects of the said defendant, and said defendant directed to execute to him an assignment thereof, and said receiver sell or otherwise dispose of the same, and convert the same into money, as soon as may be, and that said receiver apply so much of the proceeds thereof as may be necessary for that purpose, to the payment of the plaintiff's said debt, with interest and costs of this action. 1 Abb. Forms 571.

C. Complaint To Set Aside an Assignment Void on Its Face.

I, II and III. Allege judgment and issue, and return of execution, as in II, B.

IV. Allege making of assignment, setting it forth or annexing it, as in the following form, I to IV, and adding: And the plaintiff alleges and submits that the said instrument of assignment is fraudulent and void upon its face; and he alleges that it was made and executed by the said defendant (assignor), (and accepted by the defendants, assignees), with the intent to hinder, delay and defraud the creditors of said (assignor).

(Continue as in other forms.) 1 Abb. Forms 574.

D. Complaint Against Judgment Debtor, Assignee and a Pretended Creditor Named in Assignment for Extrinsic Fraud.

I, II, and III. Allege judgment and issue, and return of execution, as in II, B.

IV. That after the contracting of the debt on which the aforesaid judgment debtor was recovered, the said (judgment debtor) assigned all his property to the defendant (assignee), in trust for the payment of his debts (or, made an assignment, of which a copy is annexed as a part of this complaint).

V. That the said (assignee) accepted the said trust, and has collected a large sum of money and other property from the assets of his assignors, amounting in all to the value of over ——— dollars.

VI. That the property so assigned is of the value of ——— dollars.

VII. That the said assignment was made by the said (judgment debtor) with the intent to delay, hinder, and defraud his creditors; that it was not accompanied by an immediate and continued change of possession of the property; that ever since the same was executed and delivered, and up to the present time, the said property has remained in the actual possession and under the control of said (judgment debtor), who has retained possession and control thereof under the false and fraudulent pretense that he is agent of said (assignee).

VIII. That the pretended indebtedness set forth in said assignment as due from the defendant (judgment debtor) to the defendant (the preferred creditor) is fictitious; that, in fact, no such indebtedness exists, but that the same is therein inserted for the purpose of enabling the defendant (judgment debtor) to distribute the proceeds of the goods passed under the assignment among his friends, and thereby to keep the possession and control thereof of himself.

IX. That the defendant (judgment debtor) has not any property other than that embraced in the assignment aforesaid, out of which the execution aforesaid could be satisfied in whole or in part; and that unless the said property can be reached and applied to the payment of said judgment, the same must remain wholly unpaid.

Wherefore the plaintiff demands judgment:

1. That said assignment be adjudged fraudulent and void as against the plaintiff (and such other judgment creditors of said judgment debtor as shall elect to come in and share the expenses of this action).

2. That a receiver of all the property and effects of said (judgment debtor) be appointed.

3. That the defendants be adjudged to account for all the property received by them or either of them under said assignment, and for all proceeds arising from sale thereof, and deliver the same to such receiver.

4. That the defendants be, in the meantime, enjoined from disposing of any of said property, or paying away any of the proceeds thereof, or in any wise interfering therewith.

5. That said receiver pay, out of the proceeds of said property, the judgment aforesaid, and the costs and expenses of this action, and hold the balance subject to the further order of this court. 1 Abb. Forms 575.

E. Complaint Against Debtors Who Transferred Assets to Third Person for His Note, and Assigned Note for Benefit of Creditors, To Set Aside Transaction as Fraudulent, and for Receiver.

I, II, and III. Allege judgment and issue, and return of execution, as in II, B.

IV. That on the _____ day of _____, 18____, said judgment debtors were booksellers at _____, doing business as partners under the firm name of Y. Z. & Co.; and were possessed of (designating assets, e. g., thus), a large stock of books, stationery, fancy articles, jewelry, and musical publications, a valuable lease of their store, No. _____, _____ street, having five years to run, and sundry demands against other persons; but were insolvent and unable to pay their creditors punctually or in full.

V. That on that day, and after the indebtedness for which the plaintiff's judgment was recovered had accrued, the said defendants (judgment debtors) in contemplation of, and with full knowledge of their insolvency, made a pretended sale of their said stock to the defendant (transferee), then a clerk in their employ in their said store, and took in payment therefor his promissory notes having several months to run, but for what exact amounts these plaintiffs do not know and cannot state.

VI. That the defendant (clerk) was wholly irresponsible and insolvent, and has no means of paying his said notes, except such moneys as he may derive from the sale of the property transferred to him as aforesaid.

VII. That thereafter and on the same day the said (judgment debtors) executed and delivered to the defendant (assignee) an instrument in writing, of which the following is a copy; (copy assignment; or, say, of which a copy is annexed as a part of this complaint, and annex a copy at the end of the complaint).

VIII. That the property so assigned is of the value of about _____ dollars and upwards.

IX. That the said note to the said (clerk), and the said assignment to (assignee), were intended by each and all of the aforesaid defendants to be one transaction, and were in fact one transaction, and were intended and completed for the purpose of delaying, hindering, and defrauding the creditors of said (judgment debtors), by putting it out of the power of such creditors to reach by execution, or other due process of law, the stock and assets of the said (judgment debtors); that such sale and assignment were not, nor was either of them, followed by immediate and continued change of possession; that ever since the said sale was made, and since said assignment was delivered, and up to the present time, the said property has remained in the actual possession and under the control of the said (judgment debtors), who have retained possession and control thereof under the false and fraudulent pretense that they are agents of said (clerk).

(X. That said assignment is fraudulent and void upon its face.)

XI. That the defendants (judgment debtors) have not, nor has either of them, any property other than that embraced in the sale and assignment aforesaid, out of which the execution aforesaid could be satisfied in whole or in part, and that unless the said property can be reached and applied to the payment of said judgment, the same must remain wholly unpaid.

Wherefore these plaintiffs demand judgment:

1. That the said sale by the defendants (judgment debtors) to the said (clerk), and said assignment by the defendants (judgment debtors) to the defendant (assignee), may each be declared fraudulent and void as against these plaintiffs.

2. That a receiver of all the property and effects of the said (judgment debtors) or either of them, which they or either of them had at the time of the said sale to the defendant (clerk), or at any time thereafter, be appointed.

3. That the defendants, and each of them, be adjudged to account for all the property received by them, or either of them, under either the sale or assignment aforesaid, and for all proceeds arising from the sale thereof, and deliver the same to such receiver.

4. That the defendants, and each of them, be in the meantime enjoined from disposing of any of said property, or paying away any of the proceeds thereof, or in any wise interfering therewith.

5. That the said receiver be directed to sell the said property, or so much thereof as may be necessary, and to pay out of the proceeds of said property the judgment aforesaid, and the costs and expenses of this action, and hold the balance subject to the order of this court. 1 Abb. Forms 577.

F. Complaint Against Debtor and His Trustee, To Reach Trust Fund or Its Income.

I. II. and III. (Allege judgment, and execution unsatisfied, as in II, B.)

IV. That the defendant (judgment debtor) is the beneficiary under a trust created by deed heretofore executed by him (or, created by the will of one M. N., deceased), of which a copy is hereto annexed as a part of this complaint.

V. That the fund, consisting of about the sum of _____ dollars, is now in the hands of the defendant (trustee) as trustee (or, executor), and the defendant (judgment debtor) is entitled to receive, or does receive annually, the sum of _____ dollars therefrom.

VI. (If it is a trust under which the creditor can only reach surplus income, state facts to show what it is, e. g.), that the defendant (judgment debtor) is a man without family, and residing at _____, where he has been for the last three years, and still is, boarding, and the sum of _____ dollars annually is a reasonable sum for his support, and that the sum of _____ dollars annually is surplus income; and if the creditor is only entitled to surplus accrued, add _____, of which surplus _____ dollars is in the hands of the defendant (trustee), already accrued, but not paid over.

Wherefore the plaintiff asks that the defendants be enjoined respectively from paying over and from receiving said fund (or, so much of said income [already accrued] as is not necessary for the support of the defendant, judgment debtor, and his family), and that the same be applied to the satisfaction of the plaintiff's judgment and interest, and the costs of this action. 1 Abb. Forms 579.

G. Complaint by an Assignee of a Judgment, Etc.

I. That on or about the _____ day of _____, 18____, at _____, in the _____ court, in and for the county of _____, one (plaintiff's assignor) recovered a judgment against (the judgment debtor) for _____ dollars, which was duly given by said court, in an action, continue as in II, B, to end of paragraph III.

IV. That on the _____ day of _____, 18____, the said (plaintiff's assignor) duly assigned to the plaintiffs for a valuable consideration said judgment, and all rights arising therefrom.

V. That the said judgment was recovered upon debts of the said (judgment debtor), contracted previous to the making of the transfer hereinafter mentioned.

VI. That the defendant (judgment debtor) was a manufacturer of blank books and stationery at _____, and kept a store there stocked with blank-books and stationery, and a factory stocked with machinery and stock; the value of the said stock in the store being _____ dollars, and of the machinery and stock in the factory being _____ dollars, or thereabouts, the said machinery being subject to a chattel mortgage for _____ dollars, held by the defendants (mortgagees) under the firm name of S. T. & Co., the said W. V., being the active and managing partner of said firm.

VII. That subsequent to the contracting of said debts, and about the month of _____, 18____, the said (judgment debtor) failed in business and stopped payment, and in anticipation of the said failure, and shortly previous thereto, he conspired with the defendant (managing partner of mortgagees), and the defendant (assignee), to dispose of his property in fraud of his creditors, and to conceal or cover up the same, so that his creditors could not reach it; and, in pursuance of this scheme, and with intent to delay and defraud the said creditors, the said (mortgagee) and (assignee), mutually arranged and agreed that after the transfer should be made to said (assignee), as hereinafter mentioned, the said mortgage should be foreclosed, and the property sold and bid in by the said (mortgagee), and that the deficiency then existing between the amount of the mortgage and the price bid should be paid to him by the defendant (assignee); and the defendants (debtor, mortgagee and assignee) further arranged and agreed that all the property in the said store and factory should be transferred and delivered to the defendant (assignee) at the nominal price of _____ dollars, or thereabouts, which the said (assignee) should pay in notes, and (the debtor) should use in effecting favorable compromises with his creditors. And it was further arranged and agreed between the defendants that the defendant (assignee) should go on, in his own name, with the business previously conducted by (the debtor), and should employ said (debtor) as managing agent, at a nominal salary of _____ dollars a year; that the business should be thus continued for two years, to give said (debtor) an opportunity to buy up at a low rate the claims against him held by his creditors, and at the end of that time said (assignee) should pay over and redeliver to the debtor all the residue of said property and effects, and the proceeds and profits thereof, after deducting _____ dollars a year for his own compensation and the amount of the notes given by him as aforesaid. And it was further arranged and agreed, that if the defendant (debtor) could procure a purchaser of said property at a fair price, the said (assignee) should sell the same to such purchaser in his own name, and after making the deduction above mentioned should pay over the balance to said (debtor).

VIII. That in pursuance of this arrangement the defendant (mortgagee) foreclosed the mortgage and bought in the property at _____ dollars, and immediately transferred the same to said (assignee), who paid him _____ dollars therefor, that being the amount of said mortgage; which amount the said (mortgagee) received for, and paid over to, the said firm of S. T. & Co.

IX. That also, in pursuance of said arrangement, the other property of said (debtor) in the factory and store was transferred by him to said (assignee) for _____ dollars, paid in notes as aforesaid, who continued the business, employing said (debtor) as managing agent, and the said (assignee) has made a large profit thereon, and at least _____ dollars a year; and that the said (assignee) still continues in said business, and in possession of the said goods and property, or the proceeds and profits thereof.

Wherefore the plaintiffs demand judgment:

1. That the transfer of his property by the defendant (debtor) to the defendant (assignee) may be adjudged fraudulent and void as against the plaintiffs.

2. That the said defendant (assignee) be enjoined and restrained from selling, assigning, or in any way disposing of the machinery and stock in said blank-book manufactory, transferred to him by said (debtor), or said (mortgagee), and the goods and stock in the store transferred to him by said (debtor), or the proceeds and profits thereof.

3. That a receiver may be appointed to take possession of the said property, and the proceeds and profits thereof.

4. That the said Y. Z., may be compelled to account to said receiver for the profits of said store and manufactory since the said transfer.

5. That the said (mortgagees) be compelled to pay over to said receiver _____ dollars, being the sum received by them over and above the amount that the mortgaged machinery brought at the sale.

6. That the property taken possession of by said receiver, or collected by him, may be sold and appropriated to the payment of the judgment held by the plaintiffs.

7. And for the costs of this action. 1 Abb. Forms 580.

II. Complaint Against Judgment Debtor, and One to Whom He Fraudulently Confessed Judgment.

I, II, and III. Allege judgment and execution, as in II, B.

IV. That, prior to the entry of said judgment, but after the indebtedness upon which the said judgment was rendered had accrued, the said defendant (debtor) authorized a judgment to be entered, on confession, in the _____ court for _____ county, against him, in favor of the defendant (fraudulent creditor), the father of said (debtor), for _____ dollars damages and _____ dollars costs, for a pretended indebtedness for so much money alleged to have been theretofore lent by said defendant (debtor) to said defendant (fraudulent creditor).

V. That thereafter, and about the _____ day of _____, 18____, execution having been issued upon the said judgment, personal property of said (debtor), consisting of (briefly describing it), of the value of _____ dollars, was thereunder sold by public auction by the sheriff of the said county of _____, and was struck off to said defendant (fraudulent creditor), at about _____ dollars, a sum far less than its real value; who thereupon took possession, and is now in possession of the same, claiming to be the owner thereof.

VI. That afterwards, and about the _____ day of _____, 18____, real property of said (debtor), consisting of (briefly describing it), was sold by auction by the sheriff of said county, under an execution issued upon said judgment, and was struck off to the said defendant (fraudulent creditor), also at a price much below its real value, his being the highest bid for the same; and the said sheriff thereupon made his certificate of sale of the said real estate, to-wit, on the _____ day of _____, 18____, aforesaid (and no deed or conveyance has yet been given by him, the time for such conveyance having not yet expired).

VII. That the said last-mentioned judgment was fraudulently confessed by the said (debtor) to the said (fraudulent creditor), and for the purpose of covering up his said property, and defrauding the plaintiff in the collection of his demand. That said defendant (debtor) was not indebted to the defendant (fraudulent creditor); but said judgment was confessed without any consideration, and the sale of said property was made with the intention, on the part of both, of defrauding the plaintiff out of his demand, and of transferring the ostensible ownership and possession of the property of said (debtor), liable to execution, to the said defendant (fraudulent creditor), so as to prevent the plaintiff, or any other creditor, from levying upon and selling any part thereof.

(VIII. That said real estate cannot be sold for more than about one-half the amount of the plaintiff's said judgment; and that the said defendant [fraudulent creditor] is of no pecuniary responsibility, and is possessed of little or no property other than that so bid in by him as aforesaid, and is in embarrassed circumstances and involved in debt.)

Wherefore the plaintiff demands judgment against the defendants:

1. That the said judgment in favor of the defendant (fraudulent creditor), and the proceedings and sale under it, and the sheriff's certificate of sale, be set aside, and declared void.

2. That the said defendants, and each of them, be enjoined from disposing of, transferring, incumbering, or in any way interfering with the said property, or any part thereof; and that a receiver be appointed, with the usual powers and duties, to whom the said defendants shall be directed to assign the said property, real and personal (and all other estate, property, and effects of said defendant, debtor); and who shall be authorized and directed to sell the same, or so much thereof as shall be necessary for that purpose, and apply the proceeds, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to the payment of the plaintiff's said judgment, and interest thereon.

3. And for the costs of this action, and for such other or further relief as may be just. 1 Abb. Forms 582.

III. Answers (Code).

A. Answer in Creditors' Suits, Denial of Judgment.

That there is no record of the said judgment. 2 Abb. Forms 161.

B. Answer in Creditor's Suit, Denial of Execution.

That no execution upon the said judgment was ever returned unsatisfied in whole or in part (or, was ever issued to the said county) before this action. 2 Abb. Forms 161.

C. Answer, Denial of Residence Where Execution Issued.

D. Defendant Has Assets.

That the defendant (judgment debtor) has, at the commencement of this action had, real property (or, personal property, or both) in the county of _____, in this state, liable to execution, and sufficient in value to satisfy said judgment; to-wit (designating what). 2 Abb. Forms 161.

E. Denial of Possession of Assets Belonging to Judgment Debtor.

That he had not, at the commencement of this action, nor has he had at any time since, property of the defendant (debtor) in his possession or under his control, as alleged. 2 Abb. Forms 161.

F. Denial That Conveyance Was Fraudulent.

That upon the making of the alleged assignment (or, mortgage) there was an actual and continued change of the possession of the assigned (or, mortgaged) property from the said (debtor) to the (transferees), who, immediately after the execution of the assignment (or, mortgage), took actual and exclusive possession of the property; and that it has at all times since the assignment (or, mortgage) remained in their exclusive possession and control. 2 Abb. Forms 161.

C. Order of Reference To Appoint Receiver in Creditor's Suit.

(Commencement and recitals as in other forms, continuing):

Ordered, that it be referred to R. F., of _____, counsellor-at-law, to appoint a receiver of the estate and property, real and personal, things in action, debts, equitable interests, and other effects of the said defendant Y. Z., and which belonged to or were held in trust for him at the time of commencing this action, or in which he had any beneficial interest, except such property as is by law exempt from execution; and, also, except where such trust has been created by, or the fund so held in trust has proceeded from, some person other than the said defendant (and if there be property which plaintiff seeks to subject to his execution, after removing incumbrance, add), and of the property hereinafter described, and the rents, issues, income, and profits thereof, to-wit (describing specific property).

*And it is further ordered, that the said referee take from such receiver security for the faithful performance of his trust, to-wit, a bond in the sum of _____ dollars, with two or more sufficient sureties, approved by said referee, and file the same with the clerk of this court (or, of the county of _____).

And it is further ordered, that upon the filing of such security, and of the said referee's report, such receiver shall be vested with the usual rights and powers of receivers under this court. And, further, the said defendant Y. Z. is hereby ordered to appear before the said referee, and assign, convey, transfer, and deliver over to such receiver, on oath and under the direction of the said referee, the estate, property, choses in action, and effects as to which such receiver is appointed, as aforesaid, with all vouchers and papers relating thereto; as well as, from time to time, produce such books and papers, and submit to such examination as the said referee shall direct, in relation to the property or effects which he is directed to assign and deliver over. And, also, that the plaintiff be at liberty to examine witnesses before the said referee in relation to the real estate, leasehold, chattels—real and personal and equitable interests, things in action, and effects of the said defendant Y. Z.; and also as to any matter charged in the said complaint and not admitted by the said defendant on such examination, so far as necessary to carry out the object of this order. And it is also ordered, that the receiver, when so appointed, shall have general power and authority to sue for and collect any of the debts, demands, and rents belonging to the said defendant Y. Z. which may be transferred to him, and to compromise and settle such as are unsafe or of a doubtful character. (He may also sue in the name of the debtor where it is necessary or proper for him to do so); but the said receiver will not, in his accounts, be allowed for the costs of any suit brought by him against an insolvent from whom he is unable to collect his costs, unless such suit is brought by order of the court or by the consent of all persons interested in the funds in his hands. And the tenants of such real estate of the debtor Y. Z. as may also be assigned or transferred to the said receiver are to attorn to such receiver; or the said receiver may, when necessary, apply for an order that any of such tenants attorn and pay rents to him. And it is also hereby made the duty of the said receiver, without any unreasonable delay, to convert all the personal estate and effects which may be assigned or delivered over to him into money; but he is not to sell any real estate without the special order of the court, although he may sell desperate debts and all other doubtful claims to personal property by public auction, giving at least ten days' public notice of the time and place of such sale. Before making such appointment, said referee shall ascertain whether a receiver be already appointed of the estate and effects of the said defendant; and if there should be, and if the referee appoints him to be the receiver herein also, then all the rights and powers herein provided shall attach to such present receiver. 2 Abb. Forms 380.

D. Referee's Order That Defendant Deliver and Convey to Receiver.

It appearing to my satisfaction, by the examination of the defendant Y. Z. (and of O. P. and Q. R., produced, sworn, and examined before me as witnesses), on the reference before me held pursuant to the order appointing me referee herein, bearing date on the _____ day of _____, 18—, that said defendant has certain goods and chattels, as of his own property, and now in his possession, to-wit (describing them generally); also, certain bills, notes, and evidences of debt, that is to say (specifying them) in his possession; also, certain accounts, the books of original entries of which are in possession or under the control of said defendant Y. Z. (etc., stating as particularly as may be the kind and description of property discovered upon such examination):

I, the undersigned referee, do hereby order and direct that the said defendant do, within _____ days from the date hereof, deliver over to R. C., the receiver in this action, the said personal property, bills, notes, and evidences of debt, and books of account (each of said defendants delivering to said receiver so much of said property, bills, notes, evidences of debt, and books of account as may be in his separate possession); and also all other property (not exempt from execution), evidences of debt, books of account, etc., etc., owned by said defendant at the time of the commencement of this action, and which are susceptible of delivery, in the possession of, or under the control of (either of the) defendant (s).

And I further order and direct that said defendant Y. Z. execute and deliver (a general assignment to said receiver, to be approved by me; and also execute, acknowledge, and deliver to said receiver), under my direction, a conveyance and assignment of the real estate mentioned in said complaint, and of the rents, issues, and profits thereof. 2 Abb. Forms 393.

V. Order Appointing Receiver in Creditor's Suit Against Foreign Corporation and Resident Agent.

E. one of said respondent's promissory notes to the amount of $_____, accounts to the amount of $_____, and money to the amount of $_____, belonging to the said Columbia Insurance Company, over and above all claims or liens which the said H. E. has against said company or their property in his hands. And whereas it has been made to appear that it is necessary that some fit and proper person should be appointed to receive and hold said promissory notes, accounts, and money, until the further order of this court, with authority also to collect and compromise said notes and accounts, according to his best judgment and discretion.

It is ordered that E. M. be, and hereby is, appointed a receiver, to receive and hold said promissory notes, accounts, and money; and the said E. M. is hereby authorized to collect said notes and accounts, and to receive less than the full amounts due thereon whenever the full amounts in his best judgment are not collectible, subject in all cases to the approval of the court; and to surrender up said notes, and to give receipts for the payment of said accounts upon the payment thereof, in whole or in part as aforesaid.

And the said E. M. is to retain said funds, promissory notes, and accounts, or the proceeds thereof, and to account for and pay over the same as this court shall hereafter order and direct.

VI. Injunction in Creditors' Actions Against Selling, Etc.

From selling, assigning, or transferring, receiving, collecting, discharging, or incumbering, or in any manner disposing of or interfering with any property, real or personal (not exempt by law from execution), things in action, or other equitable property or interests, of any kind whatever, held or controlled by him, or by any other person held in trust for him or for his use and benefit, or in which he has any interest whatever. And where the complaint seeks to reach the surplus proceeds of a trust beyond what is necessary for the debtor's support, except where such trust has been created by, or the fund so held in trust has proceeded from, some person other than the said defendant, add: And said defendant and his agents are further enjoined from receiving or using, or suffering to Forms 346.

VII. Judgment and Decrees.

A. Decree Discharging One Defendant on Paying Amount Reported to Receiver.

Whereas this cause was referred on the 27th day of April, A. D. 1857, to G. S. H., esq., as master, to ascertain and report what amount of funds, promissory notes, or other choses in action belonging to said Columbia Insurance Company were in the hands of H. E., the other respondent, and what liens, if any, the said H. E. had upon the same, as will more fully appear by a reference to said order; and whereas said G. S. H., in pursuance of said order, has now made his report to this court, wherein and whereby it appears that there are now in the hands of said H. E. promissory notes belonging to said Columbia Insurance Company to the amount of $_____, accounts to the amount of $_____, and cash to the amount of $_____, and that the said H. E. has a lien thereon for the following claims, namely: (stating them).

Making in all the sum of $_____.

Now it is hereby ordered and decreed, that the said H. E. deliver to E. M., Esq., who has been appointed receiver in this case, the said promissory notes and accounts, and all books, papers, and vouchers relating to the same, and also that the said H. E. pay to said receiver the sum of $_____, being the balance of cash in his hands, after deducting the amount of his claims and liens as aforesaid; and also, if the said H. E. is not held to pay the two said notes of $120 and $90 as aforesaid, then, that said H. E. pay to said receiver the additional sum of two hundred and ten dollars ($210).

And after compliance by the said H. E. with each and every one of the terms of this order, it is ordered and decreed that the said H. E. be forever discharged from all liability to account to the plaintiff, or to said Columbia Insurance Company, or to any other person or corporation, for said funds, promissory notes, or accounts as aforesaid; and that as against the said H. E. this bill be dismissed. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2344.

B. Decree Setting Aside Fraudulent Conveyance, Charging Real Estate With Judgment Debt, and Not Permitting Conveyance To Stand as Security on Account of Intent To Defraud.

This cause came on to be heard at this term, and was argued by counsel, and thereupon upon consideration thereof.

It was ordered, adjudged, and decreed as follows, to-wit: that the conveyance made by the said S. S. mentioned in the bill and answers in this cause, bearing date the 15th day of September, A. D. 1809, to the said Esther Steene and Elizabeth Foster, and William Steene and the said William Foster, for two certain farms lying in G. and F., in the county of P., within said district of R. I., containing three hundred and thirty-five acres of land, one called the Wells farm and the other called the Rounds farm, and also the conveyances in the said bill and answers mentioned, made by the said S. S. to the said Z. S., bearing date the 15th day of September, A. D. 1809, for a farm or lot of land, situate in Smithfield, in said district, and known by the name of the Waterman lot, containing fifty-four acres, and also the conveyances in the said bill and answers mentioned, made by the said S. S. to D. S., and to D. S. and the said A. S., bearing date the 15th and 18th days of September, A. D. 1809, for the farm on which the said D. S. then lived, situate in G. aforesaid, called the D. E. farm, lying on both sides of the turnpike road; and also the deed in the said bill and answers mentioned, made by the said S. S. to the said Z. S., bearing date the 18th day of September, A. D., 1809, for a lot of land situate in said G., containing twenty-six acres; and also the deed, in the said bill and answer mentioned, made by the said S. S., to the said Z. S. and S. S., Jr., bearing date the 22d day of November, A. D. 1809, for the farm whereon the said S. S. then lived, situate in the said G., it being all the land he purchased of John Eddy, etc., and is about three hundred acres, were made by the said S. S. with the intent to defraud his creditors, and particularly the plaintiff, and are, therefore, as to the plaintiff, utterly void.

But inasmuch as it appears to the court, that the real estate so as aforesaid conveyed to the said D. S., and to the said D. S. and A. S., have, with the exception of a life estate therein still held by the said A. S., been conveyed to persons who are not parties to the present bill, and the plaintiff seeks no relief against them, it is further ordered, adjudged, and decreed, that the said life estate of said A. S. only be subject to the debt of the plaintiff in this suit, in manner as hereinafter stated, without prejudice to the rights of persons not parties to this bill.

And it is further ordered, adjudged, and decreed, that the said conveyance before mentioned, having originated in a meditated fraud upon the creditors of the said S. S., cannot be permitted to stand as a security for any debts then due to the grantees, or for any subsequent advances by them made in furtherance of the original intention of the parties thereto.

And it is further declared and decreed, that the plaintiff has a right to be paid the principal debt due to him, with interest up to the time of this decree, and that the same ought to be, and is decreed to be, a charge on the same lands, and on the rents and profits (making all proper allowances), which have accrued to the respective respondents, or might have accrued to them without wilful default, since the estates contained in the same conveyances have come to their hands, possession, and use; and it is declared and decreed, that the said lands, rents, and profits, are specifically holden for, and charged with the payment of the plaintiff's said debt.

And it is further declared and decreed, that the defendants be permitted to pay in the proportion of the value of the estates respectively conveyed to them, to be ascertained by a master, the amount due to the plaintiff for principal and interest, with costs, if they shall elect so to do, within sixty days from the date of this decree, and in that event the plaintiff is to assign to them, by conveyances to be approved by a master, all his right and title to the judgments stated in his bill, and to the debts due, and his right and title under this decree; and the defendants shall be admitted to hold the same accordingly as a charge on the same lands; but if the defendants shall not pay the said debt and costs within the period aforesaid, then the same master is to ascertain the rents and profits of the said estates as aforesaid, which are to be paid by the defendants respectively towards the discharge of the plaintiff's debt, and if this fund shall not be sufficient, or shall not be productive, then it is further declared and decreed, that the master shall sell the lands so conveyed to the defendants by the conveyances aforesaid, or a sufficiency thereof to pay the plaintiff's debt, interest, and cost, at public auction to the highest bidder, in manner as shall hereafter be decreed by the court, and make due and legal conveyances thereof to the purchaser or purchasers thereof and the defendants S. S., Z. S., A. S., S. S., Jr., E. S., W. F., and E. F. shall respectively join in such conveyance or conveyances, releasing their right, title, and interest therein and thereto, and covenanting against their own acts, in such manner as the master shall approve, and the proceeds of such sale shall be brought into this court to discharge the plaintiff's debt and costs of suit.

And it is further declared and decreed, that it be further referred to the same master, to ascertain by an examination of the plaintiff on oath or otherwise, what was the value at which the plaintiff received the farmers' exchange bills for which the drafts, on which his judgments were founded, were given, at the time when he received or bought the same, and that the plaintiff is to be allowed that sum, the damages on said drafts at the rate allowed by law, on the bills of the like nature, and his costs of suit, in the state courts of R. I., as his principal debt, and the interest is to be computed thereon as aforesaid, and the same master is to make his report as soon as may be, and in the meantime all further proceedings and orders are reserved for the consideration of the court. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2277; Bean v. Smith, 2 Mason (U. S.) 299-303.

C. Judgment in Creditor's Suit, Setting Aside Conveyance With Leave To Proceed on Execution.

It is adjudged, that the conveyance (describing it) dated the _____ day of _____, 18____, executed by the defendant Y. Z. to the defendant W. X., was made with intent to defraud the creditors of the said Y. Z., and is void as against the plaintiff in this action; and that the judgment confessed by the defendant Y. Z. in favor of the defendant U. V. in the _____ court, and entered in the office of the clerk of _____, for _____ dollars, was made with intent to defraud the creditors of said Y. Z. (or, is insufficient, and, in law, fraudulent as against the creditors of said Y. Z.); and that the same, and all the proceedings thereon, the execution, and the sale thereunder, and the sheriff's certificate of sale, bearing date the _____ day of _____, 18____, and his deed, bearing date the _____ day of _____, 18____, to the defendant S. T., in pursuance thereof, are each and all void as against the plaintiff in this action (and said judgment is ordered to be cancelled and discharged of record by the clerk of this court).

And it is further adjudged, that the plaintiff recover of the defendants (naming which) _____ dollars costs of this action.

And it is further adjudged, that the plaintiff in this action is at liberty to proceed upon his execution heretofore issued upon the judgment in his favor mentioned in the complaint, or to issue another execution, as he may be advised; and that the said defendant _____ deliver to the sheriff upon any such execution said property (describing the property reached), to be sold and applied to satisfy said judgment, and interest, and also the costs of this action. 2 Abb. Forms 558.

D. Judgment Avoiding Sale and General Assignment; Directing Sale by Sheriff.

(After declaring incumbrance, etc., void, continue):

And it is further adjudged, that the property described in the complaint (or, in said assignment) be sold by the sheriff of _____ county (proceed with directions as to mode of sale, and direct payment to the plaintiff of the) net proceeds, or so much thereof as will satisfy the amount of the judgment described in the complaint, being for _____ dollars, with interest from the _____ day of _____, 18____, and _____ dollars costs of this action. And if there be any surplus remaining after such payment, the sheriff pay the same to the defendant (debtor) or his attorney. 2 Abb. Forms 561.

E. Avoiding Sale and General Assignment, and Directing Transfer to Receiver.

Therefore it is adjudged, that the plaintiffs, by virtue of their judgment and execution, and the commencement of this action, have a lien upon all the property of every description of the said defendants (debtors), and all that was assigned or transferred by them to the defendant (a vendee of certain goods), or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the plaintiff's judgment, interest, and costs, which lien took effect on the _____ day of _____, 18____, when the summons and complaint herein were served; and that the assignment to the defendant (an assignee for benefit of creditors), and the sale to the said (vendee) in the pleadings mentioned, was made with intent to hinder, delay, and defraud the plaintiffs and other creditors of the said (debtors), was and is void as against them.

It is therefore ordered and adjudged, that the sale made by the defendants (debtors) to the defendant (vendee), and the assignment made by said defendants (debtors) to the defendant (assignee), be, and they hereby are set aside and declared void; and that the said (assignee) do forthwith pay and deliver all the money and other property assigned to him, and the proceeds thereof, to R. C. (receiver heretofore appointed of the property of the said [debtors] and), who is hereby appointed receiver in this action, as well of the property belonging to the said (debtors) as of that assigned to said (assignee), and that sold to said (vendee).

And it is further ordered and adjudged, that the defendant (vendee) do transfer and deliver all the property sold to him, and the proceeds thereof, to the said receiver.

I. Cross-Bills.

- A. Cross-Bill by Administrator de Bonis Non To Have Release Executed.

Humbly complaining sheweth unto your honors your orator T. B., of, etc., administrator of the goods and estate which were of R. H., late of, etc., deceased, at the time of his death, left unadministered by M. H., late of, etc., in her lifetime, now deceased, and which said M. H. in her lifetime, and at the time of her death, was administratrix of the goods and estate which were of the said R. H., deceased, at the time of his death; that J. M., late of, etc., deceased, when of sound mind, duly made his last will and testament in writing, and thereby after bequeathing several pecuniary legacies, gave the residue of his goods and estate, subject to the payment of his debts, to his daughter H., then an infant under the age of twenty-one years, but now the wife of J. C., of, etc. (and which J. C. and H., his wife, are two of the defendants hereinafter named), and thereby appointed R. P., of, etc. (another defendant hereinafter named), and the said R. H., executors of his said will; as by the said will, reference being thereunto had, will more fully appear. And your orator further sheweth unto your honors, that the said testator died on or about the _____ day of _____, without altering or revoking his said will, leaving his said daughter H. him surviving; and upon, or soon after, his decease, the said R. P. and R. H., as such executors as aforesaid, duly proved the said will in the proper court, and the said R. P., who principally acted in the execution of the said will (the said R. H. having only interfered for the sake of conformity), under and by virtue of such probate, possessed himself of a considerable part of the said testator's goods and effects.

And your orator further sheweth unto your honors, that the said R. H. departed this life on or about ———, and shortly after his decease letters of administration were duly granted to the said M. H., his wife, who died on or about ———; and after her decease such letters of administration of the unadministered goods and estate of the said R. H., deceased, as aforesaid, were duly granted to your orator by the proper court of probate, as by such letters of administration, reference being thereunto had, will appear.

And your orator further sheweth unto your honors, that the said R. H., previously to his death, accounted for and paid to the said R. P., as such co-executor as aforesaid, all such part of the estate of the said testator as had been received by him the said R. H., as such executor as aforesaid, and no part of the said estate remained in the hands of the said R. H., at the time of his decease, previously where to the said R. H. resided in the country, where his house was robbed, and all papers relative to his acts as such executor as aforesaid, and for which he had accounted as hereinbefore mentioned, and have never hitherto been recovered.

And your orator further sheweth unto your honors that the said J. C. and H., his wife, duly intermarried previously to the said H. attaining the said age of twenty-one years, which she has since done, and after that period the said R. P. duly accounted for the residue of the said testator's estate with the said J. C. (who in the right of said H., his wife, became entitled to receive the same), and thereupon obtained a general release from the said J. C. and H., his wife, of all demands in respect thereof, as by the said release, reference being thereunto had, will appear. And your orator hoped, under the circumstances aforesaid, he would not have been called upon for any account of the administration of the said testator's estate. But now so it is, may it please your honors, etc., that the said J. C. and H., his wife, etc., have lately filed their bill in this honorable court against your orator as such representative of the said R. H., deceased, as aforesaid, for an account of the estate of the said testator J. M. received by the said

R. H., deceased, in his lifetime, as such executor as aforesaid, thereby praying that your orator may be decreed to pay the said J. C., in right of his wife, what, upon such account, shall appear to be due to the said J. C., in right of the said H., his wife, out of the assets of the said R. H.; and to which said bill they have made the said R. P. a defendant, without praying any account or relief against him. And they pretend that there are various receipts and accounts (particularizing those charged in the original bill) of the said R. H., deceased, as such executor as aforesaid, as to the estate of the said testator, which remained unaccounted for by the said R. H., at his decease, and which ought to be paid by your orator. Whereas your orator charges the contrary thereof to be true (negating specifically the pretended receipts and accounts); and that an account was stated, and a settlement of accounts took place between the said R. H., previously to his death, and the said R. P., and that an account has likewise been stated and settled by and between the said R. P. as such surviving executor as aforesaid, and the said J. C. in right of the said H., his wife, since she attained the age of twenty-one years as aforesaid; and that no demand was ever made on the estate of the said R. H. in respect of his accounts, until lately, when the loss of such papers as aforesaid was discovered, and of which loss your orator charges an undue advantage is intended and attempted to be taken; and your orator also charges that the said R. P. abets the said J. C. and H., his wife, in their proceedings, and refuses to indemnify the personal estate of the said R. H., in respect of his accounts in the execution of the will of the said testator J. M. so accounted for by him, and settled with the said R. P. as aforesaid; and the said R. P. also refuses to inform your orator what he knows of the matters aforesaid, or any of them, and also denies such statements as have been made by him relative thereto. All which actings, etc. In tender consideration whereof, etc. To the end, therefore, etc. And that the said J. C. and H., his wife, may be decreed to execute to your orator, as such administrator of the goods and estate of the said R. H., deceased, left unadministered by the said M. H., also deceased, at the time of her death, a general release of all claims and demands upon such unadministered estate and effects of the said R. H., deceased, as aforesaid, in respect of all the accounts of the said R. H. in the execution of the will of the said testator J. M.; or that an account may be taken of the said estate of the said testator J. M., received by the said R. H., and of his application thereof; your orator being willing and hereby offering to pay what (if anything) shall appear to be due on the balance of such account; and that the said R. P. may be decreed to indemnify the estate of the said R. H., and your orator, as such administrator thereof as aforesaid, in respect of such part thereof as the said R. H. paid to, or by the order, or for the use of the said R. P., or otherwise to account for and pay the same to your orator. And that the said J. C. and H., his wife, may be decreed to pay to your orator his costs of this suit. And that your orator may have such other and further relief, etc. May it please, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr (Perkins' ed.) 2103.

B. Cross-Bill in Nature of Pleas Puis Darrein Continuance.

Complaining sheweth unto your honor, your orator A. B., of, etc. That C. D., of, etc., the defendant hereinafter named, on or about the _____ day of _____, filed his bill of complaint in this honorable court against your orator, thereby praying (state the prayer of the bill), and your orator being duly served with process of subpoena, appeared and put in his answer thereto, to which answer the said C. D. replied; and issue being thus joined, witnesses were examined on both sides, and the proofs closed; whereupon the said cause was noticed for hearing by the said C. D., before your honor, as by the said bill, and other pleadings and proceedings in the said cause, now remaining filed as of record in this honorable court, reference being thereunto had, will more fully appear.

And your orator further sheweth unto your honor, that the said cause has not yet been heard; and on or about _____, the said C. D., by a certain writing of release bearing date the _____ day of _____, did remise, release, and forever quit-claim unto your orator, his heirs, executors, and administrators, the several matters and things complained of in and by the said bill of the said C. D., and in question in the said suit, and each and every of them, and of all sums of money then due and owing, or thereafter to become due and owing, together with all, and all manner of actions, causes of action, suits, and demands whatsoever, both at law and in equity, or otherwise howsoever, which he the said C. D. then had, or which he should, or might at any time or times thereafter have, claim, allege or demand, against your orator, for, or by reason or means of any matter, cause, or thing whatsoever, from the beginning of the world to the day of the date of the said deed or writing of release; as by the said release, reference being thereunto had, will appear. And your orator hoped that in consequence of the said release, the said C. D. would not have proceeded in the said suit against your orator; but the said C. D. combining and confederating (confederating part), notwithstanding the said release, threatens and intends to proceed in the said suit, and to bring the said cause on for hearing in due course; and he pretends that no such release was ever executed by him, or if so, that the same was obtained by fraud and surprise, and therefore void. Whereas your orator charges that the same was, in every respect, fairly and properly obtained by your orator, and duly executed by the said C. D.

And your orator further charges, that under the circumstances aforesaid, he is unable to put the said release in issue, or to use the same as a plea in bar in the said suit. All which actings and pretenses, are contrary to equity and good conscience, and tend to the injury and oppression of your orator.

In tender consideration whereof, and forasmuch as your orator has no remedy without the assistance of a court of equity.

To the end therefore (interrogatories), and that the said release may be established and declared by this honorable court a sufficient bar to any further proceedings by the said C. D. in the said suit; and that the bill of the said C. D. therein, may, under the circumstances, be forthwith dismissed with costs (and for general relief).

May it please (prayer for subpoena).

III. Complaint, Death by Wrongful Act Setting Out Defect.

"First Paragraph. Florence M. Pearey, administratrix of the estate of David L. Pearey, deceased, complains of the Ohio and Mississippi Railway Company, defendant, and says that the defendant is a corporation, organized under the laws of the state of Indiana, and owns and operates, for hire, a railroad running through the counties of Jennings, Ripley and Dearborn, in said state, commonly known as the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad; that, on the 1st day of August, 1887, said David L. Pearcy was employed by the defendant to work for it in and about its freight trains, in the capacity of a brakeman on said railroad, in the transportation of freight over defendant's said railroad for hire; that on said day, while said David L. Pearcy was at work pursuant to his said employment, and in the proper discharge thereof, in the capacity of a brakeman on a certain freight train, then being transported by the defendant over its said railroad, at or near a place known as 'Moore's Hill' grade, in Dearborn county, state of Indiana, he was killed by reason of the defectiveness and unsafe condition of a brake and the appliances thereof on one of the defendant's cars in said freight train, the said brake and appliances being unsafe, defective and out of repair, in this, that the threads of the screw on top of the brake-staff of said brake had become and were worn out and battered so that said threads would not hold a nut securely so as to keep the brake wheel on said brake-staff, when the said wheel was grasped to let off brakes, as said Pearcy was required in his said employment to do by the defendant as a brakeman on said freight train, and which he might with safety do when said screw and nut were in good condition and repair, which unsafe and defective condition of said brake, brake-staff and screw was unknown to said David L. Pearcy, and which brake, brake-staff and screw the defendant negligently and carelessly used in its said business on said day and for many days prior thereto; that, on said 1st day of August, 1887, at or near the foot of said 'Moore's Hill' grade, the said David L. Pearcy was required by said defendant, pursuant to said employment, to let off the said brake while said train was in rapid motion, and when he was grasping said brake wheel to let off said brake, the said wheel came off in his hands by reason of the fact that the threads of said screw were in the condition aforesaid, and did not, and would not, by reason of its unsafe and defective condition, retain the nut that held said brake wheel in position on said brake-staff, and said brake wheel coming off suddenly in his hands, while the said David L. Pearcy was applying only sufficient force thereto to let off said brake, he thereby lost his balance and was thrown forward and off said car onto the ground below and killed, without fault or negligence on his part, or on the part of the plaintiff; that said David L. Pearcy was a young man about 24 years of age, and in good health and splendid physical condition, and had dependent on him for support a young wife and unborn child at the time he lost his life as aforesaid; that, on the _____ day of November, 1887, the plaintiff was appointed administratrix of his estate by the circuit court of Jackson county, in the state of Indiana. Wherefore plaintiff demands judgment for ten thousand dollars, and all other and proper relief." Ohio & M. R. Co. v. Pearcy, Admx., 128 Ind. 197, 27 N. E. 479.

IV. Declaration Against a Railroad, Running Over Intoxicated Person.

"And for this also, to-wit: That on the 24th day of December, in the year 1890, and for a long time before that day, the defendant company was and had been operating a railroad in the said county of Southampton, over which it operates steam locomotives to propel cars and coaches for the purposes of transporting passengers and freight; and that on the said 24th day of December, 1890, said defendant carried said Sinclair Joyner, contrary to the expressed wishes and requests of his wife, from Branchville, a station on its road in said county, to some point north, and on the same day brought him, the said Sinclair Joyner, back to said Branchville station about noon, under the influence of ardent spirits, and, when thus landed at said Branchville station, he, the said Sinclair Joyner, proceeded to walk from said station down the said railroad, and proceeding thus a short distance, to a point on said road about three hundred yards south of said Branchville station, stopped and sat down on said railroad track, and while he was thus sitting on said railroad track the local freight train of said defendant was at said Branchville station, standing still on said railroad track, plainly within sight of said Sinclair Joyner, then and there being on said track as aforesaid; the said defendant carelessly and negligently, and with great force and violence, ran its said engine in and upon said Sinclair Joyner's body, being then and there constantly, from the time the said engine moved off from said Branchville station till it ran in and upon the body of said Sinclair Joyner, clearly, easily, and plainly within seeing distance of the employes and agents of said defendant who were in charge of said engine, then and there giving to said Sinclair Joyner several fatal and mortal wounds, of which he died, and that his death was then and there caused by said wrongful act, neglect, and default of said defendant. Wherefore the said plaintiff, administrator of said Sinclair Joyner, deceased, says he is entitled to recover damages to the amount of $10,000." Seaboard & R. Co. v. Joyner's Admr., 92 Va. 354, 23 S. E. 773.

V. Notice of Injury.

"You are hereby notified that on the eighth day of November, 1892, my husband, Jeremiah J. Brick, while in your employ, was instantly killed or died without conscious suffering. The place where my said husband was instantly killed or died without conscious suffering was between Cabot street and the railroad of the Connecticut River Railroad Company, near the Connecticut River in said Holyoke, and at the place where a new mill was being erected, supposed to belong to the Riverside Paper Company of said Holyoke. The cause of the death of my said husband was the falling of a derrick upon him on account of the same being improperly or insecurely fastened." Brick v. Bosworth, 162 Mass. 334, 39 N. E. 26.

VI. Notice of Injury to Railroad Company.

"To the Meriden Electric Railroad Company, a railway corporation operating an electric railroad running through Pratt street in the town of Meriden, Connecticut:

"Please take notice that Daniel R. Budd, of said Meriden, administrator of the estate of Mizze E. Budd, deceased, claims damages against said company for injuries inflicted upon the person of the said Mizze E. Budd, caused by the negligence of said corporation and its employes, resulting in the death of the said Mizze E. Budd. The injuries were inflicted on the 30th day of August, A. D. 1895, at about quarter past four o'clock in the afternoon, and at a place upon the railroad track of said corporation on Pratt street, about one hundred and ten feet northerly of the crosswalk at the intersection of Pratt and Camp streets in said Meriden. The cause of the injuries was that said corporation had negligently omitted and refused to equip and provide the electric car, which the said company was operating and propelling at said time and place, with any fender or other appliance for the safety of human life and limb, and the negligence and carelessness of the motorman in charge of said car in man-aging and operating said car, and in his allowing and causing said car to strike, throw down, and run over and upon said Mizze E. Budd, then an infant of the age of twenty-one months, while she was crossing said Pratt street, thereby injuring, mutilating, and crushing her, and causing her death. By said injuries both legs and both feet of the said Mizze E. Budd were crushed and broken, her right hip was crushed, and her perineum was cut open nearly to the spine, death resulting within three hours. The above claim and statement is made as nearly as the same can now be ascertained." Budd v. Meriden Elec. R. Co., 69 Conn. 272, 277, 37 Atl. 683.

VII. Indictment Against Railroad for Death by Negligence.

The second count alleges that the defendants "did negligently and carelessly omit to erect gates, or to place signals, notices, watchmen, or guards at a certain dangerous crossing in said Salem, called Ballard's crossing, where said Manchester & Lawrence Railroad crosses a certain public and frequented highway at the grade or level thereof" (here follows a description of the highway), "and by the agents and servants of the said Manchester & Lawrence Railroad corporation in this state, to the jurors aforesaid unknown, at the crossing aforesaid, in Salem aforesaid, on the seventeenth day of December aforesaid, did with gross negligence and carelessness and unlawfully run a certain locomotive steam engine and a certain train of cars, all of the proper goods and chattels of said Manchester & Lawrence Railroad corporation, upon the said Manchester & Lawrence Railroad, across said public highway at said Ballard's crossing, at the grade or level of said public highway, at a greater speed than six miles per hour; to-wit, at the speed of twenty-five miles per hour, and did then and there, by the gross negligence and by the carelessness of the said corporation and of their agents and servants aforesaid, in this state, omit to give suitable and proper notice of the approach of said engine and train to said crossing, so that, at the crossing aforesaid, the said engine and cars did suddenly surprise, overtake, strike, and throw down one Benjamin Woodbury, of Salem aforesaid, yeoman, who was then and there not in the employment of said corporation, and was then and there peaceably riding and passing in a wagon, drawn by two horses along the said public highway at the crossing aforesaid, and him, the said Benjamin Woodbury, did then and there mangle and kill, by which gross negligence and carelessness of said corporation, and of its agents and servants aforesaid, the life of the said Benjamin Woodbury was then and there lost as aforesaid." (Then follows a statement of the administrator, widow, and children of the deceased, as in the first count). "And so the jurors aforesaid, upon their oath aforesaid, do say that the life of the said Benjamin Woodbury, he being a person not then and there in the employ of said corporation, was lost as aforesaid, by reason of the negligence and carelessness aforesaid of the said corporation, proprietors of the railroad aforesaid, and by the unfitness and gross negligence and by the carelessness of the agents and servants aforesaid of said corporation, in this state, contrary," etc. State v. Manchester & L. R. Co., 52 N. H. 528.

VIII. Answer Setting Up Contributory Negligence.

"Defendant, for answer to plaintiff's petition, denies each and every allegation therein, excepting only, the allegation that defendant is a corporation. Defendant, for further answer, says, that the injury sued for was not occasioned by any negligence or default of the defendant, or its servants, or agents, but by the carelessness and negligence of the deceased, Edward B. Barker." Barker v. Hannibal & St. J. R. Co., 91 Mo. 86, 14 S. W. 280.

Note.—The jurisdiction now generally exercised by probate courts, variously known as probate courts, county courts, surrogate courts, orphans' courts, etc., was exercised during the common law period by the ecclesiastical courts, except such limited equity jurisdiction as has been conferred by statutes on probate courts, exercised in most cases concurrently with courts having general equity jurisdiction. Some proceedings unknown to either ecclesiastical or equity jurisdiction in connection with the administration of estates have been created by statute.

The forms used in the various probate courts while derived in most instances from similar forms in the ecclesiastical courts and equity courts are of such varied character, and so modified by local statutes, that it is impracticable to attempt to set them out in a general form book, aside from the fact that they are fully provided in books of local practice on probate law.

The forms provided below are here presented as having passed the adjudication of the court and should be considered as supplemental to the local forms, and not in any sense as a substitute therefor.

Before any of the forms are used they should be carefully tested by comparison with the requirements of local statutes.

In notes below is stated, in general, the derivation of forms in probate procedure.

I. Petition for Order To Pay Claims Against Estate.

The probate court for the county of Wayne. In the matter of the estate of Joseph Campau, deceased. To the Hon. Albert H. Wilkinson, judge of probate of the said court:

The petition of Halmer H. Emmons respectfully shows unto your honor, as follows, to-wit:

Your petitioner is a creditor of said estate; that his claim against the said estate as such creditor was duly proved and allowed on the 15th day of January, A. D. 1866, at the sum of three thousand one hundred and five and 94-100 dollars, as in and by the records and files more fully appears.

Your petitioner has frequently applied to the administrators of said estate to pay the said claim, but they have hitherto neglected and refused to pay said claim, and the same still remains unpaid.

Upon examination of the record and files it appears that no order as required by §4457 of the Compiled Laws of 1871 of the payment of debts proved against said estate has ever been made, and your petitioner therefore prays your honor to make such order, to the end that your petitioner may enforce payment of his said claim.

Halmer H. Emmons.

By Ashley Pond, his attorney.

Filed January 16, 1873.

Emmons, a creditor of the said estate, whose claim has been duly proved and allowed, praying that an order may be entered in this court requiring the administrator of said estate to pay the debts proved and allowed against the same; and it appearing to the satisfaction of the court by proof on file that a certified copy of said petition and of the order assigning the twenty-first instant for the hearing by the court of said petition has been duly served on Denis J. Campau, now sole administrator of said estate, as was in said order by the court directed, and the hearing of said petition having been continued by consent until this day, and the court having now heard Ashley Pond of counsel for said petitioner, and James D. Weir of counsel for said Denis J. Campau, administrator as aforesaid, and due consideration having been had in the premises, and it appearing to the court by the records and files in the matter of the said estate that sufficient assets came to the hands of the said Denis J. Campau, as administrator jointly with Theodore J. Campau, then one of his co-administrators to pay the debts proved and allowed against the said estate in full, and the time limited in the statute for payment of said debts having elapsed, it is ordered and decreed that the said Denis J. Campau, administrator of said estate aforesaid, pay the debts proved and allowed against the said estate within sixty days from the date hereof.

"Notice is hereby given, that H. W. Halleck, P. W. Van Winkle, and Archibald C. Peachy, having filed in this court their report and account, as executors, with a petition for an order of sale of personal property of the estate of Joseph L. Folsom, deceased, the hearing of the same has been fixed by said court, for Monday, the twenty-first day of March, 1859, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon of said day, of the March Term of 1859, at the court room thereof, in the City Hall in the City and County of San Francisco; and all persons interested in said estate are notified then and there, to appear and show cause, if any they have, why said petition should not be granted." Halleck v. Moss, 22 Cal. 266.

B. Order To Sell Personal Property After Notice.

"Application having been made to the Court by the executors of the estate of J. L. Folsom, deceased, for an order of sale of certain personal property of the estate hereinafter mentioned by the petition, in writing, of said executors, filed herein on the seventh day of March, 1859, setting forth the facts showing such sale to be necessary; which application was, by the order of this Court, on that day made and filed, set for hearing upon the twenty-first day of March last, upon which day the said executors appeared by their counsel, Gregory Yale, Esq., and certain of the creditors of the estate appeared and were represented by their counsel, Eugene Casserly, Esq.; and due proof having been there made, to the satisfaction of the Court and filed herein, that notice of said application had been given according to law, the hearing of the said application was regularly continued from that time to this day by orders of this Court duly entered of record. And now on this twenty-fifth day of April, 1859, at eleven o'clock A. M., to which time said application was duly adjourned by the last of continuances, aforesaid, the said parties appearing by their counsel, aforesaid, and no objections or exceptions having been filed, and no opposition having been made, and the Court, from an examination of the said matter, being satisfied that a sale of said property is necessary, and that the articles are perishable property and liable to assessment and taxation, it is hereby ordered, that the said executors be authorized to sell at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, the personal property of the estate undisposed of, comprised under the heads of 'Library,' 'Pictures,' 'Table and Bed Linen,' and 'Stocks,' as set forth in their petition filed in this Court November 12th, 1855." Halleck v. Moss, 22 Cal. 266.

C. Petition for Leave To Convey Real Estate of Deceased.

"To the Hon. Judge of Probate for the County of Carroll:

"Respectfully represents Sanborn B. Carter, administrator of the estate of William N. Roberts, late of Tuftonborough, in said county, deceased, that the said William N. Roberts, in his lifetime, to-wit, on the twenty-fifth day of June, A. D. 1868, did contract and engage, in writing, to convey to one Adam Roberts, of said Tuftonborough, upon the performance of certain conditions on the part of said Adam Roberts therein stated, certain real estate situated in said Tuftonborough, bounded and described as follows: Commencing at corner of land of Levi Brown, on south side of the highway leading from Tuftonborough to Water Village, and running westerly on said highway twenty-four rods, thence south, turning right angles, and running far enough into the land of said William N. Roberts to contain one acre;—that the said William N. Roberts was prevented from making said conveyance by death, and that the said Adam Roberts stands ready to perform the conditions of said contract on his part. Wherefore your petitioner prays that he may be licensed to make and execute a conveyance of said real estate, agreeably to the statute in such case provided.

"Dated at Ossipee, the 1st day of January, A. D. 1869. _____."

Carter v. Jackson, 56 N. H. 364.

Note.—Equity also exercises jurisdiction to compel the satisfaction of debts out of real property.

D. Order Granting Leave To Convey Real Estate of Deceased.

"State of New Hampshire, Carroll, ss.

"(L. S.) The judge of probate for said county, to whom it may concern: Whereas, on examination, it appears that William N. Roberts, late of Tuftonborough, in said county, deceased, did in his lifetime contract by writing to convey to one Adam Roberts certain real estate, situated in Tuftonborough, bounded (description same as in above petition), upon certain conditions on the part of the said Adam Roberts which he has performed, or stands ready to perform, and that the said William N. Roberts was prevented from making said conveyance by death; therefore license is hereby granted to Sanborn B. Carter, administrator of the estate of the said William N. Roberts, deceased, to make and execute to the said _____ a good and valid conveyance of all the right, title, and interest that the said deceased had, at the time of his death, in and unto said real estate.

"In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and the seal of said court of probate, at _____, in said county, this second day of March, A. D. 1869.

"Larkin D. Mason, judge of probate."

Carter v. Jackson, 56 N. H. 364.

E. Decree for Sale of Real Estate.

"Jonathan McDonald. Decree to sell land.

"Be it remembered, that heretofore, to-wit on the 1st day of October, 1867, came E. M. Hussey as administrator of said estate, and did file with the judge of this court his application in writing and under oath, praying an order to sell the lands belonging to said estate, on the ground that the same is necessary to pay the debts of said decedent, and the costs and charges of administration, and alleging an insufficiency of personal property thereto; and this being the day regularly set for the hearing of said application, a day more than forty days from the filing of said petition, the court proceeded to hear and determine said cause. I find that due notice of said filing and said day for hearing has been given to all the parties defendant to said application, by citation duly executed on all the parties defendant, they being residents of the State of Alabama, and John Turrentine, duly appointed guardian ad litem to represent the minor heirs, accepting said appointment, and appearing in open court and denying the allegations of said application. I find from the proof taken by deposition as in chancery cases, that the allegations of said petition are correct; that there is not sufficient personal property belonging to said estate to pay said debts, costs and charges. It is therefore ordered, adjudged and decreed, that the prayer of said petition be granted; that lands described as follows: (Here follows order of sale and description of land by numbers, section, township and range, and terms of sale, etc., and reservation of five hundred dollars to the widow, etc., in addition to dower.) Given under my hand and seal, this 11th day of November, 1867.

(Signed.) John B. McClellan,
Judge, etc."

Hine v. Hussey, 45 Ala. 496.

F. Report of Sale of Land of Deceased.

"The undersigned, administrator of the estate of Eleanor Coker, deceased, reports that in pursuance of an order heretofore made by the said court, to-wit, on the 11th day of December, 1876, authorizing and empowering the undersigned to sell realty belonging to the estate of said deceased, after having given authorized notice by advertising the same at the court house door of said county and three other public places in said county, for three weeks previous to the said sale, containing further the time, terms and place of said sale, etc., on Monday, the 8th day of January, 1877, as the day, and at the place appointed for said sale, between the legal hours of sale, did offer said realty for sale at public outcry, and at said sale Jasper Langston, being the highest, best and cash bidder, therefor, became the purchaser of the" (lands describing them, which were the same lands described in the order of sale) "lying and being in Bibb county, Ala., at the price of two and 50-100 dollars per acre, and amounting in the aggregate to the sum of four hundred dollars. The said administrator further reports that the said Jasper Langston has complied with the terms of said sale, and has paid in full said purchase money, that said sale was fairly conducted, and that said realty was sold for an amount not greatly disproportionate to its real value. Wherefore, the said administrator prays that said sale may be ratified and confirmed, and that a decree be granted authorizing him to execute titles to the purchaser, said Jasper D. Langston, for the said real estate purchased by him as aforesaid, all of which is respectfully submitted.

(Signed.) M. L. Cottingham."

(This report was sworn to before the probate judge.)

Moore v. Cottingham, 113 Ala. 148, 20 So. 994.

G. Order Confirming Report of Sale, Land of Deceased.

"This day came M. L. Cottingham, as the administrator, with the will annexed of said estate, and files his request in writing and under oath, setting forth, among other things, that on the 8th day of January, 1877, within the legal hours of sale, in pursuance of law in such cases made, and in strict accordance with all and singular the terms and requirements of the former order and decree of this court, granted and entered in the primaries on the 11th day of December, 1876, proceeded and sold, at public outcry, at the late residence of said decedent, the land set forth and particularly described in said former order and decree, and that said land was purchased at said sale by Jasper D. Langston, for the sum of $400, and it appearing to the satisfaction of the court from said report, and from the evidence therewith submitted, that said amount so bid for said land by Jasper D. Langston, was the highest and best bid for the same; that said sum so bid was not greatly less or disproportionate to its real value; that said sale was legally and fairly made and conducted; and that the whole of the purchase money has been paid in cash. It is ordered, adjudged, and decreed, that said sale be, and the same hereby is, approved; and in all things ratified and confirmed by the order and authority of this court. It is further ordered that this report and all other papers on file relating to this proceeding, be recorded. It is further ordered, adjudged and decreed, that said M. L. Cottingham, as the administrator of said estate, be authorized and he is hereby ordered to convey by proper deed to the said Jasper D. Langston all right, title, and interest which the said Eleanor Coker, deceased, had in said lands at the time of her death. It is further ordered, that the said administrator pay the costs of this proceeding, to be allowed him against said estate." Moore v. Cottingham, 113 Ala. 148, 20 So. 994.

Hussey, the administrator thereof, now comes said administrator, and moves the court to declare said estate insolvent; and the guardian ad litem regularly appointed, now in open court consenting to represent the minor heir in said proceedings; and the court being satisfied, from due examination and proof, that notice of the filing of said report, and of the day set to hear and determine the same has been given to the creditors in all respects as required by law, and directed by the former order of the court; the court thereupon proceeds to hear and determine as to said report, and none of the creditors contesting the correctness of said report, it is ordered, adjudged and decreed that said estate be, and the same is hereby declared insolvent." (Here follows order appointing day for a settlement by said Hussey of his administration, and the notice required to be given thereof.) Hine v. Hussey, 45 Ala. 496.

administrator where he failed to perform his duty in this respect for the reason that the power exercised by the ecclesiastical courts was inadequate.

IX. Accounting.

A. Petition To Reopen Account.

The petition of appellant, filed April 3, 1893, averred:

"John B. Ellison died in the city of Philadelphia on March 7, 1865, leaving a last will bearing date May 30, 1864, a copy of which is hereunto attached. Letters testamentary upon the estate were duly granted by the register of wills of Philadelphia county to Rodman B. Ellison and William P. Ellison.

"The said executors entered upon their duties and continued to act as executors and trustees under the provisions of the said will until the filing of their account.

"By the terms of the said will no distribution was to be made of the principal of the estate until the death of the wife of the said John B. Ellison, which occurred July 14, 1880.

"On the death of the said wife of John B. Ellison, the said executors filed their account in the orphans' court, which was adjudicated Jan. 13, 1882.

"By the terms of the said will, on the death of the said wife of John B. Ellison, the estate was to be divided into four shares, one share to each of the four children of the decedent, of whom your petitioner was one; but the shares of your petitioner and her sister, Margaret Ellis, were, after the said distribution, to be held in trust by trustees to be selected by them respectively.

"The said Margaret Ellis selected Ellis D. Williams, Esq., as her trustee, and your petitioner selected, at the special instance and request of her brother, Rodman B. Ellison (the executor of the will), her brother William P. Ellison to act as the trustee for your petitioner.

"At the audit of the account of the said executors, your petitioner was not present, but was represented by her trustee and brother, William P. Ellison, who was also one of the executors of the said will. (Here follow particular allegations of fraudulent use of funds and concealment from petitioner.)

"In conclusion, your petitioner avers that she was at the time of the adjudication aforesaid a married woman, and has been under coverture from that time until the present.

"Your petitioner therefore prays that a citation may issue to Rodman B. Ellison and William P. Ellison and to Margaret Ellis and Ellis D. Williams, trustee for Margaret Ellis (being all the parties in interest) to appear and show cause: (1) Why the adjudication of the accounts of Rodman B. Ellison and William P. Ellison as executors of the will of John B. Ellison, deceased, should not be reopened and a rehearing granted, and the said Rodman B. Ellison and William P. Ellison be surcharged with the profits earned by the moneys of the estate by their use in business of the said Rodman B. Ellison and William P. Ellison from 1865 until 1882. (2) To show cause why the record of the said orphans' court should not be amended by striking therefrom the adjudication so fraudulently procured to be entered upon the account of the said executors as hereinbefore set forth. (3) Why the said Rodman B. Ellison and William P. Ellison should not state an account of the profits earned by the said moneys of the estate by their use in the business aforesaid, and make payment of the proper portion thereof to your petitioner. (4) And your petitioner prays such other and further relief in the premises as to the court shall seem meet or the cause may require." Ellison's Estate, 163 Pa. 315, 30 Atl. 199.

Note.—Upon accounting courts of equity entertained exceptions to accounts of administrators by persons interested in the estate, and by their decree settled the accounts.

B. Order for New Account and Setting Aside Former Approval.

"Now, therefore, it is by the court ordered and adjudged, that the account of the said John S. Branner filed in this court on or about February 22, 1892, purporting to be the final account of his administration of said partnership estate, and therein entitled as follows: 'Second and final report of John S. Branner, guardian of the person and estate of Josie Webb (formerly Josie Klein) and Millie Klein, as the surviving partner of the firm of Branner & Klein; said firm composed of said John S. Branner and Jacob Klein.'

"And the order of the court made on April 20, 1892, allowing said account, and the subsequent order of this court discharging said John S. Branner from his said trust, be and the same are hereby declared to be fraudulent and void, and they are hereby vacated and set aside.

"And it is by the court further ordered, and adjudged, and decreed, that the said John S. Branner be and he is hereby required in _____ days from this date to render to this court a full and complete account of all the moneys and assets which came into his hands as such administrator." Branner. v. Webb, 61 Kan. 181, 59 Pac. 270.

VIII. Judgment Records.

A. Judgment Record on Default for Not Pleading.

Pleas before the justices of the supreme court of judicature of the people of the state of New York, at the ———, in the city of ———, of the term of (January), (the term of interlocutory judgment), in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ———.

Witness, ———, esquire, chief justice.

_____ county, ss.: Be it remembered, that on the (first Monday of January), (the term or day of which the narr. is entitled), in this same term, before the justices of the supreme court of judicature of the people of the state of New York, at the _____ in the city of _____, (place where the court sat at the term of the narr.), comes A. B., by E. F., his attorney, and brings into the said court, before the aforesaid justices thereof, now here, his certain bill against C. D., being in custody, etc., of a plea of trespass on the case upon promises (or as the action is), which said bill follows in these words, to-wit:

_____ county, ss.: A. B., plaintiff this suit, by E. F., his attorney, complains of C. D., defendant, etc. (inserting the declaration to the end, omitting the signature, and then proceed on a new line as follows):

And the said defendant in his proper person (or, by G. H., his attorney), comes and defends the wrong and injury, when, etc., and says nothing in bar or preclusion of the said action of the said plaintiff; whereby the said plaintiff remains therein undefended against the said defendant: Wherefore, the said plaintiff ought to recover against the said defendant, his damages, on occasion of the premises. And hereupon the said plaintiff prays judgment, and his damages by him sustained on occasion of the non-performance of the said promises and undertakings, in the said declaration mentioned, to be adjudged to him, etc. And because it is suggested and proved, and manifestly appears to the said court now here, that the said plaintiff hath sustained damages on occasion of the premises, to _____ dollars and _____ cents besides his costs and charges by him about his suit in this behalf expended:

Therefore it is considered, that the said plaintiff do recover against the said defendant his damages, by occasion of the premises, to _____ dollars and _____ cents, by the court here assessed, and also _____ dollars, and _____ cents for his costs and charges by the court now here adjudged to the said plaintiff, with his assent: which said damages, costs and charges in the whole amount to _____ dollars, and _____ cents.

And the said defendant in mercy, etc. Burr. App. 134, §262.

B. Judgment Record on Default for Not Pleading, on Writ of Inquiry.

(As in preceding form to the *.) Be it remembered, that on the (first Monday of January), in this same term, before the justices of the supreme court of judicature of the people of the state of New York, at the _____ in the city of _____, comes A. B., by E. F., his attorney, and brings into the said court, before the aforesaid justices thereof now here, his certain bill against C. D., being in custody, etc., of a plea of (trespass on the case upon promises), which said bill follows in these words:

(City and) county of (_____), ss.: A. B., plaintiff in this suit, by E. F., his attorney, etc. (insert the declaration as in last form).

And the said defendant in his proper person (or by G. H., his attorney), comes and defends the wrong and injury when, etc., and says nothing in bar or preclusion of the said action of the said plaintiff; whereby the said plaintiff remains therein undefended against the said defendant: Wherefore the said plaintiff ought to recover against the said defendant, his damages, on occasion of the premises.

But because it is unknown to the said court, before the aforesaid justices thereof now here, what damages the said plaintiff hath sustained by means of the premises, the sheriff of the said city and county of New York (the venue in the action), is commanded that, by the oath of twelve good and lawful men of this county, he diligently inquire what damages the said plaintiff hath sustained, as well by means of the premises, as for his costs and charges by him about his suit in this behalf expended: and that he send the inquisition which he shall thereupon take, to the justices of the said supreme court of judicature, at the _____ in the city of _____, on the _____ day of _____ next (the return of the writ), under his seal, and the seals of those by whose oaths he shall take that inquisition, together with the writ to him thereupon directed: the same day is given to the said plaintiff, at the same place.

At which day, before the justices aforesaid, at the _____ in the city of _____, comes the said plaintiff, by his attorney aforesaid, and the sheriff, to-wit, _____, esquire, sheriff of the said (city and) county of _____, now here, returns a certain inquisition indented, taken before him at the _____ of the city of _____, in this said county, on the _____ day of _____, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and _____, by the oaths of twelve good and lawful men of his county; by which it is found that the said plaintiff hath sustained damages by means of the premises, to _____ dollars and _____ cents over and above his costs and charges by him about his suit in this behalf expended and for those costs and charges to six cents.

Therefore it is considered, that the said plaintiff do recover against the said defendant his damages aforesaid, by the said inquisition above found, and also _____ dollars for his costs and charges by the said court now here, adjudged of increase to the said plaintiff, and with his assent: which said damages, costs and charges in the whole amount to _____ dollars and _____ cents.

And the said defendant in mercy, etc. Burr. App. 135, §263.

C. Judgment Record on Default for Not Pleading in Debt.

And the said defendant (by his said attorney) defends the wrong and injury when, etc., and says nothing in bar or preclusion of the said action of the said plaintiff; whereby the said plaintiff remains therein undefended against the said defendant.

Therefore it is considered, that the said plaintiff do recover against the said defendant his said debt, and also (_____ dollars and _____ cents) for his damages which he hath sustained, as well on occasion of the detaining the said debt, as for his costs and charges by him about his suit in this behalf expended, by the said court now here adjudged to the said plaintiff, and with his assent.

And the said defendant in mercy, etc. Burr. App. 137, §265.

D. Judgment Record on Default for Not Joining in Demurrer to Declaration.

And hereupon, on the prayer of the said plaintiff, a day is given to him to join in the foregoing demurrer of the said defendant, to-wit, until the _____ day of _____, in this same term (the day on which the judgment is entered), before the justices aforesaid, at the (capitol in the city of Albany). The same day is given to the said defendant, there, etc.

At which day and place last mentioned, before the justices aforesaid, comes the said defendant by his attorney aforesaid. And the said plaintiff, although solemnly demanded, comes not, but makes default: nor doth he join in demurrer as aforesaid; nor doth he further prosecute his suit against the said defendant.

Therefore it is considered that the said plaintiff take nothing by his said bill (or writ, or declaration), but that he be in mercy, etc. And that the said defendant do go thereof without day, etc. And it is further considered by the said court now here, that the said defendant do recover against the said plaintiff _____ dollars and _____ cents, for his costs and charges by him about his defense in this behalf expended, by the said court now here adjudged to the said defendant, with his assent; according to the form of the statute in such case made and provided. And that the said defendant have execution thereof, etc. Burr. App. 144, §273.

E. Judgment Record on Default for Not Joining in Demurrer to Plea.

And hereupon on the prayer of the said defendant, a day is given to the said defendant, to join in the foregoing demurrer of the said plaintiff, to-wit, to the _____ day of _____ (the day on which defendant's default is entered), before the justices aforesaid, at the (capitol in the city of Albany). The same day is given to the said plaintiff there, etc.

At which day and place last mentioned, before the justices aforesaid, comes the said plaintiff, by his attorney aforesaid, and the said defendant, although solemnly demanded, comes not, neither doth he join in demurrer as aforesaid, nor say anything in bar or preclusion of the aforesaid action of the said plaintiff thereof against him, etc. Whereby the said plaintiff remains therein wholly undefended against the said defendant. Wherefore the said plaintiff ought to recover against the said defendant his damages (or debt and damages), by occasion of the premises. Burr. App. 144, §275; Yates' Forms 49.

P., his attorney, and demanded a copy of the complaint, and the same having been served on said O. I. Demurrer at Common Law.

- A. General Demurrer to Declaration.
 And the said C. D., defendant in this suit, by G. H., his attorney, comes and defends the wrong (or force) and injury when, etc., and says that the said declaration (or the said first [or other] count of the said declaration), and the matters therein contained, in manner and form as the same are above stated and set forth, are not sufficient in law for the said plaintiff to have or maintain his aforesaid action thereof, against the said defendant; and that he the said defendant is not bound by law to answer the same. And this he is ready to verify. Wherefore, for want of a sufficient declaration (or ——— count of the said declaration), in this behalf, the said defendant prays judgment, and that the said plaintiff may be barred from having or maintaining his aforesaid action thereof against him, etc. Burr. App. 394, §730.

B. Special Demurrer.

1. Special Demurrer to Declaration.

(As in preceding form to end, then continue): And the said defendant, according to the form of the statute in such case made and provided, states and shows to the court here the following causes of demurrer to the said declaration (or to the said ——— count of the said declaration), that is to say (here state the particular causes of demurrer thus): For that the said declaration is not entitled of any court, neither does it appear in and by the said declaration in what court the said action is brought against the said defendant; and also for that it doth not appear in or by the said declaration of what term the writ or process upon which the said declaration was founded, was or is returnable; and also for that the said declaration is not entitled of any term whatever; and also for that the said declaration is in other respects uncertain, informal and insufficient, etc. Burr. App. 395, §731.

2. Special Demurrer to Plea in Abatement.

And the said plaintiff saith that the said plea of the said defendant, and the matters therein contained, in manner and form as the same are above pleaded and set forth, are not sufficient in law to quash the said bill (or writ, or declaration), and that he the said plaintiff is not bound by the law of the land to answer the same. And this he is ready to verify. Wherefore, for want of a sufficient plea in this behalf, the said plaintiff prays judgment, and that the said defendant may answer further to the said declaration, etc.

And the said plaintiff, according to the form of the statute in such case made and provided, states and shows to the court here the following causes of demurrer to the said plea, that is to say: (For that the said C. D., by his plea aforesaid, hath admitted himself to be the person named the defendant in and by the aforesaid [bill and] declaration of him the said plaintiff): And also for that the said plea is in other respects informal and insufficient. Burr. App. 397, §734; 3 Chit. Pl. 1254.

3. Special Demurrer to Plea in Bar.

And the said plaintiff, as to the said plea of the said defendant, by him (secondly) above pleaded, saith that the same, and the matters therein contained, in manner and form as the same are above pleaded and set forth, are not sufficient in law to bar or preclude him the said plaintiff from having or maintaining his aforesaid action thereof against him the said defendant, and that he the said plaintiff is not bound by law to answer the same. And this he the said plaintiff is ready to verify. Wherefore, for want of a sufficient plea in this behalf, the said plaintiff prays judgment, and his damages, by reason of the not performing of the said several promises and undertakings, in the said declaration mentioned, to be adjudged to him, etc. (If the action be debt, say: "prays judgment, and his debt aforesaid, together with his damages by him sustained on occasion of the detention thereof, to be adjudged to him, etc." If in covenant, say: "prays judgment, and his damages by him sustained on occasion of the said breach of covenant in the said declaration mentioned, to be adjudged to him, etc." If in trespass, say: "prays judgment, and his damages by him sustained on occasion of the committing of the said trespasses [or in case, grievances], to be adjudged to him," etc.).

ing to the country, "For that the said defendant hath not concluded his said plea, by putting himself upon the country, etc." For pleading nil debet in assumpsit, "For that the said defendant hath not, in or by his said plea, confessed and avoided, or traversed and denied, the making of the several promises and undertakings in the said declaration mentioned; and also for that the said plea is inartificially pleaded, and in other respects uncertain, etc." For pleading nil debet in debt on bond, "For that, although the said plaintiff, in his declaration, hath demanded of and from the said defendant, a sum certain due to him, the said plaintiff, from the said defendant, by virtue of a writing obligatory under his seal; yet the said defendant hath not, in or by his plea, denied the said writing obligatory to be his deed, nor in any manner shown himself to be discharged therefrom, and also for the said defendant should have pleaded that the said writing obligatory was not his deed, and not that he did now owe the debt demanded." And also that the said second plea is, in other respects, uncertain, informal and insufficient, etc. Burr. App. 397, §736; 3 Chit. Pl. 1256, 7.

4. Special Demurrer to a Replication.

And the said defendant saith that the said replication of the said plaintiff, to the said (second) plea of him the said defendant, and the matters therein contained, in manner and form as the same are above pleaded and set forth, are not sufficient in law for the said plaintiff to have or maintain his aforesaid action thereof against him the said defendant; and that he the said defendant is not bound by law to answer the same, and this he the said defendant is ready to verify; wherefore, for want of a sufficient replication in this behalf, he the said defendant prays judgment, if the said plaintiff ought to have or maintain his aforesaid action thereof against him, etc.

And the said defendant, according to the form of the statute in such case made and provided, states and shows to the court here the following causes of demurrer in law to the said replication, that is to say: (Here state the causes and conclude thus): And also for that the said replication is, in other respects, uncertain, informal and insufficient, etc. Burr. App. 399, §739; 3 Chit. Pl. 1262.

5. Special Demurrer to a Rejoinder.

(The form of this demurrer resembles the demurrer to the plea, substituting "rejoinder" for "plea" throughout. Burr. App. 400, §741.

6. Special Demurrer to a Surrejoinder.

The form of this demurrer is the same as that of a demurrer to a replication, substituting "surrejoinder" for "replication." Burr. App. 400, §742.

II. Demurrers Under Code.

A. Demurrer for Want of Cause of Action.

The defendant demurs (or, if only a part of them join, the defendants, naming which, demur) to the complaint herein (or to the first, or second, or other, cause of action stated in the complaint herein), for the ground that it appears upon the face of the complaint:*

That the complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action (as to the plaintiff A. B.). 2 Abb. Forms 7.

B. Demurrer for Incapacity to Sue.
(As in II, A, to *.) That the plaintiff has not legal capacity to sue. 2 Abb. Forms 5.

C. Demurrer for Misjoinder of Actions.

(As in II, A, to *.) That several causes of action have been improperly united, one being (very briefly designating it, e. g., thus): a money demand on contract, and the second a claim to recover real property and damages for withholding thereof, and the third a claim to recover damages for injuries to the person. 2 Abb. Forms 7.

D. Demurrer for Defect of Parties.
(As in II, A, to *.) That there is a defect of parties plaintiff (or a defect of parties defendant) in the omission of (designating the omitted party either by name or by the character in which he is referred to in the complaint, e. g.), the maker of the note mentioned in said complaint, or the husband of the plaintiff. 2 Abb. Forms 6.

Demurrer for Defective Parties (b).

The said defendants (also) demur to the said complaint upon the ground that there is a misjoinder of parties plaintiff in the said complaint, in that it appears by the said complaint that the plaintiffs are not united in interest in any demand or demands alleged in said complaint to exist against this (or, these defendants) and in that it appears that the action is brought to recover upon two alleged several demands, one in favor of one of the plaintiffs, and the other in favor of the other, in neither of which several demands existing in favor of one of the said plaintiffs is the other of said plaintiffs interested. Nagel v. Lutz, 41 App. Div. 193, 58 N. Y. Supp. 816.

E. Demurrer to Answer of New Matter or Counterclaim.

The plaintiff demurs to the answer of the defendant (or the first, or second defense, or counterclaim contained in the answer of the defendant) for insufficiency, in not stating facts sufficient to constitute a defense (or counterclaim). 2 Abb. Forms 175.

F. Demurrer to Reply.

The defendant demurs to the plaintiff's reply (or first, or other reply) for insufficiency, in not stating facts sufficient to constitute a reply. 2 Abb. Forms 176.

III. Demurrers in Equity.

A. Demurrer in Equity, General Form, Commencement.

The demurrer of C. D., defendant, to the bill of complaint of A. B., the above named plaintiff.

This defendant, by protestation, not confessing all or any of the matters and things in the plaintiff's bill of complaint contained to be true in such manner and form as the same is therein set forth and alleged, doth demur to said bill, and for cause of demurrer sheweth that, etc. (Here set forth the cause of demurrer.) 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins ed.) 2116.

B. Demurrer in Equity, Conclusion.

Wherefore and for divers other good causes of demurrer appearing in the said bill, the defendant doth demur thereto, and humbly demands the judgment of this court whether he shall be compelled to make any further or other answer to the said bill; and prays to be hence dismissed with his costs and charges in this behalf most wrongfully sustained. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins ed.) 2116.

C. Demurrer in Equity, for Want of Equity.

That the plaintiff hath not in and by his said bill made or stated such a case as entitles him, in a court of equity, to any discovery from this defendant (or these defendants or either of them) or to any relief against him (or them or either of them) as to the matters contained in the said bill or any of such matters. Wherefore, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins ed.) 2116.

D. Demurrer to Bill To Restrain Private Nuisance, Plaintiff Not Having Established His Right at Law.

That the plaintiff has not, by his said bill, shown such a case as entitles him to such relief as is thereby prayed, inasmuch as it does not thereby appear that there was any impediment to an action at law being brought by the said plaintiff to ascertain his right and that of this defendant, relative to the wall in the said bill particularly mentioned, or that in any trial or action verdict or judgment has been hitherto obtained by the said plaintiff for that purpose, or that there was previously to or at the time the said bill was filed, or now is, any authentic record of such right. Wherefore, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins ed.) 2121.

E. Demurrer in Equity for Want of Privity. Bill by Unsatisfied Legatee Against Debtor of Testator.

That it appears by the said plaintiff's said bill, that there is no privity between the said plaintiff and this defendant, to enable the said plaintiff to call on this defendant for payment of any debt due to the estate of the said testator from this defendant. Wherefore, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins ed.) 2121.

F. Demurrer to Bill of Interpleader, No Affidavit, Want of Equity.

This defendant by protestation, etc., doth demur in law to the said bill, and for cause of demurrer sheweth that, although the said plaintiff's said bill is upon the face thereof a bill of interpleader, yet the said plaintiff has not annexed to his said bill an affidavit that he doth not collude concerning such matters with any of the defendants thereto, which affidavit ought, according to the rules of this court, as this defendant is advised, to have been made by the said plaintiff and annexed to the said bill; and for further cause of demurrer this defendant further sheweth that the said bill does not contain sufficient matter of equity whereupon this court can ground any decree in favor of the said plaintiff, or give the said plaintiff any relief against this defendant. Wherefore, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins ed.) 2119.

G. Demurrer to Bill of Interpleader for Want of Claim of Right in Defendant.

This defendant, by protestation, etc., doth demur, and for cause of demurrer sheweth, that the plaintiff has not in his said bill of interpleader shown any claim or right, title, or interest whatsoever in this defendant in or to the said estate called A. in the said bill particularly mentioned and described, in respect whereof this defendant ought to be compelled to interplead with C. D., in the said bill named, and the other defendant thereto. Wherefore, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins ed.) 2120.

H. Demurrer to Bill for Relief From Mandamus.

As to so much and such part of the said plaintiff's bill as prays an injunction, or order in the nature of an injunction, to stay proceedings on the writ of mandamus, issued to compel the said plaintiff to hold a court, and admit these defendants respectively as tenants thereto, these defendants severally demur, and for cause of demurrer show that it is against the course and practice, and not within the jurisdiction of this court to interfere or afford relief against the said writ of mandamus, or any other proceeding of a criminal or mandatory nature. Wherefore, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins ed.) 2120.

I. Demurrer to a Bill for Relief on Lost Bond for Want of Affidavit of Loss.

That the said plaintiff by his said bill, as this defendant is advised, endeavors to entitle himself to a sum of money due upon the bond therein stated to have been entered into by this defendant to the said plaintiff, and suggests for equity that the said bond has been burnt, lost or destroyed; and the said plaintiff has not by affidavit, annexed to and filed with the said bill, made oath that the said bond is burnt, lost or destroyed. Wherefore, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins ed.) 2120.

J. Demurrer to Bill of Review and Supplemental Bill.

These defendants by protestation, etc., do demur in law thereto, and for cause of demurrer show that there are no errors in the record and premises, and in the decree of the ——— day of ———, in the said bill of review and supplemental bill mentioned, nor is there any sufficient matter alleged in the said bill of review and supplemental bill to entitle the said plaintiff to reverse the said decree; and for divers other defects and errors appearing in the said bill of review and supplemental bill, these defendants do demur in law thereto; and these defendants, for further cause of demurrer, humbly show that, under the rules of this honorable court, no supplemental or new bill in the nature of a bill of review, grounded upon any new matter discovered or pretended to be discovered since the pronouncing of any decree of this court, in order to the reversing or varying of such decree, shall be exhibited without the special leave of the court first obtained for that purpose, wherefore and for that the said plaintiff does not allege by the said bill of review and supplemental or new bill that he had first obtained leave of this court for exhibiting the said bill of review and supplemental or new bill, these defendants demur in law thereto, and humbly pray the judgment of the court whether they ought to be compelled to put in any further or other answer to the said plaintiff's said bill of review and supplemental or new bill, and humbly pray to be hence dismissed with their reasonable costs in this behalf, most wrongfully sustained. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins ed.) 2122.

K. Demurrer in Equity in Creditor's Suit.

That the said plaintiff has not alleged, nor does it appear by his said bill that he has sued out execution, and actually taken out a fieri facias on his said judgment, and that until he has so done the goods of A. B., in the said bill named, are not bound by the said judgment, nor the said plaintiff entitled to a discovery thereof. Wherefore, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins ed.) 2121.

L. Demurrer in Equity for Multifariousness.

This defendant, by protestation, etc., doth demur, and for cause of demurrer sheweth that it appears by the said bill that the same is exhibited against the defendant and the several other persons therein named as defendants thereto for distinct matters and causes, in several whereof, as appears by the said bill, this defendant is not in any manner interested, or concerned, and that the said bill is altogether multifarious. Wherefore, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins ed.) 2117.

M. Demurrer to Discovery Where it Would Subject Defendant to Pains, Penalties and Forfeitures.

That the said information seeks to discover how this defendant came by the possession of the several goods therein particularly mentioned, whether it was not by fraud, violence, contrivance, or other means, etc., etc., but this defendant is advised that any discovery of the manner in which such goods came into this defendant's possession, as an officer of the honorable united company of merchants trading to the East Indies, would or might subject this defendant to fine, or corporal punishment, and the penalties contained in the several acts of parliament for the establishment of the said company, and also to a forfeiture of his rank and office in the service of the said company, and likewise of the said goods. Wherefore, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins ed.) 2122.

N. Demurrer in Equity for Infancy of Plaintiff (No Next Friend).

That the said plaintiff, who appears by his said bill to be an infant under the age of twenty-one years, has exhibited his said bill without any person being therein named as his next friend. Wherefore, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins ed.) 2119.

O. Demurrer in Equity for Want of Parties (a).

And for (further) cause of demurrer show that there are not proper parties to the said information, and that there is not and are not any person or persons, party or parties, to the said information who represents or represent, or has or have a common interest with the persons or class of persons whose interests the said information affects to protect, or for whom relief is thereby prayed. Wherefore, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins ed.) 2118.

Demurrer for Want of Parties (b).

These defendants, by protestation, etc., do demur to the said bill, and for cause of demurrer show that it appears by the said plaintiff's said bill that a personal representative of R. S., the testator therein named, resident within the jurisdiction of the court, is a necessary party to the said bill. Wherefore, etc.

Or thus: That it appears by the said bill that it is necessary that the estate of the plaintiff's late wife, M. N., in the said bill named, should be represented in this suit; but no legal personal representative of the said M. N. is named a party thereto. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2118.

P. Demurrer in Equity, Demurrer and Answer.

The joint and several demurrer of W. L. and J. L. to part, and the joint and several answer of the same defendants to the residue, of the original bill of complaint of T. A. P. and J. B., plaintiffs.

These defendants to so much of the plaintiffs' bill as prays that they may be decreed to transfer to the said plaintiffs, as the executors of G. M. in the said bill mentioned, the 21-64th shares of the ship called, etc., in the said bill mentioned, and that the said defendant J. L. may be decreed to transfer to the plaintiffs the 21-64th shares of the brig or vessel called, etc., in the said bill mentioned, and to so much of the said bill as prays that an account may be decreed to be taken of all the dealings and transactions between these defendants and the said G. M., with respect or in relation to the said two vessels, and of all sums of money respectively received and paid by these defendants and the said G. M. respectively, or by any other person by their or any of their respective order, or for their or any of their use, and that these defendants should be decreed to pay what should be found due thereon, so far as such dealings and transactions and sums of money, or any or either of them, relate to or concern the said 21-64th shares of the said vessel called, etc., or the said 21-64th shares of the said vessel called, etc., and the freights or freight, or any shares or share of the freights or freight, of such vessels or either of them, and to so much of the said bill as prays further or other relief with respect or in relation to the said shares of the said two vessels respectively or the freight thereof respectively.

(Cause of demurrer.) These defendants do demur and for cause of demurrer show that the said plaintiffs have not made or stated such a case as entitles them in a court of equity to the relief so prayed for, or any part thereof; and these defendants humbly pray the judgment of the court as to such parts of the bill as they have so demurred to as aforesaid.

(Answer to residue of bill.) And as to the residue of the said bill, that is to say, all the discovery, and the rest of the relief, by the said bill prayed, these defendants for answer thereto severally say they admit it to be true that Messrs. C. & N. were in the month of, etc., engaged in building at Liverpool, on their own account, a certain brig or vessel, and that in the month

(Add the joinder in demurrer, as follows): And the said plaintiff, for that he hath shown in evidence to the said jurors sufficient matter in maintenance of the said issue, which matter the said defendant doth not deny, nor in any manner answer thereto, prays judgment, and his damages by reason of the premises to be adjudged to him, etc. Whereupon it is told to the jurors aforesaid that they shall inquire what damages the said plaintiff has sustained, as well by reason of the matter shown in evidence as aforesaid, as for his costs and charges by him about his suit in this behalf expended, in case it shall happen that judgment shall be given upon the evidence aforesaid for the said plaintiff. maintain the said issue within joined, on the part of the said defendant, and which he is ready to verify: and forasmuch as the said plaintiff doth not deny, nor in any manner answer, the said matter, prays judgment, and that the said plaintiff may be barred from having his aforesaid action against him, and that the jury aforesaid may be discharged from giving their verdict upon the said issue. Wherefore let the jury aforesaid be discharged by the court here, by the assent of the parties, from giving any verdict thereupon.

(Add continuance by curia advisari vult, if necessary, as in last form.) Burr. App. 80, §150; Archb. Forms 120; Till. Forms 181.

Burr. App. 177, §327.

S., T. U. and V. W., of _____, merchants (or as the case may be), authorizing them, or any two of them, to examine on oath I. J., of _____, as a witness on the part of the (defendant), on interrogatories to be annexed to the said commission, in which the (plaintiff) will be at liberty to join. Burr. App. 199, §380.

B. Affidavit To Obtain Commission To Take Deposition.

"Thomas Cantwell, being duly sworn, says that he is one of the attorneys for the plaintiff in the above entitled action. That this action is brought to recover the sum of $3,754 from the defendants for the work and labor of Martin T. Lally in constructing a section of the St. Lawrence & Adirondack Railroad. That said Lally made a general assignment to plaintiff. Franklin county is the place of trial. That defendants in the answer allege that they do not owe the plaintiff anything, and that they have paid said Lally and his creditors for all work performed. . . . That said Martin T. Lally has died since the commencement of this action. . . . That William A. Dafter, who resides at Swan River, in the state of Minnesota, and Joseph P. Lally, who resides at Detroit, Michigan, are necessary and material witnesses for the plaintiff on the trial of this action, and each of them is a necessary and material witness on this trial on the following question, viz.: Upon the amount of work and labor performed by said Lally, and upon the amount of payments which the defendants made to said Lally, and upon the damages which said Lally suffered from the unreasonable delays of the defendants. That said Dafter is a civil engineer, and acted as the engineer of the said Martin T. Lally in the construction of said railroad, and in making the estimates of the amount of work performed, and said Joseph P. Lally was the brother of said Martin, and acted as his confidential man and helper in said work, and said Dafter and said Joseph P. Lally talked with deponent at Malone before they went away, and told deponent what they could swear to, and that they would and could testify as to the amount of work performed by said Lally, and also as to the said delays and damages, all of which are in controversy in this action. That each of said witnesses is a necessary and material witness for the plaintiff on the trial of said action, as deponent has advised the plaintiff, after such statement of said witnesses, and verily believes to be true, and that without the testimony of said witnesses and each of them the plaintiff cannot safely proceed to the trial of this action, as deponent has also advised the plaintiff, after such statement, and verily believes. That neither of said witnesses is now within the state of New York, but the said William A. Dafter is now at or near Swan River aforesaid, and that deponent had a letter from him at that place recently. That said Joseph P. Lally resides at 76 Windsor street, Detroit, Mich., and is not now in the state of New York, as deponent verily believes, because this deponent had a letter from said Joseph P. Lally, dated and postmarked at Detroit not long ago." Laidley v. Rogers, 67 Hun 653, 22 N. Y. Supp. 468.

Affidavit of Age of Witness To Obtain Examination De Bene Esse.

named plaintiff in this cause, make oath and say:

1. That C. D., of, etc., is a very material witness for the said plaintiff in this cause, and that he cannot without the evidence of the said C. D., as I am advised and verily believe, safely proceed to a hearing of this cause.

2. The said C. D. is now of the age of seventy years, as I have been informed by him and verily believe (and he appears to this deponent to be very weak and infirm, and in a declining state of health; on which account, and from his advanced years, he is, in all probability, not likely to live long). 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2183.

IV. Affidavit To Suppress, Notice Signed by Unauthorized Person in Name of Solicitor.

That annexed is the only notice of taking testimony ever served on the deponent on the part of the defendant, Harriet C. Laing, in this cause. That the same was handed to deponent by a colored man that he did not then know, and who was then an entire stranger to him. Deponent further says that S. T. Parsons, Esq., is the solicitor for the defendant, Harriet C. Laing, and the only solicitor of record of such defendant, and he is also well acquainted with the handwriting of S. T. Parsons, the said defendant's solicitor. That on the receipt of said notice deponent examined the signature, and he was then, and is now, well satisfied that said notice and the signature thereto is not the handwriting of said S. T. Parsons. That he is not acquainted with other signatures attached to said notice. Deponent further says, that from the way said notice was served, and from an examination of the signatures thereto, he came to the conclusion that the same was not made by any person authorized to take proceedings in the cause, and he gave it no attention, and he so believed until on his way to Flint, on the 29th day of June, 1868, at Gaines, deponent met Mr. Charles Draper, who informed deponent that he had been called upon to take testimony under said notice. DETINUE.

 II. Declaration in Detinue, House on Land of Another, 398

I. Declaration in Detinue.

A. B. (the plaintiff in this suit), by E. F., his attorney (or, in his own proper person), complains of C. D. (the defendant in this suit), who has been summoned to answer the said plaintiff (or, who has been arrested at the suit of the said plaintiff), in an action of detinue: For that whereas the said plaintiff heretofore, to-wit, on the _____ day of _____, in the year of our Lord _____, delivered to the said defendant certain goods and chattels, to-wit, forty bushels of wheat, of the said plaintiff, of great value, to-wit, the value of _____ pounds, of lawful money of Great Britain, to be redelivered by the said defendant to the said plaintiff when he the said defendant should be thereto afterwards requested: Yet the said defendant, although he was afterwards, to-wit, on the _____ day of _____, in the year aforesaid, requested by the said plaintiff so to do, hath not as yet delivered the said goods and chattels, or any of them, or any part thereof to the said plaintiff, but so to do hath hitherto wholly refused, and still refuses, and still unjustly detains the same from the said plaintiff, to the damage of the said plaintiff of _____ pounds; and therefore he brings his suit, etc. Steph. Pl. 38.

II. Declaration in Action of Detinue for House on Land of Another.

In a plea of detinue for that whereas the plaintiff heretofore, to-wit, on the first day of July, 1856, at Farmington aforesaid, was lawfully possessed of a certain house and a certain barn, both situated on the land of the said Daniel Dame, being the house built by the plaintiff in the year 1842, said house being about thirty-six feet long, and about twenty-six feet wide, and one story and one-quarter high, and of the value of $300; and said barn being about twenty-four feet long and about twenty feet wide, and of the value of $200, situated between the house of Eleazer Rand and the house now owned by Benjamin Chesley, on the left hand side of the road leading from the Bay road, so called, to the Ten Rod road, so called, as one goes toward the Ten Tod road, as of his own house and barn, and being so possessed, the said plaintiff afterward, to-wit, on the third day of July, 1856, casually lost the same out of his possession, which thereafter, to-wit, on the same day, came into the hands and possession of the said Daniel Dame, by finding; and the plaintiff further saith, that although the said Daniel Dame well knew that the said house and barn were the proper house and barn of the plaintiff, and although requested by the said plaintiff, to-wit, at said Farmington, on the nineteenth day of May, 1860, to deliver the same to the plaintiff, yet the said Daniel Dame hath not delivered up the said house and barn to the plaintiff, but wholly refuses so to do, and still unlawfully detains the same. Dame v. Dame, 43 N. H. 37.

I. Bill for Discovery.

Humbly complaining, show unto your honors your orator P. M., of, etc., J. A., of, etc., and J. R., of, etc., that by an indenture of assignment bearing date _____, and made between J. G. and J. W., therein described, of, etc., of the first part, the several persons who had thereunto set their hands and affixed their seals, creditors of the said J. G. and J. W., as co-partners as aforesaid, or of the said J. G. on his own separate account, of the second part, and your orators of the third part, they the said J. G. and J. W. (amongst other things), bargained, etc (setting out that part showing the assignment of the plaintiffs, and particularly the clause which gives them power to sue), as in and by, etc. And your orators further show unto your honors that at the time of the execution of the said indenture there was justly due and owing to the said J. G. and J. W., on their partnership account, from R. K., of, etc. (the defendant hereinafter named), the sum of $———, being the balance of an account between the said J. G. and J. W., the particulars whereof are set forth in the schedule hereto. And your orators further show that they have repeatedly applied to the said R. K. to pay to them as such trustees as aforesaid the said sum of $———, with which just and reasonable request your orators well hoped the said defendant would have complied, as in justice and equity he ought to have done.

But now so it is, etc., he has absolutely refused so to do; and your orators have therefore been compelled to commence an action in the names of the said J. G. and J. W., against the said defendant to compel the payment of the said balance; and your orators charge that the said defendant has pleaded a set-off in the said action, and has delivered a particular of such set-off, which, as far as it extends, to the date of the said assignment to your orators, corresponds in substance with the creditor's side of the account set forth in the schedule hereto; but the said defendant had added thereto three articles for copper delivered in the year ———, for which he claims credit in the said action. Whereas your orators charge that the said defendant at or about the time of the execution of the said assignment to your orators was apprised thereof, or had some reason to know, believe or suspect, and did know, believe, or suspect that the said J. G. and J. W. had made such assignment, or some assignment of their co-partnership property to your orators, or to some trustees for the benefit of their creditors. And your orators further charge that the said copper was delivered at ———, which had belonged to the said J. G. and J. W. and had been comprised in the said assignment to your orators, and had been afterwards sold by your orators to the said J. G.; and the said J. G. applied to the said defendant to purchase the said copper on his the said defendant's credit, or to guaranty the payment for the said copper to the person from whom it was bought, by reason that the circumstances of the assignment to your orators being known, the said J. G. could not obtain credit for the said copper in his own name alone; and the said defendant for that reason lent his credit to the said J. G. for the purchase of the said copper, or guaranteed the payment thereof, trusting to the personal responsibility of the said J. G. And your orators further charge that the said defendant has also added to his said particular of set-off a sum of $———, for a year and a half's wages for one J. D. C. Whereas your orators charge that the said defendant has no just right to any such demand against your orators as trustees under said assignment; and the said defendant refuses to set forth how he makes out such his claim, and when and up to what time he computes the said wages. And your orators charge that they are advised that they cannot safely proceed in the said action so commenced by them as aforesaid in the names of the said J. G. and J. W., without a discovery of the circumstances hereinbefore stated from the said defendant. To the end, therefore, etc.

And that the said defendant may set forth how he makes out such his said claim, and when and up to what time he computes the said wages, and whether your orators can safely proceed in the said action so commenced by them as aforesaid, in the names of the said J. G. and J. W., without a discovery of the circumstances hereinbefore stated from the said defendant. And that the said defendant may make a full and true discovery of all and every the matters aforesaid, may it please, etc.

II. Answers To Bills of Discovery.

A. Objections in Answer To Particular Interrogatories.

As to the several interrogatories numbered 18, etc., and as to such of the other interrogatories (or parts of interrogatories, if any) as I may not have answered, I am advised and humbly submit that I am not bound to answer the same, and I therefore decline to answer the said interrogatories (and parts of interrogatories); and I claim the same benefit of the objection as if I had demurred to the same or to the discovery sought thereby.

pose thereof to have any accounts, directions or inquiries taken, given or made; and I claim the same benefit of the objection as if I had demurred to the relief so sought. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2142.

Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2142.

C. Statement in Answer To Prevent Production of Confidential Communication.

Such of the said letters, papers and writings as are set forth in the second part of the said schedule were and are private and confidential communications between me and my solicitors or legal advisers in the ordinary course of professional business, and all and every of them relate to the matters in dispute between me and the plaintiff in the said action; and the plaintiff has not, as I am advised and verily believe, any right or title to the production of, or any interest whatever in, the letters, papers and writings in the said schedule mentioned, or any of them. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2143.

III. Production of Documents.

D., the defendant above named, make oath and say that neither I, this deponent, nor any person or persons, for my use, to my knowledge or belief, nor with my privity or consent, have or has, nor ever had, in my, his or their custody or power, any deeds, papers or writings, or books of account relative to the matters in question in this cause, save and except the several deeds, books of account, papers and writings mentioned and contained in the schedule hereunto annexed. 3 Dan. E. Petition for Order Requiring Production of Documents.

The petition of James Seligman respectfully shows to the court:

I. That he is one of the plaintiffs in the above entitled action.

II. That this action is brought by your petitioner and his co-plaintiff, constituting the firm of J. & W. Seligman & Co., on a certain agreement made by the defendant company with the plaintiffs, set out in the complaint herein, to which reference is made as a part of this petition, and that the complaint alleges that the defendant wrongfully delivered to T. C. Bates, mentioned in said agreement, the stock, bonds and coupons therein mentioned, without receiving from him, for account of the plaintiffs, the payment of the sum therein mentioned.

III. That the defendant's answer sets up among other things (at folios 15-18 thereof) that the bonds mentioned in said agreement were on or about February 21, 1885, delivered by defendant's then president to the said Bates, mentioned in said agreement, in pursuance among other things of a certain certificate, bearing date September 23, 1882, and made with the knowledge of the plaintiffs by the person who at the date thereof was secretary of the defendant.

IV. That neither your petitioner, nor so far as he can discover after inquiry, any person connected with the said firm of J. & W. Seligman & Co., had, at the time of its date, or at any time thereafter, any knowledge or information of the making, existence or contents of the said certificate dated September 23, 1882.

V. That the said plaintiffs have, through their attorney in this action, requested of defendant's attorney to be furnished with a copy of the said certificate dated September 23, 1882, which request has been refused.

VI. That it is necessary and material for your petitioner, in order to prepare this action for trial, and to try this cause, to obtain the discovery and production of said certificate dated September 23, 1882, and an inspection and copy, or permission to take a copy, of the same; and that as your petitioner is informed, and believes, the said certificate is in the possession or control of defendant herein, or its attorneys, and that annexed hereto, and marked "Exhibit A," is a copy of the correspondence in respect thereto between the attorneys of the parties.

VII. That your petitioner cannot obtain production or inspection or a copy of the said certificate except from the defendant or his attorneys.

Wherefore your petitioner prays that this court may grant an order that the said defendant produce and discover the said certificate dated September 23, 1882, or give your petitioner an inspection or copy thereof, or permission to take a copy thereof, and that your petitioner may have such other and further relief as may be proper. Seligman v. Real Estate T. Co., 20 Abb. N. C. (N. Y.) 210.

An order having been heretofore on November 26, 1886, entered in this action directing the defendant herein to allow the plaintiffs herein on or before November 30, 1886, to inspect a certain paper or certificate dated September 23, 1882, referred to in the petition on which said order was granted, and to take a copy of said paper or certificate, or in default thereof to show cause before this court why such inspection with copy should not be allowed; and the said defendant having appeared and failed to show sufficient cause why such inspection with copy should not be allowed.

Now on reading and filing copies of said order to show cause and of the petition on which the same was granted, and on the pleadings and proceedings herein, and after hearing John E. Burrill, esq., of counsel for the said plaintiffs, in support of said motion, and George W. Wickersham, of counsel for the said defendant in opposition thereto:

IV. Affidavit for Examination of Party Before Trial.

A. Affidavit.

(Allegation of corporate existence.)

That the general nature and object of the action is to compel the defendants

Ashland Power Company, Ironwood and Bessemer Railway & Light Company, Gogebic Street Railway Company, and Gogebic & Iron Counties Railway & Light Company and A. E. Appleyard, Manuel M. Reid, William H. Burgess, and Howard W. Lang, to transfer, or cause to be transferred, to plaintiff a one-third of the stock in the corporations last mentioned, and in each of them, and one-third of the profits which accrued upon the organization and consolidation of said corporations, and the construction and improvement of the equipment of each of them, and one-third of the profits which accrued upon the sale or exchange of the stock and bonds in each of said corporations. That discovery is necessary, and is sought by the examination of said defendants as to certain facts within their knowledge, and not within plaintiff's knowledge, in order to enable plaintiff to prepare his complaint herein. That the defendant A. E. Appleyard planned the organization of said Ashland Power Company, Gogebic Street Railway Company, Gogebic & Iron Counties Railway & Light Company, and the Ironwood & Bessemer Railway & Light Company, and outlined the scope and functions of each of them. That plaintiff took an active part in promoting the organization of all of said last named companies under an agreement with said A. E. Appleyard, and it was due chiefly to plaintiff's services that the franchises were obtained for said companies. That plaintiff's said services were so performed with the knowledge, consent and acquiescence of the then stockholders in said companies. That, under said agreement, plaintiff was to receive for his services a reasonable amount of stock and bonds of each of said corporations, and of the profits which accrued from the consolidation thereof and the sale of stock and bonds. That stock and bonds to the amount of several thousand dollars have been sold for said corporations by the defendants William H. Burgess and Howard W. Lang, under their firm name of Burgess, Lang & Co., since the month of February, 1908, the amount of such stock and bonds so sold or the commissions paid on such sales, or the proceeds of such sales, being unknown to plaintiff. That said A. E. Appleyard, as plaintiff is informed and verily believes, has exercised, and now exercises, complete dominion over all the corporations named through his ownership of a majority of the stock of said companies held for him and in his interest by third persons whose names are unknown to plaintiff, and said Appleyard has so manipulated the records and books of account of each of said corporations as to conceal its pecuniary condition or the correct amount of moneys received and disbursed by it, and said defendants William H. Burgess and Howard W. Lang, as plaintiff believes, have been in privity with said Appleyard in thus attempting to conceal the true state of affairs, to the prejudice of bondholders and innocent stockholders in said corporations, and to the profit and benefit of said A. E. Appleyard, William H. Burgess, and Howard W. Lang. That the points on which discovery is desired are: (1) The amount of stock and bonds issued and sold by each of the above named corporations, respectively, since February, 1908, and the proceeds received and the disposition of such proceeds in each instance. (2) The commissions paid on sales of all of said stock and bonds. (3) The names of the stockholders and directors in each of said corporations at all times since February, 1908. (4) The actual cost of all assets purchased and the actual cost of all improvements and repairs made by each of said corporations since March 1, 1908. (5) The specific nature of the assets now owned by each of said corporations, the value thereof, and the amount of indebtedness of each of them. (6) Whether the defendant Montreal & Bad River Improvement Company is a corporation, a joint stock company, or a copartnership, and if a corporation, under the laws of what state or country organized, the amount of its capital stock, the names of stockholders, and its business, and, if a partnership, the names of the individual members. Sullivan v. Ashland Light, P. & St. R. Co., 152 Wis. 574, 140 N. W. 316.

To the honorable justices of said court: We the undersigned, finding ourselves named as plaintiffs in the action of Richard Caverly and others against Peletiah Jones, Benjamin Durgin and Stevens Durgin, now pending in said court, respectfully represent, that said action was commenced, and our names used as plaintiffs, without our consent, knowledge or authority; and we object to the prosecution of said action in our names, and do hereby forbid the attorneys of said plaintiffs further prosecuting the same; that we have no doubt that the said Peletiah Jones, at the time the alleged trespasses were committed, was the lawful owner of the land upon which said supposed trespasses were committed, that we make no claim, and never have made any claim, to the land described in the plaintiffs' writ, and are fully satisfied that our ancestor, Stephen Pendergast, or his executors, sold and conveyed said land to William Laskey, under whom the said Jones claims title thereto; we therefore become nonsuit in said action, and pray the court so to order, and to protect us in the premises.

B. Orders.1. Order Dismissing for Non-Delivery of Copy of Bill.

On reading and filing due proof of the service upon the complainant's solicitor, more than twenty days since, of notice of the order of this court, made on the ——— day of ——— last, requiring the complainant to deliver to the defendant's solicitor a copy of the bill of complaint in this cause within twenty days after service of such notice, or that in default thereof said bill be dismissed with costs, and that no copy of such bill has been served upon the defendant's solicitor; on motion, etc., ordered that the bill in this cause be dismissed with costs, to be paid by the complainant, for want of prosecution. 2 Barb. Ch. Pr. 401.

2. Order for Dismissal of Bill at the Hearing.

This cause coming on, etc., this court doth order that the plaintiff's bill do stand dismissed out of this court (if there are other defendants who do not appear, or if dismissed against one of several defendants, as against the defendant B.), with costs to be paid by the plaintiff A. to the said defendant B.; and to be taxed by the, etc. (in case the parties differ). 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2348.

3. Order for Dismissal on Case Agreed.

"This cause having been submitted upon a case agreed by the parties, and upon the arguments of counsel thereon, as well on the part of the defendants, as of the plaintiffs, and due deliberation thereupon had, and it appearing that the plaintiffs are not entitled to the personal estate, either of the late Sir William Pulteney, or of the late Countess of Bath, in the pleadings mentioned, in exoneration of the land from the mortgage debt in question; it is thereupon ordered, etc., that the plaintiffs' bill be dismissed, and that no costs be charged by either party as against the other." 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2350.

4. Order for Dismissal; Reasons Stated; Costs; Without Prejudice to Right To Bring Another Suit.

"It is declared, that nothing appears to impeach the consideration, or validity of the judgment in the pleadings mentioned, in favor of the defendant H., nor his right and title to the proceeds of the personal estate of the G. Manuf. Co., sold under his execution, and paid to him, nor his right and title to collect the residue of the judgment by the means provided by law; and that the G. Manuf. Co., as well as other debtors, were authorized to give preferences among creditors for a debt justly due. It is therefore ordered, etc., that the bill as to the defendant H. be dismissed, with costs. And it is further declared, that the plaintiffs were not entitled, at the time of filing their bill, to question, in this court, the dispositions of their personal property, inasmuch as, at the time of filing their bill, they had not acquired a lien at law upon the real estate, as judgment creditors, nor have they, as yet, acquired, as execution creditors, a legal preference to the personal property, by means of an execution duly issued and levied or returned, nor shown that they cannot obtain satisfaction of their debt by having tried in vain the ordinary process of such execution at law. And it is further declared, that though the defendants, who are trustees of the said company, and purchased in the personal property of the said company, under the execution of the defendant H., may be liable to have that property redeemed and resold, for the benefit of the creditors seeking the same, after deducting the price they gave, and the just expenses incurred thereon; yet none but an execution creditor at law is entitled to ask for such assistance from this court, in respect to the personal estate. It is thereupon further ordered, etc., that the bill as to all the other defendants who have answered be dismissed without costs, and without prejudice to the right of the plaintiffs to bring a new suit for the purpose aforesaid in the proper character of judgment executive creditors." 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2350.

5. Order for Dismissal of Bill Framed To Prevent Prejudice.
Supreme Court of United States.

This cause came on to be heard on the transcript of the record from the circuit court of the United States for the district of ———, and was argued by counsel; on consideration whereof this court is of opinion that the decree of the circuit court ought to have shown that the bill was dismissed, because the deed therein mentioned being void at law for matter apparent on its face, the plaintiff had not shown any circumstances which disclosed a case proper for the interference of a court of equity to relieve against such void deed. And this court is further of opinion, that so much of the said decree as dismisses the bill with costs, is erroneous and ought to be reversed. This court doth therefore reverse and annul the said decree, and direct that the case be remanded to the said circuit court with directions to modify the same according to the principles of this decree. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2351; Piersoll v. Elliott, 6 Pet. 95, 101, 8 L. ed. 332.

6. Order for Dismissal of Bill Where Plaintiff Does Not Appear.

This cause coming on this day to be heard before this court, etc. (if set down by defendant, at the request of the defendant), in the presence of counsel learned for the defendant, no one attending for the plaintiff, although the plaintiff has been served (or although the plaintiff has been duly served) with a subpoena to hear judgment in this cause (at the request of the defendant), as by affidavit (now produced) appears, and upon hearing what was alleged by the counsel for the defendant, and upon reading the said affidavit, etc.; this court doth order that the plaintiff's bill do stand dismissed out of this court with costs, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2349.

7. Dismissal of Bill With Costs as to Some Defendants, and Without Costs as to Others.

This court doth order that the plaintiff's bill stand dismissed out of this court, without costs, as against the defendants A. B., etc., and with costs as against the defendants D., E.,

Your orator J. A. D., of the town of Saratoga Springs, in the county of Saratoga, and state of New York. That on or about the _____ day of _____, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and twenty-five, your orator intermarried with C. B. (now C. D.), at the town of Hague, in the county of Warren, and state aforesaid; and that your orator continued to live with the said C. as his wife until about the _____ day of _____; and that from the time of the said marriage they have been, and at the time and times of the commission of the several acts of adultery hereinafter set forth, were, and now are, inhabitants of this state.

And your orator further sheweth unto your honor that during the time he lived and cohabitated with the said C. as his wife, she had five children, to-wit: A., aged about seventeen; M., aged about fifteen; H., now deceased; D., aged about ten; and M. E., aged about four. But your orator charges that he is not the father of the said M. E., she being illegitimate.

And your orator further sheweth unto your honor that he is informed and believes, and charges the truth to be, that the said C., disregarding the solemnity of the marriage vow, hath since the marriage of your orator with her as aforesaid, committed adultery at divers times and places, and especially that the said C., on some day or days during the year 1835, but on what particular day or days your orator is ignorant, at the town of _____, in the county of _____, and state aforesaid, did commit adultery and have carnal connection with one D. M. and one J. L.; and that the said C., at various other times during the said year 1835, committed adultery, and had carnal connection with the said D. M. and the said J. L., at the town and county last aforesaid, or at some place or places within the said county.

And your orator further sheweth unto your honor that he is informed and believes, and therefore charges the truth to be, that the said C., so disregarding the solemnity of the marriage vow as aforesaid, hath since your orator's said intermarriage with her, committed adultery, at divers times and in various places, and especially that the said C., on the _____ day of _____, in the year _____, at the village of _____, did commit adultery and have carnal connection with one M. W.; and that the said C. did at various other times during the year 1837 commit adultery and have carnal connection with the said M. W. at the place last aforesaid, or at some other place or places within the said county of _____.

And your orator further shows that he was wholly and entirely ignorant of the commission of the aforesaid acts of adultery by the said C., or any or either of them, until about the _____ day of _____ last. That five years have not elapsed since he discovered the fact that such adultery had been committed by her; that he has not voluntarily cohabited with her since the discovery thereof; and that such adultery was committed by her without his consent, connivance, privity or procurement.

And your orator further sheweth that he is informed and believes and therefore charges the truth to be, that the said C. is now, and for some time past has been, living with one L. N., in open and notorious adultery, at _____, and that five years have not elapsed since the commencement of such adulterous intercourse was discovered by your orator. And your orator charges that such adulterous intercourse between the said C. and the said L. N. was begun and is continued without his consent, connivance, privity or procurement.

In consideration whereof, and to the end that the said C. may full, true and perfect answer make to all and singular the premises, and that as fully and particularly as if the same were here again repeated and she interrogated thereto; and that the marriage between your orator and the said C. may be dissolved, and a divorce decreed, according to the statute in such case made and provided, and that the said M. E. may be declared to be illegitimate. And that your orator may have such further relief, or such other relief, in the premises as shall be equitable.

May it please (prayer for process of subpoena). 2 Barb. Ch. Pr. 680.

D. Petition for Alimony and Expenses.

To the chancellor of the state of New York:

The petition of the above defendant respectfully sheweth, that the said complainant A. B. has lately filed his bill in this court against your petitioner to obtain a decree dissolving the marriage solemnized between him and your petitioner, because of the alleged physical incapacity (or adultery) of your petitioner. That your petitioner being served with a subpoena for that purpose has caused her appearance to be entered in the said cause. And that she has put in her answer to the bill of complaint, on oath, denying the said physical incapacity (or adultery) with which she is charged in the said bill; as by reference to the said master will more fully appear.

And your petitioner further sheweth that she is wholly destitute of the means of supporting herself during the pendency of this suit, or of carrying on her defense and defraying the costs and expenses attending the same. That your petitioner has been informed and verily believes the said complainant has real estate and personal property to a large amount, and amply sufficient to enable him to advance thereout to your petitioner such sums as may be necessary for the above mentioned purposes. And it is hereby declared to be the duty of each of them to live chastely during their separation, and that it will be criminal, and an act void in law, for either of them, during the life of the other, to contract matrimony with any other person. And it is further ordered, etc., that the plaintiff, according to the prayer of her bill, shall be entitled to, and be charged with, the custody, care and education of the infant son of the parties in the pleadings mentioned, provided always that this order for the custody, care and education of the said infant may, at any time hereafter, be modified, varied or annulled, upon sufficient cause shown. And it is further ordered, etc., that the defendant pay to the plaintiff $200 a year, to be computed from the date of this decree, in half-yearly payments, to be applied towards the support and maintenance of the plaintiff and her son, and that this allowance is to continue until further order, and be subject to variation, as future circumstances may require. 4. Judgment for Divorce, Question of Alimony is Reserved and Referred.

And it is further ordered and adjudged that it be referred to A. C. B., esq., counsellor-at-law, as referee, to take proofs, and ascertain and report to this court what would be a suitable allowance to the plaintiff for her support, having regard to the circumstances of the parties respectively, and from what date the same should be allowed, and at what time or times and in what manner the same should be paid, and whether any and what moneys, heretofore paid or allowed by the defendant to the plaintiff since the commencement of this action, ought to be deducted from the payments hereafter to be made; the said referee having regard to the expenses of the plaintiff for counsel fees and otherwise in prosecuting this action, not taxable as costs merely; and that said referee also report what security for the payment of such allowance by the said defendant upon any estate of the said defendant or otherwise, would be reasonable and proper; and that he report the facts found by him, with his opinion on the matters aforesaid, and all proofs taken before him, and any rejection by him of proof offered.

And it is further ordered, decreed and adjudged that upon the coming in and filing of said report, this action be brought to a further hearing thereon, and, unless on such hearing the court shall otherwise direct, it shall, as the final judgment of court in this behalf,

Be then ordered, decreed and adjudged that the said E. F., the defendant, pay to the said C. N. F., the plaintiff, for her support, such sum and sums of money, and at such time and times, and in such manner as shall be specified in the report of said referee; and that he the said E. F., within thirty days from the entry of that judgment, give to the said C. N. 3 Chit. Pl. 1311.

C. Declaration in Dower.

———, to-wit, A. B., widow, who was the wife of E. B., deceased, by ———, her attorney, demands against C. D. the third part of ten messuages, ter barns, ten stables, four gardens, four orchards, two thousand acres of meadow, two thousand acres of pasture, and two thousand acres of other land with the appurtenances, in the parish of ———, in the county of ———, as the dower of the said A. B., of the endowment of E. B., deceased, heretofore her husband, whereof she has nothing, etc. Steph. Pl. 30.

D. *Pleas.*1. Plea by Defendant by Guardian, That He Was Always Ready to Render Dower.

And the said W. by H. B., who is admitted by the court of the king here to defend in this behalf for the said W., who is under the age of twenty-one years, as the guardian of the said W., cometh and saith that from the death of the said J., late husband of the said M., he hath been always ready, and still is ready, to render to the said M. her dower of the said tenements and premises, with the appurtenances, and rendereth the same here in court to the said M. 3 Chit. Pl. 1316.

2. Plea Ne Unques Se. Sic. Que.

And the said C. D., by ———, his attorney, comes and says that the said A. B. ought not to have her dower of the manors, tenements, and rents aforesaid, with the appurtenances and advowsons aforesaid of the endowment of the said E. B., heretofore her husband, because he says that the said E. B., heretofore her husband, was not, either on the day on which he married the said A. B., or ever after, seised of such estate of and in the said manors, tenements, and rents, with the appurtenances and advowson aforesaid, whereof, etc., that he could endow the said A. B. thereof, and of this he puts himself upon the country, and the said A. B. doth the like. 3 Chit. Pl. 1316.

3. Plea Ne Unques Accouple.

And the said C. D., by ———, his attorney, comes and says that the said A. B. ought not to have her dower in this behalf, as having been the wife of the said E. B., deceased, because he says that the said A. B. never was accoupled to the said E. B., deceased, in lawful matrimony, and this the said E. D. is ready to verify, and therefore he prays judgment if the said A. B. ought to have her dower of the messuages and tenements aforesaid, with the appurtenances. 3 Chit. Pl. 1317.

E. *Replications.*1. Replication That They Were Lawfully Married (in England).

And the said A. B., by the said ———, her attorney, aforesaid, says that she ought not by anything in the plea of the said C. D. above alleged, to be barred from having her aforesaid dower in this behalf, because she says that the said A. B., on the, etc., at ———, in the county of ———, in the parish church of ———, to-wit, etc., aforesaid, was accoupled to the said E. B., deceased, in lawful matrimony, and this she is ready to verify, when, where, and in such manner as the court here shall consider, etc. 3 Chit. Pl. 1317.

2. Replication Where Married Without Jurisdiction.

(Concluding): And this she prays may be inquired of by the country. 3 Chit. Pl. 1318.

F. Verdict in Dower.

(As in other cases), being chosen, tried and sworn to speak the truth of the matters within contained, say, upon their oath, that the within named E. D., heretofore the husband of the said F. D., was, on the day in which he married the said F. D., and after, seised of such estate of and in the within named manors, tenements, and rents, with the appurtenances, and advowson within mentioned, that he could endow the said F. D. thereof as the said F. D. has within alleged. And the jurors aforesaid, upon their oath aforesaid, further say that the said F. D. being so as aforesaid seised of such estate, of and in the within mentioned manors, tenements, and rents, with the appurtenances and advowson aforesaid, died so seised thereof on the ——— day of ———, in the ——— year of the reign, etc., and that the said manors, tenements, and rents aforesaid, with the appurtenances and advowson aforesaid, are worth by the year in all issues, besides reprises, £———, and they assess the damages of the said F. D. on occasion of the detention of her said dower, over and above the said value, and over and above her costs and charges by her about her suit in this behalf expended, to £———, and for those costs and charges to 40s. 3 Chit. Pl. 1322.

G. Judgments.

1. Judgment After Verdict to Recover Dower and Damages.

Therefore it is considered that the said A. B. do recover against the said C. D., as well her seisin of a third part of the said manors, tenements, and rents, with the appurtenances, and of the advowson aforesaid, to hold to her in severalty by metes and bounds, to the value of a third part of the said manors, tenements, and rents, with the appurtenances and advowson aforesaid, from the time of the death of the said E. B., heretofore her husband, which said value, from the time of the death of the said E. B., heretofore her husband, amounts to £475, and her damages aforesaid to £14, by the jurors aforesaid, in farm aforesaid assessed, and also £41 for her said costs and charges by the court here adjudged of increase to the said A. B., and with her assent, which said value and damages in the whole amount to £580, and the said B., in mercy, etc., whereof £48 10s. are assigned to T. R., etsq., clerk of our lord the king. 3 Chit. Pl. 1322.

2. Judgment for Demandant for Dower, No Damages Found.

Therefore it is considered that the said S. do recover against the said J. her seisin of the said third part of the said three messuages, two workhouses, one garden, and two back sides, with the appurtenances, parcel of the tenements within specified, whereof, etc., to hold to her in severalty by metes and bounds, and the said J. in mercy, etc., and hereupon the said S. prays a writ of our lord the king to be directed to the sheriff of the county aforesaid, to cause her to have full seisin of the said third part of the said three messuages, two workhouses, one garden, and two back sides, with the appurtenances, parcel, etc., and it is granted to her, returnable here on, etc. 3 Chit. Pl. 1323.

H. Writ of Habere Facias Seisinam of Recovered Dower.

William the fourth, by the grace of God, of the united kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, king, defender of the faith. To the sheriff of Essex, greeting:

Whereas A. B., widow, who was the wife of E. B., deceased, hath lately in our court, before Sir J. E., knt., and his companions, our justices of the bench at Westminster, by our writ of dower, whereof she hath nothing, and by the judgment of the said court recovered against C. D. her seisin of the third part of (three messuages, two workhouses, one garden, and two back sides), with the appurtenances, in the parish of ———, in your county, as the dower of her the said A. B. of the endowment of the said E. B., her late husband, whereof the said C. D. is convicted, as by the record and proceedings thereof remaining in our said court of the bench at Westminster aforesaid, more fully appears. Therefore we command you, that you, without delay, deliver to the said A. B., seisin of the said third part of the said three messuages, two workhouses, one garden, and two back sides, with the appurtenances, to hold to her in severalty by metes and bounds, according to the force, form and effect of the said recovery, and how you shall execute this our writ, certify to our justices at Westminster, on ———, returning to us this our writ. Witness, etc. 3 Chit. Pl. 1323.

II. Proceedings in Equity.

A. Bill for Dower Setting Aside Release for Fraud.

Humbly complaining, show unto this honorable court, your orator Ellick P., of Cincinnati, in the state of Ohio, esq., and a citizen of the said state of Ohio, and your oratrix Elizabeth P., now the wife of the said Ellick P., of said Cincinnati, and a citizen of the said state of Ohio, gentlewoman, that the said Elizabeth, who was the widow of R. M., late of M., in the said commonwealth of Massachusetts, deceased, intestate, wherein the said Ellick and Elizabeth demand against the Monson and Brimfield Manufacturing Company, duly and legally incorporated by that name within the said commonwealth of Massachusetts, the reasonable or just third part whereof the said Elizabeth is by law dowerable according to the true intentment of law, of, and in the following described lands or tenements bounded and described as follows, to-wit: (Description and boundaries.)

Whereupon your said orator and oratrix complain and say that the said R. H., formerly the husband of your said oratrix, was seized in his demesne as of fee of the aforesaid described lands and tenements during the coverture of the said R. M., with her your said oratrix, and while she was his wife and was actually in possession thereof.

And your said orator and oratrix further say that they at said M., on the 2d day of March, A. D. 1823, did make demand and require of the said Monson and Brimfield Manufacturing Company, who then did, and now do, claim a right of freehold and inheritance in the before described premises, to assign and set out to her your said oratrix her dower or just third part of and in the aforesaid premises.

And your orator and oratrix further say that since the time of making said demand as aforesaid more than one month hath elapsed, and that the said Monson and Brimfield Manufacturing Company did not within one month next after said demands being made as aforesaid, assign and set out to your oratrix her dower, or any part thereof, in the aforesaid premises, and that the said Monson and Brimfield Manufacturing Company, or either of the members thereof, have not done, or caused the same to be done, at any time since, but, on the contrary, they then refused and still refuse so to do.

But now so it is, may it please your honors, that the said Monson and Brimfield Manufacturing Company, being in no wise ignorant of the premises, but contriving and confederating with each other, and with several other persons to your orator and oratrix yet unknown, in order to wrong and injure your said orator and oratrix, and to prevent your oratrix from having her dower or just third part of and in the aforesaid premises assigned and set out to her according to the true intentment of law.

Your orator and oratrix give your honors to be informed that the said confederates pretend and give out that the said oratrix, during her coverture, and while she was the wife of said R. M., did sign, seal, and deliver some deed, or other instrument in writing, whereby she acquitted, released, and discharged all her right of dower in the aforesaid described premises.

Now your orator and oratrix charge the contrary thereof to be true, and, moreover, that the said oratrix never did make any such release or discharge to them, the said Monson and Brimfield Manufacturing Company, as hereinbefore pretended, or if she did give or execute the same, she was grossly deceived and imposed upon in relation thereto, and that the same was obtained from her, or she was prevailed upon to execute the same by unfair means or practices used in that behalf by the said confederates.

And your orator and oratrix further charge and complain that the said pretended release or instrument was procured and brought to the said oratrix, ready drawn and prepared for execution, and that she would not have signed or executed the same, in case she had known or been fully apprised of the real purport, tenor, or contents thereof, nor was any sum or sums of money whatever paid to or received by her, as the consideration for her executing the said pretended release or instrument. Under the circumstances aforesaid, your said orator and oratrix insist that the said pretended release or instrument ought to be delivered up to be cancelled, as having been fraudulently and unfairly, and without consideration, obtained from the said oratrix.

But nevertheless the said confederates insist upon the contrary, and claim the full benefit of the said pretended release or instrument, and threaten and intend, in case your orator and oratrix proceed at law against them touching the matters aforesaid, to set up the pretended release or instrument in bar thereto.

And, also, your orator and oratrix here before your honors insist that the said pretended deed or instrument, in manner and form as the same was signed, sealed and delivered, was not a discharge or relinquishment of dower of your oratrix in the premises therein referred to, and that the same, by the laws of the land, does not bar or exclude her from such dower or right in the within described lands or tenements.

And your orator and oratrix further complain, and give your honors to be informed, that the said confederates pretend that your oratrix, during the lifetime of her late husband R. M., and while she was his wife as aforesaid, did join with her said husband in the several deeds of sale and conveyance by him made, of the said several pieces of land, as hereinbefore described, and that your orator, by such joining in the aforesaid deeds of sale and conveyance, has lawfully barred or excluded herself from such dower or right. Now your orator and oratrix, on the contrary, charge and say, that your oratrix did not join with her said husband R. M. in any deed of sale or conveyance of the before described premises, as they pretend, and that she is not, by the laws of the land, barred or excluded from her said dower or right in or to the within described lands or tenements.

In consideration of all which, and inasmuch as your orator and oratrix cannot have relief in the premises by the plain, direct, and ordinary course of the common law, to the end, therefore, that the said Monson and Brimfield Manufacturing Company, and the rest of the confederates, when discovered, may be holden to account with, or assign and set out to, your orator her dower or just third part in or to the within described premises, your orator and oratrix humbly pray that W. P., E. T. A., J. H., S. W., Jr., G. B., B. S., S. C. and G. T., all of B., in the said district of Massachusetts, gentlemen, W. B., of C., in said district, gentleman, and J. H., Jr., of M., in said district, gentleman, all being proprietors and constituting the Monson and Brimfield Manufacturing Company, and citizens of the said state of Massachusetts; and such other confederates, when discovered, may be called and required severally to answer on oath, fully and particularly, all and singular the matters herein set forth.

Wherefore, may it please your honors, etc. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 1924.

M. by the said defendant in respect of her dower out of such lands and tenements, and that such part of what shall be coming on said account of rents and profits of the said copyhold or customary lands and tenements as the said plaintiff B. M. shall appear to be entitled to in respect of her said dower or other widow's estate in such copyhold or customary lands and tenements, is to be paid to the said plaintiff B. M. by the said defendant; and for the better taking the said account, etc. Van Heyth. Eq. Dr. 827.

2. Decree Assigning Dower, Commissioners Appointed.

This cause came on to be heard at the, etc., on the bill and answer, and was argued by counsel. Whereupon it is ordered, adjudged, and decreed, that the said Ellick and Elizabeth, in her right, have as her dower, of the endowment of R. M., her late husband, now deceased, one just third part of the lands, tenements, and hereditaments hereinafter mentioned, exclusive of the increased value of the same, arising from or caused by the buildings erected and improvements made upon said lands and tenements, etc., or any one of them, since the alienation thereof by the said M., viz., of one certain tract of land, etc., etc.

And it is further ordered and decreed that the said Ellick and Elizabeth have and recover their reasonable damages by reason of the detention of her dower in the premises, from and after the 3d day of March, A. D. 1823, when they demanded of the defendants that they should assign and set out to the said Elizabeth her said dower in said lands, tenements, and hereditaments, until the present time. And that the plaintiffs recover of the defendants their legal costs of this suit, to be taxed by the court. And it is further ordered and decreed that this bill be dismissed as to all the other lands and tenements mentioned in said bill, and the said Ellick and Elizabeth's claim, in her right of dower in the same, or any or either of them.

And it is further ordered and decreed that commissioners be appointed to inquire, ascertain, act and report, as soon as may be, on the matters following, viz.:

1. The several and respective times when the said R. M. alienated the above described lands, tenements and hereditaments, and any parcels or undivided parts thereof.

2. The present value of said lands, etc., exclusive of the increased value occasioned by the buildings and improvements on the premises, since the alienation thereof by the said R. M.; and also the reasonable damages by reason of the detention of her dower in the premises from and after the third day of March, A. D. 1823, to the present time.

3. If the commissioners shall find that one-third part of said lands, etc., can be assigned and set off to said Elizabeth, by metes and bounds, without great prejudice to the same, then, that they proceed to assign and set off to the said Elizabeth one just third part of said lands, etc., exclusive of the increased value thereof, occasioned by the buildings erected and improvements made thereon since the alienation thereof by said R. M., meaning so much and such part of said lands, etc., as would be equal in value to one just third part thereof at the present time, in case no buildings had been erected or improvements made thereon, since the alienation thereof by the said R. M.

4. If the commissioners shall find that one-third part of said lands, etc., cannot be assigned and set off to said Elizabeth, as aforesaid, to hold in severally by metes and bounds, without inconvenience and prejudice to the same, then, that they inquire and ascertain, and report to the court, the yearly amount and value of the rents, profits, and income of said lands, etc., exclusive of the increased value arising from, and occasioned by, the buildings erected, and improvements made thereon, since the alienation thereof by said R. M., meaning the true yearly amount and value of the rents, profits, and income, which the said lands, etc., would now yield, in case no buildings had been erected or improvements made thereon since the alienation thereof by the said R. M. 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2290.

3. Decree Assigning Dower and Ordering Inquiry as to Separate Parcels.

This cause coming on this day to be heard for final decree on the pleadings, proof and note of testimony, and it appearing to the satisfaction of the court that complainant was married to and became the lawful wife of Joab Bagley on the 21st day of May, 1848, and so continued until the time of his death, and that on the 15th day of July, 1854, Joab Bagley became and was seized in fee of the land in the bill of complaint described, and so continued until the time of his death, and that he departed this life on the 27th day of April, 1875, it is decreed that complainant is entitled to the relief prayed for, and to be endowed of the land in the bill described, and it appearing that certain of the defendants claim to be tenants of certain portions of said land as purchasers thereof from the Elyton Land Company, and that improvements have been made on said lands, it is ordered that it be referred to the clerk and registrar of this court to inquire and ascertain what parts, if any, of said lands were granted by said Elyton Land Company, at any, and what time, or times, before the commencement of this suit, to S. B. Garrett, John Crowder, the Highland Avenue & Belt Railroad Company, respectively, and whether or no dower can be severally assigned by metes and bounds in each of said parcels of land granted as aforesaid to the three persons last named, so that the complainant may hold and enjoy the same in severalty, as and for her dower interest in each parcel thereof, without prejudice to the just rights of either party. And that an account be taken of the annual rents and profits, together with the annual interest thereon, of each of said parcels of land (exclusive of improvements thereon), which was granted to said Garrett, Crowder, and Highland Avenue & Belt Railroad Company, respectively, by the Elyton Land Company, from the time of Bagley's death to the time of the report. And that an account be taken of the annual rents and profits, together with the annual interest thereon, of each of said parcels of land, together with the improvements thereon, from the time or times the same were granted to the said Crowder, Garrett and Highland Avenue & Belt Railroad Company, respectively, by the said Elyton Land Company, to the time the report is made. It is further ordered that an account be taken of the annual rents and profits, together with the annual interest thereon, of the whole of said land (saving and excepting such portions thereof as were granted by the said Elyton Land Company before the commencement of this suit to said persons hereinbefore named, or either of them), first, exclusive of the improvements thereon, and second, together with all the improvements thereon, from the time of the death of the said Bagley to the date of the report, and to inquire and ascertain, if any and what portion of said land is woodland and of but little rental value. Elyton Land Co. v. Denny, 108 Ala. 553, 18 Pac. 561.

Burr. App. 584, §1145.

4. Report of Commissioners on Dower.

We, ———, ———, ———, commissioners appointed by the (state the court) to admeasure the dower of ——— in the lands and premises described and set forth in her petition, in the above entitled cause, do certify and return to the said court that after our said appointment we took and subscribed the oath of office required by law, and then went to the lands and premises aforesaid, and in pursuance of authority to us given for that purpose, did on the ——— day of ——— admeasure, set apart and allot to the said ———, as and for her dower therein, the one-third part in value of the said lands and premises, as follows, to-wit (here describe the premises). And that the said commissioners do further return, report and certify to the said court the items of our charges as follows (here insert items). In testimony whereof we have hereunto set our hands and seals this ——— day of ———, in the year of ———. Compiled from Burr. App. pp. 576, 584, pars. 1128, 1146.

5. Order To Confirm Report of Commissioners on Dower.

On reading and filing the report of O. P., Q. R., and S. T., commissioners heretofore appointed to admeasure the dower of the said H. B. in the lands and premises described and set forth in her petition for the appointment of the said commissioners, by which it appears that after being duly sworn, they, the said commissioners, did, on the ——— day of ———, etc., admeas-ure, set apart and allot to the said H. B., as and for her dower therein, the one-third part in value of the said lands and premises, as follows, to-wit: (here describe the premises). And now, to-wit, on the sixty-ninth day of said term, upon reading the report of the commissioners appointed by the court to ascertain the dower of the plaintiff and her damages, filed in the clerk's office on the 25th day of February, A. D. 1881, and the exception of the plaintiff to the said report filed in said office on the 23d day of March, A. D. 1881, and hearing what was alleged by the counsel for the respective parties, it is considered that the said report do stand confirmed, and that the plaintiff do recover against the defendants as well her seisin of a third part of the rents, issues, and profits of the freehold in her writ and declaration mentioned, to hold to her in severalty to the amount or value of one hundred dollars per annum, as the sum of ten cents for her damages by the said commissioners ascertained to have been by her sustained on occasion of the detention of her dower, and also her costs of this suit, to be taxed by the clerk. And hereupon the plaintiff prays a writ of execution for such damages and to put the plaintiff in perception of said one-third part of said rents, issues, and profits to the amount or value aforesaid, and it is granted to her issuable and returnable according to law. - II. Affidavit To Compel Election, 436

- III. Notice of Motion To Compel Election, 436

I. Demurrer to Replication for Duplicity.

For that the said plaintiff hath not, in or by his said replication, taken or tendered any single or material issue out of or upon the said plea of the said defendant by him last above pleaded in bar, but hath stated and put in issue, in his said replication, that the said bill of exchange, in the said first count mentioned, was not made and drawn for the corrupt considerations in the said last plea mentioned, or either of them, whereas every matter and thing stated in the said second plea in any matter relating to the said sum of £—— in the said plea mentioned, which is one of the matters stated and relied upon as a consideration in the said replication, was merely stated as inducement, and as a matter upon which no issue was intended to be offered or could be taken; and for that the said plaintiff hath not, in or by his said replication, traversed, or in any manner denied by traverse, or otherwise, the only material fact contained in the plea of the said defendant, by him lastly above pleaded in bar, and upon which any material issue could be taken, namely, whether there was any such corrupt contract and agreement for making and drawing, or in respect of the said bill of exchange in the first count mentioned, which he ought to have done; and for that the said replication is double and confused, in putting in issue two several and distinct matters, namely, whether the said bill of exchange in the said first count mentioned, was given for two illegal considerations, namely, a gambling consideration, and a usurious consideration, whereas the only material fact contained in the second plea of the said defendant was, whether it was given upon a corrupt and usurious consideration, in pursuance of a corrupt and usurious contract and agreement; and for that the said plaintiff hath not, in or by his said replication, traversed, denied, or in any manner put in issue such corrupt contract and agreement, which is the gist and foundation of the defense of the said defendant in that respect, inasmuch as that alone could make the said bill of exchange void in law, or bring it within the meaning and intent of the said statute in such case made and provided, etc. 3 Chit. Pl. 1263.

II. Affidavit To Compel Election Between Several Counts for Same Cause of Action.

Y. Z., being duly sworn, says:

1. That he is the defendant in the above entitled action. (Or if otherwise, show in some way deponent's knowledge of the circumstances involved.)

11. That only one transaction of the nature mentioned in either of the supposed causes of action set up in the complaint ever occurred between deponent and the plaintiff, and that the transactions mentioned in both of the said supposed causes of action are in reality one and the same. 2 Abb. Forms 213.

III. Notice of Motion To Compel Election Between Several Counts for Same Cause of Action.

Please take notice, that upon the summons and complaint in this action (and on an affidavit, of which a copy is herewith served), the undersigned will move the court, at a special term to be held at _____, on the _____ day of _____, 18____, at _____ o'clock in the _____ noon, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, that the plaintiff be required to elect between the first stated cause of action and the second stated cause of action in the complaint, and state which he will rely on; and that on such election the other be stricken out; or in default of so electing, then that the second stated cause of action be stricken out as redundant; and for such other or further relief as may be just (and for the costs of this motion). 2 Abb. III. Replication to Plea of Duress, 437

I. Pleas.

A. Plea Duress of Imprisonment.

And the said C. D., defendant in this suit, by S. G. R., his attorney, comes and defends the wrong and injury when, etc., and says that the said plaintiff ought not to have or maintain his aforesaid action thereof against him, because he says, that before and at the time the said promissory note (or bill of exchange) was made, he, the said defendant, was imprisoned by the said plaintiff (and others in collusion with him), to-wit, at, etc., and then and there continued so imprisoned until he, the said defendant, through the force and restraint of that imprisonment, there made and gave the said note (or bill of exchange), to the said plaintiff, and this, etc., wherefore, etc. Burr. App. 346, §634.

B. Plea of Duress of Imprisonment (in debt).

And the said C. D., defendant in this suit, by S. W., his attorney, comes and defends the wrong and injury, when, etc., and says that he ought not to be charged with the said debt, by virtue of the said supposed writing obligatory (or, indenture, etc.), because, he says, that he, the said defendant, at the time of making the said writing, to-wit, on the said _____ day of _____ in the year one thousand eight hundred and _____, aforesaid, at, etc. (the venue), aforesaid, was unlawfully imprisoned by the said plaintiff (and others in collusion with him), and then and there detained in prison, until by the force and duress of imprisonment of him, the said defendant, he made the said writing, and delivered the same to the said plaintiff, as his deed. And this he is ready to verify. Wherefore he prays judgment, if he ought to be charged with the said debt, by virtue of the said supposed writing obligatory (or, indenture, etc.) Burr. App. 356, §648; 3 Chit. Pl. 965.

II. Answers.

A. Answer, Duress by Imprisonment.

That the defendant, at the time of the making of the said (contract), was imprisoned by the said plaintiff (and others in collusion with him), and then and there detained until, by the force and duress of imprisonment, the defendant made and delivered the same. Wherefore, the defendant demands that the same be adjudged void, and be delivered up to be canceled. 2 Abb. Forms 41.

B. Answer, Duress by Threats.

That the instrument in the complaint mentioned was obtained from the defendant by the plaintiff (and others in collusion with him) by duress of the defendant in threatening (or beating) the defendant; in consequence of which, and in fear and apprehension thereof, the defendant executed the instrument. Wherefore, the defendant demands that the same be adjudged void, and be delivered up to be canceled. 2 Abb. Forms 41.

III. Replication to Plea of Duress.

And the said plaintiff, as to the said plea of the said defendant by him (secondly) above pleaded, says, that the said plaintiff, by reason of anything by the said defendant in that plea alleged, ought not to be barred from having and maintaining his aforesaid action thereof, against the said defendant, because he says, that at the time the said (promissory note) was made, the said defendant was free and at large, and not under any imprisonment; and that such (note) was made by the said defendant of his own free will, and not by force or restraint of imprisonment in manner and form as the said defendant hath above in his said plea alleged. And this he, the said plaintiff, prays may be inquired of by the country, etc. Burr. App. 375, §679.

And, by reason thereof, the said plaintiff, during all the time aforesaid, ought to have had, and still of right ought to have, a certain way from and out of the said (garden), unto, into, through, and over a certain (close), in the parish aforesaid, and from and out of the same, unto and into (a certain wharf, or quarry, of the said plaintiff in the parish aforesaid), and so back again from the said (wharf, or quarry), unto and into, through, over and along the said (close), and from and out of the same into, unto and the said (garden) of the said plaintiff for himself and his servants, on foot, to go, return, pass, and repass, every year and at all times of the year, at his and their free will and pleasure, as to the said messuage and garden, with the appurtenances of the said plaintiff belonging and appertaining. Yet the said defendant well knowing the premises, but wrongfully and unjustly contriving, and intending to injure the said plaintiff in that behalf, and to deprive him of the use and benefit of his said way, whilst the said plaintiff was so possessed of his said messuage (and garden), with the appurtenances as aforesaid, to-wit, on, etc., and on divers other days and times between that day and the day of exhibiting this bill (or, if in C. And the said defendant being so seized of his said close and also being in the possession thereof, and having occasion to use the said way, did with his servants and horses, and mares and geldings, and cattle, at the said several times when, etc., pass and repass, in, by, through, and along the said way, from the said common king's highway, into, through, over, and along the said close of the said plaintiff called ———, in which, etc., unto and into the said close now of the said defendant, and so from thence back again, in, by, through, and along the said way, unto and into the said common king's highway, using the said way there for the purpose and on the occasion aforesaid, as he lawfully might for the cause aforesaid, and in so doing, etc. 3 Chit. Pl. 1118a.

B. Plea, Prescriptive Right of Way Where Defendant Has Closes at Both Ends.

(State a seisin in fee, as in preceding form.) And that he, the said C. D., and all those whose estates he now hath, and at the said several times when, etc., had, of and in the said messuage, farm, and lands, from time whereof the memory of man is not to the contrary, have had and used, and have been accustomed to have and use, and of right ought to have had and used, and the said C. D. with the appurtenances belonging and appertaining; and the said C. D. being so seized of the said messuage, farm and lands, and also being in the possession thereof, the said C. D. in his own right, and the said E. F. as his servant, and by his command, at the said several times when, etc., did pass and repass on foot, in and by and along the said way from and out of the said close (in this plea first mentioned), into, through, over, and along the said close of the said plaintiff, in which, etc., towards the said messuage, farms and lands, now of the said C. D. and so from thence back again, in, by, through, and along the said footway towards the said common king's highway, using the said way there for the purpose and on the occasion aforesaid, as they lawfully might for the cause aforesaid, and in so doing, etc. 3 Chit. Pl. 1120.

C. Plea, Right of Way by Non-existing Grant.

And for a further plea in this behalf (as to the said several supposed trespasses in the introductory part of the said second plea mentioned, and therein justified), the said defendant by like leave, etc., says (actio non), because he says, that he the said defendant, long before and at the said several times when, etc., was, and from thence hitherto hath been, and still is, seised in the demesne as of fee, of and in a certain (close) situate and being in the parish of _____ aforesaid; and the said defendant further saith, that long before any of the said several times when, etc., to-wit, on, etc., at, etc. (venue) aforesaid, by a certain deed made between I. M., who was then seised in his demesne as of fee of the said (close) now of the said defendant, and whose estate therein he, the said defendant, now hath, but which deed hath since been lost and destroyed by accident, and therefore cannot be brought into the said court here, and the date whereof is for that reason wholly unknown to the said defendant, the said I. K. so then being owner of the said (close), in which, etc., did grant to the said L. M. so then being the owner of the said (close) now of the said defendant, and to the heirs and assigns of the said L. M., a certain way from (describe the way which may be thus): a certain public king's highway, in the parish aforesaid, into, through, over, and along the said (close), in which, etc., unto and into the said (close) now of the said defendant, and so back again from the said last-mentioned (close), into, through, over, and along the said (close), in which, etc., unto, and into the said public king's highway, to go, return, pass and repass on foot, by himself and themselves, and his and their servants, and with horses, mares, and geldings, carts and carriages, in and along the said last-mentioned way, every year, and at all times of the year, at his and their free will and pleasure. By virtue of which said grant, the said defendant before and at the said several times when, etc., was and still is entitled to such way as last aforesaid; and the said defendant being so seised and entitled to such way as last afore-

X. Indictment, Voting Not Being Legal Voter in District.

"On the tenth day of March, A. D. 1863, at the city of Portsmouth, in the county of Rockingham aforesaid, a town meeting of the legal voters of ward number three, in said Portsmouth, in the county aforesaid, for the election of two representatives to represent said ward in the general court of said state, was then and there duly holden, at which said town meeting the inhabitants of said ward legally qualified to vote therein were also called on to give in their votes for governor of said state, for one railroad commissioner, for a representative in the congress of the United States from congressional district number one of said state, for councillor from councillor district number one in said state, for county officers for the county of Rock-

"That Mike Gallagher, late of said county, on the 5th day of April, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one, and in said county and State of Texas, did then and there unlawfully and feloniously, at an election then and there held and authorized by law, within and for the corporation of the city of Weatherford, vote for city attorney and other officers then and there to be chosen at said election; he the said Mike Gallagher not then and there being a qualified voter at said election, for that he had been by the District Court of Dallas county, State of Texas, convicted in said court of the crime of burglary, and by said court sentenced to the State penitentiary for the term of two years, all of which the said Mike Gallagher did well know, and he the said Mike Gallagher did then and there know himself not to be a qualified voter under the laws of the State of Texas at said election; contrary," etc. Gallagher v. State, 10 Tex. App. 469.

XII. Indictment for "Repeating" at Election.

"Michael Welch is accused by the grand jury of the county of Washington, in the state of Minnesota, by this indictment, and upon their oaths, of the crime of voting more than once at the same election, committed as follows:

"That the city of Stillwater is a municipal corporation, within the county of Washington in the state of Minnesota, organized and acting under and by virtue of an act of the legislature of the state of Minnesota, entitled 'An act to reduce the law incorporating the city of Stillwater in the county of Washington and state of Minnesota, and the several acts amendatory thereof, into one act, and to amend the same,' approved March 3d, A. D. 1870, and the acts amendatory thereof. That on the 1st day of April, A. D. 1873, the municipal election of said city of Stillwater was then and there in said city being held, under and by virtue of the said act of the legislature above mentioned, and the acts amendatory thereof, and in accordance with law and the statutes in such cases made and provided, for the purpose of electing the officers of said municipal corporation, the said city of Stillwater, as provided and required by said act of the legislature of the State of Minnesota, and the acts amendatory thereof.

D. 1873, in said city of Stillwater, in said county of Washington, at said election, vote in said city of Stillwater in the first ward thereof, said Michael Welch being then and there a resident and legal voter in said ward in said city; and said Michael Welch did then and there, on said first day of April, A. D. 1873, in said city of Stillwater in said county of Washington, after the casting by him of the vote above mentioned, wrongfully, wilfully, unlawfully and feloniously vote a second time at said election in said city of Stillwater, said vote being cast by the said Michael Welch in the second ward of said city of Stillwater: both of said votes being then and there by the said Michael Welch voted at the same election, contrary to the form of the statute in such cases made and provided, and against the peace and dignity of the State of Minnesota." State v. Welch, 21 Minn. 22.

"The grand inquest of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, inquiring in and for the county of Cumberland, on their oaths and affirmations respectively, do present: That Daniel Sherban, late, etc., on the 28th of September, 1838, in the county aforesaid, and within the jurisdiction of this court, did lay a wager and bet with a certain Jacob Clark, and that the said Daniel Sherban did then and there lay a wager and bet of fifty dollars with the said Jacob Clark, that a certain Joseph Ritner would be elected governor of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania at an election to be held in said commonwealth, under the constitution and laws of said commonwealth on the 9th day of October, in the year 1838, the said Joseph Ritner then and there being a candidate nominated for public office, to-wit, for the office of governor of said commonwealth, contrary to the act of assembly in such case made and provided, and against the peace and dignity of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania." Sherban v. Com., 8 Watts (Pa.) 212.

XIV. Notice of Contest, Because Officer Elect Ineligible.

"To Thomas Swinburn, Esq.:

"You are hereby notified, that I shall contest before the county court of Kanawha, West Virginia, your election as clerk of the circuit court of said county at the recent election held in said county on the 8th day of October, 1878, upon the ground that at the time of said election you were not, and never have been, a citizen of the United States, or of the State of West Virginia, and were not at the time of said election, and never had been entitled to vote in said State, and by the express provisions of the Constitution of said State, you could not be elected to said office at said election; and that I shall there resist and contest your right to hold said office, or perform the duties thereof, and shall there claim to be myself duly and legally elected to said office at said election. You are further notified, that I shall docket this notice, and insist upon the trial thereof, in the county-court of Kanawha county on 1st day of November, 1878, if the court be then in session, and if not in session, the 1st day of December term, 1878, of said county-court.

"John Dryden.

"17th of October, 1878."

Dryden v. Swinburn, 15 W. Va. 234.

XV. Notice of Contest, Election Irregularly Conducted.

"Georgetown, Brown County, Ohio,
November 30, 1864.

"To William C. Howard:

"Sir:—You are hereby notified that at the general election held in October, A. D. 1864, at and within the county of Brown, and State of Ohio, on the 11th day of said month of October, at which said election you were an elector and candidate for the office of sheriff of said county of Brown, I was an elector and resident of said county, and a candidate for the same office.

"You are further notified that, afterward, to-wit, on the 12th day of November, A. D. 1864, R. C. Mitchell, clerk of the court of common pleas of said county of Brown, as such clerk, proceeded, together with F. F. Shaw and Joseph S. Innis, two justices of the peace within and for said county, to count out, according to law, and make an abstract of all votes cast within said county of Brown, at said election, for said office of sheriff and other officers voted for at said election, and also of votes cast at various other places outside of said county of Brown, in virtue of an act of the general Assembly of the State of Ohio, passed March 30, 1864, at which counting out I received 2,442 votes cast within the said county, in the different townships thereof, and you received 2,166 votes cast within said county, as aforesaid, and I received one hundred and nineteen votes cast outside of said county, for said office of sheriff of said county, as will appear by an abstract duly certified by said clerk of said court and said justices of the peace, now on file at the clerk's office of said county; and you were thereby declared by said clerk and said justices duly elected to said office of sheriff of said county, at said election so held as aforesaid.

"You are further notified that I intend to contest your declared election, as aforesaid, before the next court of common pleas to be holden within and for said county, on the following grounds:

"1. Because the state board of canvassers, comprised of the officers pointed out by law, proceeded, according to law, to make out an abstract of votes cast at said October election by electors of said county outside of said county of Brown, from the poll-books, tally-sheets, and ballots, returned to the governor of Ohio, auditor of state, and secretary of state, by which said abstract it appears, and is so certified by said board of canvassers, that I received for said office of sheriff, one hundred and fourteen votes so cast outside of said county of Brown, and that you received three hundred and eighty-five votes so cast outside of said county of Brown, at said October election, and that said abstract made out from said poll-books, tally-sheets, and ballots, together with the votes so cast within said county of Brown, elects me to said office of sheriff of said county.

"2. Because minors voted at said election for you.

"3. Because the tally-sheets returned to the clerk of said court are not certified according to law, nor do they show that the judges of the election and the clerks thereof were sworn as required by law.

"4. Because a portion of said tally-sheets so returned to said clerk, and counted by said clerk and said justices, show elections held by a number of voters less than ten at said election.

"5. Because the poll-books on which said votes so cast outside of the State of Ohio were counted, are not certified according to law, and do not show that the judges and clerks of said election were sworn according to law.

"6. Because said poll-books do not show the names of the voters, county and township of their residence, the letter of their respective companies, the name and number of the regiment, battery, and battalion to which said voters respectfully belonged, as required by law.

"7. Because illegal votes were cast at said election, for said William C. Howard.

"You are further notified that I will proceed, on the 12th day of December, A. D. 1864, at the office of John Woods, a justice of the peace within and for said county, at his office, in Georgetown, in said county, between the hours of nine o'clock a. m. and nine o'clock p. m. of said day, to take depositions as to said points, before said John Woods and Joseph Innis, two justices of the peace within and for said county, who will officiate at the taking of the same; and that the taking of the said depositions will be continued, if necessary, between same hours, from day to day, until completed.

"Respectfully,

G. R. Shields."

Note.—Proceedings for the condemnation of land are of statutory origin. They are quite diverse in their character, even in the same state where land is condemned for different purposes. The following forms from adjudicated cases will be suggestive in preparing forms in similar cases, due reference being always had to the particular statute applicable to the particular case in the state where used.

I. Petition for Condemnation of Land for Railroad Bridge.

In the circuit court of Scott County, Missouri, to October Term, 1902.

Southern Illinois & Missouri Bridge Company, Plaintiff v. Robert Stone, R. M. Finley, Nannie E. Finley, David Heldt, Burhardt Miller, and Perry Bates, Defendants.

"Plaintiff for its cause of action says it is a corporation regularly incorporated under the laws of the state of Illinois, and has obtained from the secretary of state of the state of Missouri authority to do business in the state of Missouri. That it is incorporated for the purpose of erecting and maintaining a bridge across the Mississippi river from a point near Thebes, in Alexander county, Illinois, to a point near Manning's Landing, in Scott county, Missouri, with the necessary appurtenances thereto. That said bridge is intended as a railway bridge, and it is necessary for this plaintiff to have a right of way for its railway tracks, bridge, and terminal yards, etc. That the general direction of its yards will be westwardly from the western bank of the Mississippi river. That for the purpose of carrying out its charter privileges it is necessary for it to hold and to own the following described tract of land, lying and being in the county of Scott, state of Missouri, to-wit: A part of the southeast and southwest parts of private survey No. 794 in township 30, range 14 east, and in lot 2 of the northeast quarter of section 2, township 29, range 14 east, being a tract of land two hundred feet wide, one hundred feet on each side of the center line of the approaches to the Southern Missouri & Illinois Bridge Company, as located and platted, beginning at a point on the east line of fractional section 24, township 30, range 14 east, and 1,240 feet from the southeast corner of said fractional section, thence run south, 70 degrees 45 minutes east, 765 feet, thence by a one degree curve to the right 980.4 feet; thence south, 59 degrees 45 minutes east, 924.8 feet; thence by a two degree and thirty minute curve to the left 1,289.3 feet; thence north 87 degrees 51 minutes east, to the west bank of the Mississippi river; said center line intersects the north line of township 29, 100.5 feet west of the northwest corner of lot 2 in the northeast quarter of section 2, township 29, range 14 east, and also intersects the west line of said lot 2, 69.1 feet south of the northwest corner of said lot 2. The tract above described contains 20.3 acres, and will appear by a blue print hereto attached and made a part of this petition.

"That the defendants herein, together with R. M. Finley, the husband of one of the defendants, are the owners of said real estate. That defendants Held, Miller, and Bates are tenants, having growing crops on different portions of said real estate. That the defendants have refused to relinquish to the plaintiff the right to the occupancy and use of said real estate for the purposes designated. That your petitioner has endeavored to agree with defendants and each of them upon the price to be paid for said property, but has been unable to amicably settle or to agree at all upon a proper compensation to either of the parties defendant. That said real estate is necessary for the laying of tracks and the handling of business over and across plaintiff's bridge. Wherefore your petitioner prays the court to make such order and decrees that may be proper and necessary, and to appoint three freeholders of the county of Scott and state of Missouri as commissioners to assess the damages which defendants may sustain in consequence of the establishment, erection, and maintenance of said road and approaches over and through the said premises and for all proper orders. Southern I. & M. Bridge Co. v. Stone, 174 Mo. 1, 73 S. W. 453, 63 L. R. A. 301.

II. Petition, Acquiring Land for Railroad.

St. Louis, Kansas City & Colorado Railroad Company, of the State of Kansas, plaintiffs, v. William P. Lewright, James M. Lewright, Elijah McLean and L. B. Kitchen, defendants.

The plaintiff states that it is a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the state of Kansas for the purpose of constructing and maintaining a standard gauge railroad from a point in the western line of Seward county in said state of Kansas, near the center of said line eastwardly, through the counties of Seward, Ford, Comanche, Barbour, Harper, Sumner, Cowley, Choutaque, Linn, Elk, Wilson, Neosho, Crawford and Bourbon in said state of Kansas, to a point in the eastern line of said Linn county, near the center of said line; thence through the state of Missouri eastwardly, through the counties of Vernon, Bates, Henry, Johnson, Cass and Jackson, in the state of Missouri, to the union depot in Kansas City and said Jackson county; and from the point where said railroad runs northwestwardly to Kansas City aforesaid, eastwardly through the counties of Henry, Miller, Osage, Maries, Gasconade, Franklin, St. Louis, to and into the city of St. Louis, Missouri, to, through and along the union depot in the said city of St. Louis, to the west bank of the Mississippi river at said city of St. Louis.

The plaintiff as authorized by the laws of the said states of Kansas and Missouri is about to construct, operate and maintain, and is now constructing, with the design and intention of operating and maintaining a standard gauge railroad over that part or portion of said road survey which passes through said county of Franklin, Missouri, in a general southwesterly direction from the town of Labadie in said county to the town of Union in said county.

That plaintiff has caused to be made an amended profile map of the route surveyed and adopted by plaintiff of that part of said railroad line in said Franklin county between the said towns of Labadie and Union.

That said amended profile map, made, certified to and filed in the office of the clerk of the county court of said county as aforesaid, shows the actual survey, location and distance of the roadbed through the several lots and tracts of land, and the congressional sections through which the road runs, and the number of miles, main and side tracks of said road on said portion of said railroad line in said part of said county.

That your petitioner has given written notice to all actual occupants of the lands hereinafter described of the defendants, over which the route of said railroad has been relocated and designated as aforesaid, of the location of said road through the same as shown by said amended profile map.

Plaintiff further states that as a common carrier and for the public benefit and convenience it needs and seeks to acquire for the purposes aforesaid and for the additional purposes of cutting and embankments, necessary for the proper construction and security of said railroad, a strip of land of the uniform width of one hundred feet in the following described tracts and parcels of land situated in said county of Franklin, between the said towns of Labadie and Union, through and over which said railroad route is surveyed and located, as aforesaid, with the courses of said roadbed, and the number of acres and parts of acres sought to be appropriated, and which said land is owned by the defendant, William P. Lewright, to-wit: The west half of the southeast quarter and the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter and southwest quarter of section 36, in township 44, and northwest quarter of the northwest quarter, section 1, township 43, all in range 1, east. That the center line of said strip of lands sought to be appropriated for the purposes aforesaid enters the north boundary line of said southeast quarter of said section 36, about one thousand and fifty feet west of the northeast corner of said quarter section, and is located on said lands in a general southwesterly and northeasterly direction, passing out of said section 36, township 44, range 1 east, one hundred feet east of the southwest corner thereof, into said section 1, township 43, range 1 east, and continuing in the same general southwesterly direction until said center line of said railroad intersects the west line of said section 1, township 43, range 1 east, about one hundred feet south of the northwest corner thereof. That the amount of land sought to be appropriated and used by the plaintiff for the purposes of the construction of the roadbed is about eleven and six-tenths acres.

Plaintiff further states that it has, by and through its agents, made efforts to purchase of the defendant, William

P. Lewright, the above described strip of land, for the purposes aforesaid, at a fair and reasonable compensation, to be paid to him by the plaintiff, but plaintiff, although so endeavoring, yet cannot agree with the said defendant, William P. Lewright, upon the just and fair compensation for said strip.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays this honorable court to appoint three disinterested freeholders, residents of said county of Franklin, as commissioners to ascertain and assess the damages which the said defendant, William P. Lewright, may sustain, and the just compensation to which he may be entitled in consequence of the construction, maintaining and operating of said railroad through said lands as aforesaid. St. Louis, etc. R. Co. v. Lewright, 113 Mo. 660, 663, 21 S. W. 210.

III. Petition To Condemn Right of Way Across Tracks of Another Company.

Your petitioner, the Englewood Connecting Railway Company, respectfully shows unto your honor that it is a corporation duly organized and existing under and by virtue of the law of the state of Illinois, and as such is authorized to construct and operate a line of railroad from a point on the Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburgh railroad, in the town of Lake, in the county of Cook and state of Illinois, between Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth streets, running thence eastwardly to a point on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad, in said town, county and state, between said Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth streets, with the right to construct all such side-tracks, switches, and lateral and other branches, as the said railway company from time to time, by resolution of its board of directors, determine and elect to build. Your petitioner further shows that its said line of railroad is located in accordance with its charter; that the said line of railroad so located by your petitioner intersects and passes over and across the railroad tracks of the Chicago and Western Indiana Railroad Company laid in Wallace street, in said town of Lake, at a point in front of, and opposite to, lots 11 and 12, in block 4, in Eliza A. Temple's subdivision of the east half of the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 16, township 38, north, range 14, east of the third principal meridian, and that your petitioner desires to appropriate and use so much of the track of said Chicago and Western Indiana Railroad Company, in said Wallace street, as may be necessary to make the crossing for two main railroad tracks of your petitioner; that said crossing is necessary for the purposes of your petitioner's railroad, and to operate the same; that your petitioner is unable to agree with said Chicago and Western Indiana Railroad Company as to the proper or just compensation to be paid to said railroad company for said crossing. Your petitioner further shows that it is ready and willing, and has offered to said railroad company, and hereby offers, to put down, at your petitioner's cost, all necessary crossing frogs for two main tracks over the said tracks of said Chicago and Western Indiana Railroad Company, in said Wallace street, and to perpetually keep and maintain the said crossing in good and safe repair and condition, at your petitioner's charge and cost; that your petitioner therefore prays that summons may be ordered to issue to said Chicago and Western Indiana Railroad Company, defendant, commanding it to appear before this honorable court on the first day of its next term, and that a jury may be empaneled to ascertain the just compensation to be paid by your petitioner to said defendant for said crossing for said main tracks of your petitioner's railroad. And your petitioner will ever pray, etc. Chicago, etc. R. Co. v. Englewood C. R. Co., 115 Ill. 375, 4 N. E. 246.

IV. Petition To Condemn Certain Lots for State Capitol.

"Notice to Property Owners. To the Hon. John H. McKune, district judge for the sixth judicial district, county of Sacramento, state of California—John G. Downey, acting governor; Johnson Price, secretary of state; Thomas Findley, state treasurer; A. C. Monson and Alfred Redington, by Thomas H. Williams, attorney-general, respectively petitioning, represent:

That they compose the Board of Commissioners created by the act entitled 'An Act to provide for the Construction of the State Capitol in the city of Sacramento,' approved March 29th, 1860.

Your petitioners further represent, that they have caused a description and abstract of the title to the ground or tract of land described in the first section of said act, to be made, setting forth the names and residence of each owner or person interested therein in any manner whatever, or who claims any interest therein, present or future, so far as known to the attorney-general, or as appears by record in the recorder's office of Sacramento county; which said description and abstract of title is herewith filed, marked 'A,' and made part of this petition.

Wherefore, the premises considered, your petitioners pray that your honor will appoint commissioners, or cause to be appointed commissioners, to ascertain the compensation to be made to the person or persons lawfully entitled to the same, for the land in said act described, and hereinbefore mentioned, or any part thereof. As in duty bound, they will ever pray, etc.

Respectfully,
Thomas H. Williams,
Attorney-General."

Koppikus v. State Capitol Com., 16 Cal. 248.

V. Statement of Petition for Condemnation for Telegraph Line.

The petition of the company upon which the appointment was made sets out that the petitioner is a corporation organized under the provisions of "An Act to Incorporate and Regulate Telegraph Companies" and the acts supplementary thereto. Revision, p. 1174. That the object of the corporation is to build a line of telegraph for telegraphic or telephonic communication, or both, within and through certain counties in the state of New Jersey, to various cities, towns, boroughs and villages and other convenient localities for said business therein. That, in addition to these uses of said line as hereinafter mentioned, to establish, let, conduct and manage private or other telegraphic or telephonic lines, or both, and instruments and other means and appliances for the use of individuals, firms, corporations, municipalities and others, and to carry on a general telegraph and telephone business, either or both, for all purposes whatsoever, upon the whole of said line, in all the localities aforesaid, and in connection with other telegraph or telephone line or lines within the state of New Jersey, and also to purchase, control, lease, let or use and subgrant all patents and licenses and rights now or hereafter existing, for the purposes of the business hereinbefore set out. The petition then sets out the description of the line of telegraph or telephone, and the localities it is intended to traverse. It is to consist of such poles, with cross-arms, fixtures and appliances, as may be necessary to sustain such wires, cables or other electrical conductors as may be required for the purpose of conducting a telegraph or telephone business, or both. It then describes the part of the road, running over the land of the prosecutor, upon which the poles are to be placed, and sets out that a map or diagram is presented with the petition, showing the situation of the road in relation to the land of prosecutor, the intended location of each post or pole, the distance between each post or pole. The petition then sets out the size of the poles, the maximum distance from the ground to the point where wires are to be attached to the poles. State, Duke v. Central New Jersey Tel. Co., 53 N. J. L. 341, 21 Atl. 460, 11 L. R. A. 664.

VI. Statement of Object of Improvement, Petition for Condemnation.

We think the petition states fully enough, in a "general way," the nature and extent of the use of the land that will be required in making and maintaining the improvement as required by law. It states the object of the improvement to be the opening "and extending of Eleventh Street from Leverett Street to Michigan Avenue, where not already opened, sixty feet wide; and that, in making and maintaining the proposed improvement, a perpetual right of way over the different pieces or parcels of private property hereinafter described will be necessary; and that such right of way is purposed to be used for the purpose of a public street and highway." It is difficult to see what more is needed to fulfill the requirements of the statute in this respect. Detroit v. Beecher, 75 Mich. 454, 42 N. W. 986, 4 L. R. A. 813.

VII. Plea by Owner, in Condemnation Proceedings, Jurisdiction.

"And now comes Samuel R. Throckmorton and pleads to the jurisdiction of the Court. And for his plea he denies the existence of any jurisdictional fact authorizing the proceeding attempted by the applicant herein; and he specially pleads that the United States do not now desire to purchase the land mentioned, having already, by an agreement evidenced by writing, purchased the same from this appearer on the nineteenth of February, 1858, by and through the action of P. Della Torre, Esq., late District Attorney of the United States, duly authorized and empowered in that behalf by the Secretary of War, the whole pursuant to an Act of the Congress of the United States, passed March 3d, 1857.

And this appearer denies that he has ever refused to convey said land to the United States; he expressly avers that no one in their behalf has ever tendered to him any sum of money as the purchase price or equivalent of said land, different from that which he originally charged therefor, and which the Government of the United States, after much negotiation, and after being duly advised in the premises, agreed in writing to pay him; and he expressly denies that that sum of money has been tendered him, though the United States has frequently promised the same, in compliance with their duty pursuant to the contract of sale aforesaid. And further this appearer pleads, that, hereby expressly reserving his lawful right to recede from the contract aforesaid, should the conduct of the United States touching said contract make it his interest and his privilege so to recede, he has ever been and now is willing and able to convey said lands, in strict pursuance of the contract aforesaid. And he further pleads that the law of California of February 14th, 1859, entitled 'an act for the relinquishment to the United States, in certain cases, to title of lands, etc., and site of light-houses,' etc., is unconstitutional, null and void.

And he asks that the application for an order of publication be rejected." Gilmer v. Lime Point, 18 Cal. 229, 233.

VIII. Plea Setting Up Condemnation Proceedings.

"1. A general denial; secondly, that the Chicago, Kansas & Western Railroad Company was formed by consolidation of the Leroy & Western Railway Company, and several other companies, the agreement of consolition being duly ratified and filed in the office of the secretary of state of the state of Kansas, the agreement being entered into on the 1st day of June, 1886; that the Leroy & Western Railway Company was, at the time stated, and prior to June 1st, 1886, a railroad company duly organized and existing under the laws of the state of Kansas, and authorized to build a line of railroad through Sedgwick county, Kansas, and that on the 15th day of March, 1886, it made application to the Hon. T. B. Wall, judge of the district court of Sedgwick county, for the appointment of commissioners to appraise lands along the line of its railroad, and make appraisement and assessment of damages for lands taken as a right-of-way, etc., as required by law, and the judge appointed three commissioners as required by law; that said commissioners gave due notice as required by law; that on the 26th day of April, 1886, in pursuance of such notice, they proceeded to view, survey and assess damages for a right-of-way through the land described in plaintiff's petition, and damages to the land not taken, and damages to the crops on said land, in the aggregate sum of $141.50; that the report of said commissioners was filed and recorded in the office of the county clerk of said county on the 29th day of April, 1886; and on said day the said the Leroy & Western Railroad Company deposited said sum of $141.50 with the county treasurer of said county for the owners of said land; that the application and appointment of said commissioners were duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds of said county on the 15th day of March, 1886; that said award for damages to said land has never been set aside, vacated, or appealed from, and is in full force and effect." Chicago, K. & W. R. Co. v. Abbott, 44 Kan. 170, 24 Pac. 52.

IX. Answer, Landowner in Condemnation Proceeding (a).

"1. Now comes the defendant, and for its amended answer to the plaintiff's petition, denies each and every material allegation therein contained, except as hereinafter directly admitted.

3. For a third and further defense, the defendant admits that it is a corporation, and is engaged in the operation of a railroad into and through the county of Osage, and over and upon F. street in the city of Osage City, in Osage county, state of Kansas; and the defendant says, that the said city ordinance, number 166, entitled 'An ordinance granting the right-of-way to the Ottawa, Osage City & Council Grove Railroad Company, through the city of Osage City, Osage county, state of Kansas,' which was passed and approved October 31, 1885, and which was duly published, and was at the time complained of in plaintiff's petition, and is a valid ordinance of said city, granted to the defendant a right-of-way to construct, operate and maintain its railroad track and such turnouts, switches and side-tracks as are essential and necessary to the transaction of the business of said company upon said F street, and the right to make drains along the said F street, and to run cars, trains and engines upon such right-of-way; and under the authority conferred by said ordinance, this defendant has, in a proper and legal manner, constructed its track on said F street in said city, and runs its cars, trains and engines upon said street, and made necessary alterations of the surface of the street, and has not unnecessarily impaired the usefulness of said street for public travel and access to the abutting lots." Ottawa, O. C. & C. G. R. Co. v. Larson, 40 Kan. 301, 19 Pac. 661.

Answer by Landowner, in Condemnation Proceedings (b).

"Now comes the defendant above named, and for answer to the petition filed by the plaintiff admits that it is a corporation organized under and by virtue of the laws of the state of Illinois, and that it is operating certain lines of railroad in the state of Nebraska. Further answering the said petition, the defendant denies each and every allegation therein contained." Koenig v. Chicago, etc. R. Co., 27 Neb. 699, 43 N. W. 423.

X. Supplemental Answer in Condemnation Proceedings.

"Now comes the above named defendant, and for a supplemental answer to the petition herein, admits that it is a corporation duly organized under and by virtue of the laws of the state of Illinois, and that it is operating certain lines of railroad in the state of Nebraska. . . . And defendant had the right to construct, maintain, and use a track across the said lot by virtue of a contract duly executed, signed, and delivered by the plaintiff on the 22d day of June, 1887, wherein Henry T. Clarke was party of the second part, and which contract and the terms and condition thereof said Clarke had duly kept and performed, but said plaintiff now refuses to keep and perform." And after alleging certain condemnation proceedings by the Lincoln & Northwestern railway in its behalf, it alleges that "Further answering the said petition, the defendant denies each and every allegation therein contained." Koenig v. Chicago, etc. R. Co., 27 Neb. 699, 43 N. W. 423.

XI. Stipulation as to Title in Condemnation Proceedings.

"It is stipulated in the above entitled cause, that the railway over the tracts of land sought to be condemned in this proceeding, was constructed by the Springfield and Northwestern Railroad Company; that at the time the land described in plaintiffs' petition was appropriated by said Springfield and Northwestern Railroad Company, the title to said land was in John T. Bennett; that subsequent to the building of said road, to-wit, in 1872, McDougall and Hamilton, defendants herein, acquired a fee simple title to said lands, and are now, and ever since have been, the owners of said land in fee simple, and also at said time acquired title to all the land described in the cross-petition herein, and still have title thereto." Wabash, St. L. & P. R. Co. v. McDougall, 118 Ill. 229, 8 N. E. 678.

XII. Order for Hearing in Condemnation Proceedings.

XX. Judgment on Findings, Jury Being Waived, in Condemnation Proceedings.

"The court being sufficiently advised, doth find that the value of the property in controversy, to-wit, lot 7, in block 18, in Carpenter's addition to Chicago, is the sum of $10,000. The court also finds that the value of the frame buildings, situated in the rear of said lot, is the sum of $2500. The court also finds that the value of the partially constructed brick building upon the front part of said lot, as a part of a building to be completed upon said lot, including the present cost of the construction thereof, and the respondent's own trouble and loss of time in the preparation of said building, and for loss of use of capital invested therein, for architect's fees, the amount for which the respondent is liable to contractors, and the inconvenience and cost of the removal of his business from said premises, the sum of $5500, making a total compensation for all damages resulting from the taking of said premises, the sum of $18,000. Therefore it is ordered and adjudged by the court, that the full compensation for the taking of the said premises, and for all damages to the respondents, William P. Hock, and Wilhelmina Hock, his wife, shall be the sum of $18,000, of which sum $966 is to be paid to Gustav Wolff, in full of his claim upon the premises; . . . that petitioner may enter upon said premises, and shall have exclusive possession thereof, for the use and purpose of said railroad company, upon the payment of said sum of $966 to said Wolff, and the sum of $17,034 to the said William P. Hock." Chicago, M. & St. P. R. Co. v. Hock, 118 Ill. 587, 9 N. E. 205.

XXI. Order on Condemnation of Land.

That court (state supreme court), on November 19, 1891, issued a peremptory writ of mandamus, as prayed for. 89 Mich. 210. On November 30, 1891, the circuit court, in compliance with this writ, entered an order, which, as amended, confirmed the verdict and award of the jury, and also provided as follows:

"It is further ordered that within sixty days from the date of this order the Fort Street Union Depot Company is required to tender and pay to Absalom Backus, Jr., the sum of seventeen thousand, eight hundred and fifty dollars, and to A. Backus, Jr. & Sons the sum of seventy-eight thousand, two hundred and ninety-three dollars, and to James N. Dean and William H. Davidson, executors, the sum of one dollar, together with their costs and expenses, if the same have been taxed, including an attorney's fee of twenty-five dollars; and if the said parties or either of them refuse to accept the tender and payment of said sums the Fort Street Union Depot Company is required to deposit the same, under the supervision of the clerk of this court, in the Detroit National Bank and to the credit of this cause, including said costs and expenses; provided, that if said costs and expenses have not been taxed within the said sixty days the same to be so deposited within five days after they are taxed.

Said money shall remain on deposit in said bank, but, at the risk of the petitioner, subject to be drawn therefrom and to be paid to the parties entitled to the same on orders signed by one of the judges of this court and countersigned by the clerk.

It is further ordered that upon the tender and payment or deposit of said sum of ninety-six thousand, one hundred and forty-four dollars, and of said costs, expenses, and counsel fees, as aforesaid, the Fort Street Union Depot Company shall be entitled to enter upon and take possession of and use the right of way above described for the purpose of its incorporation under its articles of association and the Constitution and laws of this state, and that said respondent shall be divested and barred of all right, estate, and interest in such right of way until such right or title, shall be again legally vested in them and said right of way shall be deemed to have been acquired by said company for public use." Backus & Sons v. Fort Street Union Depot Co., 169 U. S. 557, 18 Sup. Ct. 445, 42 L. ed. 853.

Said report being dated the fifth day of June, 1893; and said order of approval being dated the third day of July, 1893; and that said appeal is taken to said circuit court of Knox county, Missouri, from said order of approval and from said report of said commissioners and from all orders or proceedings of said board of aldermen in said premises.

XXIV. Complaint for Injunction Against Using Without Compensation.

"The plaintiff, Herman Koenig, a resident of Lincoln, Lancaster county, and state of Nebraska, complains of the said defendant, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy R. R. Co., and alleges that said defendant is a foreign and non-resident railroad corporation, organized and incorporated under the laws of the state of Illinois and operating a line of railroad from the city of Chicago, in the state of Illinois, to the city of Lincoln, in the state of Nebraska, and from thence, either by lease or otherwise, various other railroads radiating in different directions from the said city of Lincoln, in said state of Nebraska. The said plaintiff alleges that he is the owner of, and has the legal title to, and is in the possession of, lot two, in block thirty-one, of the city of Lincoln, county of Lancaster, and state of Nebraska, that he has a house upon the same, wherein he resides, and that said property is of the value of $8,000. Plaintiff avers that the said defendant has laid its railroad tracks across the west end of said lot two, in said block thirty-one aforesaid, and extended the same from its main track across said lot to the warehouse and store-building of one Henry T. Clarke, situated at the intersection of Eighth and P streets in said city of Lincoln; and the said plaintiff alleges that the said defendant unlawfully, and without the assent, knowledge, or permission of the said plaintiff, entered upon said lot of the plaintiff's and laid its track and railroad ties thereon and is now operating, hauling, and running its freight cars across, over said track and across the lot of this plaintiff to the said warehouse aforesaid of the said Henry T. Clarke, without having compensated this plaintiff for his damages or tendered payment for the use and occupation of said premises, and without having taken any steps to condemn said land under the laws of the state of Nebraska, or securing to this plaintiff compensation in any manner whatsoever for the damage occasioned by the occupancy of said lot, and the use thereof, and for the operation of trains and cars across the same. And the plaintiff avers that by reason of the building in the construction of said railroad across said lot, and the operation of engines, trains, and cars over the same, contrary to law, and without the consent and permission of this plaintiff, he has suffered great and irreparable injury and has been deprived of the peaceful enjoyment of said premises and the life of himself and family has been and is daily endangered by the passing and repassing of cars over said track. Plaintiff also alleges that he has no adequate remedy at law, and that except for the interposition of this court he will be embroiled in a multiplicity of suits. Plaintiff further alleges that the said defendant threatens to continue the use of said track for said railroad purposes and operate trains over and across said lot, notwithstanding the request of this plaintiff to desist therefrom, unless restrained by the order of this court." Koenig v. Chicago, etc. R. Co., 27 Neb. 699, 43 N. W. 423.

XXV. Complaint in Action for Damages by Landowner on Condemnation.

"That he is the owner of lots numbers 6, 7, 8, and 9, in block 31, and lots numbers 4 and 5, in block 38, all in the Osage Carbon Company's second addition to Osage City, in Osage county, state of Kansas; that said second addition is duly platted of record, and the streets and alleys thereof, including F street, are duly and lawfully dedicated and opened to the public as such streets and alleys, and that the portion of said second addition, embracing plaintiff's said lots, is within the corporate limits of said Osage City; that plaintiff selected, purchased, improved, occupied and cultivated, and now occupies and cultivates said lands with reference to and for the purpose of his comfort, convenience and profit and the comfort and convenience of his family, and as his and his family's homestead; that, in furtherance and pursuance of said purposes, he has improved said lands with fences, family residence, barns and other necessary buildings, with fruit, ornamental and other trees, shrubs and plants, all at an aggregate expense to him of $800.

"And plaintiff says that the defendant is a railroad corporation, duly organized under the laws of the state of Kansas, owning, constructing, occupying and operating a standard-gauge railroad, known and styled the Ottawa, Osage City & Council Grove Railroad; that said railroad is by defendant located, constructed and operated on and along the whole of F street in said second addition to Osage City, length and breadth, and on and along the south line and front of said lots Nos. 6, 7, 8, and 9, in said block 31, and on and along the north line and front of said lots 4 and 5 in block 38 of said second addition; that in constructing, locating and operating said railroad on and along said street, and upon and along said lines and fronts of said lands of plaintiff, defendant has dug and excavated large and deep ditches along and upon said street and along and upon said the said lines and fronts of plaintiff's said lands, and raised and builded a great elevation along and upon said street, and along and upon the said lines and fronts of said lands of plaintiff, and has laid, fixed and fastened along and upon the top of said elevation, for the whole length thereof, the ties and track of said railroad; that thereby defendant has wholly occupied and destroyed said F street, length and breadth, and particularly on and along said lines and fronts of plaintiff's said lands as such streets and highways; and that said defendant has not repaired, amended or restored said street or any part thereof, or sought, undertaken or attempted to repair, mend or restore said street or any part thereof to its original or to any condition, state or degree of usefulness or availability as such street or public highway. And plaintiff further says that said street on and along said lines and fronts of his said lands is the only means of ingress or egress to his said lands, or appertaining in any way thereto.

"And he further says that the location, construction and operation of said railroad by said defendant as hereinbefore complained of, has destroyed, injured and impaired his said fences, dwelling house, barns and other buildings and improvements on said lands, and rendered them useless, untenable and unavailable, and has rendered said lands and premises unfit, undesirable and untenable for the uses and conveniences and comforts aforesaid, to his damage in the sum of $1,000. Wherefore he prays judgment against said defendant for said sum of $1,000, his damages so as aforesaid sustained." Ottawa, O. C. & C. G. R. Co. v. Larson, 40 Kan. 301, 19 Pac. 661.

XXVI. Complaint for Injury to Adjoining Property in Condemnation.

"Charles Fox complains of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, a corporation created by the laws of the State of Maryland, which has been summoned to answer," . . . "of a plea of trespass on the case, for that, whereas the said plaintiff on the 5th day of September, A. D. 1885, at the said county of Wood, was lawfully and peaceably in his demesne as of fee, and continually from thenceforth hitherto was seized, and yet is seized, as aforesaid, of a certain lot and premises lying and being in the county of Wood, city of Parkersburg, W. Va., Avery street, and bounded and described as follows, to-wit: Beginning at a point on Avery street, on the west side thereof, twenty-five feet from Neal street, thence sixty-four feet, parallel with Neal street, towards Market street; thence twenty feet, parallel with Avery street, towards Court street; thence sixty-four feet, parallel with Neal street; thence twenty feet to the beginning—it being the same property conveyed to said plaintiff by C. Shattuck and wife by deed dated the 8th day of December, 1879, and of record in the county clerk's office of the County Court of Wood county, in Deed-Book 41, page 176, which said lot of the plaintiff is of great value, to-wit, of the value of fifteen hundred dollars; and by reason thereof the said plaintiff, before and at the time of the committing of the grievance hereinafter mentioned by said defendant, had the right for himself, servants and tenants to use, enjoy, pass and repass over and along said Avery street on foot and with carts, carriages and other vehicles, and also to have convenient access to lot and premises from said Avery street, from time to time, for the necessary ingress and egress to and from said lot and premises, and for the beneficial occupation and enjoyment of the same: Nevertheless the defendant well knowing the premises, to-wit, on the day and year aforesaid, at the county aforesaid, unlawfully, wrongfully and injuriously, and without the consent of the said plaintiff, laid a railroad track through said Avery street in front of said plaintiff's property, about eight feet from the sidewalk, and hath unlawfully, wrongfully and injuriously kept and continued to keep the said railroad track so laid by it as aforesaid through said street for a long space of time, to-wit, from thence hitherto, and thereby during all the time last aforesaid, the said defendant, by the track so laid through and along said Avery street, and by the use made of it, of said track, unlawfully, wrongfully, and injuriously deprived the said plaintiff from having full and free access to said lot and premises, and his facilities for ingress and egress to and from the said lot and premises have been greatly interrupted and cut off, and the value of said lot and premises thereby greatly diminished and damaged to the value of four hundred and ninety-nine dollars. And whereas, also, the plaintiff, before and at the time of committing the grievance heretofore and hereafter mentioned, being so possessed of his said lot and premises as in first count is set forth, situated as aforesaid on Avery street in the city of Parkersburg, and upon which lot and premises there is situated a dwelling house and appurtenances, which said dwelling house had long before said grievance complained of, and thence hitherto, and now is occupied by tenants of said plaintiff, and by the occupation of said lot, premises, and dwelling-house by said tenants the plaintiff has derived great rents and profits and emoluments, and he, by means of said common highway, easements, and public street, had, together with the tenants, comfortable, safe, and convenient access to his said property; and the said defendant, not being ignorant of the premises, but wrongfully and injuriously contriving and intending injury, and to hinder and deprive him, the said plaintiff, of the use, enjoyment, and benefit of his said property, and of the rents and profits and emoluments aforesaid, and of the peaceful and uninterrupted occupancy and use of the same, and of safe and convenient access and ingress to and from the same, and without the consent and against the protest, did, as aforesaid, lay and construct a railroad track on said Avery street in front of the plaintiff's said dwelling house; and the said defendant during all the period aforesaid since the laying of said track has placed thereon divers freight cars, and caused the same to . . . moved and transported and propelled to and from, over and along said track, by means of a locomotive or steam engine attached thereto, causing great jarring noises and disturbing sounds with bells and steam whistles, thereby rendering it dangerous, inconvenient, and unsafe for plaintiff or his tenants to travel over and use said street and highway for a long space of time thenceforth hitherto, and thereby, during all the time aforesaid, said street and highway was and still is greatly obstructed and stopped up, and by means of all of said premises said plaintiff saith that he and his tenants are subjected to great inconvenience, and prevented from occupying said lot, dwelling-house and premises, and enjoying the same in so convenient and beneficial a manner as otherwise. . . might and would have done but for the laying of the said railroad track as aforesaid, and the said dwelling-house and premises have, by means of the said premises aforesaid, been greatly damaged, lessened in value, and permanently injured; wherefore the said plaintiff saith he has sustained damages in the sum of four hundred and ninety-nine dollars; and therefore he sues," etc. Fox v. Baltimore & O. R. Co., 34 W. Va. 466, 12 S. E. 757.

b. Petition for Leave To Withdraw Replication and Amend Bill.

To the chancellor of the state of New York:

The petition of the above complainant respectfully sheweth, that the defendant in this cause has caused his appearance to be entered therein, and has put in his answer to the bill of complaint; and that your petitioner has filed a replication, but no witnesses have been examined by either party. That since the filing of such replication your petitioner has been advised by his counsel and believes, that it is essential to the rights of your petitioner in this cause that the bill therein should be amended, by adding thereto the following statements (insert matter proposed to be introduced).

And your petitioner further shows, that he had no knowledge of the facts above set forth, nor was he aware of the necessity of inserting them in his bill, until after the said replication was filed.

Your petitioner therefore prays that he may be at liberty to withdraw his said replication, and amend his said bill by adding parties defendants, or otherwise, as he shall be advised, on payment of costs. 2 Barb. Ch. Pr. 430. See also 3 Dan. Ch. Pl. & Pr. (Perkins' ed.) 2165.

Wherefore he prays that the judgment aforesaid, for the error aforesaid, may be revoked, annulled and altogether held for nothing, and that he may be restored to all things which he hath lost by occasion of the judgment aforesaid, etc. Burr. App. 413, §770; Till. Forms 156.

C. Assignment of Error Coverture as an Error of Fact.

Afterwards, to-wit, on the _____ Monday of _____, in this same term, before the said justices of the supreme court of judicature aforesaid, at the _____ in the city of _____, come C. D. and E., his wife, which said E. was and is impleaded in this suit by the name of E. N., in their proper persons, and say that in the record and proceedings aforesaid, and also in giving the judgment aforesaid, there is manifest error in this, to-wit, that before the day of exhibiting the bill of the said A. B. against the said E., by the name of E. N., and before the giving of the judgment aforesaid, to-wit, on, etc. (state the time), at, etc. (state the place), aforesaid, the said E. intermarried with and took to husband the said C. D., and that she the said E., at the time of exhibiting the bill aforesaid, and also at the time of giving the judgment aforesaid, was and yet is covert of the said C. D., then and yet her husband, to-wit, at _____ aforesaid; therefore in that there is manifest error: And this they the said C. D. and E., his wife, are ready to verify, wherefore they pray that the judgment aforesaid, for the error aforesaid, may be revoked, annulled and altogether held for nothing, and that they may be restored to all things which they have lost by occasion of the judgment aforesaid, etc. Burr. App. 412, §768; Till. Forms 154.

D. Pleas To Assignments of Error of Fact.

1. Plea To Assignment of Error, Death as an Error of Fact.

And hereupon the said A. B., by E. F., his attorney, freely here in court comes, and says that by reason of anything above for error assigned, the judgment aforesaid ought not to be revoked, annulled or held for nothing;* because he says that the said I. J. in the plea aforesaid named is yet living in full life, to-wit, at, etc. (state the place), without this, that he the said I. J., before the trial of the issue aforesaid, joined in the said record between the parties aforesaid, died, in manner and form as the said C. D. hath above alleged. And this he the said A. B. is ready to verify. Wherefore he prays that the judgment aforesaid may be in all things affirmed, etc. Burr. App. 415, §774.

2. Plea To Assignment of Error, Coverture as an Error of Fact.

(As in VI, D, 1, to the *, and then as follows): because he says that the said E., at the time of (exhibiting the bill) aforesaid, was not, nor is covert of the said C. D., in manner and form as the said C. D. and E. have above alleged. And of this he the said A. B. puts himself upon the country, etc. Burr. App. 414, §773.

E. Judgment Record Circuit Roll on Error in Fact.

Afterwards, to-wit, on the _____ Monday of _____, in the term of _____, in the year one thousand eight hundred and _____, before the said justices of the supreme court of judicature of the people of the state of New York, at the _____ in the city of _____, comes the aforesaid defendant, by G. H., his attorney (or G. H., his guardian, by the said court hereunto specially admitted), and brings into the said court, before the said justices thereof now here, a certain writ of the said people to correct errors of and upon the premises aforesaid; which said record and proceedings now remain in the said court, before the said justices thereof now here; and prays that the said writ may be allowed: and by the same court, before the aforesaid justices thereof now here, the said writ is allowed to him, etc., which said writ follows in these words, that is to say:

The people of the state of New York, to the justices of the supreme court of judicature of the people of the state of New York, greeting: Because in the record and proceedings, and also in the giving of judgment, etc. (copy the writ of error to the end).

And hereupon the said defendant says that in the record and proceedings aforesaid, and also in the rendition of the judgment aforesaid, there is manifest error in this, to-wit, that, etc. (copy the assignment of errors).

And the said plaintiff thereupon, by E. F., his attorney, freely comes into court and says that by reason of anything above for error assigned, the judgment aforesaid ought not to be revoked, etc. (copy the plea).

Therefore the issue above joined is ordered, by the said supreme court, to be tried at the circuit court appointed to be held at the (city hall of the city of New York), in and for the said (city and county of New York), on the _____ Monday of _____ next. Burr. App. 71. §140a; Till. Forms 169.

REPLICATION AND REPLY:

Replication by Way of Estoppel to Plea in Abatement.

I. Plea in Estoppel.

And the said C. D., defendant in this suit, by G. H., his attorney, comes and defends the wrong and injury when, etc., and says, that he, the said plaintiff, ought not to be admitted to say or allege that (stating the allegation in the declaration to which the estoppel relates); because he says that (here state the matter by which the plaintiff is estopped). And this he is ready to verify. Wherefore he prays judgment, if the said plaintiff ought to be admitted against his own acknowledgment by his deed aforesaid (or otherwise, according to the matter of the estoppel), to say or allege that, (stating as before, the allegation to which the estoppel relates), etc. Burr. App. 371, §671; Archb. Pl. 212a; Steph. Pl. 402.

II. Plea, Estoppel in Pais, Inconsistent Affidavit.

"That said plaintiff is estopped, and ought not to be permitted, to maintain his said action against this defendant, for the reason that said plaintiff was the secretary and bookkeeper of the Sullivan Timber Company, a corporation organized under the laws of Florida, at the time and for a long period prior to the date of filing of a bill in equity, in this honorable court, by said Sullivan Timber Company, against M. H. Sullivan, defendant herein, on the 22d of May, 1893, claiming divers sums of money upon various grounds; and among items alleged and claimed, in said bill of Sullivan Timber Company, of M. H. Sullivan, the defendant, is the sum of $9,151, for salary of clerks and employes, etc., as set out in paragraph 15 of said bill, and alleging that said employes and clerks were occupied in the private business of said M. H. Sullivan, in writing letters, telegrams, etc., while they were paid by the Sullivan Timber Company; and defendant alleges that plaintiff was one of the employes of the Sullivan Timber Company claimed to have been occupied in the business of defendant, and during the same period of time claimed by plaintiff in this suit, and that the plaintiff in this suit furnished the data for said charge in said bill in equity, and made affidavit that same was correct. That afterwards, to-wit, on the 7th day of June, 1894, by agreement in writing, all suits pending and matters in controversy between said Sullivan Timber Company and M. H. Sullivan, including suit in equity in this court, in which said item for clerk hire, etc., was claimed, were settled and adjusted, and by the express terms of said agreement each party mutually released the other from all claims of any kind then existing or that should thereafter arise from the organization or operation of said Sullivan Timber Company. And defendant alleges that R. F. McConnell, as secretary of said Sullivan Timber Company, participated in the negotiations leading to said settlement, and signed said agreement in writing aforesaid, as secretary of said Sullivan Timber Company; and defendant alleges that plaintiff's claim in this suit is one growing out of the business relations between said Sullivan Timber Company and defendant, and that same was covered by paragraph 15 of said bill in equity in this court, and settled and adjusted as aforesaid, and that said plaintiff, by reason of the premises, is estopped from asserting a claim in his own right in this suit against this defendant, and this the defendant is ready to verify.

"Wherefore he prays judgment if the plaintiff ought to be admitted against his aforesaid dealings and actions to maintain this his suit against this defendant." Sullivan v. McConnell, 73 Fed. 130, 19 C. C. A. 400.

III. Plea, Estoppel in Pais, Silence.

"That said plaintiff had full knowledge of the height of said dam and of the manner and extent to which the said dam set the water back on her land; that in the year 1879, the defendant, desiring to purchase said mill, made inquiries concerning the dam and the right of the then owners to maintain said dam at the height at which it was then erected, which was the same height which said dam now is; that this defendant was a stranger in the locality of said mill and resided in the state of Michigan, which plaintiff well knew; that defendant was ignorant concerning the rights of the then owners of the said mill and was seeking for information upon which to act in the purchase of said mill, as the plaintiff well knew; that he was informed before he purchased, that the said dam as then constructed was at the same height at which it has stood for more than twenty years, and that the owners of the mill had the lawful right against the plaintiff and all others, to maintain said dam at its then height; that plaintiff knew that he was about to purchase said mill and dam and knew that he was inquiring concerning the right of the owners to maintain the dam at the height it then was, and knew that he had been informed that the dam was at the height at which the then owners had the lawful right to maintain it, and no more, and knew that the defendant was ignorant of the truth in the matter of the height of the dam, and that he was inquiring for the purpose of purchasing and was about to purchase, relying on the information above set out, which he had received concerning the rights of the owners of the mill to maintain said dam at its then height, and yet she stood by well knowing of said facts, and permitted the defendant to purchase said mill for the sum of $8,000, without in any manner disclosing to the defendant that said dam raised the water on her land to any greater height than the old dam did." Anderson v. Hubble, 93 Ind. 570.

IV. Replication by Way of Estoppel.

And the said plaintiff says, that the said defendant ought not to be admitted or received to plead the said plea by him (secondly) above pleaded, as to so much thereof, wherein he alleges that, etc. (stating the part of the plea to which the estoppel relates); because he says, that, etc. (here state the ground of estoppel, either by the pleadings and verdict in a former suit, or by a bond, etc., and conclude as follows): and this he, the said plaintiff, is ready to verify. Wherefore he prays judgment, if the said defendant ought to be admitted or received against the said record (or, against his own acknowledgment by his deed aforesaid), to plead the plea by him (lastly) above pleaded in this suit, that, etc. (stating and concluding with the allegation in that part of the plea to which the estoppel relates). Burr. App. 386, §710; 3 Chit. Pl. 1144.

V. Answer Interposing an Estoppel.

That the plaintiff ought not to be admitted to say (here state the matter to which the estoppel is interposed, e. g., that said premises belonged to M. N.), because he says that (here state the subject-matter of the estoppel, e. g., that the plaintiff, on or about the _____ day of _____, 18—, conveyed said premises to the defendant by deed, containing a full covenant of warranty). 2 Abb. Forms 33.

VI. Answer, Setting Up Deed as Estoppel.

That the said deed was executed and delivered to the defendant for a full and fair consideration, without fraud or misrepresentation on the part of the defendant, and with a full understanding and knowledge of all its terms and provisions, and that the plaintiffs are estopped from denying the terms and provisions thereof, and that they fail in their said complaint to state any equitable ground for the interference of the court to abrogate, alter, change, modify or in any way reform or correct the same. Johnson v. East Carolina Land & R. Co., 116 N. C. 926, 21 S. E. 28.

VII. Answer, Acquiescence as Estoppel.

For another and further defense and answer herein, defendant says that on the _____ day of _____, A. D. 1885, he entered upon the construction of a brick building situate on the north twenty-nine feet of the lot above described, and with the knowledge, consent and acquiescence of plaintiff T. D. Evans, defendant contracted with plaintiff to pay and did pay one-half of the costs of constructing the said wall with the agreement that it should stand and be used as a partition wall between said Evans and defendant.

That with the knowledge, acquiescence and consent of plaintiff Evans, this defendant constructed his building on said lot, covering twenty-eight and one-sixth feet on the north side thereof, beginning on the east end and extending back _____ feet thereon, and placed lasting and valuable improvements thereon. Wherefore, plaintiff Evans is estopped from claiming title to the land occupied by said building described above, and he prays judgment accordingly and for costs.

Evans v. Kunze, 128 Mo. 670, 674, 31 S. W. 123.

VIII. Substance of Bill Setting Up Equitable Estoppel Against Suit at Law.

The bill averred, in substance, that, in August and September, 1869, Davis executed six promissory notes, amounting to about $15,725, to the order of Henry P. Wakelee, and delivered them to him, and that they subsequently became the property of the plaintiff; that on or about September 30, 1869, Davis was adjudged a bankrupt upon his own petition, by the district court for the district of California, and the notes in question were duly proved against his estate; that on July 8, 1873, the bankruptcy court granted the said Henry P. Wakelee leave to bring an action upon these notes, and that such action was begun by publication of a summons, under the laws of the state, and without personal service upon Davis; that on November 18, 1873, Davis not appearing, and no service having been made upon him, judgment was entered against him in the sum of $22,760.26. The bill further alleged that on December 23, 1875, Davis filed in the bankruptcy court a petition for his discharge, and that Wakelee thereupon filed specifications of opposition which Davis moved to dismiss, upon the ground that Wakelee, subsequent to the commencement of the proceedings in bankruptcy, had, by leave of court, brought suit upon such notes, obtained judgment thereon, "and that said judgment still stood of record in said fifteenth district court, and was in full force." That such motion came on for argument, and it was there claimed by counsel duly authorized to represent Davis, that, by reason of the above facts, the original debt of Davis to Wakelee, which had been proved up in the bankruptcy proceedings, had become merged in the judgment obtained November 18, 1873, in the state court of California, and thereby became a new debt, created since the adjudication of Davis as a bankrupt. That such judgment was subsisting, valid, and enforceable, and would not be barred, discharged, or in anywise affected by the discharge of the defendant in bankruptcy. That by reason thereof, Wakelee had no standing, was not interested in the bankruptcy proceedings, and was not, therefore, competent to oppose the discharge of Davis. That upon such motion an order was made by the district court in bankruptcy that Wakelee's proof of debt be canceled, and his specifications of opposition to the discharge be dismissed and set aside. That Wakelee relied upon the claims and admissions of Davis and of his counsel, and accepted as correct and binding the order of the district court dismissing his opposition, and did not appeal therefrom. That the order was accepted by Davis, who subsequently obtained his discharge. That the judgment was subsequently assigned to Angelica Wakelee, the plaintiff, and in equity was of full and binding force and validity by reason of the facts above stated; but that in sundry actions instituted upon such judgment between Davis and the then owner of the judgment, Davis claimed and set up that the judgment was void, because of the lack of jurisdiction of the court wherein it was entered, for the reason that he was not personally served with process, and did not appear in the action, and also pleaded his discharge in bankruptcy as a bar to a recovery upon such judgment. That plaintiff is about to commence an action at law upon such judgment against Davis in the state of New York, wherein defendant now resides; and that she is informed that, under the law of the state of New York, the facts herein set forth cannot be pleaded in the plaintiff's complaint in aid of her cause of action, but that such action must be brought upon such judgment alone, and that it is necessary to allege in the complaint either the facts showing the jurisdiction of the court, or that the judgment was duly entered, which cannot be truthfully done. Wherefore plaintiff prayed for the assistance of a court of equity to adjudge Davis to be estopped by his conduct, and that he be enjoined from asserting that the debts proved up by Wakelee against him were not merged in the judgment, or from asserting the invalidity of the judgment, or that the same does not constitute a new debt unaffected by Davis' final discharge in bankruptcy. Davis v. Wakelee, 156 U. S. 680, 15 Sup. Ct. 555, 39 L. ed. 578.

A. Declarations.

1. Declaration by Executor in Assumpsit for Work Done by Testator.

A. B., executor of the last will and testament of J. K., deceased, plaintiff in this suit, by E. F., his attorney, complains of C. D., defendant in this suit, being in custody, etc. (or complains by declaration filed pursuant to the statute of C. D., defendant in this suit), of a plea of trespass on the case upon promises: For that whereas the said defendant on, etc., at, etc., was indebted to the said J. K., in his lifetime, in the sum of (one thousand) dollars, for the work and labor of the said J. K. by the said J. K. before that time done, etc., and being so indebted, etc. (as in the ordinary count for work and labor, laying the promise to "the said J. K. in his lifetime").

And whereas also, afterwards, and in the lifetime of the said J. K., to-wit, on, etc., aforesaid, at, etc., aforesaid, in consideration that the said J. K. had before that time done, etc. (quantum meruit count, laying the promise in the same way). And the said A. B., executor as aforesaid, avers that the said J. K. in his lifetime therefore reasonably deserved to have, etc., whereof, etc. Yet the said defendant, not regarding his said several promises and undertakings, hath not as yet paid the several sums of money, or any or either of them, or any part thereof, to the said J. K. in his lifetime, or to the said plaintiff, executor as aforesaid, since the death of the said J. K. (although often requested so to do); but he to do this hath wholly refused, and still refuses to pay the same, or any part thereof, to the said plaintiff, executor as aforesaid. * To the damage of the said plaintiff as executor as aforesaid of (one thousand) dollars, and therefore he brings his suit.

And the said plaintiff brings into court here the letters testamentary of the said J. K., deceased, whereby it fully appears to the said court here that the said plaintiff is executor of the said last will and testament of the said J. K., deceased, and hath the execution thereof, etc.

E. F., attorney for plaintiff.

(Counts may be inserted at the *, if the case admit of it, on promises to the plaintiff as executor, thus):

And whereas also the said defendant afterwards, in the lifetime of the said J. K., deceased, to-wit, on, etc., aforesaid, at, etc., aforesaid, was indebted to the said J. K. in the further sum of one thousand dollars for the work and labor, care and diligence, of the said J. K. by him the said J. K. before that time done, performed and bestowed, in and about the business of the said defendant, and for the said defendant, and at his special instance and request; and also in the further sum of one thousand dollars for divers goods, wares and merchandise, by the said J. K. before that time sold and delivered to the said defendant, and at his like special instance and request; and also in the further sum of one thousand dollars, for money by the said J. K. before that time lent and advanced to, and paid, laid out and expended for the said defendant, and at his like special instance and request; and also in the further sum of one thousand dollars, for other money by the said defendant before that time had and received, to and for the use of the said J. K.

And the said defendant being so indebted, and the said several sums of money being and remaining wholly due and owing, unpaid and unsatisfied, he the said defendant, in consideration thereof, afterwards, and after the death of the said J. K., to-wit, on, etc., at, etc., aforesaid, undertook, and then and there faithfully promised the said plaintiff as executor as aforesaid, to pay him the said sum of money in this count mentioned, when he the said defendant should be thereunto afterwards requested.

And whereas, also, the said defendant afterwards, to-wit, on, etc., last aforesaid, at, etc., aforesaid, accounted with the said plaintiff as executor as aforesaid, of and concerning divers other sums of money from the said defendant to the said plaintiff as executor as aforesaid, before that time due and owing, and then in arrear and unpaid; and upon that accounting the said defendant was then and there found to be in arrear, and indebted to the said plaintiff as executor, as aforesaid, in the further sum of one thousand dollars; and being so found in arrear and indebted, he the said defendant, in consideration thereof, afterwards, to-wit, on, etc., last aforesaid, at, etc., aforesaid, undertook, and then and there faithfully promised the said plaintiff as executor as aforesaid, to pay him the said sum of money last mentioned whenever afterwards he the said defendant should be thereunto requested. Yet the said defendant, not regarding his said several (three) last mentioned promises and undertakings, so by him in manner and form aforesaid made, hath not yet paid the several sums of money in the (three) last mentioned counts specified, or any or either of them, or any part thereof, to the said plaintiff, executor as aforesaid (although often requested so to do). But the said defendant to pay the same or any part thereof, hath hitherto altogether refused, and still doth refuse; to the damage, etc. Burr. App. 560, §1096; 2 Chit. Pl. 102.

Conclusions of Declaration, Where Executor is Plaintiff (in Assumpsit), With Profert of Letters Testamentary.

(The breach is thus): Yet the said defendant, not regarding his said several promises and undertakings, hath not as yet paid the said several sums of money, or any or either of them, or any part thereof, to the said J. K., in his lifetime, or to the said plaintiff, executor as aforesaid, since the death of the said J. K. (although often requested so to do); but he to do this hath wholly refused, and still refuses to pay the same, or any part thereof to the said plaintiff: To the damage of the said plaintiff as executor as aforesaid, of (one thousand) dollars, and therefore he brings his suit, etc. (Add the profert thus): And the said plaintiff brings into court here the letters testamentary of the said J. K., deceased, whereby it fully appears to the said court here that the said plaintiff is executor of the said last will and testament of the said J. K., deceased, and hath the execution thereof, etc.

E. F., plaintiff's attorney.

Burr. App. 330, §595; 2 Chit. Pl. 102.

2. Declaration by an Administrator.

A. B., administrator of all and singular the goods, chattels and credits which were of J. K., deceased, at the time of his death, who died intestate, plaintiff in this suit, by E. F., his attorney, complains of C. D., defendant in this suit, being in custody of, etc. (or as in last form), of a plea of trespass on the case upon promises: For that whereas the said defendant, on, etc., at, etc., was indebted to the said J. K. in his lifetime, etc., and being so indebted, etc. (as in last form, laying the promises to "the said J. K. in his lifetime"; and the breach will be as follows): Yet the said defendant, not regarding his said promises and undertakings, hath not as yet paid the said sums of money, or any part thereof, to the said J. K. in his lifetime, or to the said plaintiff, administrator as aforesaid, since the death of the said J. K. (although often requested so to do), but he so to do hath hitherto wholly refused, and still refuses to pay the same, or any part thereof, to the said plaintiff, administrator as aforesaid (counts on promises to the administrator as such may be inserted here, if the case admit, as in last form, substituting "administrator" for "executor"; otherwise the declaration concludes thus): To the damage of the said plaintiff as administrator as aforesaid of ——— dollars, and therefore he brings his suit, etc.

And the said plaintiff brings into count here the letters of administration of all and singular the goods, chattels and credits which were of the said J. K. at the time of his death, and which letters were, after the death of the said J. K., to-wit, on the _____ day of _____, in the year, etc. (the date of the letters), at, etc. (the venue), aforesaid, granted to the said plaintiff by R. S., surrogate of the county of _____, which gives sufficient evidence to the said court here of the grant of administration to the said plaintiff as aforesaid, etc.

E. F., plaintiff's attorney.

Burr. App. 562, §1096a.

3. Declaration Against Executor in Assumpsit.

A. B., plaintiff in this suit, by E. F., his attorney, complains of C. D., executor of the last will and testament of J. K., deceased, defendant in this suit, being in custody, etc. (or by declaration, etc.), of a plea of trespass on the case upon promises: For that whereas the said J. K. in his lifetime, to-wit, on, etc., at, etc., was indebted to the said plaintiff, etc., and being so indebted the said J. K., in consideration thereof, etc., undertook and faithfully promised the said plaintiff well and truly to pay, etc. (laying the promises by the testator), yet the said J. K. in his lifetime, and the said C. D., executor as aforesaid, since the death of the said J. K., have not, nor hath either of them, as yet paid the said several sums of money, or any or either of them, or any part thereof, to the said plaintiff, although often requested so to do. But to pay the same, or any part thereof, to the plaintiff, the said J. K. in his lifetime wholly refused, and the said C. D., executor as aforesaid, hath ever since the death of the said J. "Whereas, complaint has been made on oath under the treaty between the United States and her majesty, the late queen of Great Britain and Ireland, concluded and signed at Washington, on the 9th day of August, 1842, and of the supplementary treaty between the same high contracting parties, signed July 12, 1889, before me, Thomas Alexander, one of the commissioners appointed by the district court of the United States for the southern district of New York, and also commissioner especially appointed to execute the acts of congress, entitled 'An act for giving effect to certain treaty stipulations between this and foreign governments for the apprehension and delivering up of certain offenders,' approved August 12, 1848 (9 St. at L. 302, ch. 167, U. E. Commitment by Commissioner.

United States of America, southern district of New York, ss. In the matter of Thomas Kaine.

This case having been heard before me, on requisition, through Anthony Barclay, esquire, her Britannic majesty's consul at the port of New York, that the said Kaine be committed for the purpose of being delivered up as a fugitive from justice, pursuant to the provisions of the treaty made between the United States and Great Britain, August 9th, 1842, I find and adjudge that the evidence produced against the said Kaine is insufficient in law to justify his commitment on the charge of assault with intent to commit murder, had the crime been committed within the United States. Wherefore I order that the said Thomas Kaine be committed, pursuant to the provisions of the said treaty, to abide the order of the president of the United States in the premises.

Given under my hand and seal, at the city of New York, this 29th day of June, 1852.

(Signed) Joseph Bridgman (L. S.)
United States commissioner for the southern district of New York.

Directed to the marshal of the southern district of New York. In re Kaine, 14 How. (U. S.) 103, 121, 14 L. ed. 345.

F. Warrant by Secretary of State To Deliver Prisoner to Agent of Foreign Government.

Department of State, Washington, July 17th, 1852. To all whom these presents shall come, greeting:

Whereas, John F. Crampton, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to her majesty the queen of Great Britain and Ireland, hath made requisition, in conformity with the 10th article of the treaty between the United States and Great Britain, for the mutual surrender of fugitive criminals, concluded at Washington the 9th day of August, 1842, for the delivery up to justice of Thomas Kaine, charged with the crime of assault with an intent to commit murder, in the county of Westmeath, Ireland.

And whereas the said Thomas Kaine hath been found in the state of New York, within the jurisdiction of the United States, and has, by proper affidavit, and in due form, been brought before Joseph Bridgman, a commissioner duly appointed by the United States circuit court for the southern district of New York, in the second circuit, for examination of said charge of assault with intent to commit murder. And whereas the said commissioner hath deemed the evidence sufficient to authorize the commitment of said Thomas Kaine, and has, accordingly, committed him. All of which appears by a copy of the proceedings transmitted to this department.

Now, these presents are to require of the United States marshal for the southern district of New York, or of any other public officer or person having charge or custody of said Thomas Kaine, to surrender and deliver him up to Anthony Barclay, her Britannic majesty's consul at the port of New York, or to any other person or persons duly authorized to receive said fugitive, and conduct him to Great Britain for trial.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto signed my name, and caused the seal of this department to be affixed, at Washington, this 17th day of July, A. D. 1852, and of the independence of the United States the seventy-seventh.

C. Complaint Against Officer and Sureties for False Imprisonment.

The plaintiff alleges:

1. That the general election held in and for the county of Edgecombe, state of North Carolina, on the first Tuesday in November, 1892, the defendant, Nathan Boyd, was duly elected constable in and for the county aforesaid, township No. 1, for and during the period of two years next ensuing after the first Monday in December of said year.

2. That thereafter, to-wit, on the first Monday of December, 1892, the said Nathan Boyd, executed his official bond as constable in the penal sum of one thousand dollars, with the above named Jno. C. Daney and Orren James as sureties thereto, payable to the state of North Carolina and conditioned for the "faithful discharge of all duties devolving upon him as such constable and according to law," which said bond was thereafter duly accepted and approved by the proper authorities.

3. That the said Nathan Boyd thereupon took and subscribed the proper oath of office and entered upon the duties of the said office, and thereafter, to-wit, the 17th day of December, 1893, acting as constable in and for the said township and county, and under color of his said office, arrested the relator herein and imprisoned him in the jail or "lock-up" used for such purposes by the municipal authorities of the town of Princeville, and there confined him forcibly and against his will, from 10 o'clock a. m., till 5 o'clock p. m., restraining him of his liberty and subjecting him to hardships, privations, humiliation and disgrace.

4. That the arrest and imprisonment of the relator as aforesaid was without legal process or color thereof and not in due course of law.

5. That the course and conduct of the defendant Boyd, as aforesaid, was in wanton and reckless disregard of the rights of the relator and wholly without excuse or justification in law.

6. That by reason of the said false arrest and imprisonment, the said relator was detained from his business and restrained of his liberty, to his great loss and damage, and in mind, body and reputation has sustained injuries, in all amounting to the sum of one thousand dollars.

Therefore, the plaintiff relator demands judgment for the full penalty of said bond, to-wit, one thousand dollars, and the costs of this action." Warren v. Boyd, 120 N. C. 56, 26 S. E. 700.

III. Pleas.

A. Plea Justifying Imprisonment on Suspicion of Felony.

Because, he says, that before and at the time when, etc., to-wit, on, etc., aforesaid, at, etc. (venue) aforesaid (here state the felony to have been committed, and the causes of suspicion against the plaintiff, and which, in the plea in question, was stated as follows:) "the said plaintiff was the servant of the said defendant, and was then and there living and residing in the house of him the said defendant; and the said plaintiff, so being such servant as aforesaid, to-wit, at etc., divers goods and chattels, to-wit, 20 pair of silk stockings and 100 yards of lace, of great value, to-wit, of the value of ———, the property of the said defendant, had been and were feloniously stolen, taken, and carried away from out of the possession of the said defendant, and afterwards, to-wit, on, etc., at, etc., divers, to-wit, 20 bundles, containing the said goods and chattels so feloniously taken and carried away as aforesaid, were found and discovered hidden and concealed in a certain cellar of and belonging to the house of the said defendant, and to which the servants of the said defendant had access, and the said bundles, containing the said goods and chattels, being so found and discovered as aforesaid, were immediately seized and taken away by the said plaintiff, the said plaintiff then and there averring that the same were the property of her the said plaintiff, and the said plaintiff then and there endeavored to burn and make away with the said bundles, with their contents aforesaid, and did actually burn divers, to-wit, 10 of the said bundles, so containing the said goods and chattels, the property of the said defendant as aforesaid"; wherefore the said defendant having good and probable cause of suspicion, and vehemently suspecting the said plaintiff to have been guilty of or concerned in the stealing and carrying away of the said goods and chattels of the said defendant, and to have feloniously taken and carried away the same, did, at the said time when, etc., gently lay hands on the said plaintiff, and did give the plaintiff in charge to one W. S. then and there being a constable and peace officer of and for our lord the king, in and for the (city of London) aforesaid, and then and there requested the said constable and peace officer to take the said plaintiff into his custody, and safely keep her until she could be carried and conveyed, and to carry and convey her before some one of the justices assigned to keep the peace of our said lord the king within and for the city of London, and to hear and determine divers felonies and misdemeanors committed within the said city of London, to be examined by and before such justice, touching and concerning the premises, and to be further dealt with according to law; and on that occasion the said W. S., so being such constable and peace officer as aforesaid, at the request of the said defendant, did then and there gently lay his hands upon the said plaintiff, take the said plaintiff into his custody, and as soon as conveniently could be, to-wit, on the said — day of —, in the year aforesaid, the said plaintiff was carried and conveyed in custody to and before sir W. L., knt., and alderman of the city of London, and one of the justices assigned to keep the peace of our said lord the king within and for the said city of London, and also to hear and determine divers felonies and misdemeanors committed within the said city, to be examined by and before the said Sir W. L. touching and concerning the premises, and to be further dealt with according to law, and the said plaintiff was then and there detained by order of the said Sir W. L. until and upon the — day of —, in the year aforesaid, when she the said plaintiff was examined by the said Sir W. L. touching and concerning the premises, and the said plaintiff was afterwards discharged out of custody by the said Sir W. L.; and by means of the said several premises aforesaid, the said plaintiff was imprisoned, and kept and detained in prison, for the said several spaces of time in the said declaration mentioned, the same being a reasonable time for that purpose, and lawful and just for the cause aforesaid, which are the supposed trespasses in the introductory part of this plea mentioned, and whereof the said plaintiff hath above complained against the said defendant, and this he is ready to verify; wherefore he prays judgment if the said plaintiff ought to have or maintain her aforesaid action thereof against him, etc. 3 Chit. Pl. 1081.

B. Plea of Justification by Officer.

“And for further answer, defendant says that on the 8th day of July, 1873, the defendant was marshal of the town of Frankfort,” etc., “duly appointed, qualified, and acting as such; that at that date there was an ordinance in force, passed by the board of trustees of said town, and duly signed by the members of said board, and attested by the clerk of said town, entitled ‘an ordinance prohibiting the disturbance of the peace and other misdemeanors in the town of Frankfort,’” etc., “passed by the board of trustees of said town at a meeting held February 5th, 1873, a copy of which ordinance is filed herewith, and made part of this answer; that at the date mentioned in the complaint, to-wit,” etc., “the plaintiff was found by defendant, within the corporation of said town of Frankfort, at the hour of eleven o’clock, on the night of said 8th day of July, 1873, in a state of gross intoxication, so that he was unable to walk or stand without support from some other person; that when so found by this defendant plaintiff was prostrated on the sidewalk of said town from the effects of intoxicating liquors; that in pursuance of his duties as marshal of said town, and in obedience to the ordinance aforesaid, defendant arrested plaintiff and conveyed him to the place designated and used by order of said board of trustees for the safe keeping of persons guilty of a violation of the ordinances of said town; that at the time of making said arrest and incarceration, plaintiff was in such a state of intoxication as to be entirely unconscious of any acts then transpiring; that as soon as plaintiff was in a condition to be taken before a justice of the peace to answer for said violation of the ordinance aforesaid, the defendant did take him before Joseph Baum, a justice of the peace of said town, and then and there filed an affidavit, charging the plaintiff with said violation of said ordinance, to which said charge the plaintiff pleaded guilty, and was fined,” etc., “as shown by a certified transcript of the proceedings herewith filed." Scircle v. Neeves, 47 Ind. 289.

C. Plea, Justification by Justice of the Peace.

And the said defendant, Joseph L. Davis, by his attorney, Puterbaugh, comes and defends the force and injury, etc., when, etc., and says, actio non, because he says, that the said plaintiff ought not to have or maintain his aforesaid action thereof, in the second count of said declaration mentioned, because he says, that the said defendant was, and is now, an acting justice of the peace, in and for said county, and having jurisdiction of matters of such nature, the said defendant, Joel B. Ketchum, at the county and state aforesaid, on the 2nd day of November, A. D. 1859, made oath, that there was danger that the debt or claim of such Joel B. Ketchum against said George W. Outlaw, amounting to $94.69, will be lost unless the said George W. Outlaw be held to bail, and stated the cause of such danger, so as to satisfy the said Joseph L. Davis that there was reason to apprehend such loss. Thereupon Joseph L. Davis did issue a warrant commonly called a capias ad respondendum, in the name of the People of the State of Illinois, directed to any constable of said county, commanding him to take the body of the said plaintiff, and to bring him forthwith before the said Joseph L. Davis, unless special bail be entered, and if such special bail be entered, then to command him to appear before the said Joseph L. Davis at Mackinaw, on the 7th day of November, at 2 o'clock p. m., to answer the complaint of said Ketchum, for a failure to pay him a certain demand not exceeding one hundred dollars, and to make due return, as the law directs; which said capias ad respondendum, the said Joseph L. Davis, as such justice of the peace, then and there delivered into the hands of E. B. Hibbard, the said Hibbard being then and there a constable of said Tazewell county, to execute, and the said Hibbard, in pursuance, and in obedience to the command of said writ, as constable as aforesaid, gently laid his hands upon said plaintiff and arrested him, using only necessary force, and brought said plaintiff before said Joseph L. Davis for trial, on the day and year last aforesaid, when the said George W. Outlaw confessed judgment for the amount of said claim, whereupon the said plaintiff was then and there released from such arrest, which is the same supposed trespass in the said second count in said declaration mentioned, whereof the said plaintiff hath complained of them, and this the said defendant is ready to verify. Wherefore he prays judgment, etc. Outlaw v. Davis, 27 Ill. 467.

Note.—Held sufficient under statute that the party made oath, affidavit not being required.

I. Findings and Conclusions.

A. Findings in Action on Promissory Note.

In this action, tried before the court without a jury, I make and file the following findings of fact and conclusions of law:

Findings of fact.*

I. That at the time of making the note hereinafter mentioned, the plaintiff, and one C. D., were partners in business, under the firm name of A. B. & Co.

II. That on the _____ day of _____, 18____, at _____, the defendant made his promissory note in writing, dated on that day, and thereby promised to pay to the plaintiff and C. D., under said firm name, _____ dollars, in _____ months after said date.

III. That no part thereof has been paid.

IV. That on the _____ day of _____, 18____, at _____, said C. D. died leaving the plaintiff sole surviving partner of said firm.

Conclusions of law:

I. The cause of action against the defendant survived to the plaintiff on the death of C. D.

II. The defendant is indebted to the plaintiff on said note for _____ dollars.

Judgment is therefore rendered for the plaintiff in the sum of _____ dollars, with costs. 2 Abb. Forms 465.

B. Findings in an Action on Innkeeper's Liability.

(As in I, A, to the *.)

I. That on the _____ day of _____, 18____, the defendant was a common innkeeper at the town of _____, in this state.

II. That on said day the defendant received and entertained the plaintiff as a guest at his inn, for hire.

III. That the inn of the defendant was upon the seashore, and in connection with it the defendant maintained bathing houses for the safe-keeping of the clothing, wardrobe, and such money and jewelry of his guests as are usually carried upon the person of guests and patrons of his inn and bathing house.

IV. That while the plaintiff was then and there his guest, the defendant undertook for compensation paid him by the plaintiff to keep safely in one of his said bathing houses, the clothing and such articles of jewelry and valuables as the plaintiff then had upon his person, while the plaintiff should bathe.

V. That plaintiff thereupon put into the said bathing house his clothing, his pocket book containing money, and such other property as is usually carried upon the person, of the value of _____ dollars, and left the same in the possession and charge of the defendant.

VI. That while the plaintiff was there bathing, his pocket book and money were, by the negligent and dishonest management of the defendant and his servants, lost and stolen.

VII. That the said inn was upon the seashore; and that facilities for bathing according to the customs of the neighborhood, and as the defendant then well knew, were a part of the accommodations necessary to be afforded by the innkeepers in that vicinity.

VIII. That the defendant did not provide or maintain a safe for the reception of the money, valuables, or jewelry of his guests.

Conclusions of law:

I. That the defendant is liable for the money so lost in his capacity of innkeeper.

II. That defendant is liable for the money so lost, by reason of his negligence and misconduct as bailee for hire of said property.

III. That the defendant is responsible for the negligence and misconduct of his servants in the course of their ordinary employment.

IV. That the money so lost by plaintiff was such a sum as he might reasonably carry on his person.

V. That plaintiff is not entitled to recover his expenses of advertising his loss, or in employing police officers to recover his said pocket book.

Judgment is therefore rendered for the plaintiff in the sum of _____ dollars, with costs. 2 Abb. Forms 465.

C. Notice of Exceptions to Findings of Fact.

I. Take notice that the plaintiff (defendant) hereby excepts to the findings of fact in the above entitled action in so far as they find in the third finding that the contract was an entire contract; that the plaintiffs agreed in writing that they would furnish the lumber itemized; that the bill was for lumber required to complete the contract.

II. That he also excepts to said findings in so far as they find in the fourth finding, that the general delivery of the lumber itemized was on or about June 13th, 1904; that the principal contractor and the plaintiffs checked over said bill; that they agreed to deduct $88.00.

III. That he also excepts to said findings in so far as they find in the fifth finding, that the lumber purchased after the first order was delivered between the tenth and twenty-third day of September, 1904; that the lumber was purchased on independent orders at the usual and customary prices; that the lumber amounted to one hundred six and 95/100 dollars; that the principal contractor agreed to pay $8.00 for each working day thereafter from September 1, 1904, that the plant was not in operation.

IV. That he also excepts to said findings in so far as they find in the sixth finding, that the defendant refused further payment because the plant would not concentrate ores; that the contractor worked on the plant to remedy its defects.

V. That he also excepts to said findings in so far as they find in the eighth finding, that it seems to be an undisputed proposition that the contractor or its assigns has no right to demand anything more from the mining company since settlement with them, etc. From records of Taylor v. Dall Lead & Zinc Co., 131 Wis. 348, 111 N. W. 490.

Note.—In some jurisdictions exceptions are required to findings of fact; in others to conclusions of law.

II. That he also excepts to the second of said conclusions of law.

IV. That he also excepts to said conclusions of law generally, in that it is not decided that upon the facts proved herein, the defendant is indebted to the plaintiff, upon an account stated, for ——— dollars. 2 Abb. Forms 481.

I. Declaration on Statute for Forcible Entry.

For that after the making of a certain act of parliament, made at a parliament holden at Westminster, in the county of Middlesex, in the reign of Henry the Sixth, late King of England, entitled, "The duty of justices of the peace, where land is entered upon or detained with force," and at the time of the committing of the grievances by the said defendant as hereinafter next mentioned, the said plaintiff was seized (that is to say) in his demesne as of fee, of and in a certain dwelling house (or "close," according to the fact), with the appurtenances, situate in the parish of ——— in the county of ———, and the said plaintiff being so seized thereof, the said defendant not regarding the said statute, heretofore, and after the making of the said statute, and whilst the said plaintiff was so seized, to-wit, on, etc., with force and arms, etc., broke and entered the said messuage (or, close, etc.) of the said plaintiff, and then and there in a forcible manner put out and dispossessed the said plaintiff thereof, and in a forcible manner, and with a strong hand, kept and continued the said plaintiff so put out and disseized for a long space of time, to-wit, from thence hitherto, and, etc. (Here several trespasses on the land at common law were stated, but it was thought that they ought to be omitted, on the ground that treble damages cannot be given under the statute for any damage subsequent to the forcible entry; a third count, however, was added, to enable the plaintiff to try that point). By means whereof the said plaintiff, for and during the time aforesaid, lost and was deprived of the profits, benefits, and advantages which might and otherwise would have arisen and accrued to him from the possession, use, occupation, and enjoyment of his said messuage, to-wit, at, etc. (venue) aforesaid. And other wrongs to the said plaintiff then and there did, in contempt of, and against the peace of our said lord the king, and to the great damage of the said plaintiff, and against the form of the statute in such case made and provided. 2 Chit. Pl. 865.

II. Complaint for Treble Damages for Forcible Entry or Detainer.

I. That at the time hereinafter mentioned, the plaintiff was owner of a freehold estate in a certain farm and dwelling house, barns, and sheds thereon, in the possession of the plaintiff, situate at _____.

II. That on the _____ day of _____, 18____, the defendant forcibly entered thereon, and in a forcible manner disseized the plaintiff, and ejected and put him out of said lands and tenements, and by force and with a strong hand kept him out therefrom, to his damage _____ dollars; whereby the defendant, by force of section _____ of the statute "Of Trespass on Lands," forfeited and became liable to pay treble the amount of said damages. 1 Abb.
